HIGH SCHOOLS WAR OVER RUGBY TITLE

Los Angeles Polytechnic Now Claims Championship Santa Clara Lost to Redlands

Special Dispatch to The Call SANTA CLARA, Jan. 17.—The Rugby championship of the state in the high school class, which was supposedly peacefully settled in favor of Redlands when that team defeated the Santa Clara Christmas day, now appears to be hopelessly muddled by the declaration of Polytechnic high school of Los Angeles that the Polytechnic eleven are and have been considered right along champions of southern California, ignoring the counter claim of Redlands.

The tangle grew out of the failure of Polytechnic to play the Santa Clara champions of northern California, because of intervention on the part of the faculty of the Los Angeles school. It appears that Polytechnic did not recognize its refusal as a forfeit to the local school. In fact, all the enlightenment Santa Clara had in the matter was a telegram stating briefly the cause and indicating that all would be explained in a letter to follow. The letter never came.

Polytechnic comes forth strongly now with her claims. The dissenters say two games were played against Redlands, Polytechnic winning one and having the best of the other—a no score battle. Redlands played eight games, winning four, tying two and losing two. Polytechnic played 13 games, winning 10, losing one and tying two.

This, the Los Angeles school adherents insist, is a good enough record to entitle them to championship honors. How the dispute will be finally settled it is hard to say. Captain Alexander of the Santa Clara team thinks the Redlands team has a right to the state championship. He said today:

Redlands struck the first blow that there was bound to be a squabble. Nevertheless, in my opinion Redlands technically can claim championship honors, although I think Polytechnic has a far better chance of settling the matter amicably, only for both the southern fitness to come together."

Batting and fielding practice for both squads was indulged in by the freshmen claiming most of the attention of Coach Presley. Among the freshmen some very good material was discovered, while on the varsity squad, in spite of the absence of many veterans, there are many men who will develop into good players with a little practice and coaching.

A provisional varsity team was formed and given a short practice together, consisting of the following: Catcher, S. Mitchell; pitcher, M. Mitchell; first base, Gannon; second base, McFadden; third base, Tallant; shortstop, Egeer; left field, McGreggor; right field, Rittigstein and Jordan.

He took exception to the award of the forfeit to Fulleita, stating that on Saturday the horse was badly beaten in the race won by Bubbling Water. On that occasion, said Miller, Raleigh had third, being nine lengths in front of the El Palomar stable's horse. However, Raleigh took on 21 pounds and Fulleita had four pounds off from his last race. Miller said that his horse had won but one race during the season, though he was in the money many times and always ran consistently.

MARATHON RUNNERS DOUBTING TO FINISH

Dorando and Hayes in Good Shape for Long Grind Next Sunday Afternoon

Johnny Hayes and Dorando, who are in training for next Sunday's Marathon race at Recreation park, are rapidly rounding to form. Both runners have been plugging away for the last week at a steady clip, averaging about 15 miles every afternoon.

Dorando is stationed at the Presidio athletic club, where he is daily visited by a large number of Italians, who are taking a deep interest in the race. Yesterday he ran 15 miles in fast time and pulled up as fresh as a daisy.

Dorando is very much pleased with our climate and is of the opinion that he will be able to show his best form in California.

Out at the stadium in Golden Gate park Hayes is working like a beaver and with the assistance of Charlie Garcia has reached the point where he can start to let up a trifle in his training. On Sunday he ran 20 miles, but from now on will keep under the 15 mile mark in his daily grind. He was in fine trim for the Connolly race, and the light letup that he had prior to going into training for next Sunday's event has helped him to round into condition without much effort.

The fact that Longboat, the speedy Indian long distance racer, has challenged the winner has added more interest to the race. With St. Yves, Stanley, Connolly, Marsh, and the other crack runners all on the ground the winner will have plenty of racing ahead of him and a free for all race with the entire bunch entered would be a big drawing card.

With eight "amateur" clubs in the field the fighters bid fair to reap a rich harvest. Already they are beginning to show for larger purses. This is "amateur" sport then Jim Jeffries should apply for a P. A. card.

U. S. Captain at Corinto Overawes Nicaraguan Commandante of Custom House

The story of a bloodless encounter between the United States naval forces at Corinto and the Nicaraguan authorities was brought to port yesterday by the Pacific Mail liner San Juan, which left Corinto December 28. Among the passengers who left the Nicaraguan port were a number of men from the City of Para, bound for Panama, and the Nicaraguan army officer who had given to the American consul the details of the execution of Groce and Cannon, of which he had been a witness.

An American navy officer is acting United States consul at Corinto, and he arranged for the passage of the Nicaraguan officer on the City of Para. It was necessary that the Nicaraguan officer leave the country, as his life was in danger as soon as it became known that he had told what he knew of the execution.

When Captain Nelson of the Para applied at the custom house for his clearance papers he was informed by the commandante that the ship would not be allowed to leave until the Nicaraguan officer had been turned over to the military authorities ashore. Captain Nelson told his troubles to the naval officer who was acting American consul. The consul viawaged the story to the American navy officer, and the latter, five minutes later Captain Oliver of the Albany was on his way ashore.

Yankee captain and Nicaraguan commandante met at the custom house. The commandante repeated what he had told the consul, and the captain repeated what he had told the consul. Captain Oliver bowed, pointed to the harbor, where five American warships lay at anchor, and remarked:

"I'll give you five minutes to give Captain Nelson his clearance papers." The commandante "came through" in just two minutes and a half.

Supreme Court of United States Upholds the Contention of Corporation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The Bush act of the state of Kansas, which sought to compel outside corporations to pay a charter fee for the benefit of state schools as a condition of doing business in that state, is held invalid by the supreme court of the United States in a divided decision announced today.

The prevailing opinion is by Justice Harlan, with a concurring opinion by Justice White. Chief Justice Fuller and Associate Justices Holmes and McKenna dissented. The case was that of the Western union telegraph company against the state of Kansas.

Interpreting his opinion, Justice Harlan said: "The statutory requirements of a given per cent of the authorized capital of a telegraph company, which represents its business interests and property inside and out of the state, is in its practical operation a burden on interstate commerce and a tax on property beyond the limits of Kansas, and unconstitutional."

The dissenting opinion Justice Holmes declared that the state had not undertaken to tax the Western Union, but simply had fixed the condition on which the company could transact state business within the state.

Reputed Son of Wealthy Man and Young Nurse Mystery in Their Actions

Tinged with mystery and replete with romantic settings was the marriage late Saturday night of Robert Eugene Caldwell of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Hazel E. Woodward, a nurse at the German hospital and daughter of J. A. Woodward of Fort Bragg. The marriage license was taken out at the dead of night in Oakland, after which the couple disappeared.

Miss Woodward entered the German hospital about a year ago to take a course in nursing. Except that she came from Fort Bragg little was known of her. She was reticent, did her work quietly and seldom went out. It was known, however, that she was engaged to marry Caldwell, who until a week ago was the telephone operator at Fort Bragg. Why Caldwell was at Fort Bragg as a telephone operator none could tell. He seemed to be possessed of a great deal of money in his own right and to a few friends around him said that his father in Brooklyn was a capitalist.

Caldwell appeared at the Palace hotel a week ago under the name of Curtis and after his arrival the telephone wires between the hotel and the hospital were kept busy. Miss Woodward held long and serious conversations over the telephone with him.

Why Caldwell should have registered as Curtis at the Palace hotel is another mystery.

The plot became deeper Saturday night when Deputy county Clerk Paul W. White, the officer who was asked at his residence by Caldwell, who talked for a marriage license. Shortly before midnight Miss Woodward was called to the telephone. Later she went to the room of Miss Violet Barker, the head nurse at the hospital, and her superior that she had decided to give up her training course, as she was going to be married.

COUPLE DISAPPEAR.—Miss Woodward then packed her belongings and left the hospital in an automobile. News of the marriage caused the deepest excitement around the nurses' quarters at the hospital, but even those who knew her best could throw no light on the strangeness of the proceedings. The bride and groom are 21 and 23 years of age, respectively.
