

HORSE SCARED BY AUTO LEAPS INTO A RAVINE

Animal, Frightened by Horn, Rears and Drags Rig and Riders Over Road Driver Badly Bruised and Cut, While Companion Escapes Uninjured

Frightened by the horn of an approaching automobile, a horse harnessed to a buggy containing Miss Hattie Fisher and Otto Schwarzer, both of 1135 Ellis street, plunged over a 50 foot precipice on the road between Muir woods and Mill Valley yesterday afternoon. Schwarzer was severely bruised and cut and the buggy demolished. The girl escaped without a scratch.

As the maddened horse jumped over the precipice the light buggy turned over. For an instant the horrified spectators on the roadway above caught a glimpse of the occupants whirling downward amid the flying hoofs of the horse and then heard the crash as the vehicle was splintered to pieces at the bottom of the deep ravine. Schwarzer was found almost unconscious, but the girl recovered her composure in a few minutes.

WOMAN SHOUTS WARNING

Schwarzer and Miss Fisher planned to go to Muir woods from Mill Valley and hired a buggy at the latter place. They were driving along leisurely when they came to a precipitous portion of the roadway. At the same instant a woman ahead of them called out in warning. Looking up the roadway they saw an automobile running around the turns at a good clip.

Schwarzer made frantic efforts to prevent an accident. The driver of the automobile, apparently believing that there were no other vehicles in the road, raced around the corner and sounded his horn.

The sudden blare of the horn brought the climax. The horse reared straight up and then with a maddened leap shot over the edge of the precipice.

ATTOISTS RIDE AWAY

The names of the riders in the automobile could not be learned. After the accident they ran to the rescue of the overturned couple, extricating first the girl and then the driver. They placed them in the car and hurried them to a drug store, where, seeing that the wounds were not serious, jumped into their machine and drove away.

Schwarzer and Miss Fisher are to be married in a few weeks. They returned to the city on leaving the drug store. "As the horse jumped," said Miss Fisher, "the buggy overturned. I found myself pitched out and for an instant expected to be struck by the horse's hoofs. I do not know how I escaped as I did. It was the purest luck. The fall was about 50 feet and, on striking the ground I was rolled along to the bottom. Schwarzer's worst wound was caused by a kick of the horse."

BLUE LAKES OFFICIAL PROMISES TO AID CITY

Eugene J. Sullivan Requests Supervisors to Wait

With the declaration that the Sierra Blue Lakes water and power company is able to supply the city with water, Eugene J. Sullivan, president of the organization, has written to the board of supervisors requesting it to cease spending money on the Hetch Hetchy scheme until the rights of the city have been determined fully.

"In case," he writes, "the United States commission determines that there are other available Sierra sources this city will be compelled to abandon the entire Hetch Hetchy scheme. In that event our company is ready to assist this city in every way possible to bring here a Sierra water supply with a capacity of 360,000,000 gallons per day of pure mountain water within two years, and at a price that would be less than any other possible Sierra source, and take city bonds at par in payment thereof."

MAN, REFUSED MONEY, STABS WOMAN IN NECK

Miss Mabel Taylor Rescued by Neighbors

Miss Mabel Taylor, 35 years old, who lives at 1910 Steiner street, was attacked by her cousin, Richard Winlow, while in the kitchen of her home last night and severely cut with a large knife in the back of her neck.

Winlow, under the influence of liquor, entered his cousin's home and demanded money. This Miss Taylor, owing to his condition, refused, and Winlow grabbed a knife from the kitchen table and, after a struggle, succeeded in stabbing her.

The woman's screams were heard by neighbors, who rushed in and held Winlow until the police arrived. Miss Taylor was taken to the central emergency hospital for treatment. Her wound is not serious. Winlow was roughly handled by the neighbors and was taken to the emergency hospital for treatment and then to the Bush street station.

PRIEST FORECASTS BIG IRISH EXHIBIT

Rev. Canon Daly Says Ireland Will Be Well Represented at 1915 Exposition

"For the first time in history Ireland is in a position to exhibit to the civilized world the products of its industry. Ten millions of Irish people in the United States will take pride in witnessing an exhibit of Irish prosperity, of which their forefathers dreamed, and for which martyrs and patriots spent their lives. That will be during the Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915."

"That was the declaration of Rev. Canon J. Daly, a member of the department of agriculture of Ireland, yesterday afternoon before an audience at the Central theater. Father Daly said that the department, in itself one of the fruits of the success of the Irish people, had been an immeasurable factor in the awakening of the Irish industries.

"Since the department has been inaugurated as a governmental institution it has been crowned with wonderful success. Farmers own their own land—the feudal system and the landlord curse and things of the past, when upon one of the most memorable occasions of your local history, Madam Occazzini chose 'The Last Rose of Summer' to touch the hearts of the great assemblage who heard her sing in open air on Christmas eve. We have ever led the world in the art of dancing."

"Ireland was never conquered. Its patriotism, its resources, its traditions and its struggles have made it a nation exactly as was Greece and Rome. It enjoys independence in itself, no matter what fetters have been placed upon it."

FORTY YEARS IN CHURCH'S SERVICE

Rev. M. D. Slattery's Ordination in 1871 Celebrated by High Mass in St. Agnes

Archbishop Riordan and Many Prelates Unite With Laity in Joyful Ceremony

The fortieth anniversary of Rev. M. D. Slattery's ordination to the priesthood of the Catholic church was celebrated with the pomp of ceremony yesterday morning in the church of St. Agnes, 1925 Masonic avenue, of which he is pastor.

Clergy and laity united in making the occasion a never to be forgotten festival in the history of the parish. Every pew of the large edifice was occupied to its fullest seating capacity during the celebration of the solemn high mass, and even in the aisles standing room was at a premium, so eager were the people to do honor to their priest.

Archbishop Riordan and Bishop Denis J. O'Connell were present at the service, and the sanctuary was filled by a large assembly of priests and altar boys. Father Slattery chanted his own mass of thanksgiving, assisted by Rev. T. P. Heverin as deacon and Rev. J. Byrne as subdeacon. The sermon on the "Priesthood," delivered by Rev. T. J. Moran, was followed by an address from the archbishop, in which he praised the work done by Father Slattery during the 40 years of his labors in the church. Toward the close of the celebration his grace bestowed the papal benediction upon the members of the congregation.

BANQUET AFTER MASS

After the mass a banquet was served in the priest's house to the two bishops and the assembled priests. At half past 3 yesterday afternoon a reception in the parish hall was tendered the pastor by his people in the course of which a purse of $2,000 was presented to Father Slattery by D. J. O'Leary, representing the parish.

Among the priests who were present at yesterday's function were: Rev. J. Sasia, S. J., Rev. J. Rogers, Rev. T. Phillips, Rev. T. Phelps, Rev. T. Cummins, Rev. J. McNally, Rev. T. S. Milligan, Rev. Father Cullen, Rev. Joseph McQuade, Rev. John Cantwell, Rev. Charles Ramm, Rev. Father Simoni, Rev. Father Wyman, Rev. Father McMann, Rev. Father Capagni, Rev. Father Maximilian and Rev. Father Arzac of the Menlo Park seminary.

Rev. M. D. Slattery has the distinction of being the oldest priest who was ordained in San Francisco. He was born in Ireland but came to this country when but a boy, and began his studies for the priesthood under Rev. I. J. Prendergast in the Mission Dolores college in 1842.

ORDAINED BY ARCHBISHOP

After passing the last year of his novitiate in the Roman college, he returned to this city, where he was ordained in his alma mater by Rev. Archbishop Joseph Sadoc Alemany in 1871. Since then he has held parishes in Amador and Calaveras counties, in Sacramento and in Napa, where he was for 26 years. He came to San Francisco in 1904, when he received the pastorate of the church of St. Agnes, which he has held ever since.

Certain well-known American products like garters and hooks and eyes have become household articles in France, largely because of persistent and systematic advertising.

BULLET ENDS LIFE IN WALL OF FLAME

Frank Broucek Sets Fire to Room and Then Commits Suicide

Despondency Following Loss of Job Was the Cause for the Tragic Deed

Surrounded by a wall of flames started by himself, Frank Broucek, a bar tender, shot himself in his room at 3181 Turk street early yesterday morning. Firemen, pushing their way through the burning building, stumbled across his body, with a bullet wound in his breast and a revolver grasped in his charred hand, marking the tragedy as a suicide. He was still living when discovered, but died on being taken into the open air.

The man had been despondent on account of having lost his position in a saloon at First avenue and McAllister street. Unable to secure employment, he lost heart. At times he threatened suicide.

He retired early Saturday night, but did not sleep. From the indications of the room the demented man first applied a match to the furnishings of his room. Little by little the flames swept around the four walls, and then, with the building burning and crackling around him, he turned a revolver on himself.

It was the shot which awoke other roomers to the tragedy. Running to his room and pushing open the door, they were driven back by the smoke. Not until the firemen pushed their way into the room was the body discovered. The right hand was charred and blackened, but the fingers still clasped a revolver.

The firemen carried him through the flames to the sidewalk. He died before medical aid from the central emergency hospital could reach him. Broucek was about 26 years of age and had been living at 3181 Turk street for six months. The fire loss was estimated at about $200. The flames were extinguished soon after the arrival of the firemen.

SHOW TO BE GIVEN IN FESTAL BOWERY

Auditorium Is Decorated With Sweet Blossoms for Vaudeville Performance

Entertainment by California Club Women Will Open Wednesday

The preparations for the spring flower festival, to be held by the California club Wednesday and Thursday, are converting the stately building into a festal bowery.

Mrs. George Caswell, the chairman of the decoration committee, is making every nook of the interior resplendent with spring sweetness. She has transformed the spacious auditorium, where the vaudeville show will be given, into a green forest. Palms, bamboo, cedar and redwood line the sides of the room and of the stage. From the rafters branches of the weeping willow fall and cover the wood. Shields of greenery and fruit blossoms embellish the walls while here and there great sheafs of pink hawthorn blossoms give the necessary touch of color. Miss Caswell is assisting her mother in the decorations.

A special committee in charge of the festival is composed of Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. Jack Mattheis and Miss Crowley.
