

GEARY STREET
THE ANDRETTA
HETCHY GET AID

Supervisors Provide Funds for Furtherance of Two Great City Projects

Working Plans for Municipal Railway to Be Drawn Up at Once

Money for the Geary road and for the San Francisco water supplies report required by Secretary Ballinger was provided yesterday in two recommendations of the supervisors' finance committee. Upon the report of the board of works and the city engineer, $5,000 was set aside to allow the preparation of working plans, etc., for the municipal street railway; and $16,000 for immediate use in investigating possible sources of water supply in connection with the city's showing to the interior department that Hetch Hetchy is the best and most natural source available.

Supervisors Kelly, Herget and Mc-Laughlin also informally discussed the question of selling $2,000,000 of the $45,000,000 Hetch Hetchy bond issues, $600,000 to be marketed for deliveries next February, and the rest in installments during 1911 and 1912.

The election commission issued a formal call for the special election of November 15 to pass upon the 39 charter amendments submitted and appointed the election officers of the 362 precincts for the general November election at yesterday's session.

Complaint has been made to the board of health that the deliveries of beer to the relief home by the firm of Schradler Brothers have been attended with such circumstances and the assignment of that firm only has prevented an investigation of the charge that at least on one occasion a wagon-load of beer, after being weighed at the home scales was driven off with only a portion of the customary quantity at the home storehouse. The American bonding company is completing the obligation of furnishing the supply at a considerable loss over the low figure at which Schradler Brothers took the business at the beginning of the fiscal year.

COMIC OPERA STAR
WANTS A DIVORCE

Maude Lillian Berri Files Suit Against Husband

The combination of single blessedness and matrimony has found no favor with Maude Lillian Berri Moulton, comic opera star and wife of Frank Moulton, the comedian, for she filed a suit for divorce yesterday, charging desertion.

While it is customary for husbands and wives in the theatrical profession to live apart the system did not appeal to this Californian actress. Therefore when Moulton, March 26, 1909, hid his way east to provide for himself in New York he little knew he had taken the initial step in willful desertion, but so it developed in the divorce complaint yesterday.

The allegations are brief. They state that without cause and against her consent Moulton deserted her and has kept on deserting her. She sets out further that she has given him no cause for leaving her.

There are no children from the marriage and no alimony is demanded.
Lillian Berri was recently playing with Kobly and Dill. Moulton also played in San Francisco recently, being with the Princess theater company last season.

The following other divorce suits were filed: Maybell against John Can-field and culture; Margaret against Walter I. Cook, a doctor; Ana against Emil Barnat, nonsupport.

HUSBAND CHARGES WIFE
AS BAD DEBT; DIVORCED

Considers Deserting Spouse as Profit and Loss

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

RENO, Nev., Sept. 16.—R. W. Taylor, former assistant manager of the Hotel Maryland at Pasadena, and connected with hotels in Riverside and Los Angeles, was granted a decree of divorce on the grounds of desertion from his wife, Louise M. Taylor, now a resident of Ocean Park. The marriage took place in Los Angeles, June 7, 1903, and in September of the same year his wife deserted him. Asked by Judge Orr why he waited so many years before starting action for divorce, Taylor said that he figured it was the same as a bad debt and he came to the conclusion that he had better put it down to profit and loss. He asserted in his testimony that the hotel management of the Maryland had objected to his wife's presence in the hotel owing to her actions.

Republican Candidate for Governor Plans to Tour State Until Election

Refreshed by his rest of several weeks at Lake Tahoe and ready to start out on his state campaign tour with the same vim and energy which he put into the primary fight, Hiram W. Johnson, republican nominee for governor, returned to San Francisco yesterday. Johnson wasted no time, but spent the day at his offices in the Mills building attending to correspondence and consulting with his campaign managers over the final arrangements for the strenuous weeks to come.

Everything indicates that Johnson's personal campaign will be of the whirlwind order from the time he leaves San Francisco Monday evening until the eve of election day. His itinerary has been planned to take account of everything but rest and for the next seven weeks he will hold from one to six meetings every day but Sunday.

The complete itinerary for his tour has not been mapped out, but meetings have been arranged for the first two weeks which will carry him from the northern to the southern boundary of the state.

PREDICTION OF VICTORY
"Things couldn't be in better shape than they are," said Johnson enthusiastically yesterday afternoon. "I'm feeling fit for any kind of trip and for all the speech making that can be crowded into the time between now and election.
Everything seems to point to the biggest kind of a victory in November and I am not worrying a bit. There is a harmonious feeling all over the state and I am looking forward to big meetings wherever I go and to the display of the best of feeling."

Johnson said that he had given no particular thought to the preparation of any speeches, but would follow generally the lines he adopted in the primary campaign. He will not stop this time, however, with a discussion relative to making the Southern Pacific from politics and the state government, but will go at length into matters of constructive change and reform as embodied in the republican state platform.

DISCUSSION OF PLATFORM
In the platform itself Johnson has material for powerful campaign speaking. The document is one of the most direct and comprehensive statements of principles ever written by any party in

BELL SOUNDS DEATH
KNELL TO DINNERS

Banquets and Special Favors Not to Be His Part on Campaign Tour

Theodore Bell, democratic nominee for governor, has issued the ultimatum that banquets, dinners or any marks of special favor or attention will not be accepted by him on his coming tour of the state. He has served notice on the county committees in charge of his trip in the various sections of the state that he does not want to appear at any functions which will not be open to the rank and file of the party. Wherever he appears the meeting, or whatever it may be, must be open and free of charge to everybody.

Bell has also announced that he will not appear at fraternal meetings or make any speeches on fraternal matters during his tour. It is to be straight politics with him from start to finish and speech making on political subjects day and night. He and Tim Spellacy, the democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, will leave for the south Monday morning by the train but will leave the car later and make a portion of the southern journey by train.

Robert Fitzgerald has been chosen as chairman of the democratic mass meeting to be held this evening in Hamilton hall in Oakland. Bell and Spellacy will both appear and Judge Benjamin F. Bjedson, nominee for the supreme court, will also be among the speakers.

The democratic state central committee has practically completed its organization and now has a large staff at work in the state headquarters adjoining Bell's private offices in the Crocker building. Campaign literature is already being prepared for distribution and practically all the preliminary details of the campaign have been worked out.

BULLOCK TO SEEK
JOB AS SOCIALIST

District Attorney Announces in Redwood City Saloons That He Will Run Again

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

REDWOOD CITY, Sept. 16.—Joseph J. Bullock, the district attorney of San Mateo county, who was defeated for the republican nomination for that office by Kenneth M. Green at the recent primary election, made the public announcement tonight that he would be a candidate for re-election on the socialist ticket.

Bullock and Harry E. Styles of South San Francisco, another candidate at the recent primaries for the republican nomination for district attorney, each received three votes for the socialist nomination. The board of supervisors decided the tie by lot and Bullock won, but declared at the time that he would not make a campaign.

Bullock visited several saloons in the business district of San Mateo tonight and announced his candidacy. When questioned by the representative of The Call he said:

"Yes, I am a candidate for the office of district attorney, don't know whether it is on the socialist ticket or not, but, nevertheless, I am going to make a fight for re-election." The members of the republican county committee are up in arms against Bullock, who "in the interest of harmony," was made a county committee man at large at the republican county convention in Halfmoon Bay August 25. It was understood at that time that he would not accept the socialist nomination.

Kenneth M. Green, the republican nominee, is making a strong and effective campaign. He is opposed by Franklin Swart, the democrat, and Bullock, the "socialist."

MacArthur Forces Organize The congressional district committee appointed by Walter MacArthur, democratic nominee for congress in the fourth district, met at the latter's headquarters in the Chronicle building Wednesday evening and discussed plans for organizing MacArthur's campaign.
The committee is composed of three representatives from each assembly district within the congressional district. J. E. Scully was elected temporary chairman of the committee and Thomas Cleary temporary secretary.
Another meeting will be held next Wednesday evening.

HOSPITAL NURSES
AVERT FIRE PANIC

Some Aid Men in Fighting the Flames While Others
Guard Patients

Night Blaze at the Affiliated Colleges Extinguished Without Damage

What might have been a disastrous fire in the hospital of the university in the Affiliated colleges building in Parnassus avenue yesterday morning, was averted by its early discovery and the prompt action of the hospital force, including the night and day corps of nurses. By their coolness and bravery a panic was averted among the 50 patients in the wards and private rooms.

At about 3 o'clock yesterday morning Miss Margaret Crawford, the head night nurse, heard the crackling of burning wood while passing the westend of the main corridor on the third floor and at once gave a still alarm to Dr. d'Ancona, the physician in charge. In a few moments the entire hospital force, many attired merely in night gowns, were ready to battle with the flames. It proved to be a blind fire between the ceiling of the second story and the floor above, a space of 12 inches.

INTERNE WIELD AXES
The internes with axes cut away the flooring and after tearing away several boards came upon the flames and immediately turned on the chemical extinguishers, also streams from several lines of hose in the corridor. By this means the fire was held in check until the arrival of engine No. 30, which was summoned by phone. The firemen took charge and a short time, after ripping more of the flooring and breaking down some plastered partitions, the flames were extinguished.

In order to avoid a panic nurses were detailed as guards at each ward to quiet the patients in case they might be disturbed or frightened. The only patients who were alarmed were those in the women's ward. They heard the noise of chopping and noticed water percolating through the ceiling. Their fears were allayed by telling them that a water pipe had burst.

The patients in the men's ward were not aware of any disturbance until the order to "take up" had been given.
DAMAGE IS SLIGHT
The damage, principally affecting the floor beams and one of the X-ray rooms, will not exceed $500. The fire, which was extinguished by crossed electric wires, had been smoldering for some time before discovered by Miss Crawford.

Not knowing to what extent the fire might go, Dr. d'Ancona made preparations to remove all the patients in case the occasion required it, and he is loud in his praise of the coolness of the hospital force and their readiness to meet the emergency. The 13 other nurses did guard duty.

While preparing to respond to the alarm, John Enright, acting lieutenant of engine company 30, located at 1757 Water street, while sliding down the pole, was kicked in the abdomen by one of the horses. He was taken to the emergency hospital, where he remained until noon yesterday, when he was removed to his home. The physician said that the injury was not dangerous.

SON OF MILLIONAIRE
LUMBERMAN IN JAIL

D. H. Bibb Jr. Accused of Passing Fictitious Check

D. H. Bibb Jr., son of the millionaire lumberman charged with passing a fictitious check in the amount of $1,750 to the Mutual savings bank, drawn on the Corn Exchange national bank of Chicago June 21, was brought from Chicago yesterday by Detective Sullivan and booked at the city prison. He deposited the check in the bank and was identified by Teller Doble.

The bankers' association is prosecuting the case. Bibb's father was asked to make the check good, but he refused to be responsible any longer for his son's debts, and said the law would have to take its course.

Bibb said that he fully intended to make the check good, but he had no money. He had been employed, he said, by an automobile concern in Memphis, Tenn., was married and had a baby one month old. He had no quarrel with his father, who he said, was one of the best fathers in the world, but occasionally he got a moody spell, which changed him completely.

HUSBAND REFUSES TO
HEED PLEA OF WIFE

Pathetic Scene Witnessed in the Police Court

A pathetic scene was witnessed in Police Judge Weller's court yesterday when Steve Serka, a waiter, appeared on a charge of failing to provide for his wife, Maria, who lives at 1337 Washington street, was in court with the children, neatly clad, and when she saw her husband in the dock she rushed up to him, throw her arms around him and begged him to return to her. Her pleadings were in vain. The evidence showed that Serka had been living with a woman in a Barbary coast dance hall for the last six months and neglected his wife and babes. The judge said there was no excuse for him and held him for trial before the superior court.

JUDGE IS BIASED

Dinner Table Conversation of Dunne Cited as Prejudiced Against Halsey

Man Charged With Bribing the Boodle Board in Ill Health, Say Physicians

Dinner table conversation, appearing in the form of affidavits, supported a motion made in Judge Dunne's court yesterday by Theodore V. Halsey, charged with bribing members of the old boodle board, for a transfer of the case to another court, the claim being that Dunne by his utterances has shown bias and prejudice.

Attorney Bert Schlesinger, representing Halsey, stated at about 10 o'clock that he would make a motion for a transfer of the case on the ground of bias on the part of Judge Dunne, and would file affidavits giving specific instances proving such prejudice against the defendant.

The affidavits included one by Humphrey J. Stewart, one of the prominent musicians of the city, and detailed a conversation at his dinner table in November, 1907. Present at the dinner, he said, were Frank Goad, Eric Rosen-stern, Judge Dunne and others, and that during the course of the meal the conversation turned on the graft cases.
According to Stewart's affidavit, Judge Dunne, on that occasion, remarked:
"Calhoun, Halsey, Mullally and Ford are the greatest criminals of the century and ought to be in jail." Rosenstern corroborates the statement made by Stewart in another affidavit signed by himself.

Halsey in a third affidavit declared that he had been suffering from ill health, and that when this fact was known to Judge Dunne the latter openly and publicly accused him of practicing a fraud upon the court. The language Dunne is alleged to have uttered on these occasions was:
"I would like to get at the bottom of this hocuspocus. It is possible for any one to get a doctor's certificate."

OTHER CHARGES SIMILAR
The other charges of bias were along the same line. All of them hinged around alleged remarks made by Dunne in regard to the situation, in which he charged several physicians with conspiring with Halsey to impose on the court.

Besides these affidavits were a sheaf of others from physicians who examined him at various times since the indictment was returned against him, all of which declared him to be unfit to stand trial. The physicians who gave affidavits were Dr. Thomas E. Shumate, Dr. A. P. O'Brien, Dr. E. P. Alden, Dr.
John M. Williamson and Dr. C. W. Sweeney.
In these affidavits it was stated also that Halsey is now in a state of "quiescent tuberculosis" and unable to stand a trial. The case will be taken up again next Monday.
