

Do You Tip Heavily?
Ezra Knox Will Discuss
"THE CRIME OF THE OUT-STRETCHED PALM"
The Sunday Call Next Sunday

THE CALL

THE WEATHER
YESTERDAY—Maximum temperature, 56;
minimum, 50.
FORECAST FOR TODAY—Fair; light fog in the morning; light south wind, changing to brisk west.

VOLUME CVIII.—NO. 62.

SAN FRANCISCO, MONDAY, AUGUST 1, 1910.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

LAW GRASPS CRIPPEN AND WOMAN

NEGOTIATIONS ARE SUSPENDED BY CANALEJAS

Spanish Premier Defines Status of Controversy With the Vatican
Situation Will Not Prevent the King From Visiting in England
Partisan Newspapers Applaud Government and Urge Perseverance

MADRID, July 31.—Premier Canalejas describes the recall of marquis de Ojeda, the Spanish ambassador to the Vatican, "an indefinite suspension of negotiations." The premier today made a statement bearing on the controversy between the church and state since the beginning of the negotiations.

"The moment I assumed power," he said, "I opened negotiations for a reduction of the religious orders. The Vatican replied, offering less than was offered to Premier Maura. We were grievously disappointed, but pursued the issue in a spirit of great moderation."

"Desiring to advance the question without rupturing the negotiations, we exercised our right of sovereignty by issuing decrees, compelling the orders to register under the law and authorizing different sections to display the emblems of public worship. As the Vatican replied only with protests, we introduced a bill interdicting further orders until the revision of the concordat had been accomplished."

"When the Vatican demanded the suspension of the decrees as a condition for a continuation of the negotiations the government, despite its desire to avoid a rupture, decided to consider the negotiations abortive and to proceed to carry out its program by decrees and explanation. The king approved our course. The situation will not retard the visit of his majesty to England next week."

The liberal newspapers enthusiastically applauded the "virile, independent act of the government." The republican newspapers promise their support and urge the government to persevere in its policy.

Vatican Awaits Recall
ROME, July 31.—The papal nuncio at Madrid, Monsignor Vico, has not been recalled by the Vatican, which is awaiting the official announcement of the recall by the Spanish government of Marquis de Ojeda, ambassador to the Vatican. The situation with regard to the rupture with Spain therefore remains unchanged for the time being.

The Vatican is greatly offended at the methods adopted by Premier Canalejas in the recall of the Spanish ambassador, as the announcement was made through the press and neither the papal nuncio at Madrid nor the Vatican was notified directly. As a consequence the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry del Val, has not been able to take any measure of retaliation, but it is believed that Monsignor Vico will be instructed to leave Madrid immediately after the official announcement of marquis de Ojeda's recall is received here.

The opinion is held in some circles, however, that the Vatican will give further proof of tolerance by permitting the papal nuncio to remain at Madrid, notwithstanding the withdrawal of the Spanish ambassador, as was the case when the French government ordered the French ambassador at the Vatican to return to Paris. On that occasion the papal nuncio, Monsignor Lorenzelli, remained in Paris until diplomatic relations were completely broken off, and there are some who still hope that the recall of marquis de Ojeda is merely temporary, his absence from Rome assuming the nature of a simple vacation and that he will return when an agreement has been reached.

WITNESS AGAINST NIGHT RIDERS FATALLY SHOT
Soldiers Are Sent to Scene of Tragedy in Kentucky
KUTTAWA, Ky., July 31.—While attending a barbecue near Lanesville, Ky., on Saturday, A. L. E. Cooper, chief witness for the state against the night riders, was shot and fatally wounded. William Mitchell, Alonzo Grain and Brown Hawkins, young men of the neighborhood, were arrested by state troops and charged with the shooting. Soldiers have been sent to the scene.

MAN ACCUSED OF LYNCHING HELD ON MURDER CHARGE
COLUMBUS, O., July 31.—L. J. Bolton, 32 years old, of Newark, O., a saloon keeper, is held here under a charge of first degree murder in connection with the lynching July 8 at Newark of Carl M. Etherington, an Anti-alcohol league special officer.

He is alleged to have placed the noose about Etherington's neck. Detectives have been searching for Bolton since July 10, when he left Newark. Bolton's saloon was one of the places raided at Newark on the day of the lynching. He is a political power at Newark.

TRAIN BURNS AFTER IT FALLS THROUGH TRESTLE
AUGUSTA, Ga., July 31.—A passenger train on the Charleston and Western Carolina railroad ran upon a burning trestle about a mile and a half from Woodlawn today, resulting in the destruction of the train by fire, the death of the engineer and fireman and slight injuries to 16 passengers. The engine plunged through the trestle to the creek below, pulling with it the tender, baggage car and the front of the first passenger coach.

MAN ARRESTED ON ROBBERY CHARGE
John Conroy was arrested last night at the instance of Thomas Murphy, a laborer, who accused Conroy of robbing him of $7.50. Murphy reported to Sergeant of Police Herlihy that he had been assaulted by two men at 5 o'clock near Fifth and Howard streets. He identified Conroy as one of the men. Conroy denies the charge.

C. C. HOLBROOK HURT MRS. NEWELL THROWN

AUTO OVERTURNS, BUSINESS MAN IS HURLING OUT PARTY THROWN FROM VEHICLE

Striking a strip of wet road near Mountain View, an automobile containing Mrs. Newell, wife of David Newell, president of the New York soap company, living at 1286 Third avenue, her son and a colored chauffeur, turned completely over yesterday afternoon, hurling the occupants from their seats. Mrs. Newell's collarbone was broken and the chauffeur was badly bruised about the face. The son escaped with a few bruises.

The machine was traveling at a fair rate of speed when an unexpected wet patch of road was encountered. It skidded along for a few yards and in his endeavors to right it, the chauffeur lost control. The next moment the automobile smashed into the side of the road and turned over.

Young Newell, finding himself uninjured, sought assistance from the nearby ranches and had his mother carried to Mountain View, where she was placed on a train and brought back to her home in this city. An examination here showed that the most serious injury she had suffered was to her collarbone. The automobile was entirely wrecked.

The chauffeur was pinned under the automobile as it fell. His nose was broken and he was severely cut about the shoulders and head.

While driving in a buggy on the circle at Stanford university at noon yesterday Charles Holbrook, president of the firm of Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson, wholesale hardware dealers, director of the United Railroads and one of the most prominent businessmen in California, was pitched out of the rig against the curbing, sustaining a compound fracture of the left arm.

He was picked up nigh unconscious and taken to the Peninsula hospital, where he was given immediate treatment. On account of his being 80 years of age there were fears at first that he would not survive the shock, but the attending physicians declared yesterday afternoon that there was no danger and that he would be out of the hospital soon.

Holbrook, who has been staying at his summer home at Menlo Park, started driving to the college in the morning, but shortly after entering upon the circle a nut on the axle of one of the wheels loosened and fell off and at the next instant the wheel itself became detached from the rig.

The horses took fright and in their plunging the rig was upset.

The injured man is one of the best known businessmen in the state. He has been president of Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson for many years and is a man of great wealth.

WOMAN SHOTS HUSBAND AND ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Sending her 9 year old son, Alex, from the room, Mrs. Ottilia Fraser of Carpenter station, Tex., driven to desperation by repeated taunts of former love affairs and divorce proceedings, shot her husband, Joseph Fraser, a solicitor on a morning paper, in the head and groin last night at the Argus hotel in Third street and then sought to take her own life by firing a bullet into her left side. Both are in a critical condition at the emergency hospital.

The shooting was the culmination of a series of differences centering about T. Koerner of the Hotel Reporter company, now living at the Irwin hotel, and a former lodger in the Argus hotel.

Mrs. Carpenter evidently had coolly planned the shooting, though it followed a stormy scene with her husband, for on a bureau was a note giving full directions regarding her son, Alex, and her belongings and body.

According to the hotel clerk, Koerner was compelled to leave the Argus a week ago by the management. Koerner is accused of having created trouble with Mrs. Fraser. Later Koerner stated that Mrs. Fraser had threatened to kill him and he then went to the district attorney's office and sought a warrant for her arrest. This was denied him.

ROCKEFELLER TAKES TO WHISKY—BUT AS BATH

[Special Dispatch to The Call]
CLEVELAND, O., July 31.—John D. Rockefeller has taken to whisky, but—as a bath.

The whisky baths have been prescribed by his physician to preserve his strength and render him able to withstand the rigors of golf, his favorite pastime. This was learned today from a member of his household. Rockefeller has found the exertions resultant from strenuous exercise on the links too fatiguing and his physicians fear rheumatism will set in unless he bathes in whisky.

In line with his physicians' prescription, the oil king has adopted an innovation in his living methods. Instead of sleeping until 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning, he has begun to get up at 5 o'clock. His hour for retiring at night has been moved ahead by several hours and his day now resembles very much that of a farmer. After his whisky bath he dresses and reads the morning newspapers and then eats breakfast. From 7 o'clock until 8:30 or 9 o'clock and business occupy him. The rest of the day is spent on the golf links or motoring.

"PANSY" BOOKS DEBARRED FROM PALO ALTO LIBRARY

[Special Dispatch to The Call]
PALO ALTO, July 31.—The Palo Alto library has debarred from general circulation the writings of Mrs. G. H. Alden, the author of the famous "Pansy" series of books for children. The latest book of the local author to meet the disapproval of the committee is called "Mara," and deals with life among the Mormons. The book failed to pass the censorship of the library critics and has been placed in the immoral class of writings with the stamp of improper reading.

Mrs. Alden is the mother of Prof. R. M. Alden, associate professor of English literature. She has written a number of well known books that have been favorites in the book collections of all kindergartens and children's homes.

MAN ACCUSED OF LYNCHING HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

COLUMBUS, O., July 31.—L. J. Bolton, 32 years old, of Newark, O., a saloon keeper, is held here under a charge of first degree murder in connection with the lynching July 8 at Newark of Carl M. Etherington, an Anti-alcohol league special officer.

He is alleged to have placed the noose about Etherington's neck. Detectives have been searching for Bolton since July 10, when he left Newark. Bolton's saloon was one of the places raided at Newark on the day of the lynching. He is a political power at Newark.

TRAIN BURNS AFTER IT FALLS THROUGH TRESTLE

AUGUSTA, Ga., July 31.—A passenger train on the Charleston and Western Carolina railroad ran upon a burning trestle about a mile and a half from Woodlawn today, resulting in the destruction of the train by fire, the death of the engineer and fireman and slight injuries to 16 passengers. The engine plunged through the trestle to the creek below, pulling with it the tender, baggage car and the front of the first passenger coach.

WENDLING WAS FOUND THROUGH CALL'S PICTURE

Published Likeness of Murder Suspect Brought Clews to Police

Record Breaking Chase by Kentucky Sleuth to Be Described in Duke's Book

JOSEPH WENDLING, the fugitive from Kentucky justice who was arrested in a Third street lodging house Saturday morning, was no more in a mood yesterday to admit the murder of 8 year old Alma Keller than he was at the time of his arrest. He had spent a sleepless night in the city prison, but ascribed his insomnia to the vociferous drunks who had been brought into the prison and to the hard board on which he had reclined rather than to any remorse of conscience or fear of Louisville.

Captain John P. Carney, the resolute and persistent chief of the Louisville detective force, who arrived in this city after Wendling, stated yesterday that he would leave for Louisville on Tuesday with his prisoner. Wendling has expressed his willingness to accompany his captor back to Louisville.

Keeps Brave Front
"Why should I not want to go what I scare of?" he said blandly today. "I no kill the little girl and so I get free as soon as I get back there. But I'd like better to stay in California. I can make more money here."

The latter sentiment is probably particularly apt.

None of the police court shysters that linger around the prison to make life agreeable for the incarcerated have interested themselves in Wendling. He is broke.

Captain of Detectives Wall said yesterday that it is due to The Call that Wendling was located on the last leg of the hunt.

"On Friday," said Wall, "The Call published a photograph of Wendling taken as he appears today. Immediately we began to hear definitely of his whereabouts. The manager of Schubert Brothers' draying company informed us that that man, under the name of Henri Jacquemin, had applied for work, giving an address in the 300 block in Third street. Then we got a telegram from Olema, Cal., that this man, under the name of Jacquemin, had directed that his baggage be sent to 362A Third street. It was acting, on that definite tip that we located Wendling. Our Olema informant saw Wendling's picture in The Call."

Prisoner Lonely
Captain Carney spent yesterday resting up after his restless chase of 11,000 miles back and forth across the continent. He was around police headquarters during the afternoon, but did not visit Wendling. This neglect piqued the Frenchman. He did not understand why Carney did not pay his respects.

"A little lonesomeness and solitary confinement is about the best thing to break him down," said Carney.

Carney told an interesting story yesterday of his chase and included an anecdote.

than to any remorse of conscience or fear of Louisville.

Captain John P. Carney, the resolute and persistent chief of the Louisville detective force, who arrived in this city after Wendling, stated yesterday that he would leave for Louisville on Tuesday with his prisoner. Wendling has expressed his willingness to accompany his captor back to Louisville.

Keeps Brave Front
"Why should I not want to go what I scare of?" he said blandly today. "I no kill the little girl and so I get free as soon as I get back there. But I'd like better to stay in California. I can make more money here."

The latter sentiment is probably particularly apt.

None of the police court shysters that linger around the prison to make life agreeable for the incarcerated have interested themselves in Wendling. He is broke.

Captain of Detectives Wall said yesterday that it is due to The Call that Wendling was located on the last leg of the hunt.

"On Friday," said Wall, "The Call published a photograph of Wendling taken as he appears today. Immediately we began to hear definitely of his whereabouts. The manager of Schubert Brothers' draying company informed us that that man, under the name of Henri Jacquemin, had applied for work, giving an address in the 300 block in Third street. Then we got a telegram from Olema, Cal., that this man, under the name of Jacquemin, had directed that his baggage be sent to 362A Third street. It was acting, on that definite tip that we located Wendling. Our Olema informant saw Wendling's picture in The Call."

Prisoner Lonely
Captain Carney spent yesterday resting up after his restless chase of 11,000 miles back and forth across the continent. He was around police headquarters during the afternoon, but did not visit Wendling. This neglect piqued the Frenchman. He did not understand why Carney did not pay his respects.

"A little lonesomeness and solitary confinement is about the best thing to break him down," said Carney.

Carney told an interesting story yesterday of his chase and included an anecdote.

NAGEL TURNED DOWN BY TAFT

President Rejects Suggestions of His Secretary and David Starr Jordan

CLEVELAND, July 31.—Henry W. Elliott of Lakewood, former special commissioner to the Bering sea seal fisheries and member of the Campfire club of America, declared tonight that President Taft had compiled with the demand of the club and vetoed the order of Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor for the killing of bull seals in the Pribilof islands.

Further, in order to "save" the secretary's "face," the president had kept secret the fact that he has issued such an order.

"Secretary Nagel is now on the way to Alaska," said Elliott. "If his assistants at Washington know of the countermanding of the order by the president they were bluffing it out to save the secretary the humiliation of having the public know the president had condemned his much vaunted policy, approved by all the expert scientists consulted, chief among whom was David Starr Jordan."

DR. HAWLEY HARVEY CRIPPEN

Principals in the Crippen case. Middle right, Doctor Crippen, from a late photograph used by Scotland Yard in the search for him. Middle left, Ethel Claire Leneve, Crippen's typist and companion. Lower right, Belle Elmore, missing wife, believed to have been murdered by Crippen. Lower left, Mrs. Charlotte Jane Belle Crippen, who died under suspicious circumstances, which may be investigated shortly.

BLACKS HUNTED TO DEATH BY WHITES

Score of Negroes Slaughtered by Texas Mob Over Promissory Note

PALESTINE, Tex., July 31.—At least 15—and it may be 20—negroes, all of them probably unarmed, were hunted down and killed by a mob of from 200 to 300 men in the Slocum and Denison Springs neighborhood of Palestine last night and yesterday, according to the opinion of Sheriff Black expressed today.

The sheriff returned early this morning after 24 hours in the district. He told of a fierce manhunt in the woods, of riddled bodies found on lonely roads and of the terror almost indescribable among the inhabitants in the southeastern part of Anderson county.

"I found the greatest excitement prevailing throughout that section of the country," said the sheriff. "Men were going about killing negroes as fast as they could find them, and so far as I have been able to ascertain, without any real cause. These negroes have done no wrong that I could discover. There was just a hot headed gang hunting them down and killing them."

FUGITIVES CAUGHT ON QUEBEC LINER

Alleged Wife Slayer Loses Nerve and Typist Sobs Hysterically When Trapped by Inspector Dew

SENSATIONAL FLIGHT AND PURSUIT ENDED

Dentist Broken in Spirit, but Says, "Thank God, the Suspense Is Over"; Posed as Clergyman

COMPANION IN BOY'S GARB BOOKED AS SON

FATHER POINT, Quebec, July 31.—Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen and Ethel Claire Leneve, his stenographer, who fled from London after the disappearance of Belle Elmore, the doctor's wife, were arrested here today aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Montrose, at the command of Inspector Dew of Scotland yard.

The identification of the long sought fugitives on the fogbound steamer by the English detective, who had raced across the Atlantic ahead of one of the most sensational flights in recent criminal annals. Accompanied by Canadian officers, Inspector Dew boarded the vessel at 8:30 o'clock this morning, and 15 minutes later both man and girl were locked in their staterooms, Crippen broken in spirit but mentally relieved by the relaxed tension; the girl, garbed in boy's clothes, sobbing hysterically. They were no longer the "Rev. John Robinson and son," as booked from Antwerp on July 20.

Continues to Quebec
After brief delay the Montrose continued her 160 mile journey up the river toward Quebec, where prison cells awaited the pair. Crippen is charged with the murder of an unknown woman, believed to have been his actress wife. The girl is held as an accessory. In charge of Inspector Dew, they will be taken back to England for trial, on the royal line steamship Royal George, leaving Quebec next Thursday.

Seldom has there been a scene surrounding the pursuit of a criminal so pregnant with dramatic features as that enacted off this little settlement this morning. Inspector Dew had spent a sleepless night at the Marconi operator's side, communicating through the fog with the liner that bore the man and woman he sought. The man had fled to him in London and fled the city with the mystery of Belle Elmore's disappearance unsolved, and a strong personal feeling entered into the case, accentuating the detective's desire to carry out the task assigned him by Scotland yard.

Seldom has there been a scene surrounding the pursuit of a criminal so pregnant with dramatic features as that enacted off this little settlement this morning. Inspector Dew had spent a sleepless night at the Marconi operator's side, communicating through the fog with the liner that bore the man and woman he sought. The man had fled to him in London and fled the city with the mystery of Belle Elmore's disappearance unsolved, and a strong personal feeling entered into the case, accentuating the detective's desire to carry out the task assigned him by Scotland yard.

Seldom has there been a scene surrounding the pursuit of a criminal so pregnant with dramatic features as that enacted off this little settlement this morning. Inspector Dew had spent a sleepless night at the Marconi operator's side, communicating through the fog with the liner that bore the man and woman he sought. The man had fled to him in London and fled the city with the mystery of Belle Elmore's disappearance unsolved, and a strong personal feeling entered into the case, accentuating the detective's desire to carry out the task assigned him by Scotland yard.

Seldom has there been a scene surrounding the pursuit of a criminal so pregnant with dramatic features as that enacted off this little settlement this morning. Inspector Dew had spent a sleepless night at the Marconi operator's side, communicating through the fog with the liner that bore the man and woman he sought. The man had fled to him in London and fled the city with the mystery of Belle Elmore's disappearance unsolved, and a strong personal feeling entered into the case, accentuating the detective's desire to carry out the task assigned him by Scotland yard.

Seldom has there been a scene surrounding the pursuit of a criminal so pregnant with dramatic features as that enacted off this little settlement this morning. Inspector Dew had spent a sleepless night at the Marconi operator's side, communicating through the fog with the liner that bore the man and woman he sought. The man had fled to him in London and fled the city with the mystery of Belle Elmore's disappearance unsolved, and a strong personal feeling entered into the case, accentuating the detective's desire to carry out the task assigned him by Scotland yard.

Seldom has there been a scene surrounding the pursuit of a criminal so pregnant with dramatic features as that enacted off this little settlement this morning. Inspector Dew had spent a sleepless night at the Marconi operator's side, communicating through the fog with the liner that bore the man and woman he sought. The man had fled to him in London and fled the city with the mystery of Belle Elmore's disappearance unsolved, and a strong personal feeling entered into the case, accentuating the detective's desire to carry out the task assigned him by Scotland yard.

Seldom has there been a scene surrounding the pursuit of a criminal so pregnant with dramatic features as that enacted off this little settlement this morning. Inspector Dew had spent a sleepless night at the Marconi operator's side, communicating through the fog with the liner that bore the man and woman he sought. The man had fled to him in London and fled the city with the mystery of Belle Elmore's disappearance unsolved, and a strong personal feeling entered into the case, accentuating the detective's desire to carry out the task assigned him by Scotland yard.

Seldom has there been a scene surrounding the pursuit of a criminal so pregnant with dramatic features as that enacted off this little settlement this morning. Inspector Dew had spent a sleepless night at the Marconi operator's side, communicating through the fog with the liner that bore the man and woman he sought. The man had fled to him in London and fled the city with the mystery of Belle Elmore's disappearance unsolved, and a strong personal feeling entered into the case, accentuating the detective's desire to carry out the task assigned him by Scotland yard.

Seldom has there been a scene surrounding the pursuit of a criminal so pregnant with dramatic features as that enacted off this little settlement this morning. Inspector Dew had spent a sleepless night at the Marconi operator's side, communicating through the fog with the liner that bore the man and woman he sought. The man had fled to him in London and fled the city with the mystery of Belle Elmore's disappearance unsolved, and a strong personal feeling entered into the case, accentuating the detective's desire to carry out the task assigned him by Scotland yard.

Seldom has there been a scene surrounding the pursuit of a criminal so pregnant with dramatic features as that enacted off this little settlement this morning. Inspector Dew had spent a sleepless night at the Marconi operator's side, communicating through the fog with the liner that bore the man and woman he sought. The man had fled to him in London and fled the city with the mystery of Belle Elmore's disappearance unsolved, and a strong personal feeling entered into the case, accentuating the detective's desire to carry out the task assigned him by Scotland yard.