Defenses of Juarez Strengthened in Anticipation of Insurrecto Attack

Meanwhile the Mexican Commander in Chief Fights Desperately on Yaqui River well as from the south, as the rurales were arrested east of here.

Hemmed In by Rebels

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Feb. 4.—Hemmed in by 350 rebels and 400 Pima Indians under General Severiano Talamantes, who is in command of the insurgents in Sonora, General Torres, the government commander in chief, is engaged in a desperate struggle on the banks of the Yaqui river, 25 miles below Sahuaripa, according to information received here today. The information is based on the reports of couriers who were sent to Montezuma by Torres, to appeal for reinforcements to save him from disaster. Torres has only 250 regulars, 100 Yaquis and 100 citizen soldiers. It was with that force that he recaptured Sahuaripa after the rebels evacuated the town, and against the superior numbers of Talamantes he is fighting to get back to Montezuma.

Torres, after retaking Sahuaripa, decided that it was untenable and started several days ago for Ojoms. Since then there has been constant fighting. At one time the Mexican commander was opposed by only 150 rebels. Against this small force he made his way to the town of Toluca where he was ambushed. Heavy fighting is said to have occurred here, but Torres battled his way as far as San Gerónimo, where the rebels are now concentrating with the advantage of numbers and position upon the side of Talamantes.

More Than 200 Killed

The couriers sent by Torres into Montezuma say that more than 200 men have been killed on both sides since the Mexican command left Sahuaripa.

Miners from El Tigre district, Sonora, reported today that three bands of rebels with many horses had marched southward after having crossed the Arizona line near this city. Homes of Mexicans, resident in Douglas, are crowded with refugees who fled from Mexico in haste. Disposition or imprisonment into the federal service, and declare they are only awaiting the appearance of the rebels to join them. One band of these refugees started last night to find the insurgents and succeeded in crossing the line.

The federals, posted at the customs house town of Agua Prieta, were busy all day building breastworks of adobe bricks in anticipation of an early attack by the revolutionists.

Army officers here received word this afternoon that a troop of the Third cavalry, stationed at Fort Wingate, N. M., is en route here aboard a special train which will arrive at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning. This message conveyed information that Troop G of the Third cavalry is being moved to Fort Hancock, near El Paso.

Fighting Is Renewed

PRESIDIO, Tex., Feb. 4.—Fighting between insurgents and federal soldiers under Donato Arzua, renewed around Coyame, according to reports received here this morning. The insurgents attacked the federals when Donato tried to lead his command back to Ojinaga. It is declared that Donato's troops looted the town of Cuchillo Parrado during the flight, following the insurgent attack.

Watching for Madero

LAREDO, Tex., Feb. 4.—Francisco Madero has again appeared on the Mexican frontier, the war department today increased the American guard in that territory by three companies of the signal corps. One has been ordered from the Presidio of San Francisco, one from Omaha, Neb., and a third from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Two pack trains were ordered to the border line, one to San Antonio, Tex., and the other to Nogales, Ariz.

Aside from the statement from General Hoyt, commander of the department of Texas, that an attack on Ciudad Juarez was imminent, the war department today was without advices from the front. General Hoyt said it was reported that the revolutionists number about 1,000.

The revolutionists are in possession of the country west of Chihuahua and all of the government troops have been withdrawn from the Guerrero district to Chihuahua, according to a telegram received by the state department from American Vice Consul Leonard at Chihuahua.

Guard Is Increased

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—In order to facilitate communication between the United States and the Mexican frontier, the war department today increased the American guard in that territory by three companies of the signal corps.

One has been ordered from the Presidio of San Francisco, one from Omaha, Neb., and a third from Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Two pack trains were ordered to the border line, one to San Antonio, Tex., and the other to Nogales, Ariz.

Insurgents Recruit

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—Recruiting stations for the Mexican insurgents have been opened in Los Angeles, and according to Mexican liberals here scores of men are enlisting for service against the Diaz government. All the prominent members of the revolutionary junta have gone either to the front or to towns along the border, where they can be of assistance to the insurgents. Among those who have left the U. S. de Lario, who became prominent a little more than a year ago by marrying Miss Elizabeth Trowbridge, member of a prominent family of Boston. De Lario, according to reports, has gone to El Paso, where he is directing operations in behalf of the enemies of the Diaz government. Many Americans as well as Mexicans who have their homes in southern California have enlisted here, and the revolutionists expect to send a formidable detachment to the front.

Jack London in Mexico

Reports emanated from Arizona yesterday stating that Jack London had assumed the leadership of a detachment of the Mexican insurgents against the Diaz government. A dispatch received from Phoenix last night, however, indicates that London's mission is far more peaceful than has been painted. According to these advices he passed through Tucson last Thursday en route to Mexico. To some friends with whom he spoke there, he stated that he intended to gather material for a "red corpuscle" novel.

flibuster in the senate the president will interfere. He is our good friend and has given us invaluable assistance. Lloyd also spoke in praise of the efforts of the president in behalf of San Francisco, as did Mayor McCarthy. Mayor McCarthy, in a decorated automobile and wearing his garland of flowers, was met at the creek route ferry with a splendid reception given by the city officials, labor leaders and friends in the San Francisco social club. Following the reception at the ferry there was an automobile parade up Market street in which the mayor was escorted by the members of the board of supervisors, the members of the city commissions and the League of the Cross cadets and two bands.

BIG DEMONSTRATION READY

McCarthy, Lloyd, Metcalf and Henshaw are the first of the delegation representing the Panama-Pacific International exposition at Washington to return to this city with the spoken word the night before congress in Washington. The reception they received was a promise of the great demonstration which will be given when the entire delegation has returned and is being met by the thousands of San Francisco. The homes of Mayor McCarthy and Fred Lloyd were filled with flowers by the committee. In each place was a handsome floral piece in violets and jonquils, with the inscription, "Heartiest Appreciation—P. P. I. E."

FOUGHT FOR THE FAIR

Mayor McCarthy was met at Sacramento by his attorney, Cleveland L. Dam, and his secretary, Elmer C. Langwell. While crossing the bay the mayor made the following statement on the result of the Panama-Pacific exposition here: "We got the fair. We had to fight in order to get it. Our opponents did everything with everybody on whom they could exercise any influence to secure the prize for New Orleans. "That the united forces of the west and middle west and the east brought to us a majority, was recorded in the afternoon. Never in my life was I so proud of anything that has ever come to me as I was then of the fact that a California man had been chosen to represent the Californians in Washington, directly and indirectly connected with that great work, as well as the efforts of the many friends who assisted us, made it absolutely impossible for any force such as that presented by New Orleans to break through our ranks. California and the west in general and San Francisco in particular has, by the express action of congress, received an immense impetus for good. I know I feel absolutely confident and supremely happy in the thought that the people of San Francisco and of California and the west generally will give in San Francisco the greatest educational exposition that the world has ever seen."

"I know that our people will be one man rise to the occasion of discharging the duties imposed upon them by the great work that there is yet to be performed. So that when the gates of the fair are thrown open the exposition will be of such a character that the people throughout the country will feel more than ever delighted at the action taken by their representatives in congress last Tuesday, when it was decided that the exposition to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal should be held in San Francisco. "Too much credit can not be given to the newspapers that aided the fight for San Francisco and made so ma-

COME OUT IN THE OPEN

The president and the republican party leaders did not come out in the open for us until Monday, January 23. It was on that date that Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania sent for Congressman Focht and stated that it was the desire of the president, Secretary Knox and himself to have the full Pennsylvania delegation vote for San Francisco. WALKER WILL CASE BASED ON FRAUD

Son of Capitalist Charges His Second Wife With Undue Influence Misrepresentation as Medium of Spirits Is Alleged in Complaint

Salt Lake City and the eldest son of Walker by his first marriage, directing the bitter battle which the Utah heirs are waging against their stepmother, Mrs. Althea Walker, named as the sole legatee in the will of the financier. David F. Walker Jr. contested the will of his father November 10. The attorneys for the widow demurred and Superior Judge George H. Buck sustained only one of the grounds of contest—that of undue influence. Those questioning the authenticity of the will were stricken out by the court. The amended contest filed here today sets forth three separate grounds upon which the court is asked to decree that the pretended will is not the last will and testament of David F. Walker. The constant declares that for a long time prior to the alleged execution of the pretended will, January 10, 1908, and up to the time of his death, September 11, 1910, David F. Walker was of unbalanced mind and incompetent to make a will because of his belief in communications to and from the spirits of the dead. INFLUENCE OF SPIRITUALISM According to the contestant, Walker's belief in the mysteries of spiritualism influenced and determined the disposition of his property and the supposed communications embittered his mind against his children by his first wife. Walker's delusion upon the subject reached such an intensity, alleges the contest, that mental derangement was produced. Undue influence exercises by Mrs. Althea Walker over her husband to secure the will is given as the second ground for the contest, part of which is as follows: "She pretended and stated to him that she was a spiritualistic medium and an oracle, through whom the communications were had between the spirits of deceased persons and those living on earth. "She falsely and fraudulently represented to David F. Walker that she had received communications and revelations from spirits directing him to make a will by which he should bequeath and devise all of his property and estate to her. "If a will was ever signed by Walker, it was signed under restraint, undue influence and fraudulent misrepresentations exercised by Althea Walker, particularly in reference to and concerning this contestant."

PORTERVILLE COMPANY TO QUARRY GRANITE

Concern Organized With Capital of $150,000

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 4.—With $150,000 subscribed, and with the backing of the chamber of commerce, there has been organized here the California granite company, the purpose of which is to manufacture and exploit the Porterville granite in the foothills to the east of this city. Building stone experts have been asked to pass their opinion upon the local product and have agreed that there is but one other stone which equals it, and that is the granite found at Barrie, Vt. Spur tracks are being built by the Porterville Northeast railroad to the quarries where the black stone is found and a track will be put in later to the other variety.

STOCKTON PREPARING FOR CITY ELECTION

City Attorney Holds Direct Primary Will Prevail

STOCKTON, Feb. 4.—The city council will take steps preliminary to issuing a proclamation for the city election to be held May 16. City Attorney DeWitt Clary holds that the election must be conducted according to the direct primary law. The municipal primary election will be held May 2. The city officers whose terms expire are: Mayor R. R. Reibenstein, City Superintendent of Streets Oscar Wright, and City Councilmen C. Dowey, Robert Inglis, Henry Eschback and Joe Gall. Freeholders to draft a charter providing for the commission plan of government are also to be elected.

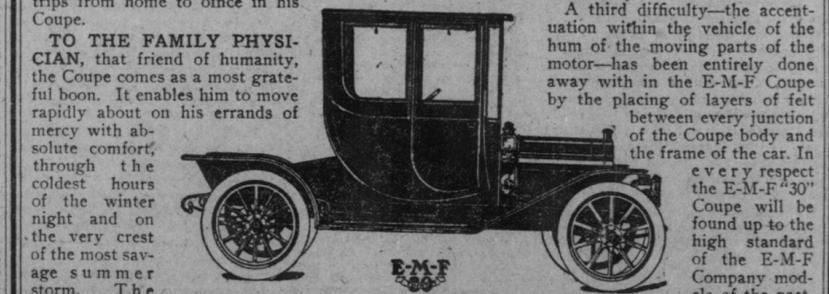

UNIVERSITY WOMEN RAISING BUILDING FUND

Clubhouse to Be Commenced When $12,000 Is Available

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 4.—The women of the university are rejoicing over the fact that the early completion of their clubhouse has been made possible by the fact that the executive committee, a male organization, has decided to donate $500 toward the fund. The women have raised $475 among themselves and will begin building immediately. "When one stops to consider that 15 votes gained by the other side would have defeated us, I feel that there is no question but that the only error made by the master mind of the New Orleans campaign was in not forcing a vote 10 days earlier. "San Francisco has in this gigantic enterprise that which will save her from her enthusiastic fall. The early enterprise is big enough to absorb all the excess enthusiasm created in all bodies within her limits—labor, capital, reformers, performers and all the anti-clique. The newspapers now have a unified plan big enough, broad enough and interesting enough to occupy all their time. The success of the undertaking would be contemporaneous with the harmonizing of all our differences."

1911 E-M-F "30" Coupe, $1,600

f. o. b. San Francisco
In the world of motoring the Coupe body, generally considered, is just beginning to win for itself the credit which is its due. In practically every case, owners of Coupes have come to regard them as indispensable. THE SOCIETY WOMAN who requires for her gown absolute protection from dust and inclement weather finds the Coupe invaluable. THE BUSINESSMAN who likes to drive his car daily, rain or shine, is assured that no storm is severe enough to penetrate the water-tight compartment in which he sits, as he makes the trips from home to office in his Coupe. TO THE FAMILY PHYSICIAN, that friend of humanity, the Coupe comes as a most grateful boon. It enables him to move rapidly about on his errands of mercy with absolute comfort, through the coldest hours of the winter night and on the very crest of the most savage summer storm. The Coupe is the physician's ideal vehicle—adaptable to his needs and essential to the guarding of his own physical well-being. The E-M-F "30" Coupe compares favorably with any car of its type on the market, regardless of cost or horsepower. Its size is ample, and its fittings have been refined to a degree embodying the very acme of the coach-builder's art. Adjustable windows, silk curtains, interior and exterior electric lights, English broadcloth and finest leather upholstery, carpeted floor. Remember—We are in a position to make you an immediate delivery

It will go anywhere that similar motor cars can be driven. As a winter vehicle it will be found absolutely up to the mark.
