THOUSANDS FLOCK TO POULTRY SHOW

Hayward Begins Fourth of July Celebration With Street Fair, Concert and Ball

HAYWARD, July 2.—Thousands of visitors thronged the streets, in which masses of red, white and blue decorations were blended with the brilliant flower gardens, when Hayward's fourth of July celebration opened today one of the largest poultry shows held in Alameda county and a concert by a military band of 22 pieces. It is estimated that fully 15,000 persons visited the concessions and made merry this evening.

The opening day of the celebration, which is to continue until Monday night, closed with a ball in Native Sons' hall in honor of Miss Amy Robinson, goddess of liberty, who will preside over the festivities, and Miss Hazel Fish, who will impersonate Eureka in Monday's parade, which is to be more than three miles long.

PROGRAM FOR TWO DAYS
The program for tomorrow includes an all day picnic by the Native Sons of the Golden West in Laurel Grove park, under the auspices of Piedmont parlor of Oakland, band concerts in the afternoon and evening and street illuminations at night. The concessions in lower B street and the poultry show will be open from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m.

Monday's festivities will consist of a sunrise salute to the flag, literary exercises at 10 a. m., a monster patriotic parade at 11, games and races in the afternoon and a grand fireworks display in the evening, with a Mardi Gras carnival in the streets.

Frank M. Carr, assistant superintendent of Alameda county schools, will read the declaration of independence Monday morning at the exercises in place of Attorney Peter J. Crosby, who is seriously ill with typhoid at the Alameda sanatorium. Miss Adele Alexander will sing the "Star Spangled Banner" and the oration of the day will be given by District Attorney W. H. Donahue.

POULTRY SHOW POPULAR

The poultry show, housed in a big tent in B street, attracted most attention today, in spite of this being the off season for poultry. Director E. K. Healy succeeded in gathering together the best exhibition of prize winning fowls shown in the country for years. In all nearly 400 fowls are on exhibition, while in the pigeon department, in charge of R. V. Moore of Oakland, there are 110 birds, nearly all prize winners.

The bird attracting most attention is the rare Turbit pigeon exhibited by M. P. Quayle of Oakland, which captured first prize at the last Madison Square Gardens show in New York. Dr. W. J. Smyth of Oakland is exhibiting the largest white Runt cock pigeon in America, as well as the largest silver Runt hen. The only black Maltess pigeon on the coast is shown by W. L. Culver of Oakland, while J. H. Cole of Oakland has some of the best pigeons in California on display.

FAMOUS BIRD SHOWN

Goldust, the famous bluff orpington cock of Mrs. W. S. Sullivan of San Jose, that won 10 first prizes in three years, including the Seattle show, is on display at the show. With an exhibition of 75 fine birds, W. W. Hirsch of Irvington has captured the $25 prize for the largest exhibit, with James Stansfield, who shows 40 birds, and the holder of Mrs. Emma Reid of San Jose and the ornamental band of Mrs. Brogan of San Jose are highly prized by the visitors.

CALIFORNIA FLEA LEADS THE WORLD

Native Product Outclasses Foreign Rivals

BERKELEY, July 2.—The California flea is in a class by itself and holds the world's record among insects for jumping, according to a bulletin issued on the campus by Maurice B. Mitzmain, former member of the faculty and of the class of 1907. Mitzmain was in doubt as to whether the California insect could hold its own against a certain European jumper, but his investigations have proved that the California flea is a unique wonder.

The California flea can easily hop 13 inches without halting, declares Mitzmain in his bulletin, "and if pressed can give an even better exhibition. This record is much better than any previous one held by European insects." That the flea in this country is a versatile animal in its jumps is proved by the fact that it can jump eight inches perpendicularly. The animal has a peculiar method all its own in jumping. It drops on its side and kicks itself along like a swimmer using the side stroke.

Mitzmain has discovered the flea can navigate on glass like a fly, and seems helpless when placed on a glazed surface.

The insect also has an aversion for light and seeks rather dark hiding places in clothing and furniture. This fact might throw some light, Mitzmain says, on the proper way to hunt and trap the insects.

Besides holding the jumping record against all comers the flea has a longevity record that has not as yet been surpassed by its rivals from Europe or elsewhere. Mitzmain discovered that he had to postpone a trip east for more than a month while testing out the fleas in this regard.

He waited around the laboratory for a number of the specimens he was working on to die, but the insects held up to life with a remarkable tenacity. It was just 161 days after they had been deprived of food that the insects succumbed to the rigorous treatment. This is the longest life of the females, while the males is considerably less.

Cottrell of the chemistry department of the university has returned from Shasta county, where he was making some investigations in connection with the control of smelter fumes said to be deadly to vegetation on account of the injurious gases in the fumes. Persons in the streets saw the blaze and turned in an alarm. The work of the firemen prevented great damage to the building, and it was while the crew was at work that the robbery of the till was noticed.

Inspector of Police Beck and detectives made an investigation, which convinced the police that the fire was set by the burglars.

WESTERN PACIFIC SUED FOR $50,000

Collapse of Airship Attributed to Supplies Being Cut Off by Railroad

OAKLAND, July 2.—Suit for $50,000 damages was brought against the Western Pacific railway company today by the Tolver aerial navigation company, which alleged that the collapse of the Tolver airship while in course of construction at Verona, near Pleasanton, was due to the Western Pacific.

According to the complaint, the Western Pacific built a high embankment near the place where the airship was being constructed, and thus made it impossible for the Tolver company to get on the ground a large quantity of steel and sulphuric acid, which was needed for the airship. As a result of the cutting off of these supplies the airship collapsed after costing $18,000.

The Tolver airship company and Mrs. Phebe Hearst were sued for damages by E. H. Frick, a rancher, who alleged that he gave them land from his place in consideration of a supply of water that he declared had not been furnished. Mrs. Hearst was supposed to have assisted Tolver financially.

Danderine

GROWS HAIR and we can PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes: As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to its first length.

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must receive the attention you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its support of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair and the tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities. One week's bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

CHEUN SANG CO., Inc. DR. TOM WAI TONG

CHINESE TEAS and HERBS

Moved to 608 17th Street Near San Pablo Ave., Oakland

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 2d, 1910.

To Whom It May Concern: Seventeen weeks after treatment by Dr. Tom Wai Tong I threw away my cane and walked readily and without assistance with only light pains, prior to which time I had received medical treatment from some of the best in the fraternity of Oakland, also three summers ago from four of the best springs in the state, with no relief. My treatment from a business standpoint, as well as a medical one, has been to my entire satisfaction, and I heartily recommend the doctor to any one who may be afflicted with rheumatism.
