

WOLLE WILL LEAD "ANTIGONE" MUSIC

Big Orchestra and Chorus Soon to Be Rehearsed for Most Notable Production

Miss Anglin's Manager Announces Choice of Berkeley Man for Great Effort

By WALTER ANTHONY The wonderful effect of fine music reinforcing and illuminating spectacular and poetic drama was felt by every one who was fortunate enough to hear Maude Adams' memorable presentation of "As You Like It" a week ago at the Greek theater.

Louis Netherese, Margaret Anglin's manager, has arrived from New York and has already mapped out the musical scheme which is to frame the action of the somber tragedy wherein the will of a woman clashes with the tyranny of a king and fate gave the victory to her who feared not death.

WOLLE WILL DIRECT A wise choice of director for the music was Netherese's first act on arriving here. Dr. J. Fred Wolle, whose scholarly attainments and poetic qualities of mind were given splendid realization at the recent performance of Bach's passion music, has been chosen to lead the musical portions of the Sophocles drama, and Mendelssohn's music has been chosen as the medium.

The incidental music to "Antigone" and "Oedipus" of Sophocles, Racine's "Athalia" and Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" is regarded as of the best that Mendelssohn penned. That to "Antigone" was written by royal command when the young composer was kapellmeister to the king, Frederick William IV. It is marked by a nobility and depth which reflect in great measure, the composer's intimate knowledge of the Greek classic, gained during university days and cultivated by subsequent study.

Although Commander L. S. Van Duzer, U. S. N., was not at Olongop when the drydock Dewey sank, he is satisfied that the sinking was the result of an accident and that the consequences to the dock will not be serious. He was commandant of the navy yard at Olongop and incidentally in charge of the drydock up to a few weeks before the accident.

The Dewey can not have sunk very far, he said, "for the reason that at the deepest end there was only about 60 feet of water. When we sink the dock to take on a big cruiser we sink it about 55 feet, so you see that if it has gone clear to the bottom it is only five feet farther down than usual. The only damage that the submersion is likely to have caused is to the dynamo, but as they are within a water tight compartment I do not imagine that they are seriously affected. Of course, you must understand that all this is only supposition on my part. The accident occurred after I left. I do not think there is anything in the report that the dock was sunk by Japanese. Anyway, even if somebody had blown a hole in the dock, which is unlikely, the damage could not be particularly serious."

Commander Duzer was last in San Francisco as executive officer of the battleship Connecticut, the flagship of the Atlantic fleet. He is on his way to Washington.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 11.—The supreme court today handed down a decision in the famous Topeka club cases, denying the right of the club to maintain a locker system for the benefit of members who keep liquor for their own personal use.

The case was an important one, as it determines the right of social clubs to keep liquor and affects all the social organizations, such as the Elks, Beavers and Eagles.

The case was brought by the attorney general and was bitterly contested from the start. Judge Dana of the Shawnee district court decided against the club and his action was upheld by the supreme court.

The city's right to maintain an electric lighting plant in Golden Gate park for the illumination of that reservation itself was upheld in an opinion given by City Attorney Long yesterday to the board of supervisors, but the distinction was drawn that such a plant could not be installed in the park under the terms of its dedication for the purpose of lighting the adjacent sections of the city.

THINK of the luxury of bathing in filtered salt water from the ocean. You can do that very thing at the Lurline baths, corner Bush and Larkin streets.

The salt water is filtered out at the beach when first pumped from the ocean, and refiltered before it reaches the heater that supplies the baths. It circulates completely around the tank, going out at the lower end, so that it may be said to be in a perpetual state of motion and circulation.

The water is never allowed to remain in a day or an hour; it is always fresh, always changing, and has been examined by well known chemists to show it is pure. The filtration system takes away none of the saline qualities of the ocean water, but, by holding back the impurities, makes it even better and more healthful.

WOMEN DEMAND PAY FOR COUNTRY EXPERIENCE AND SUPERVISORS HOLD INQUIRY

A much harassed financial secretary for the board of education faced the supervisors' inquiry yesterday as to why the 170 school teachers whose pay for country experience was deducted from their salaries during 1908-9 were not given the $11,393 at the close of the year out of the $23,000 surplus then on hand, and why they had not since been paid out of the $16,000 still remaining.

School Directors Kincaid, Payot and Wheeler were present at the hearing but said nothing except to bring back their representative to the question at issue.

Supervisors Nelson and Walsh heard a fullscale from both sides and at the close of the fray took the whole question under advisement to recover their bearings.

EXERCISE OF ECONOMY Margaret C. Burke and Agnes E. Clark, who appeared for the teachers, said that when the general increase in salaries was made in July, 1907, all grammar and primary grade instructors shared alike in the benefits of credit for service, years of experience outside the county counting the same as experience in the city schools.

Former School Director Walsh stated that country and city experience had been found equally valuable and that San Francisco beginners had been encouraged to take country positions before applying for city assignments.

As a precautionary measure of economy there was a change in the rule in 1908, country experience being disregarded and the "increase" resulted in a cut in the wages of most of the 170 affected.

Later the discrimination was removed, but country experience even now is only counted at half value.

DISPUTE ABOUT MANNERS Secretary Berlinger lost his head in the midst of one financial fray, or the means of 22 years' service as a buffer between the commission and its corps of teachers overcame his discretion, for at one point, addressing Miss Margaret C. Burke, he said:

"Miss Burke, showed some astonishment and after getting her breath she said: 'I was not aware that to your duties as financial secretary of the board you added that of censor of the teachers' manners.'"

"You must forgive me if I seem to suggest that your own behavior at our late interview in the superintendent's office hardly entitles you to claim any expert knowledge in good manners," added Miss Clark to her companion's brooding.

"Very well, ladies, I have only to say of you that no child of mine shall ever go to either of your schools to learn manners or anything else," said Berlinger.

Later he declared that all his woes came from the flinty heartedness of about 200 of the 1,200 teachers with whom fate and trouble linked his life.

WIFE OF CALIFORNIA NEWSPAPERMAN SECURES FOUR YEARS' CONTRACT IN GERMANY

Success as a grand opera singer has crowned the efforts of Mrs. Olive Timmons of San Francisco, who has been studying music for two years or more in Germany. She has signed contracts to sing for four years with a leading opera company in Germany this season at Plauen and the next three at Bremen.

Mrs. Timmons is the wife of Joseph Timmons, a former San Francisco newspaperman who has been on a Los Angeles paper for a year or more. Her voice has often been heard in concert here and in the Alameda county cities.

On the advice of teachers and musicians and to carry out her great ambition Mrs. Timmons went to Germany, where her full, rich contralto soon won her recognition from the foremost singers.

This season at Plauen Mrs. Timmons will sing in "Lohengrin" as Ortrud, in "The Merry Wives of Windsor" as Frau Reich, in "Il Trovatore" as Azucena and in "Faust" as Martha. Her repertoire for the three seasons at Bremen will be still larger.

AD PROMISE TO HOME INDUSTRIES

Guadalupe Parlor of Native Sons to Demand "Made in California" on Products

The members of Guadalupe parlor No. 231, Native Sons of the Golden West, has placed itself on record as favoring and patronizing home industry.

It was said during the discussion of the subject that every citizen of the state should use his individual effort to advance home industry and above all purchase all home products in preference to such as are on the market from territory outside of the state limits. It was asserted that during the last few years the manufacturing interests in California have decreased to a large extent, resulting in many members of the order being deprived of employment and that much of the money which should remain in the state for the benefit of the inhabitants, is being sent out of the state limits.

The discussion was followed by the adoption of a set of resolutions which set forth that as the greatest number of manufactured articles sold in the state are manufactured in the east and elsewhere, and as many of these commodities can be purchased in California, the members pledge themselves to do all in their power to see that the label "made in California" be placed on all articles manufactured in California, and that they purchase such articles whenever possible, and to have their friends, relatives and others do the same, also that as the interest of our order is solely in the state of California, and the slogan of home industry will benefit us more than anyone else, we should see that the proper publicity is given this matter, and that we send a copy of these resolutions to all local parlors and have them act on them."

Talks on Teeth BY Rex Dental Co. (Incorporated.)

Comfortable Alveolar Teeth

If Alveolar teeth were not first of all comfortable they would be a failure. Looks wouldn't commend them alone, although they are beautiful looking.

The man who wears them will have relief from the misery of using "false" teeth, and rolling his food around in his mouth between plates instead of cutting it up as he can do with Alveolar teeth.

When the false teeth which are stuck on partial plates are always falling out, to the great embarrassment of the wearer.

If this is the first time you have heard of the Alveolar Method of supplying missing teeth without plates or ordinary bridge work, we shall briefly outline the plan:

We require two or more teeth in each jaw and with these to work from we build our structure, supplying every missing tooth, each in its own socket, so that each takes its own strain—following nature's plan, you see—and when the work is completed the patient has a new set of teeth, as perfect and serviceable as nature's—in nearly every respect. We don't bore into the gums to do this work, nor is there anything about it to be dreaded from start to finish.

One can leave our offices and begin to chew beefsteak, or anything else, the same day the work is completed. Imitators have attempted to do the work, but because of our broad patents granted by this government and by many of the governments of Europe, they dare not infringe on the basic principle which makes the whole work a success.

If you are wearing a partial plate or a tortuous unsanitary piece of "bridge" work, come to the nearest one of our offices for a free diagnosis of your teeth. Don't delay, for without good teeth you can't have good health.

It is not possible to come now, send for our free book, "Alveolar Dentistry," which tells all about the method.
