The date for the celebration is November 20, Saturday night, at which time the Clark & Henry construction company expect to have completed one of the finest thoroughfares in California of asphaltum, with its sidewalks and the East Shore and Suburban railway main car tracks. The contract when completed calls for an expenditure of $150,000, while the East Shore and Suburban railway expense will be an additional $30,000, the expense of the Southern Pacific $60,000, and the Santa Fe about an equal sum.

On the completion of this street the firemen conceived the idea of the celebration and Martin Kelley, a prominent member of the East Side club, has taken the charge. A good feature is the feature of the occasion and freedom from restraint, but there will be a brief formal opening. Mayor J. B. OBJECTS TREES THAT LINE STREETS

University Botanist Says Council Should Employ Skilled Forester for City

BERKELEY, Oct. 27.—That the streets of Berkeley were a hodge-podge of trees and shrubs and that a city warden or city forester should be appointed by the council for the systematic planting of trees was the advice given to Commissioner W. F. McClure by Prof. W. L. Jepson of the department of botany of the university in reply to a request for suggestions for the beautification of the city.

AGAINST EVERGREENS AND PALMS
Professor Jepson declared that the trees of a street should be of a similar species and planted at intervals of not less than 50 and not more than 100 feet. He recommended deciduous trees and declared that he was unalterably opposed to evergreens. He continues: For entirely different reasons I am more than unalterably opposed to palms and dragon trees upon the streets. There is need upon our narrow streets the grace of branching trees in order to break the rigidity of street lines. Dragon trees are nothing more than shaving brushes stuck up on end. Palms in our streets are not only more than rigid poles of similitude, and they are extremely obnoxious because of obstructing sidewalks and injuring people's eyes.

As to the trees which are especially adapted for planting in the streets of this city, both on account of the climate and their beauty, Professor Jepson said: The Scotch elm is an exceedingly desirable tree and is not, so far as I know, open to the objections made against the cork elm on account of encroaching. The American elm, while a beautiful tree, should not be used here because it is not adapted to our climate.

BUTTERS FAMILY CLOSING MANSION

Heirs Leave Alta Vista, Scene of Former Social Activity at Upper Piedmont

OAKLAND, Oct. 27.—Alta Vista, the mansion in upper Piedmont which was the residence for years of the Henry A. Butters family, has been closed in consequence of Mrs. Henry Butters' death. Members of the family, including Mrs. Georgiana Cook, young Henry Butters, Miss Marie Butters and Miss Martine Butters, have taken up their residence for the present with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Augustus Bray at their Piedmont villa.

Mr. Bray was a daughter of Mrs. Butters by a former marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Augustus Bray, formerly Miss Dolly Tarpy, were guests at the Bray home during the Portola festivities. They have returned to Chico. The closing of Alta Vista revives memories of many large social affairs which were given there during the years that preceded the separation of Henry Butters and his wife, who passed away several months after his demise. It is understood among the family friends that the big mansion was closed on account of the complications which have arisen over the estate of Mrs. Butters. She was given the property by her husband in 1894, and he died in 1907. She gave it back to Butters during his lifetime and upon her husband's death it was to go to their son, Henry A. Butters Jr.

ITCHED A YEAR: CURED IN A WEEK
Hands Cracked Open, Bled, Burned and Ached—Could Not Sleep nor Even Dress Himself—Professional Treatment Failed to Help Him.

MAN OF 70 OWES SKIN COMFORT TO CUTICURA
"I am a man seventy years old. My hands were very sore and cracked open on the knuckles for over a year with large sores. They would crack open and bleed, itch, burn and ache so that I could not sleep and could do but little work. They were so bad that I could not dress myself in the morning. They would bleed and the blood dropped on the floor. I called on two doctors. I could get nothing to do me any good till I got Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. About a year ago my daughter got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. From one week from the time I began to use them my hands were all healed up and they have not been a sore since. I would not be without the Cuticura Remedies. I could get nothing to do me any good till I got the hand of one of my neighbor's children, and they think very highly of the Cuticura Remedies. John W. Hasty, So. Edgingham, N. H., Mar. 5 and Apr. 11, '09."
