

DR. HADLEY TO GIVE BIBLE ADDRESS TODAY

S. H. Willey, Venerable Educator, Blesses Students During Pilgrimage

Classes Keep Open House in Different Buildings on the Campus

Graduates of University to Hold Monster Meeting in the Greek Theater

Today's Golden Jubilee Program at University

- 9:45 a. m.—Procession of faculty, alumni and students will form at North hall and proceed to the Greek theater, where a golden jubilee address will be delivered by President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale on "The Educated Democracy" special musical program under Prof. R. P. Scholz by university band, university orchestra, treble clef and glee clubs. 12 o'clock—Luncheon of alumni association under the oaks in Strawberry canyon; business meeting of alumni association. 2:30 p. m.—Good of the University meeting in Greek theater, James K. Moffitt, president of the alumni association, president speakers, President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Fletcher A. Carter (for Governor Gillett), John R. Kinross '95, William R. Davis '74, Charles S. Wheeler '84, Russ Avery '94, Mrs. Grace C. Torrey '96, Max Thelen '04. 7:30 p. m.—Jubilee pageant on campus, through Berkeley to California field.

BERKELEY, May 16.—With a patriarchal benediction the class of 1910 was sent on its pilgrimage today to the green shrines of the University of California campus.

The benediction was delivered by Dr. Samuel H. Willey, the venerable co-founder of the College of California, the parent of the university, which was started in Oakland just 50 years ago.

Standing on the steps of old South hall, the ivy garbed and venerable building which dates back into the infant years of the university, the aged clergyman spread his hands over the gathering of hundreds of young students and called down on their careers the blessing of God.

Youth and ages stood facing there. The merry faces of the graduates grew serious as the old man bared his white head and addressed them, recalling the high scholarship of 50 years ago.

"This has exceeded all our expectations," declared Doctor Willey, his voice breaking against the sunny shore of youthful faces.

The pilgrimage of the class men and women of 1910, the "golden jubilee" golden jubilee exercises. In the afternoon came the social and retrospective side of the semicentennial celebration expressed in class reunions, and this evening, with the senior extravaganza in the Greek theater, the merry, burlesque aspect of the celebration of commencement week is on. The Greek theater was filled by the spectators at "The Chasers" tonight.

This afternoon the various classes held reunions in North hall, California hall, South hall and the mining building. The various rooms are brightly decorated with flowers and pennants and refreshments are served in many of the quarters. In each rendezvous registers were open in which the visiting alumni could enroll.

Tomorrow will be the "jubilee day." In the morning Dr. Arthur T. Hadley, president of Yale university, will deliver the jubilee oration on the subject, "An Educated Democracy," and in the afternoon the "Good of the University" meeting will be held in the Greek theater. At least one representative of every class since 1864 will be present. In the evening the pageant, when "new" joins with "old" in an amicable and interesting exploitation of their respective and mutual merits, will be held.

The class day celebration started early under the splendid oaks on the lower campus.

The first demonstration was the initiation of the juniors into the mystery of the senior "plug." Not until they are on the brink of their college maturity are the college men permitted to wear the dilapidated "gown" in an amicable and interesting exploitation of their respective and mutual merits, will be held.

GRADUATES MAKE FAREWELL TOUR OF CAMPUS SENIORS APPEAR IN HILARIOUS EXTRAVAGANZA

SCENES AND PARTICIPANTS IN GOLDEN JUBILEE CELEBRATION AT BERKELEY The upper picture shows the venerable Dr. S. H. Willey and the women students of the graduating class on their pilgrimage on the campus. Below on the right is President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale, jubilee orator. In the center, Max Thelen '04, speaker at university meeting, and Milton T. Farmer, secretary of alumni association.

been following the lines in a carriage, wing to shield the students. There was a great cheer for the venerable educator, who, assisted by President Brookman, mounted the steps of the historic building.

Today marks another epoch in my life, to see you young men and women going forth from this great university. It brings back to me memories long years ago, and as I stand here I can not help but pay a tribute to the men who sowed the seed, so to speak, for this big institution.

They were men of high ideals; men who had a high realization of the work they had in hand. The University of California today stands out as a monument to their faith and unselfishness.

They worked well, and the things they have done will express themselves in these young men and women who go out from this university as God fearing and upright citizens.

May God bless the University of California, its professors, its graduates, and those things that emanate from it.

LIFE SAVING STATION Track Captain H. S. Johns spoke from an upper window in the agriculture building. "This is a life saving station," he said, "for it is from here that the university sends out information to farmers all over the state."

A conedivisional division of the procession occurred at this point. The women students went to their college home at Hearst hall, where Miss Martha Chickering addressed them on the interests and ideals associated with that building. That the women students were filled with enthusiasm was apparent when they honored Miss Chickering by singing to her "She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Stuart O'Melveny, chairman of the commencement week committee, addressed the men from the steps of senior hall, the picturesque log cabin in the canyon. "This is not a life saving station," said O'Melveny, "it is a life giving station. The simplicity of this building is symbolical of the simplicity of the ideals which the men students of the university would perpetuate."

At the chemistry building the men and women students joined forces again and witnessed a few phenomenal demonstrations, which included a vivid illustration on a small scale of the Halley comet and its renowned tail. O. H. Robertson conducted the exciting experiments.

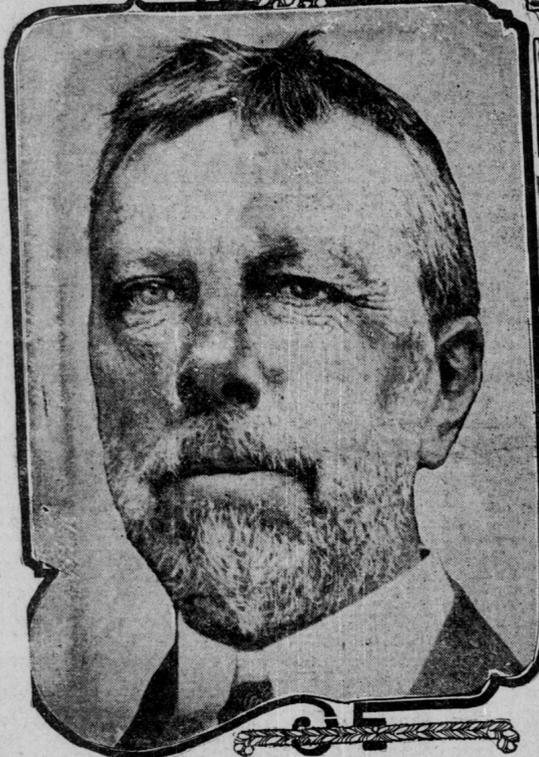

A. J. Eddy spoke at the civil engineering building. O. I. Kottenbach and John Hood at the mechanics building. Miss Marguerite Ogden addressed her classmates from the vine covered balcony of the university library.

At the conclusion of his speech he asked all to uncover, and then he led his classmates and the spectators in the university hymn, "Hall, California." Men and women students joined in the music. At the end of the hymn the yell leader called for the college yell, "Oski yoo," and then students abbed.

Classes receive An entirely novel phase of commencement week was introduced on the campus today when the alumni classes of the university held open house in designated quarters in the college buildings. The older classes had quarters in North hall and the more recent classes, for the most part, were in the new California hall. The later classes planned lavishly for the reception of their members and friends.

In California hall the classes of '04, '08 and '09 had the more elaborately decorated rooms. The apartments were fitted with chairs and benches, generously covered with pillows, the walls were hung with college decorations and were filled with flowers. Tea was served by '03 in the mining building, and '04 had lemonade and cake in California hall. Each class kept a register, where the members signed.

The class headquarters are: In California hall, classes from 1864 to 1872, inclusive, and '04, '05, '06, '08 and '09; North hall, '73-'03 and '07; South hall, '00-'02; mining building, '02.

BUSHNELL PHOTO

SHERIFF CLASHES WITH PISTOLESI Supervisor's Accusations Are Vigorously Resented by Peace Officer

Continued From Page 2 Abbott at last answered him in five words. "My wife, more than anything," he said.

ENDS EXAMINATION The pursuit of the hoped for admission of an existing conspiracy ended suddenly. Attorney Charles Heggerty interrupted Knight and there was a whispered consultation between Knight, Heggerty and Attorney E. B. Martinelli, at the conclusion of which Knight announced that the cross examination was at an end.

There was no redirect examination, and the next witness called by Boyd was Roland J. Hazelton, Abbott's brother in law, who is a rancher of Placer county. He testified that on the night of the raid he called on Flannery at Mrs. Abbott's request and secured Flannery's assistance in getting M. F. Cochrane and later J. W. Cochrane into the case. Flannery's remark on the night of the robbery, he said, was "it's funny about Joe's arrest. He was in here this afternoon and I had it all fixed with the 'bank' sound for him to go to work in the morning."

Hazelton told of another visit to Flannery a few days later, at which time the meeting was in Flannery's office upstairs over his saloon and at which Cochrane and Hazelton were present. Hazelton attributed to Flannery a remark addressed to Cochrane to the effect: "We want no law in this case. We have got to eat it."

WOMEN HEAVILY VEILED Mrs. Cecile Hazelton, girlish and petite, neatly gowned in a tailored suit and with her face hidden under a broad, brimmed black hat and a heavy blue veil, was Boyd's next witness. She told of a visit to Flannery at his home in an effort to raise money for Abbott's bail, and of how she was repulsed. Mrs. Myrtle Abbott, also heavily veiled, and gowned in green, remained only long enough on the stand to make the single statement that on the night of the poolroom raid Flannery had rung her up and told her that he had sent a man over to Sausalito with Hazelton, and that everything would be all right, so far as Abbott and rushed out to the steps of the courthouse in search of him. Pistolesi was just starting down the long flight of steps when Taylor grasped him suddenly by the shoulder and swung him around.

There were two quick exchanges of violent words, a threat by Taylor of immediate and severe punishment, and then friends rushed in and separated the two men.

The Flannery trial will continue at 10 o'clock this morning.

BASSITY TOO BUSY TO DEFEND A SUIT

Jerome Bassity was not in court yesterday when the suit of S. F. Pfister and others, claiming $475, was called for trial before Judge Trout, but his attorney, J. F. Tevlin, was on hand and announced that the missing defendant admitted his indebtedness and would not trouble fighting the case. It was agreed that the money should be paid into court for distribution among the various plaintiffs in the following proportions: S. F. Pfister, $139; San Francisco glass company, $230.50; Palace hardware company, $52.70; United glass works, $52.80.

TAP ON THE HEAD LAYS VICTOR LOW

Fight of Firemen on Steamship Senator Has Bloody End As a result of a wrestling match last night on board the steamship Senator lying at Pacific street dock, in which William Steinder, a fireman, tried to throw Dan Fox, another fireman, overboard, Steinder is laid up at the harbor emergency hospital with a bad wound in the top of his head, and Jimmie Feron, who interceded in the fight, is locked up at the central police station, awaiting the result of Steinder's wounds.

Feron says that all three men were on the deck of the Senator, when Steinder tried to throw Fox overboard and had nearly got Fox over the rail, when he prevented Fox from falling into the sea. Feron grabbed a monkey wrench and gave Steinder a "tap" on the head. The "tap" laid Steinder out flat in his own blood. Cries for help brought De Witt J. Ryan, J. Coulan and Scotty Campbell to the scene, which put an end to the fracas.

CHAUFFEURS FLAN DANCE—Oakland, May 16.—A shirt waist dance will be given in Maple hall tomorrow evening by the Professional Chauffeurs' association of Oakland, for which several hundred invitations have been issued.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

and rushed out to the steps of the courthouse in search of him. Pistolesi was just starting down the long flight of steps when Taylor grasped him suddenly by the shoulder and swung him around.

There were two quick exchanges of violent words, a threat by Taylor of immediate and severe punishment, and then friends rushed in and separated the two men.

The Flannery trial will continue at 10 o'clock this morning.

BASSITY TOO BUSY TO DEFEND A SUIT

Jerome Bassity was not in court yesterday when the suit of S. F. Pfister and others, claiming $475, was called for trial before Judge Trout, but his attorney, J. F. Tevlin, was on hand and announced that the missing defendant admitted his indebtedness and would not trouble fighting the case. It was agreed that the money should be paid into court for distribution among the various plaintiffs in the following proportions: S. F. Pfister, $139; San Francisco glass company, $230.50; Palace hardware company, $52.70; United glass works, $52.80.

TAP ON THE HEAD LAYS VICTOR LOW

Fight of Firemen on Steamship Senator Has Bloody End As a result of a wrestling match last night on board the steamship Senator lying at Pacific street dock, in which William Steinder, a fireman, tried to throw Dan Fox, another fireman, overboard, Steinder is laid up at the harbor emergency hospital with a bad wound in the top of his head, and Jimmie Feron, who interceded in the fight, is locked up at the central police station, awaiting the result of Steinder's wounds.

Feron says that all three men were on the deck of the Senator, when Steinder tried to throw Fox overboard and had nearly got Fox over the rail, when he prevented Fox from falling into the sea. Feron grabbed a monkey wrench and gave Steinder a "tap" on the head. The "tap" laid Steinder out flat in his own blood. Cries for help brought De Witt J. Ryan, J. Coulan and Scotty Campbell to the scene, which put an end to the fracas.

CHAUFFEURS FLAN DANCE—Oakland, May 16.—A shirt waist dance will be given in Maple hall tomorrow evening by the Professional Chauffeurs' association of Oakland, for which several hundred invitations have been issued.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

OF THE WAR PATH Yesterday Pistolesi was belligerent. He threatened several newspapermen with sudden and violent extermination, and then publicly denounced Taylor, asserting that he could prove that the latter had embezzled over $5,000 of county money, and proving that Taylor had grossly insulted one of the women connected with the Flannery trial.

Taylor learned of Pistolesi's declaration just at the time court adjourned.

DUNSMUIR COAL PROPERTY SOLD

$11,000,000 to Be Paid by Canadian Northern for Vancouver Island Mines

Title to the Dunsmuir coal properties in Vancouver island changed hands yesterday, and in consideration of $11,000,000 the Canadian Northern railway company will hereafter exercise control of the output of this rich coal field. J. B. Smith of the Western Fuel company, which concern is agent for the Dunsmuir corporation in this city, confirms the transaction on correspondence received from J. A. Lindsay of the Wellington colliery company of Victoria, B. C. No immediate change in business relations has been announced to Smith.

According to the terms of the option given the railroad, $100,000 was paid down 90 days ago. Yesterday $1,250,000 was to be paid to close the option, and the remainder of the purchase price of $11,000,000 is to be paid in four installments within the next four months. The arrangements for what is one of the largest financial transactions ever put through on the coast were made through the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Montreal.

The new proprietorship will not, it is understood, interrupt the regular shipments from the north to this state. With the closing of the option the suit of the British, Canada and General Trust company, which was instituted April 29 against James Dunsmuir to compel him to close an option granted to them, will probably be dropped. The action was instituted as soon as Dunsmuir gave an option to William MacKenzie and D. Mackay to represent the Canadian Northern railway in the present transaction.

There were two quick exchanges of violent words, a threat by Taylor of immediate and severe punishment, and then friends rushed in and separated the two men.

OUTDOOR ART LEAGUE AFTER CLEAN STREETS

Also Takes Up Fight for Women Employes in U. S. Mint

To get cleaner streets the members of the Outdoor Art League will devote their energies to securing the assistance of the building trades council and the scavengers' union. Complaints were received at a meeting of the league yesterday afternoon that the streets were never in a more deplorable state.

It was said that the scavengers pile the wagons high with trash, which blows loose and trails behind; also that there are no covers on the wagons.

A letter was received also from a woman employe of the United States mint, saying that some machine recently invented is to be installed here and will cause the dismissal of a number of the women in the mint. Some of these are women of advanced age and the situation is in some cases a desperate one. The league will write to the representatives in congress asking if anything can be done to ameliorate conditions.

The league will hold no more regular meetings during the next three months.

Tuesday and Friday Mornings

From 9 o'clock Until Noon

Ladies' Day at Lurline Baths

The Natatorium of the Lurline Salt Water Baths

Is Reserved Exclusively for Women and Girls

Bush and Larkin Sts.

A DIME A DAY PER ACRE

For Irrigated, Planted Land

In Suisun Valley, Butte and Sutter counties, where the fertility of the soil, equable climate, great water supply, available markets and unsurpassed transportation facilities make men owning twenty acre farms independent, and will do the same for you.

Under government test, irrigation system endorsed by the National Irrigation Congress. Eighty miles of canals and laterals now in use. Not an irrigation project of the future, but of the present. Railroads, steam and electric lines, roads, telephone, telegraph, schools, churches, societies, growing towns—all the conveniences of civilization combined with the absolutely necessary elements of successful farming.

Under the supervision of an attaché of the United States Department of Agriculture crops of your own selection on land of your own selection, take care of the land and crops for a short term of years. Our plan is to give you a permanent position and by small monthly payments and crop returns secure a profitable California home and an assured future.

Out on this advertisement, fill in your name and address, mail it to us and receive free booklet and full information. Call 5-17 says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered.

Name Address City

STINE & KENDRICK 23 MONTGOMERY ST. SAN FRANCISCO. CALIFORNIA IRRIGATION LAND CO. 1282 BROADWAY, OAKLAND.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST

Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garret for garrut for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 25 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by The Owl Drug Co.

THE APPROVAL of the most EMINENT PHYSICIANS and its WORLD-WIDE ACCEPTANCE by the WELL-INFORMED, BECAUSE ITS COMPONENT PARTS ARE KNOWN TO BE MOST WHOLESOME AND TRULY BENEFICIAL IN EFFECT, HAVE GIVEN TO Syrup of Figs and ELIXIR OF SENNA THE FIRST POSITION AMONG FAMILY LAXATIVES AND HAVE LED TO ITS GENERAL USAGE WITH THE MOST UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION. TO GET ITS BENEFICIAL EFFECTS, ALWAYS BUY THE GENUINE MANUFACTURED BY THE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS ONE SIZE ONLY, REGULAR PRICE 50¢ PER BOTTLE

Syrup of Figs and ELIXIR OF SENNA THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE IS MANUFACTURED BY THE California Fig Syrup Co.