Prominent Men From San Francisco and Vicinity Favor Wolfe Amendment Measure Not Intended to Coerce Oakland, but to Grant Referendum

[Special Dispatch to The Call] CALL HEADQUARTERS, SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—Prominent speakers from every city and town around San Francisco bay addressed a crowd that filled the senate chambers tonight on greater San Francisco, the purposes of the amendment that will permit consolidation, the benefits of consolidation and the results for Oakland to be consolidated. No one appeared to oppose the plan, though the evening had been set aside as a "held day" for the expression of all views on the matter.

Not only were 125 San Franciscans in the chamber and many members of the senate and assembly, but also the judiciary committee of the senate itself, before which the Wolfe amendment is considered. Enthusiasm was manifest and the San Franciscans announced on their way back to their special train that they had certain knowledge of many votes for the greater city, gained by the arguments of their spokesmen.

Though many brilliant speeches were made, the most popular was that of A. H. Elliott, a member of Oakland's city council and an enthusiastic proponent of the consolidated city. Elliott said that he had been attacked for favoring the plan, but that he meant to keep up the fight.

CHAMPIONED BY ELLIOTT "The people of Oakland do not know, for it has been the policy of the politicians of Oakland not to let them know, the facts about the Wolfe amendment," Elliott said. "It has been spread broadcast, adopted in resolution, printed time and again and stated a score of times in speeches that the Wolfe amendment permits San Francisco to grab Oakland, whether Oakland wishes to be grabbed or not. It is said that this proposed constitutional amendment provides for a vote of all the cities affected by the consolidation, a majority of this total vote to decide.

"As a matter of fact, the Wolfe amendment expressly provides always has provided that the different cities affected will vote separately upon the plan and any city has the right to veto it so far as it is concerned.

"This amendment is only an enabling act, which will permit consolidation if the people of the different cities concerned vote to consolidate. "One great advantage of consolidation under the borough system will be a lower tax rate for Oakland. The tax rate for Brooklyn before Greater New York was formed was $3 on the $100. Brooklyn fought consolidation so fiercely that it carried in that place by only 1,000 votes. Yet if a vote was taken there now it would be almost unanimous for consolidation. I dare say, for the tax rate there now is $1.75 the $100. This is because there is one set of officers where formerly there were two. In Oakland, the city maintains two expensive sets of officers, and under consolidation the tax would fall 40 per cent.

PERMITS REFERENDUM Senator Wolfe explained that the amendment had to be passed in order to allow cities to vote on the consolidation of a consolidated government. He said that at present cities in the same county can consolidate. Wolfe was insistent upon the fact that the amendment merely enables the cities to vote upon the proposed plan of working together and was not in itself binding in any way. It merely permits a referendum.

Warren Olney, a resident of Oakland and a businessman of San Francisco, stated that his Oakland tax was $2.60 on the hundred, and his San Francisco tax $2 on the hundred. The high tax in Oakland he ascribed to the double set of officers there, and the low rate in San Francisco to the fact that one set of officers did the work of city and county.

"Economy in all things is the result of consolidation," Olney said. "But what we of Oakland want is an opportunity to have our voice in aid in directing the government of San Francisco. We want to aid in setting up the city officials there for we are vitally interested in San Francisco. Yet we cross the bay after our work for one day is over and cut ourselves off from any voice in the city affairs."

PERCY V. LONG, city attorney of San Francisco, explained that San Francisco never attempted to force Oakland into consolidation, but only sought better results, for the sake of our greater name, let us work together in all things of common interest." Long said that all about the city under the borough form of municipal government affairs of common interest were decided in common, but affairs of interest to the different boroughs were decided by those boroughs.

Other speakers were M. H. Robbins, president of the Merchants' association of San Francisco; C. M. Morse of San Mateo; Dr. F. W. DeVelyn of Alameda; E. T. Treadwell of Burlingame, a former member of the legislature; H. C. Cutting of Point Richmond; Eric Lang, mayor of Burlingame; W. J. Martin of South San Francisco, and A. H. Redington of Hillsborough.

WORD "INSTRUCT" IS CAUSE OF DEADLOCK

CALL HEADQUARTERS, SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—The assembly this morning insisted on its right to instruct its United States senators. An attempt by the senate to be unduly deferential to California's two members of the upper house in Washington was promptly frowned upon by the zealous statement of the assembly.

Assemblyman L. H. Wilson's joint resolution urging congress to provide a battleship fleet for the protection of the Pacific seaboard, as originally drafted and adopted by the lower house, instructed the state's United States senators and requested California's representatives to work for the fleet.

In the senate the resolution was amended by substituting the word "requested" for "instructed" in reference to the United States senators. H. S. Brown of San Mateo county insisted that the assembly should not concur in the amendment and that the legislature should assert its prerogative. Nathan Coghlan agreed with him. By a vote of 64 to 5 the assembly refused to concur in the senate amendment, those voting to concur being Beatty, Beckett, Bennick, Gerdes and Harlan.

TOWNSPEOPLE OBJECT TO CHANGE OF NAME

[Special Dispatch to The Call] CASTROVILLE, Feb. 15.—The people of this place are greatly exercised over a report that the name of the town is to be changed to Del Monte Junction. The change is said to be desired by the officials of the Pacific Improvement company, owners of the Del Monte hotel, who say that many tourists who wish to go to Del Monte forget that they must change cars at Castroville for the seaside resort. This is annoying to the travelers and the hotel people, hence the demand for change of name for the junction. Castroville people will oppose any attempt to deprive the town of its name.

FIREBOAT FIGHTS FOR STATE AID

Exhibition Given at Capital Before 10,000 Persons as Plea for Appropriation

[Special Dispatch to The Call] CALL HEADQUARTERS, SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—The fire boat Denis T. Sullivan demonstrated to 10,000 Sacramentoans, members of the senate and assembly and a group of state officials, today that it is a perfectly worthy little fire fighter and entitled to $50,000 asked of the state for one-half the maintenance cost of the vessel and its sister fire fighter, the Scannel. The Sullivan gave a fire drill, carrying a deckload of legislators at the time, and finally attacked a barge loaded with burning crates, putting out the fire with a sweep of its water battery.

Though the fire was arranged for the occasion, the audience appreciated it as much as though it had occurred accidentally, and the legislators returned to their work deeply impressed. While the boat was showing its capabilities Senator Finn, author of the bill calling for the appropriation, told the senators and assemblymen that state property in the main was guarded against loss by fire along the San Francisco water front, and that the state, therefore, should pay a part of the maintenance cost. Several San Francisco supervisors witnessed the demonstration.

BACILLI MUST MOVE OUT OF OUR BUTTER

CALL HEADQUARTERS, SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—Bacilli and butter formed an earnest topic of discussion in the senate today when Senator Estudillo of Riverside argued for the passing of his bill, which makes possible the recognition of butter. Burnett of San Francisco was afraid that the measure would banish the "common ordinary butter," for which he has a liking, but Estudillo assured him that the "common, ordinary, bacilli laden butter" could still be purchased. This merely provides for the proper inspection and official approval of high standard butter, which may then be marked as certified. Lewis of Stockton feared that the bill might be making room for "another snap at high salaries," and Larkins and other senators from the rural counties opposed the measure. It passed with flying colors.

MEDICAL BATTLE IS SHIFTED TO SENATE

CALL HEADQUARTERS, SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—Senator Hurd of Los Angeles won first honors in what promises to be a long and stubbornly contested battle when the senate committee on health and quarantine today recommended his medical board bill for passage. The bill places complete power in the choosing of the state medical examiners in the hands of the governor.

By Hurd's bill a student passing in at least seven of the 10 studies prescribed must not be forced to take the whole examination again, but only the studies in which he failed. A student graduating from a recognized medical school and having all the educational and preliminary qualifications demanded may, under Hurd's bill, receive his license after two years of actual work in his profession.

WORRY WAR RAGES OVER PILOT BILL

Legality of Los Angeles' Right to Control Harbor Is Questioned by Wolfe

CALL HEADQUARTERS, SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—A lively skirmish between the senators from Los Angeles and from San Francisco today marked the second attempt of the southern to bind to a vote the bill putting in the appointment of pilots at San Pedro harbor into the hands of Los Angeles. At the request of Senator Welch, a vote on the bill was taken today. Today the Los Angeles delegation made a strong effort to put it through, but the San Franciscans were aided in their opposition by senators from other sections of the state, and the measure was referred to the judiciary committee for investigation of its legality. Today's cities grew so intense until it included many elements of discussion not contemplated in the pilot bill itself.

WOLFE TAKES A HAND Senator Wolfe of San Francisco questioned the power of Los Angeles to control San Pedro harbor and stated that all matters of tidelands should be passed upon by the judiciary committee also. The senator thought that there was a possibility that it was beyond the power of municipalities to take over tidelands which belong by natural condition to the state.

Hewitt of Los Angeles proved the champion of the southern city's cause. He declared that Los Angeles did not desire, in the bill before the house, to inhibit in any way the powers of the state, but only wished to secure permission to have the appointment of the two pilots that guide vessels around the breakerwater at San Pedro. He said that these pilots exacted the fees fixed years ago, which are excessive for the services performed, and that Los Angeles wished to appoint her own pilots, pay them a salary and pocket whatever the proceeds might be.

STATE OWNS OTHERS Wright of San Diego questioned the right of Los Angeles to interfere in commerce on San Pedro bay, and Welch asked why Los Angeles should have its own harbor, when all other state harbors are owned by the state. Here Wolfe arose with the fear that to have some cities controlling their ports and reducing rates and other cities compelled to accept the state rates, an unfair competition leading to strife, would be engendered. Wolfe questioned the whole proceedings, and asked that the judiciary committee take it under advisement. Estudillo, Burnett, Thompson, Boynton and Gates spoke for Wolfe's view of the matter, and Hewitt finally agreed. Then, on Wolfe's proposal, all bills dealing with the tidelands controversy were referred to the same committee.

IMMEDIATE EFFECT OF GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY IS SOON REALIZED

I want to tell you what Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root did for me. I was completely broken down. My kidneys hurt me so that when I was down I could not get up unless I took hold of something to pull myself up with. I saw it was beginning to help me and kept on taking it until I had taken six bottles, and it straightened me out all right.

Swamp-Root is the only medicine that did me any good. I thought I would write this letter and tell every one that is afflicted as I was to take Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.
