M'CARTHY MARATHON PRIZE RING TRAVELER

Local Boy Admitted to Be at His Best at the Long Distance Route

Johnny McCarthy increased his training work yesterday at Shannon's training quarters, San Rafael, and he is now down to the hard grind of training. The local lad is keeping quiet and saying little, but he is working like a beaver, as he is confident that he will emerge from his coming battle with Smith with the honors.

McCarthy is the essence of confidence. He is certain that he can defeat the Philadelphia. He declares he will have the Hebrew tincanning from the sound of the gong, and he assures his friends that there will be a real Donnybrook if Smith stands up and battles, instead of twosteping. McCarthy does not know how to back up, even if he cared to. He is a fighter of the whirlwind type, who swings both arms until something falls.

"According to reports of Smith's fights in the east, the Hebrew is somewhat of a mixer himself, and hurricane milling is what suits him. In speaking of McCarthy yesterday, Harry Foley, his manager, had the following to say: "McCarthy has come in for some criticism for not making better showings against Willie Ritchie and Charley Riley, whom he boxed four rounds each. If these contests had been of longer duration everybody who saw the fights will admit that McCarthy would have won.

"My boy is a fighter pure and simple and it takes him some time to get going. He does not get thoroughly warmed up in four rounds. He needs distance to show his real merit. In his fight with Packey McFarland, McCarthy was fighting better during the latter part of the contest than he was in the early rounds. The result of the coming contest will convince the fans that the Mission lad is of the Battling Nelson type. He must have plenty of time to show his true merit."

There is a great deal of logic in Foley's remarks when McCarthy's past fights are taken into consideration. The local lad is a big rangy fellow, who is young and strong and learning all the time. He has not been given a chance so far, i. e. has yet to take the count, and has furnished good bouts every time he has started because he fights all the time and he does not know much about stalling.

McCarthy's work consisted of a long hike on the road and in the afternoon he put in a busy session in the gymnasium. He went through the various gymnastic stunts and then put on the gloves with Rufus Williams, the colored middle weight, and they went to it for six rounds to the satisfaction of a good attendance of fans who were on hand.

Smith put in a rather brisk day, too. He disappeared from the camp for a couple of hours unknown to his trainers and there were scouts out looking for him, figuring that he had taken a walk and got lost, but Sammy surprised them by returning after an absence of a few hours, and informed his manager and trainers that he had taken a run into Oakland to have some dental work performed.

Smith boxed with Ike Cohen, the Salt Lake middle weight, and during the encounter the Philadelphia put the middle weight down with a right hand clip to the jaw. The boys boxed four rounds.

Promoter Jim Griffin will lead a delegation of fight fans over to Freeman's park this afternoon to see Smith train.

Brick Burgess was given the decision over Sallor Bowers after six rounds of fighting last night at the West Oakland club. The decision of Referee George Simpson did not meet with approval, as many spectators were of the opinion that the sailor was entitled to a draw. It was a bustling scrap all the way through, but there were no knock-downs.

Willie Wolf, the local scrapper, appears to have regained his form, for he battered Billy Arden around the ring, and in the fourth round the battle was stopped at the award given to Wolf. The other fights resulted as follows:

Billy Borden knocked out Dave Donovan in three rounds; Willie Meehan and George Flanagan went six rounds to a draw; Spider Roche won from Kid Wadraw in the fourth round; Neals Jepson and Willie O'Neill were tossed out of the ring for stalling.

HANSEN TRAINING TO MEET NEGRO

White Man Has Fine Record and Expected to Make Good With Chocolate Drop

Vic Hansen, the Coalinga middle weight, who is to make his local debut tomorrow night at Dreamland pavilion in a four round bout with Rufus Williams, had a peculiar experience on his arrival from Taft after defeating Jack Cordell there. Harry Foley had arranged to have Hansen train at Billy Shannon's in San Rafael, and the oil belt boxer took the first boat over to Sausalito and made a bee line for the Marin county training camp. To his surprise, he found his opponent busily engaged in preparing for the fight at that place. He lost no time in deserting that locality. He is now at the Western club. Hansen has a fine record in the interior towns, and in view of having selected such a tough man as Williams for his initial bout here, the indication is that he is satisfied with his ability to down the colored pugilist.

Local fans are deeply interested in the appearance of "Gunboat" Smith, who is slated to furnish the windup with Terry Mustain, a shifty boxer with good footwork and lots of science. Smith is training at Shannon's, and is creating much amusement by sparring with Johnny McCarthy, the lightweight who is to tangle with Sammy Smith next week. Smith towers above McCarthy as a mountain over a hilltop, but the little Irishman takes delight in mixing with his heavier antagonist.

The White Rock club's match maker has arranged one of the best all round cards ever offered the fans of this city. It includes Patsy McKenna and "Sailor" Petrosky, who put up such a grueling bout at the Wheelmen's show; Ruff Turner, the old time crackerjack, and Paddy Ellis, the game Alameda light weight; Jerry Murphy and Willie Purgell; Jim Chase, the colored heavy weight, of Vallejo, vs. "Soldier" Elder; Willie Meehan vs. "Young Joe" Grim; Cy Bronson vs. Archie Stewart, and Paddy Smith vs. Joe Hill.

Toby Irwin of the North End club has arranged an attractive match for his boxing show, scheduled to be held next Wednesday night at Dreamland. Tommy McFarlan, who has just arrived in San Francisco, has been matched to box four rounds with Abe Label in the main event. McFarlan had quite a successful trip east, his most remarkable fight being the 10 round draw with Champion Ad Wolgast at Fond du Lac. It was in this contest that the title holder broke his arm.

At a dinner held last Tuesday evening, Prof. William von Poellnitz, the veteran Olympic club trainer, was presented with a beautiful silver loving cup by his friends. The honor was entirely unexpected by Von Poellnitz, who was very much affected by the display of good will on the part of his friends. The cup was engraved with the following inscription:

"Presented to Prof. William von Poellnitz, Olympic club trainer, for thoroughness and efficiency.

Among the speakers of the evening were Judge James G. Conlan, Judge Al Fritz, Assistant District Attorney James F. Brennan, W. P. Cabbu and George R. Perkins, W. H. McWood, Henry Heinz, Walter Clark, Arthur Heinz, all of the Olympic club, and Albert A. Coddington, the Stanford university athlete.

SAN MATEO WILL MEET MODESTO

SAN MATEO, April 19.—The San Mateo baseball team will go to Modesto next Sunday to play the first of a series of games with the local nine. Modesto will come here for the second game. Manager George Killiea of the San Mateo team has received word from the organizers that they would like to arrange a series of five games with San Mateo.

DE ORO STILL LEADS

NEW YORK, April 19.—Alfred de Oro, world's pool champion, tonight won the second block of his match with Jerome R. Knott, making the total score for two nights' play 411 to 325.

FINE ENTRIES IN THE BIG CONFERENCE MEET

Universities of the Coast Will Send the Pick of Athletes to the Track Games

Judging by the entries announced yesterday by Manager Farmer of California university, the competition in the events in the conference meet on Saturday between the universities of the coast will be of the highest order seen here for some time.

The entries as announced include the pick of the men from Oregon, Washington, Stanford and California universities. Every event will be contested by the stars of these particular universities and it is quite possible that several of the records established in the meet last year will be broken.

In the sprints, Kay, the Oregon wonder; Gish, the Washington all round marvel; Woods, the California fresher; Smith, the Oregon crack; and McKee, the California crack, Schattuck of California will all fight it out for first honors.

Gish of Washington is entered in more events than any other individual man in the meet and if he makes the same remarkable record he did last year he must be given credit for being one of the most versatile all round athletes in the country today. Butler of California and Taylor of Stanford are due for another fight in the 440 yard event, although in this the Washingtonians figure on their man Gish to show up prominently.

In the half mile event Stoll of Washington, Dowd of California and Cramer of Stanford will be the principal contenders, and unless Stoll or Cramer can show exceptional form the race looks good for the California champion. In the two mile race, Crabbe, last Saturday's winner, looks to have a good advantage, though Lang, the Washington man, is an unknown quantity. Both hurdle events look good for Beeson, the California crack. Schattuck of California will have little opposition in the hammer throw, judging by his present form. In the javelin throw the northerners look as if they would fight it out between themselves. Neither California nor Stanford goes in for this event regularly, and should a blue and gold or cardinal man win it will be a surprise.

The Oregon and Washington teams were out twice yesterday, all the men working out over their different distances. Today all of the teams will do their final training and Friday all hands are due for a rest. The entries as announced are as follows:

S.S.S. PERMANENTLY CURES BLOOD POISON

One reason why S. S. S. is so successful in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison is that this medicine strengthens and builds up the stomach and digestive members while it is purifying the blood.

A great many medicines used in treating Contagious Blood Poison are composed largely of mercury and potash, and are recommended to the sufferer because they are intended to dry up or remove the humiliating outward symptoms. But such treatment cannot cure the disease, and its continued use will often so weaken and disease the stomach as, to make a nervous wreck of the patient. And too, when these mineral medicines are left off the smoldering poison takes on new life and soon the old symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, brown, scaly spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc., return with increased virulence. Then the disease makes more rapid headway because the weakened system offers less resistance to its ravages.

S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and it does so by purifying the blood and keeping the stomach and digestive members in perfect condition all the while by its fine tonic effects. S. S. S. is recognized virtue as blood purifiers. It does not contain a particle of mineral and is therefore absolutely safe for any one. S. S. S. cures on the principle that not only must the poison be removed from the blood, but the circulation must also be enriched and vitalized with nourishing powers. S. S. S. is known everywhere as the greatest of all blood purifiers and a safe, certain cure for Contagious Blood Poison. Home Treatment Book and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

I didn't find out that I had contracted Contagious Blood Poison until it had made considerable headway, and fortunately for me the friend that I first consulted had had some experience with the disease, and advised me to take S. S. S., so I didn't fool with any doctors, but began at once the use of your medicine, taking it as directed. My friend told me to stick to it, and that was what I did, and got along splendidly from the very first, and my recovery was rapid. I took only about one dozen bottles, and am now as well as ever. When I began S. S. S., my face was so full of sores and eruptions that I could not shave, and now there is not a blotch or pimple on my body.
