LISSNER FLOUTS EXPRESSED WISH OF THE VOTERS

Legislators Told That They Are Under No "Moral Obligation" to Support Spalding

Works, in Alarm, Rushes to Capital to Plead for Office

Refused Him at Polls

and free from boss manipulation of party nominations, is scarcely 24 hours old, but it has already presented a spectacle of attempted boss domination as flagrant and as unblushing as anything ever attempted by Walter Parker and Jere Burke, the Herrin lieutenants whose names are anathema in the mouths of honest advocates of clean government and blatant demagogues.

New Herrinism Rules

The methods employed by Parker and Burke to compel men to betray their constituents and their oaths are the methods being employed in Sacramento today to make the members of the first reform legislature flout the law that made a reform administration possible.

Burke and Parker always held a democratic card or two up their sleeves. Lissner has endeavored to turn the same trick. According to the men in the Works camp his efforts have been met with some slight success. His efforts in this direction, however, are not so evident as were the results of the fight made by the followers of Works and himself in Los Angeles, whose hostility to candidates nominated by the republicans of that county cost Governor Johnson thousands of votes.

The play to get democratic votes with a share of the patronage has not resulted in a Bourbon stampede to Judge Works. The democratic leaders declare that the minority will have none of Lissner's mess, and they will present and vote for a democratic candidate.

Republicans have been made to feel that their chances of securing desired committee chairmanships and places depended upon their willingness to disregard the instructions voted by their constituents and to pledge themselves to Lissner's candidate.

The Lissner flying squadron has not only used the name of Governor Ellet Johnson as a lever upon men who have refused to accept political dishonor at Lissner's command, but the names of men whom it was declared had deserted to the Works' standard.

HAYES NOT A DESERTER

Assemblyman D. R. Hayes of Santa Clara county was one of the men who was reported by the Lissner forces as a deserter from the ranks of the men who stand for the integrity of the primary law. Hayes indignantly repudiated the report today.

"My name was used without color of authority," said Hayes today. "I am standing for Judge Works and the people of my district instructed me, by their votes cast under the protection of the primary law, for Spalding. Nobody has the right to declare that I have betrayed or promised those instructions."

Even some of those legislators who want to vote for Works in accordance with their district instructions, and are troubled by the methods and the arguments employed by Lissner, are indignant at his hypocrisy of his "impealing moral obligation" argument.

FLOUTS "MORAL OBLIGATION"

According to Lissner the men whose constituents instructed them to vote for Spalding are under no moral obligation to obey those instructions, because the legislators did not intend to sign an agreement with the people. He contends that since the direct primary law can not be made legally binding upon members of the legislature it has no force whatever and may be disregarded at his mandate.

The Spalding men insist that Works in yielding to Lissner's orders to come to Sacramento and make a personal canvass has stultified himself. One of the Spalding leaders said last night:

"From practically every rostrum in southern California Works announced during the primary campaign that he would not seek the election unless he was nominated under the primary law. Having been badly beaten, he now comes to the legislature seeking at the hand of senators and assemblymen an office for which he was defeated before the people. Notwithstanding his public promises that he would not be a candidate if he was defeated at the primary election, tomorrow he will be in Sacramento personally seeking the office."

"Works and Lissner apparently have no regard for the moral obligation of the legislators to vote according to the expressed wish of their constituents. Works and Lissner advise that the advice of the people be repudiated. Reform, according to the new gospel of Lissner and Works, is good only when it serves their selfish purpose. Just now it must bear the Works senatorial brand."

FALSE PRETENSE MET

The pretense of Lissner and Works that there is no legal or moral obligation in the primary vote was met today by the Spalding advocates, who pointed with some effectiveness to the presidential election of 1888. Grover Cleveland, democrat, received 5,538,253 votes, and Harrison, republican, 5,440,216 votes.

Cleveland's popular plurality was, in round numbers, 100,000, but in the electoral college Harrison received 232 votes and Cleveland 168. There was just as much reason in casting the electoral republican votes for Cleveland in that year as there is now to urge the legislators to desert their district to vote for Spalding to desert their constituents, the primary law and the reform movement and vote for Works.

GOVERNOR CHOOSES FACULTY MEMBER

State University Lecturer to Serve as His Executive Secretary

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 3.—Governor Johnson today announced the appointment of Thomas A. Reed, assistant professor of political economy at the University of California, to be his executive secretary.

Professor Reed is well known throughout the state as an authority on political economy and has devoted a great deal of his life to the study and the delivery of lectures upon municipal government subjects. While not a reformer, he is an ardent advocate of purity in politics.

D. B. Deming, present secretary of the state board of examiners, an appointee of Governor James N. Gillette, was named as trustee of the trade and training school at Hayward.

Reed Accepts Post

BERKELEY, Jan. 3.—Thomas Harrison Reed, assistant professor of political economy at the university, who has been appointed executive secretary by Governor Hiram Johnson, is regarded as one of the ablest members of the faculty of the university. He is only 30 years of age, but is a member of the New York bar, before which he has practiced for several years before coming here to accept the chair of political economy.

He has been a member of the faculty just a year, succeeding the late Prof. Guy H. Roberts, who died from an operation. Professor Reed has taken the greatest interest in securing certain reforms in university work and has besides delivered a number of lectures on political science in the bay cities. He has also written extensively on the subject of university work and has besides delivered a number of lectures on political science in the bay cities. Proposal to Buy Code Books for Assemblymen Starts Wave of Oratory

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

CALL HEADQUARTERS, SACRAMENTO, Jan. 3.—Zeal is manifest among some members of the lower house to expedite preliminaries of the session. They seem to be of the opinion that the man who puts forth a resolution of importance improves his chances of committee preferment.

C. C. Young of Berkeley was the alert one today and outpointed Milton Schmitt of San Francisco in presenting a resolution providing for canvassing

Proposal to Buy Code Books for Assemblymen Starts Wave of Oratory

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

CALL HEADQUARTERS, SACRAMENTO, Jan. 3.—The biennial howl against squandering state money on codes for the members arose in the assembly this morning, when W. A. Sutherland of Fresno offered a resolution providing for the purchase of 85 sets of Deering's pony codes and the constitution, and as usual it was decided that the law books were necessary to enable the assemblymen to legislate wisely for the people.

J. W. Stuckenbruck, the fire eating democrat who has closed up his blacksmith shop at the crossroads near Smith for the winter, was the first to protest. He objected to some book dealer selling them a load of worthless tomes which would be of no assistance to the members. H. N. Beatty of San Francisco and Tex Sutherland replied that it was the intention to accept only the latest issue.

H. W. Brown of Colma insisted that this should be a reform session. He held it was not necessary to provide every member with a set of codes. He thought 25 would be enough. F. P. Cogswell thought it would be a matter of economy for each member to have a set on his desk because of the saving in time in referring to the books. W. D. L. Held brought the discussion to an end by suggesting that the resolution be referred to the committee on contingent expenses when named.

Harry Polesley, the Red Bluff democrat, objected when Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana offered a resolution to supply each member with four Keystone binders. Polesley thought the committee should be permitted to buy such make of binder as it saw fit, and thus save a considerable amount, but Bishop's original resolution prevailed.

"SCORE 73 TO 40 IN OUR FAVOR" "PLAY BALL!" WIRES SPALDING

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 3.—The following telegram from A. G. Spalding has been received by Grant Conrad:

San Diego, Jan. 3. My letter to G. A. Davidson, chairman, and my letter January 2 to each member of the state legislature explain fully my reason for being absent from Sacramento while the legislature is balloting on the United States senatorship. Although I appreciate the sincerity and force of your personal request, I will not recede from my position. The primary law does not require my presence at Sacramento. My candidacy rests upon and must stand or fall with that law. If some of the instructed legislators decline to vote for me because they have never seen me their excuse is inspired by the politicians and bosses and is not a sound nor honest reason. I am neither blind nor indifferent to the situation. I suggest that the professional politicians be given full play this week. They will entangle themselves in their scheme to violate the primary law. Next week the people will be heard from. This whole question has now crystallized into a fight between the political bosses and the people. I am against the bosses.

The game is not over, but the score stands 73 to 40 in our favor. The spectators must be reckoned with. Play ball.

A. G. SPALDING.

HOXSEY'S ASHES TO MINGLE WITH DUST

Intrepid Aviator's Remains Will Cover the Grave of Father in Nebraska

PASADENA, Jan. 3.—Within the shadow of the mountain heights which he had blithely scaled on the wings of the wind, the last words were said today over the body of Arch Hoxsey, who fell to his death at the Dominguez aviation field last Saturday.

Hundreds of persons attended the funeral and took a last look at his face before Hoxsey's body was consigned to the furnace of a crematory. The ashes were deposited in a copper urn tonight and placed in the custody of the dead aviator's mother, Mrs. Minnie C. Hoxsey, who will take them to the grave of her husband in Atkinson, Neb., and there mix them in the earth that covers the grave of her husband.

It was suggested that the ashes be taken to the crest of Mount Wilson and from there scattered to the winds, but Mrs. Hoxsey ruled otherwise.

"I want the dust of my son to mingle with the dust of his father," she said. The funeral services were conducted in a little mortuary chapel on a foot-hill overlooking the peak of Mount Wilson, which Hoxsey surmounted when he made his attempt of 11,474 feet a few days before he died. While the services were attended only by a few friends, thousands stood about the outside until the close. It required more than an hour for the crowd to file by the casket.

Walter Brookins, who was Hoxsey's coach in aviation; Hubert Latham, the French aviator, and Charles F. Willard of the Curtis team were among the young Pasadena friends of Hoxsey.

Dr. John Willis Baer, president of Occidental college, delivered the funeral sermon. In the course of his address he advised all airmen to devote themselves wholly to the science of aviation and abjure the sensational.

Thomas P. Jackson, representative of the Wright brothers, said today that Mrs. Hoxsey's future would be provided for by the settlement of a lump sum to her credit.

A movement already has been started to erect a memorial to Hoxsey on the spot where he met death.

NEW REWARD FOR TIMES SUSPECTS

Los Angeles Supervisors Offer $5,000 for the Arrest of Three Men

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Indications that definite action may be taken by the grand jury investigating the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times October 1 came today when the board of supervisors offered a reward of $5,000 for the arrest of any one of the three men supposed to have been implicated. Those named are M. A. Schmidt, alias F. A. Perry; J. B. Leonard, alias J. B. Bryson; David Caplan, alias William Morris, alias William Capp, and J. B. Bryce.

The former reward of $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of each person connected with the explosion is withdrawn.

The new reward was made at the request of S. L. Browne, chief inspector of the county attorney's office, who is getting out circulars for the apprehension of the suspects.

"The idea," he says, "is to offer the reward for the arrest only, as we believe the evidence presented to the grand jury and additional information we shall probably receive if we succeed in capturing one of these men will be sufficient to convict."

That indictments against the men will be returned within a few days is the belief.

Labor leaders have been expecting a report that will cast the stigma for the disaster on organized workmen and they are chafing over the delay of the grand jurors.

NEW JURIST TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

Successor of Thomas J. Lennon on Marin Superior Bench Is 28 Years Old

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

SAN RAFAEL, Jan. 3.—Edgar T. Zook, the new superior judge of Marin county, filed his certificate of appointment here this morning and took the oath of office. The appointment was made by former Governor Gillette to fill the vacancy left by the election of Thomas J. Lennon to presiding justice of the first district court of appeal.

Judge Zook is the son of F. K. Zook, chief civil engineer of the Northwestern Pacific railroad, and has lived with his family in San Rafael for many years. The new superior judge, although but 28 years of age, has had much legal experience and has proven himself thoroughly competent to occupy the superior bench. He was graduated from the University of California when only 19 years of age and from Hastings law college when 21. He passed the law examinations for Harvard, but decided to enter the practical field of law in San Francisco. He was last with the firm of Pillsbury, Madison & Sutro, which he left to receive the appointment from Gillette.

The lawyers of Marin county gave Judge Zook an informal reception today after he opened court. Among those who welcomed him to the new office were City Attorney Joseph Hawkins, James W. Keys, Charles Byrnes, Edward I. Butler, O. H. Meidon, F. J. Crisp and Edward Manning.

JOB HOLDS JUSTICE DESPITE HIS KICKS

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

SANTA ROSA, Jan. 3.—Justice of the Peace Marshall Florence of Guerneville is an office holder against his will and unable to let go. There is no one in Guerneville willing to accept the job. Florence has been justice of Redwood township for a number of terms and last summer announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election, but the electors saw fit to renominate him and he was re-elected.

The justice decided that he would quit any way and refused to qualify. Last week a case was set for trial January 7 and Monday the justice packed up all the papers in his office and sent them to District Attorney Clarence F. Lea with the statement that, his term having expired, there was no justice in the township.

As the political code provides that a justice holds office until his successor is elected and qualified, the papers will be returned to Florence tomorrow with the instructions that he must comply with the law and continue justice for a time.

You have been reading this column for the past three and a half years. You have seen us start with one office and grow to six of the largest in the world. You have often asked yourself this question: Can these people do what they claim? And you have answered yourself by saying no. You have pondered us, for no other reason than that we advertise what we can do, and back it up by doing it. Is this sufficient evidence to be convicted of? We say no, and appeal to your honor and fairness in the matter. You possibly have been told by some one that it was an impossible thing to accomplish, but did you satisfy yourself that they knew any more regarding its success than you did? Would you take evidence in this nature in any business transaction? No, you would look into the matter, you would investigate from every point of view, then your judgment would decide. Is this not so?

Why not, then, if your teeth are in bad condition, and you have experienced failures with other dental work, come to us get our opinion on your individual case, and we will give you a success, satisfy yourself if our guarantee means anything. If it does, you will walk out of our office a friend, a booster for our method.

We can only convince you of the truthfulness of our claims by the help we want it, and will do anything that is honorable to merit it.

We are not trying to give you much of a foundation to start with—only two teeth—think of it. With these we build the most beautiful life-size set of teeth that any one could wish for, with nothing to mask your taste, nothing to interfere with your speech, nothing to take in and out of your mouth as in plate work, but good substantial teeth that you can eat with, that you can enjoy a meal with as much comfort as the youngest member of your family.

We tell you that they are made to eat with, and if you can't do this, come back. We are as anxious to know why as you are.

Don't condemn us because we do an advertising business. If you do, you may condemn your time. Have you ever heard of anyone being kept away from a church announcing that some prominent man would speak? No, of course you have not. Why? Because he was telling you something that would do you good, and if he had not possessed the ability, rest assured he would not be there.

We are trying to convince you that we have something that will do you good, something that you need, and we have the ability to make good our claim, and the ability to take care of you when you do come. It takes all of these things combined to make a success. Buy of our best. Send for our free book; the information given in this book will be interesting to you. It will be sent you free on request.
