

SENATE KILLS OFF INSURGENT CHANGES

Upper House Paves Way for Early Vote on Administration Railroad Bill

Jones-Painter Amendment Extending Suspension Limit to Six Months Adopted

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Through the defeat in the senate today of a number of amendments offered by "insurgent" republicans and democrats, the way was paved for an early vote on the administration railroad bill. It is believed this will come tomorrow, and the senate then will adjourn until Monday, when the statehood bill probably will be made the unfinished business.

The "regular" republicans maintained a firm hold upon the situation during several votes on important features, notwithstanding that the "insurgents" and democrats united their votes on several occasions. More was accomplished during the closing hours of the session today than in any other week during the three months the bill has been pending.

KILL TUNNERS AMENDMENT

Not until 5 o'clock was anything done beyond listening to the "insurgents" measure, but when at that time Senator La Follette concluded his two days' speech in opposition to the bill the routing proceeded rapidly, with the following results:

The Cummins amendment, requiring the approval of the interstate commerce commission of all increases in railroad rates before they become effective, was not down.

The Martin amendment requiring the commission to reach a final decision on increases within six months was defeated, 18 to 4.

An amendment by Clark of Arkansas to defer increased rates until passed upon by the commission, but putting them into effect after six months, pending a final decision, was rejected.

An amendment by Jones and Painter to extend the 120 day suspension of new rates and regulations to 180 days, if not concluded within that time, and for the refunding of the difference between rates if the new rate is found to be unreasonable. This amendment was adopted unanimously.

An amendment by Senator Hughes striking out the capitalization language in the bill also was adopted, Senator Burton casting the only negative vote.

HOW THEY VOTED

Of the 29 votes favorable to the amendment 12 were cast by insurgent republicans as follows: Beveridge, Borah, Bourne, Brewster, Burkett, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Dixon, Dolliver, Gamble and La Follette.

Only four democrats—Bailey, McHenry, Smith of Maryland and Taylor—voted for the provision.

The pairs on the vote were announced as follows: Root with Talliferro, Flint with Culberson, Lorimer with Davis, Dillingham with Tillman, McCumber with Foster and Richardson with Rayner.

Senators Bankhead, Bulkeley, Daniel, Hughes, Money, Newlands, Penrose and Percy were absent and unpaired. Explanations were made in behalf of most of the absentees.

Pending the vote on the Jones-Painter amendment there was much confusion as to the parliamentary status of two amendments as separately presented.

The original suggestions of Jones merely provided for an extension of the suspension of the 120 days period, allowed by the bill for investigation of new rates by the interstate commerce commission. It goes into the bill as a proviso and reads as follows:

"That if any such hearing can not be concluded within the period of suspension, the interstate commerce commission may, in its discretion, extend the time of suspension for a further period not exceeding six months."

CHANGES IN AMENDMENT

The addition made at the suggestion of Painter provides that "if the increased rate is found to be unreasonable the carrier shall refund to the party paying it the difference between that and the rate as it existed before that increase, and shall do so on the presentation of the bill of lading, receipt or expense bill at its office where the freight charges were made."

The "insurgent" republicans based their opposition on the ground that sufficient care was not taken to prevent the carrying of stocks and the issuance of both stocks and bonds in any way that would be injurious to the general public.

If long speeches can be eliminated, there is no reason why a final vote on the bill should not be reached before the end of tomorrow.

NEPHEW AND NIECE CHARGED WITH FRAUD

Uncle, Past 80, Says That They Misused His Money

Charges that his nephew and niece, George A. Mitchell and Margaret M. Mitchell, have defrauded him and a number of other persons by means of their monetary transactions. The complaint is in a complaint filed with the county clerk of San Francisco yesterday by Thomas Roman, who is 83 years of age and lives at Pleasanton, Alameda county.

Roman says he asked the Mitchells to advise him in real estate transactions and at different times in the last two years had advanced them about $20,000, with which they have purchased land in different parts of this city. Roman's money has also been expended, he says, in erecting an apartment house on property in Seventh street near Harrison belonging to the complainant.

The fraud of which Roman complains consists of the fact that his nephew and niece placed the realty they purchased in their own names.

NAVY ELECTRICIAN JAILED FOR FRAUD

Glenn C. Merritt of Supply Ship Glacier Charged With Passing Raised Checks

[Special Dispatch to The Call] VALLEJO, May 26.—"Wine, women and song," according to all obtainable reports, proved the undoing of Glenn C. Merritt, chief electrician attached to the United States supply ship Glacier, now at Mare Island, who is locked up in the city prison here and against whom four charges of felony have been lodged. According to the complaint, Merritt is amenable to three different courts—naval, state and federal—being charged with uttering, raising and passing spurious checks.

Several days ago Merritt secured from Assistant Paymaster W. H. Wilderlink two checks for $3 each, payable at the treasury. One of these checks he raised to $300 and passed on the proprietor of the Clarion, 1306 Fillmore street, San Francisco, a suit of clothes being purchased and the change taken in money.

CHECK PROVES WORTHLESS

Merritt returned to Vallejo and the $300 check being found worthless, was arrested upon complaint of the San Francisco house. He was arrested last night and placed in the brig of the West Virginia under double irons.

The arrested man has been stationed here for several years and bears a rather unsavory reputation in naval circles. He was for a long time connected with the wireless department of the navy, being ordered to Guam in the wireless service January 7. He failed to report for duty and after a long drawn out court martial was reduced four points and reinstated in the service.

While in the brig of the West Virginia, before being transferred to the local authorities, Merritt was visited by a woman, known here as Mrs. Arlene Pringle, who was supposed to be the wife of an entertainer in a local saloon, but who declared that she was married to Merritt in San Jose about two weeks ago. The woman stated that previous to her marriage to Merritt her name was not Mrs. Pringle, but Dixie Mann.
