

SENATORS WANT MORE TIME TO REVERSE TAFT

Democratic House Leaders' Plan for Extra Session Meets Opposition

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Although the democrats of the house, by official caucus action, have declared a purpose to enact tariff legislation during the extra session of congress beginning Tuesday noon, the prediction was freely made tonight that no such legislation could be put through the senate at this time and that the extra session would adjourn earlier than has been expected.

Sentiment among the regular republicans in the senate is overwhelmingly against any sort of tariff revision at the extra session, and there are multiplying evidences that the regular republicans are disposed to call for all they can to placate the progressive wing of the party.

As matters stand today, it is apparent that the regular republicans of the senate will do everything in their power to postpone all manner of general legislation until the regular session next December. It is reported that a number of progressive republicans are likely to fall in with this idea.

President Taft, by sending in a message dealing with Canadian reciprocity alone, will pave the way for the program which the senate republicans propose to adopt at a caucus to be held probably Tuesday evening. The promise made by Taft that the tariff board would be ready with a complete report on the textile schedules by December 1, and the hope he has expressed informally that congress will decide to wait for this report before getting on these schedules, make the situation a little more difficult for the democrats in that the regular session in the senate is likely to be won over to the president's proposition.

The republican insurgents regard the tariff board idea as of their own creation. They have advocated it as a scientific method of revising the tariff. Taft has worked hard to secure legislation making the tariff board permanent and may send in a second message to the extra session dealing with this subject.

It was pointed out tonight that with a report on the cotton and wool schedules promised by December the insurgent republicans are likely to vote themselves by voting for house bills amending these schedules without regard to the tariff board. There is little doubt that consideration of the reciprocity measure will occupy many weeks in the senate. It is argued that it would be late in June before consideration could be given in the senate to a house bill dealing with the extra session of the Payne-Aldrich law.

There is said to be no disposition on the part of the senate republicans to block legislation of comparatively minor importance at the extra session. For instance, there is likely to be considerable legislation for the district of Columbia, the affairs of the capital having been neglected during the last regular session. It is expected that bills to correct mistakes in the enrollment of acts during the final flush of the last session will be given the right of way. It is also argued that the subject of the reapportionment representation in the house to accord with the figures of the thirteenth census may be taken up in the senate.

But when it comes to matters affecting the tariff and other matters on which the debate would be well nigh interminable, the regular republicans say they will draw the line and they believe the progressives will act with them in doing so.

The senate republicans are without a caucus chairman. Hale was the chairman, but he will not be in the new congress. The caucus call will be made by petition, and the meeting will be held either Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday. Cullom of Illinois will be chosen chairman of the caucus, and that after Frye, who has declined on account of ill health, he is the senior republican in the senate.

Gallinger of New Hampshire will be made chairman of the senate committee on committees. It is expected that the committee assignments in the new congress will indicate the purpose of the regulars to give increased recognition to the progressives.

The democratic house leaders tonight indicated that they would go ahead with their program in the house regardless of the probable fate of their measures in the senate until such time as the senate demonstrated that it would give no consideration to general legislation during the extra session.

On the other hand, it is said that some of the democratic members of the senate are strongly in favor of waiting until the regular session before revising the tariff. They declare that the republicans have passed big appropriation bills for the next fiscal year and that revenues must be raised to meet them. During the regular session a tariff bill could be revised and the new appropriation bills sealed down accordingly.

PLAQUE FIGHTERS TO MEET IN CHINA

Great Preparations Made for Sessions of Doctors of Many Nations

Effort Will Be Made to Find Toxin and Success Is Expected

PEKING, April 2.—The Chinese have made elaborate preparations for the international medical conference to begin at Mukden tomorrow to investigate the plague. Doctors of many nations are in attendance, some American delegates and several Russian women.

Dr. E. P. Strong of the bureau of science in the Philippine Islands, will take a leading part, as he recently has been in Mukden making a bacteriological study of the disease and endeavoring to discover an effective toxin.

Many marmots, from which the disease was first contracted, have been collected for experiment at this conference. Although no cure has yet been found, the doctors feel confident, from the knowledge they have already gleaned, that eventually they will find a curative serum.

At the outbreak of the present epidemic practically no knowledge concerning its treatment existed and the first methods employed on the lines generally adopted here, disease and plague proved fatal to several doctors.

Doctor Kitahato, the noted Japanese bacteriologist, says while no victim of pneumonic plague recovers, this disease is more easily controlled than bubonic, as pneumonic is contracted only from exhalations or expectorations, which can easily be avoided. Doctor Kitahato thinks the pneumonic plague to be consumption. Although it is a thousand times quicker in its action, it takes exactly the same channels of transmission.

PRECIOUS STONES USED FOR CURING DISEASES

Powdered Preparation Is Prescribed for Many Ills

Stones of healing, as they are used to be called, may not have been quite such fakes as skeptical moderns think. Precious stones were prepared medicinally by first powdering, calcination, liquidation, distillation or volatilization strupulation, solution mixed with citrus berries, sugar and water. Powder of emeralds in doses of 30 to 40 grains was considered an astringent. It attacked blood and strengthened the eyes. Powdered topaz and rosewater prevented bleeding, and was good for digestion; it was sold by apothecaries as an antidote to madness, cured asthmas and induced sleep. Powder of rubies was usually taken in doses of 20 to 40 grains "to strengthen the vitals and restore lost strength," and also prevented infection. Sapphires are highly electric. Powder of sapphires healed boils and sores, and the living creatures ran and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning.

Ezekiel's flying machines were also filled with wheels, as in verses 19-21 it is stated: "And when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them; and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up with them; for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels."

HOW MEN PROPOSE ALL FIGURED OUT BY GERMAN

Cold Statistics Gathered as to Way Paction Is Declared

A German statistician has calculated that in proposals of marriage 28 per cent of the suitors press the hand of their beloved, 24 per cent conclude their speech with an embrace, four per cent kiss the hand, two per cent kiss the hand, two per cent fall on their knees and 20 per cent swallow nervously.

With regard to the women, on the other hand, 60 per cent sink helpless into the lover's arms, for whose proposal they have been waiting, 20 per cent blush and hide their faces, one per cent swoon away, four per cent are genuinely amazed, 14 per cent gaze silently into the suitor's eyes and one per cent runs away to tell a girl friend.

WORK TO START ON SAN DIEGO FAIR

Thomas O'Halloran, Director of Panama-California Exposition, Outlines Plans

Buildings to Duplicate Old Missions and $2,500,000 Available for Construction

[Special Dispatch to The Call] SAN DIEGO, April 2.—Thomas O'Halloran of the Panama-Pacific exposition, to be held in San Diego in 1915, gave out for the first time tonight details of construction work to be begun immediately on the exposition grounds at Balboa park.

O'Halloran is a member of the exposition grounds committee and has just returned from Sacramento, where on Saturday he headed the delegation that waited on the governor during the signing of senate bill No. 442, appropriating $250,000 for a California state building at the San Diego exposition.

"Architects and constructing engineers are winding up their plans for the expenditure of $500,000 in building and landscape work," said O'Halloran tonight. "The expenditure of $250,000 for a California state building will be under the supervision of a board appointed from San Diego. The sum of $2,500,000 is now available for the Panama-California exposition, but we expect to give a $5,000,000 exposition and have received gratifying assurances from Arizona, New Mexico and Central and South American countries.

"The buildings will duplicate the original California missions. All details will be dressed in Spanish costume. The Zuni Indians, cliff dwellers, mound builders, Oaxacas and others will be represented by typical settlements. Special feature will be made of irrigation, and of products grown on irrigated lands. The big southwest exposition will be the greatest of its kind and we are ready to go ahead."

PROPHET MAY HAVE HAD AEROPLANES IN MIND

Ezekiel Predicts Era of Flying Machines

It was recently pointed out by correspondents of the Scotsman that there was a curious prophecy in the book of Nahum foretelling the advent of the motor car. Another correspondent now remarks that Ezekiel seems to have an equal claim to the discovery of aerial navigation, for in chapter I, verses 12-14, we read: "In their wings they were joined one to another; they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward."

"Their appearance was like burning lamps; it went up and down among the living creatures." * * * and the living creatures ran and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning." Ezekiel's flying machines were also filled with wheels, as in verses 19-21 it is stated: "And when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them; and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up with them; for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels."
