JUSTICES SHATTER TALK FOR RUEF

Two Members of Court of Appeal Indicate Belief in the Briber's Guilt

The manner in which two of the three justices of the state district court of appeal yesterday showed their belief in the guilt of Abe Ruef was the most impressive fact that developed during the argument on the eight-volume appeal of the convicted briber. The attorney for Ruef in the morning and former Assistant District Attorney John O'Gara supported the conviction of the former boss in the afternoon. When the case was taken under advisement, it will be decided at least before the first of the year, when Presiding Justice Cooper's term expires.

JUSTICES INDICATE STAND

He was the boss," suggested Presiding Justice Cooper, and the justice sitting at Ruef, who sat near the bench, the justice corrected himself and added "the second boss."

During the discussion on the same point, Justice Hall expressed his certainty of the guilt also. Cooper had asked O'Gara what points he had to offer to refute Henry Ach's declaration that the conviction was upon insufficient evidence.

"The evidence shows that the bribe money was subsequently paid," commented Justice Hall.

"There is no question of 'best recollection' about that," continued the associate justice.

"None whatever," O'Gara replied. The attorney and the justice discussed informally the domination exercised by Ruef.

"We had a case where one man did 'but in' to use the language of the street," interpolated Hall.

"In the present case," said O'Gara, "but in that Ruef in his capacity as overlord exacted punishment from the supervisors who disobeyed orders."

"The thieves always speak of the honor among themselves," Cooper commented with a smile.

ABE RUEF PRESENT
Ruef was present through the whole session. It is not usual for a defendant to appear in court when his appeal is argued, frequently they are tied up in the county jail. But if Ruef was violating any technical point of etiquette of the court no comment was made on the fact. Ruef, having violated other points of conduct, was indifferent to any criticism on such a minor point of behavior.

Insurgency achieved a fresh victory during the hearing, for Henry Ach denounced it.

"This doctrine of insurgency," he said, "which is flying through the press, and the magazines and the muckrakers, is attempting to attach itself to the person of a lawyer, but it should not come into play here. Some maintain that a case on appeal should not be reversed for error if it is believed that the guilt of the defendant is so apparent that the justice will result on the second trial. That should not be the case here. You can't work the insurgency business here and say Ruef is guilty and error does not count."

When the case was taken under advisement, Judge Lawrence, in his attack on the proceedings of the Ruef trial before Judge Lawlor. He attacked Francis J. Heney and Hiram W. Johnson, the prosecuting attorneys, and Judge William F. Lawrence. During O'Gara's reply in the afternoon Justice Cooper and Hall asked him repeatedly to answer charges made by Ach.

If the justices did accept Ruef's guilt as undoubted, they showed a great improvement in measuring all the technical objections advanced by Ach.

ANCESTORS FOUGHT FOR THEM
Judge Lawlor's instructions to the jury relative to the rights of the defendant not to testify were condemned by Ach, and Cooper dwelt at some extent on how we—or rather our ancestors—fought for eight years to secure just those rights over the tyranny of kingly oppressors.

Hiram W. Johnson's address to the jury, in which he referred to Ruef sitting there "with the plea of guilty on his lips" was also criticized. O'Gara declared that reference to Ruef's confession on the extortion charge had been the matter of testimony in the case. Ach declared that Judge Lawlor erred in not discharging the trial jury after Heney had been shot, and he alleged that Juror Murphy had asked the court to discharge them, as they could not be fair to the defendant.

Francis J. Heney was not neglected by Ach. He declared that Heney had had in his pocket in the courtroom a report of the views of James L. Arthur, a ventriloquist, strongly adverse to Ruef. "Did Mr. Heney try to get that man on the jury?" asked Justice Cooper.

"There is no evidence of the nature of the report Heney had on Arthur," O'Gara declared.

O'Gara in his argument showed that Heney was not bound by any report he might have on a juror, and that he could not make such reports public. Cooper declared that if he were presiding over a trial he would never either side to have its agents interview jurors. Repeatedly he stated that within 10 days, and then the Ruef appeal will be taken under advisement.

Ruef was convicted before Judge Lawlor in December, 1908, of ordering a racketeer to plunge a knife into Furey to secure Furey's vote in the United Railroads' overhead trolley permit.

TWO MEN ATTEMPT TO MURDER SALOON KEEPER

One Wields Knife and the Other Fires a Shot
Two men attempted to murder Charles Denezuse, saloon keeper, 625 Pacific street, in his place early yesterday morning during a quarrel. One of them, known as "Shorty," a follower of the racketeer, plunged the knife into Denezuse's left side and the other, Charles Miller of Seventh street and Broadway, Oakland, fired a shot at him, but missed. Miller was arrested on a charge of assault to murder.

MARTEL DEMANDS BLOCK OF STOCKS

Sues Meigs and Crane for Securities Delivered to Re-establish Bank
A. F. Martel, who was president of the Market Street bank at the time it closed its doors, February 20, 1908, began suit yesterday to regain possession of what is left of a big block of stocks and bonds he turned over to the Market Street securities company, formed with the aim of re-establishing the insolvent bank.

Martel alleges he was induced by the arguments of F. M. Meigs and Arthur Crane to deliver to the securities company 456 shares of the Market Street bank, of the par value of $48,600; 500 shares of the Sierra Nevada water company, of the par value of $5,000,000, and 225 bonds of the Sierra Nevada water company, of the par value of $225,000. He took in return bonds of the securities company.

Martel says the inducement for making the change was the promise of Meigs and Crane to re-establish the bank and save it from ruin. This they have signally failed to do, he complains. The $3,000,000 now in the hands of Louis H. Mooser, receiver of the bank, really belongs to the securities company, Martel says, and he wants the court to order it turned over. He also asks that the court appoint a receiver and a resolution passed at the securities company and the Sierra Nevada water company, that Meigs and Crane be removed from the position of directors in those two companies, and that issues of bonds ordered by Meigs and Crane be declared fraudulent.

Judge Seavell signed an order directing the Metropolitan trust and savings bank to deliver to Martel the 225 bonds of the Sierra Nevada water company.

STATE POSTMASTERS FAVOR EXPOSITION

Custodians of Fourth Class Offices Meet in Convention
California postmasters of offices of the fourth class met in their annual convention yesterday and adopted a resolution calling upon their national body to use its efforts to secure the Panama-Pacific exposition for this city in 1915 and to hold the national convention of the organization here in that year.

The convention was held, as their notices announced, "for the good of the service." Postal savings banks were approved by resolution of the convention.

The national body of postmasters of fourth class offices is making a fight to have all its members put under civil service and a resolution passed at the local convention indorsed the plan. Officers were elected as follows:

C. F. Keller of Kaweah, Tulare county, president; Mrs. Clara Strubling of Willow ranch, Yuba county, secretary; executive committee, H. S. Ellis, Crows Landing; Miles Hollister, Livine; Santa Cruz; H. Nicholson, Ben Lomond, Santa Cruz county.

PRINGLE ADMITS GUILT; GIVEN A YEAR TERM

Former Captain Who Swindled Boat Owners Offers to Reform
Former steamboat captain John C. H. Pringle, who extorted money from small boat owners along the Sacramento river, unexpectedly changed his plea yesterday and admitted his guilt to the charge of impersonating a revenue agent.

United States District Judge Van Fleet, because of the old captain's previous good record and his plea, imposed the lenient punishment of one year in the Alameda county jail.

Pringle, who is 60 years of age, said after sentence had been passed that he was glad the ordeal was over. He says he will pay back the money he obtained when he earns it.

FEDERAL JURY INDICTS THE BUCKMAN PIRATES

French West Is Named, Though Thought Dead
French West, thought to be dead, and George Washington Wise, the two men who attempted to seize control of the steamer Buckman off the Oregon coast last August, were indicted by the federal grand jury yesterday for piracy on the high seas and for the murder of Edwin B. Wood, the captain of the vessel, who was shot by West. The indictments will probably be returned next Friday, to which day the grand jury has adjourned, yesterday's meeting having been called especially to enable the Buckman to leave port this morning.

MISSING BOYS RETURN TO HOME OF PARENTS

Charles and William Berry, sons of Michael Berry, 2037 Greenwich street, who were supposed to have been drowned in the bay by the upsetting of a skiff, returned home yesterday morning to the joy of their parents, who had been mourning them as lost. The boys said they had been hanging around the railroad yards during the day since Saturday and sleeping in box cars at night.

MOTOR CARS HELP HUNTERS IN CHASE

Good Hunting Grounds Can Now Be Visited Which Were Almost Inaccessible
By R. R. L'HOMMEDIEU
More than ever during the coming season will the timid hare and the whistling quail learn to dread the purr of the motor car. All over the country, but particularly in the smaller cities within easy reach of good hunting grounds, sportsmen are learning how to use the automobile in their favorite pastime and are purchasing cars particularly fitted for their use. Even the dweller in the big city finds that the motor car far exceeds the railroad or the trolley as a method of quick communication with the wilder districts of country where lurks the game on which he is intent.

A light runabout, provided with a locker of ample capacity for guns, ammunition and game, will enable its owner to travel swiftly to regions far from the reach of anything but a horse and rider and will comfortably transport the owner, his friend and his faithful dog to and from their destination.

In fact, the locker is one of the first requisites of a car employed for this purpose, and motor car manufacturers will do well to guide themselves accordingly.

The interest which the sportsman feels in this feature was in evidence several times on the "Under Three Flags" trip of the Flanders "20" during the last summer.

"Look at that locker, Bill," commented a big Texan who was inspecting the car as it stood in front of a crossroads hotel in the Lone Star state.

"That's the room in there for our full limit of ducks and plenty of shells besides."

In the west, where often the prairies stretch for almost unlimited distances, hunters in motor cars pursue the quail and prairie chickens without dismounting, finding the motor car much steadier for shooting purposes than the old time horse and wagon. In the east few hunters leave their cars to take to the covers without driving to the actual edge of the shooting grounds.

In fact, it is surprising to note how much country can be covered in a motor car of a sturdy type, with a man at the wheel who knows his business.

Joy pervades the atmosphere of the local Firestone tire branch over the fact that the Chadbourne car, which won the grand prize at the Fairmount park race, had its tires made by Firestone.

Philadelphia was carried to victory on Firestone tires.

C. C. Elchenberger, local manager, states that two of the last three Fairmount park races have been won by the aid of Firestone tires.

Like other prominent industrial organizations which have the interest of their employees at heart, the United States motor company has worked the plan of a co-operative plan.

President Benjamin Briscoe is the author of the plan, and it is his intention to continue. Judge Van Fleet has taken the matter under consideration.

LABORER IS ACCUSED STARTING FOREST FIRES

William Longfellow, a laborer, was arrested yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal T. L. Kiernan at Horse Falls, Siskiyou county, on a charge of having started a great number of forest fires in the Klamath reservation. He will be taken before United States Commissioner Webster at Stockton for arraignment.

POLICE LOOK FOR MEN WHO SWINDLED THEM

Men representing themselves as agents for the police department in the sale of a history of the department are being searched for by every policeman in the city, who have been furnished with a description of the men. The alleged agents announced that a percentage of the proceeds was to go to the funds of the Widows' and Orphans' aid association. At a recent meeting of the association it was stated that the work was not being sold and the agents and that not a cent was to be received by them. A committee was appointed to prosecute the men when arrested.

CHAUFFEURS FINED FOR EXCEEDING SPEED LIMIT

Judge Weller Says He Will Enforce the Ordinance
In sentencing John H. Faxon, charged with exceeding the speed limit, Police Judge Weller said yesterday that he proposed to support the action of Chief Seymour in enforcing the anti-speed ordinance within the city limits. Faxon was sentenced to pay a fine of $50. On a similar charge Harry Shuman, Morris Bonco, Henry Levy, Clarence Pierce, Thomas Sawyer Jr., Gaston Girard and Edwin T. Huffman were each fined $10.

ROOMER CAPTURES BURGLAR AT WORK

Roy Good Is Awakened by Thief Who Is Searching Pockets of His Clothes
Roy Good was awakened about 6 o'clock yesterday morning by a burglar searching the pockets of his trousers in his room in the Regal hotel. He grabbed the burglar and hallooed for help. Guy Draper responded and they held the burglar till Policeman Joseph Nolan appeared. The prisoner, Francis Gonzales, was charged with burglary.

J. J. Nelson, mate of the schooner J. P. Stofen, lying in Mission creek, between Fifth and Sixth streets, chased and captured Charles Christianson Sunday evening and took him to the southern police station. Nelson said that Christianson had broken into the cabin and, when discovered, had thrown the articles he had stolen overboard.

The saloon of Lunsted Brothers, Powell and Ellis streets, was robbed of $14, the burglar overlooking $120. A trunk in the basement of Charles Taylor's bakery, 707 Octavia street, was broken open and $40 stolen. A thief stole $56.75 and a check for $10.00 from the safe in the Hotel Euter, 154 Ellis street, Sunday afternoon. A thief stole a suit case containing articles valued at $55.50 belonging to C. C. Brayton of the Hotel Jefferson from a Third street car.

MRS. COIT ADDRESSES LOCAL SUFFRAGISTS

Lecturer's Wife Says She Is in Favor of Conservatism
The suffragists of this city heard their work presented to them in a new and interesting way yesterday when Mrs. Stanton Coit of London addressed the members of the Susan B. Anthony club at their rooms in California street.

Mrs. Coit believes in women getting the ballot in a conservative manner by going about it quietly, but persistently. In this she is the reverse of her husband, Stanton Coit, Ph. D., who believes in women fighting for their rights.

Mrs. Coit presented the situation as it stands in London in a most interesting light, her talk fitting in well with the report brought from Washington by Mrs. Lloyd Baldwin, who was sent on as club delegate to petition an amendment to the constitution in favor of women voting. Eighteen thousand signatures were attached to the petition, which was presented formally.

KENNEL CLUB "TRUST" BEFORE HIGH COURT

W. E. Chute Seeks to Counteract Demurrer
Henry B. Lister, attorney for W. E. Chute, who is suing to have the American kennel club declared a trust, declared yesterday in the United States circuit court, to prevent the case being thrown out of court on a demurrer, that an announcement was also made at the meeting that the Women's civic club would hold a meeting Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at 1018 Phelan building.

LABORER IS ACCUSED STARTING FOREST FIRES

William Longfellow, a laborer, was arrested yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal T. L. Kiernan at Horse Falls, Siskiyou county, on a charge of having started a great number of forest fires in the Klamath reservation. He will be taken before United States Commissioner Webster at Stockton for arraignment.

TEAMSTERS AD LITTLE ORPHANS

Union No. 216 Makes Donation of $50 to Mount St. Joseph's Asylum

President McHugh was in the chair at the last meeting of building material teamsters' union No. 216. Six candidates were obligated and seven applications received. The local made a donation of $50 to Mount St. Joseph's asylum. This is the first contribution from a labor union for this purpose but it is sure to be followed by other organizations. It is one of the most worthy objects that ever appealed to the charitable of this city. The usual donation to the Los Angeles metal workers was made.

Business was reported fair by the business agent at the Saturday night meeting of hoisting engineers' union No. 52. One applicant for membership was received. The weekly assessment to the Los Angeles strike fund was paid. Members are requested to attend the next meeting.

Another session was held yesterday by the conciliation board having under consideration the continuation of the eight hour day in the iron trades. The board consists of Messrs. MacArthur, Gallagher, Casey, Westcock, Elliott and Martin.

The report of Secretary-Treasurer J. J. McNamara of the international association of bridge and structural workers at the fourteenth annual convention at Rochester recently showed a healthy condition of the association's finances. There is a cash balance of $34,000, of which $25,000 is in the defense fund. During the last fiscal year $11,200 was paid out to the beneficiaries of 112 iron workers who lost their lives in accidents while at work.

The third anniversary ball of the Brewery Workers' hall association was a success. The following committees were in charge: Reception, Patrick O'Brien, Edward Brutsman, C. Neugebauer, John Pfankuch, W. J. J. Messner, Albert Sanford, William Greesham and Fred Kuerst; floor, Edward Rupp, H. E. Meyer, M. W. Silk, A. Reno, John Egan, Louis Savage and Edward Horan; floor director, Paul Volkmann; assistant, William Uffman.

Branch I, amalgamated society of carpenters and joiners, has chosen L. Revara as director of the building trades temple association in place of the late W. W. Freeland.

At the Saturday meeting of the general campaign strike committee Tveitmo and Gallagher made reports on the Los Angeles situation. Maguire and Lewis were authorized to attack the constitutionality of the recent anti-picket ordinance passed in the southern city. It was reported that the grocery in the labor temple was doing a good business and the superintendent was authorized to purchase other delivery wagon, this making the fourth controlled by the store.

The news received from Chicago and New York would indicate that in a short time $50,000 would be sent from those cities to help the Los Angeles fight.

The central labor council of Alameda was given permission to call a mass meeting in the near future to speak the minds of the workers in the south. Speakers from Los Angeles will be present and state the situation as it exists in Los Angeles.

The election of officers of the Canadian trades and labor congress at the annual convention resulted as follows: President, William Mackenzie of Toronto; vice president, Gustave France of Montreal; secretary-treasurer, P. M. Draper of Ottawa; delegate to the American federation of labor St. Louis convention, R. P. Pettipiece of Vancouver.
