

LEAGUES TURN Ready to Take Part in Fights for Anti-Machine Candidates

Will Aid Beatty and Marc Anthony Without Public Indorsement

The Lincoln-Roosevelt League's legislative program has been given definite shape by the announcement that the executive committee will, upon request from the several districts, bring out candidates, assist in the election of candidates who conform to the league specifications and inform the people of any legislative district as to the policies, affiliations and fitness of all seekers after legislative honors.

The league's articles of faith commit it to the nomination and election of anti-machine republicans to both branches of the legislature. The announcement given to the public yesterday involves no departure from the league's original policies. It is merely notice to the world that the league is ready to take up consideration of legislative tickets.

WILL AID INDIRECTLY The announcement does not mean that the league will indorse candidates in every district. As a matter of fact the league will endeavor to assist some candidates by refusing to indorse them. For instance, the league has already indorsed the twenty-fourth senatorial districts, respectively, will vote, work and fight for the nomination and election of Assemblyman H. N. Beatty and the reelection of Senator Marc Anthony.

A league indorsement would do Beatty no material good in the eighth district. It might work him in there. The twenty-fourth district is a hard one. As a member of the assembly he was a better and more effective champion of some of the league's principles than were a number of his colleagues. The same might be said of Marc Anthony, who represented the twenty-fourth district in the upper house.

The league's announcement indicates that it proposes to insist that all legislative candidates recommended by it shall pledge themselves to all the principles announced by the league. Taken literally, this involves a pledge to support Johnson for governor as a prerequisite to the league's approval.

WOULD DEFEAT CANDIDATES Obviously such a policy could only serve in some districts to defeat the league's announced purposes. As a matter of fact there are many districts in which the league's policy would do better to find out what their legislative candidates stand for rather than who they stand for.

Local interest in the legislature is being developed rapidly. In some districts the candidates have been selected and announced by the representatives of the machine or the city administration as the case may be.

KENNEDY IS CHOSEN In the thirty-second assembly district William Kennedy, a painter, has been selected to succeed Charles A. Nelson, who is now one of the mayor's right hand men on the board of supervisors. Kennedy has no money to take in this case, Nelson formally introduced Kennedy as his successor last week at a meeting at Maennerbund hall. The meeting was a gathering of citizens and was held in the room mentioned to state a list of election officers.

LONDON NOW CONSIDERS SINGLE GUTTER SCHEME Plan Propounded by Franklin May Be Adopted

London is now considering a scheme for the better drainage of its streets that was first propounded by Benjamin Franklin 150 years ago—the idea of a single gutter in the middle of the thoroughfare. "Here let me remark," he wrote parenthetically amid the interesting details of his project, "the convenience of having but one gutter, running down the middle of the street, instead of two, one on each side, near the roadway, for where all the rain that falls on a street runs from the sides and meets in the middle it forms there a current strong enough to wash away all the mud it meets with, and when divided into two channels it is often too weak to cleanse either, and only makes the mud find more ways so that the carriages and horses dash it upon the foot pavement and sometimes splash it upon those who are walking," says the Chicago News.

Mrs. E. A. Palmer, One of Season's Most Popular Brides

Attends Reception Following the Wedding of Renee Kelly and E. A. Palmer

Miss Renee Kelly became the bride of Edward Alexander Palmer at a pretty wedding last evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Roberts Kelly, in Devisadero street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Towle of the Paulist church. The decorations were in green and white in the reception room with a floral bower in that color scheme, where the service was read. There were more than 100 guests at the wedding, although the list had been limited to the relatives and close friends of the couple.

The bride has a wide acquaintance. Palmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Palmer, both of whom are well known throughout the state. The reception following the ceremony was a notable event socially. The gowns were unusually pretty. The decorations were in white, with a meter elaborated with duchesse lace that is an heirloom in the family. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. John Ewing of New York. The maid of honor was Miss Louise McCormick, a cousin of the bride.

The little ring bearer was Margaret Kelly, a sister of the bride, and the flower girl was little Audrey Ewing, niece of the bride. Clinton Kelly Judd, of Los Angeles, was the best man. The young couple have gone south on their wedding journey, but will return to reside here. They have a host of friends, who are offering them congratulations.

500,000 SHARES AT $10 At the big sale there will be offered 500,000 shares of stock at $10 each and there will be no limit one way or the other as the quantity of shares necessary for a purchase, the plea for subscribers to take up the shares to the man who can afford only a single share as to those of wealth, who probably will take them up by the thousands. The payments are to be made in five years from the date of the subscription in equal installments.

Seated where she could look directly into the eyes of the witness, Mrs. Logan O. Swope sat and watched the duel of wits. Her sympathy was with the young man, who was fighting the witness against a disliked son in law. But, although her sympathy was not with her elder daughter, Mrs. Swope noticed Mrs. Hyde's every action. One moment Mrs. Swope would smile encouragingly at her younger daughter and the next she would gaze steadily at Mrs. Hyde, her face set with an expression of grim determination.

EXPECTED RECOGNITION It seemed almost certain when Margaret Swope walked down the aisle of the courtroom that she was going to stop and recognize Mrs. Hyde. She walked within a few feet of Mrs. Hyde, faltered slightly, peered anxiously at her and then, while the lights were burning, she saw her little sister sister. The spectators did, however, and there was a craning of necks to get a good look at the two women they saw each other for the first time in months.

Testifying was an uphill battle for Miss Swope, who is still weak from the effects of typhoid. Her nerves are unstrung. The rapid fire questioning of the courtroom disconcerted her at times, but her testimony, in the main, was unshaken on cross examination. The best feature of her testimony was her story about how Doctor Hyde came to the room while the lights were burning low one night and in the semi-darkness gave her a hypodermic. The physician walked into the room, announced he would give a hypodermic, and she hid her sleeve under the needle and left, she said. Doctor Twyman was in charge of the case at the time.

This arm has since become sore. The state contends that the injection was of pus germs and not camphorated oil, as Doctor Hyde claimed.

BATH WATER IN SYRINGE Miss Elizabeth Gordon, a nurse, testified late in the afternoon that once while Doctor Hyde was giving Crisman Swope a hypodermic he emptied the syringe with water which had been used in giving the patient a bath.

Miss Gordon was summoned to the Swope home December 4 by Doctor Hyde. He told her, she testified, that he had a syringe which he had used in giving a patient a bath. She testified that she saw the syringe and that it had been used in a elstern on the property. Crisman and Margaret Swope and Miss Gordon were in the room when the fall at that time. None of them appeared to be in a serious condition, said Miss Gordon.

In giving Crisman Swope a hypodermic on December 5, said Miss Gordon, Doctor Hyde filled his hypodermic syringe with dirty water from a washbowl before he inserted the needle.

Miss Gordon's testimony regarding the syringe was the only one which corroborated the stories of other witnesses. Miss Gordon was in charge of Miss Margaret Swope on the night of December 12, when Doctor Hyde gave her a hypodermic. She thus described the incident:

"I heard Margaret sobbing and went to her. She told me Doctor Hyde had given her a hypodermic. I went out into the hall and looked in the doorway and he had given her some camphorated oil for an intermittent pulse. I returned to the room and found her pale and trembling."

"There was no odor of camphorated oil in the room and no trace of it on the arm. There was no such oil in the house."

BATTLES FOR HUSBAND When Attorney Frank P. Walsh reopened his cross examination of Miss Anna Houlihan, a nurse, today he was well provided with ammunition furnished by Mrs. Hyde, wife of the defendant.

The defense delivered telling blows to the story of Miss Houlihan Saturday, and this spurred them on in the hope that further progress might be made today.

There is not a circumstance connected with the illness in the Swope house that Mrs. Hyde is not conversant with. She has provided invaluable testimony in the case of her husband for life. She is constantly at her husband's elbow listening and suggesting.

Court hours were lengthened today by Judge Latsch because of his desire to finish the case as soon as possible. The morning session was held from 12 o'clock and the afternoon session from 1:30 to 6 o'clock. Night sessions will be held if the court thinks necessary.

Mrs. Hyde Coaches Husband's Attorneys in Cross Examination of Margaret Swope

Two important steps were marked yesterday in the city's progress to acquire its Hetch Hetchy Sierra water supply system. The board of supervisors named the representatives to proceed to Washington and present the municipality's case in the hearing before Secretary of the Interior Ballinger May 18 relative to his threatened revocation of the Hetch Hetchy valley portion of the Garfield grants.

Mayor McCarthy, City Attorney Long, City Engineer Manson, Special Counsel E. A. Lane and Engineer Charles D. Marx of Stanford university will leave tomorrow for the capital. The board named the five representatives at the mayor's suggestion.

FORESTRY BUREAU ACCEPTS MAPS City Engineer Manson announced also that the forestry bureau had accepted the city's maps filed to show its proposed route for the Hetchy creek and Tuolumne diversion canals, renewing the permission given in February, 1909, just before Secretary Garfield went out of office, to construct the necessary overways in the national Yosemite park.

The sum of $1,000 was set aside to fence in the city's holdings in the park and outside of the Hetch Hetchy valley, the purpose being to conserve the forest on the sections now under the city's teams to be at work at the dam site of Lake Eleanor and other points. The sum of $2,500 was also voted for the purchase of the necessary machinery for the trip. Professor Marx will be paid for his services as hitherto agreed in former employment by the city as a water expert.

THE MAYOR'S LETTER The mayor's letter, upon which the board acted, set forth in detail the itinerary of the party, the probable date of departure and the personnel of the party. The communication follows:

I beg leave to submit, for the consideration of your honorable board, the fact that the time has now arrived when the city and county of San Francisco is obliged to answer the request of the Secretary of the Interior, K. A. Ballinger, to appear, through representatives, at Washington, not later than the 15th inst., to discuss the proposed cause why the Garfield permit to use the Hetch Hetchy water source should not be revoked.

I respectfully suggest that a party, consisting of the city attorney, Percy V. Long, Attorney E. A. Lane, city engineer, Marsden Manson; Prof. C. D. Marx of Stanford University, and, if you deem it necessary, my representative, should be sent to Washington to discuss the proposed cause why the Garfield permit to use the Hetch Hetchy water source should not be revoked.

At the same time I would further respectfully suggest that your honorable board should be authorized to appropriate the necessary expenses of such a party, covering, at the minimum, the expenses of transportation, hotel, meals, and other incidentals, and to pay to Professor Marx for his expert services, the same to be appropriated from what remains of the Garfield permit fund.

Under present arrangements, it seems expedient that the official party shall leave for Washington on December 5, and shall first proceed to the city of Milwaukee, for the purpose of witnessing a demonstration of the proposed cause why the Garfield permit to use the Hetch Hetchy water source should not be revoked.

The letter of the city's Washington representative in the Hetch Hetchy matters, Judge Stockslager, as well as the inclosed communication of the forestry bureau, are herewith submitted.

Dr. Marsden Manson, City Engineer, San Francisco—Dear Sir: Inclosed herewith are the acknowledgment receipt of your letter of the 14th as to the wishes of the city and county of San Francisco, and the proposed cause why the Garfield permit to use the Hetch Hetchy water source should not be revoked.

It is my understanding that the city of San Francisco is desiring to acquire the Hetch Hetchy water supply system, and that the city is desiring to acquire the Hetch Hetchy water supply system, and that the city is desiring to acquire the Hetch Hetchy water supply system.
