WOMAN INSULTER MORE THAN PAYS

Inferred in Court; Given a Severe Beating; Must Pay Physician's Bill

[Special Dispatch to The Call] CHICO, Sept. 30.—William Kane, arrested on Tuesday night for insulting women on the street, paid a fine of $10 in the justice court here this morning and promised to pay a physician's bill of $17.50 for treatment given himself following a beating he received at the hands of a man who heard his remarks. Kane, who was employed by a show which exhibited here Tuesday, was heard to make insulting remarks to several women, but nothing was done until one of the women, told John Moore, who happened to pass. Moore is not a prizefighter, but he managed to fix Kane so that he was a fit subject for a physician.

"CALIFORNIA CITY" IS DRAWING BIG CROWDS

Home Industry League Exhibit Proves Success. OAKLAND, Sept. 30.—There was no diminution this afternoon and evening in the throngs that visited "California City," the great exhibit of the products of this state, being conducted at Seventeenth and Broadway under the management of the Home Industry league of California. It was estimated tonight that nearly 10,000 persons had visited the display today. No admission is charged, and the expenses of the exhibit are borne by the league. Many of the leading manufacturing industries on both sides of the bay and from interior places are represented in the exhibit. Each concern is allowed one booth, and all of the booths are of the same size. In the decorating of the booths the prevailing color is the golden yellow, typical of the state. That the display is a revelation to many persons is proven by the frequent remark of visitors to the booths, "Why I did not know that such things were manufactured in this state." The booth representatives of many industrial concerns report that thus far as a result of the exhibit numerous big orders for goods have been placed.

Stockton's Homeliest Their Faces for King

[Special Dispatch to The Call] STOCKTON, Sept. 30.—Rivalry of the keenest kind is being shown in the homeliest man contest now being waged here, the winner of which is to be declared king of the San Joaquin county valley produce carnival. The unbeautiful ones of the city are fighting hard for the honor. Faces of every degree of imperfection are being proudly proclaimed as being the appropriate features for King Confetti and leading among the candidates are some of the most prominent men of the place. Herewith are portrayed the facial embellishments of some of those who are looked upon as likeliest winners, and brief remarks concerning them.

E. H. McGowen, secretary of the commercial club, once prided himself on his good looks, but realizing at last the fallacy of such pride is now traveling strong in the homeliest man contest. While lacking certain defects possessed by his rivals, he is endeavoring to make up for this by hard and conscientious work in gathering votes. W. F. Sibley, sheriff of Stockton, has a smile which is winning him innumerable votes. Since the contest started he has planted himself on a street corner, perpetually smiling, and the votes have been rolling in by the score. Strangers seeing the smile become restless and peevish, but when they learn the reason they get out and vote for him. Bert Lewis, president of the Merchants' association, starts gathering votes today. "I fell into a creek when a boy," he said, "and when my aunt pulled me out she hung me up to dry. The trouble was that she hung me up with a clothespin stuck in my mouth." Ben Wallace, coroner of Stockton, loudly proclaims himself the ugliest man in Stockton, bar none. "I intend to win on my face," he said. "There is to be no makeup in my case. If they want a king who looks the part let them look at me." Charles Casner is a floor walker in a department store and the smallest man in Stockton. Also he considers himself qualified to win the homeliest man contest for other reasons—namely his facial contour. "I know what I look like," he said, "but I am not proud."

AUTO PARADE IS CARNIVAL FEATURE

One Hundred and Fifty Machines Pass in Review Through Stockton. [Special Dispatch to The Call] STOCKTON, Sept. 30.—Today's big produce carnival event was the automobile parade in which fully 150 machines participated. The parade took place at 8 o'clock and was witnessed by hundreds of people who lined the business thoroughfares. There were a number of beautifully decorated cars and the judges had no easy task selecting the prize winners. The parade formed at 7:30 o'clock at the corner of Stanislaus street and Weber avenue. The line of march was east in the avenue to Aurora street and south to Main, thence west in Main to El Dorado and north to Weber avenue. The same route was gone over a second time. Ben C. Wallace led the parade as grand marshal. There were two brass bands in automobiles. The speed was 10 miles an hour. The crowd that attended the carnival today exceeded that of the first two days. The windup will take place tomorrow night and a genuine good time is in store for Stockton and its many visitors. Oakland's boosters are due tomorrow morning and will be accompanied by the Okaidale brass band. The prizes have been awarded, George Shima's potato boat display having taken first honors. Following is the entire list of prizes as announced today by the judges: Grand prize—George Shima's potato boat exhibit. Best community exhibit—First prize, Manteca; second, Ripon; special prize, Linden. Best individual exhibit—First, state hospital farm; special, Schmitt & Dolner; special, San Joaquin local company. Best feature exhibit—First prize, Coley-Craig company; greatest variety, Hall Brothers. Best canned goods—Special mention, Del Monte brand, California fruit canners' association. ## SENSATIONAL SUIT FILED BY WOMAN

Plaintiff Declares She Was Forced by Threats to Sign Deed to Lands. [Special Dispatch to The Call] STOCKTON, Sept. 30.—Ella Steinmann has brought a sensational suit against Adam Steinmann and Charles A. Steinmann for the recovery of certain orchard lands near Acampo. She alleges that the defendants secured the deed to the property by threats. According to the plaintiff, Charles Steinmann came over to her place on July 25 last, and displaying a revolver, declared that unless she decided him the orchard he would kill her. The plaintiff further charges that had he not used intimidation she would not have signed the deed. It is alleged the two defendants entered into a conspiracy to defraud her.
