

$1,000,000 SMELTER MUST SHUT DOWN

Court Makes Order in Case of Balaklala Copper Company Plant

The Balaklala consolidated copper company must shut down its big million dollar smelter at Coram, Shasta county, before July 25, according to an order made yesterday by United States Circuit Judge W. W. Morrow.

This order was made in accordance with a stipulation between the attorneys for the smelting company and those for McCoy Fitzgerald and others, whose farms and property were being destroyed by fumes emanating from the smelter.

According to the stipulation and order the copper company must pay those who have been fighting it $4,000 to reimburse them for money spent in obtaining evidence of the damage done by the fumes. In exchange for this, Fitzgerald and those associated with him will not prosecute contempt of court proceedings pending against the corporation for having disregarded a decree of the circuit court handed down July 8, 1910, in which the smelter was ordered to be so operated that only 75.100 of 1 per cent of sulphur dioxide would escape in the smoke from the plant. Ten thousand tons of ore now at Coram are to be allowed to be treated, provided it is done at once, and in any event all work is to cease within 35 days.

Attorney Curtis H. Lindley, appearing for the copper company, told Judge Morrow in court yesterday that every known means had been tried to keep the volume of sulphur dioxide below the percentage allowed in the court's decree of a year ago, but that they had been unsuccessful, and were prepared to close the plant down for all time or until science discovers some means of removing the objectionable gases.

T. W. Shanahan of Shasta county, attorney for Fitzgerald and the other complainants, said yesterday that it was unfortunate that the institution had to close down, but that it was apparently necessary to protect all animal and vegetable life within many miles of the smelter.

The Smart Set

THERE is no telling when a baseball training may serve one in after life. Once a freshman at Yale, who had done brilliant preparatory work at a "prep school," pitched for the freshman nine. In his sophomore year he was made a member of the varsity team, where he continued during his second sophomore year, having failed to pass junior examinations. At the end of another term of excellent baseball but indifferent scholarship, which is a conventional combination of professional humorists, he left college because there exists at Yale a prejudice against perennial sophomores.

Thus it transpired that the brilliant ball player of Yale, terror of the Harvard team, came to California to seek his fortune. There was no field for him in San Francisco, though he was a delightful dinner guest and popular at dances. So he went to Fresno, but found no very glittering opportunity there. An interval of waiting tried the temper of his father in the east, who wrote letters. One of these inclosed a final remittance. When it was gone, work stared him in the face.

It was at this crisis that the hero's training served him. To be brief, he became pitcher for the San Joaquin valley nine, and pitched through an honorable and profitable season, at the end of which, having proved his mettle, he was restored to his family in the east, and is now married to the niece of a president. A true history, that illustrates advantages of a baseball training.

A midsummer madness of the Bohemian club has nothing to do with the theory. But at the family, where they are all equally mad this week, it is proved in a converse sort of way. On the club's nine is a former star of professional fame, whose tried skill will count for the Storks against the Owls tomorrow. And the former star pitching (or was it batting?) for the Chicago had no more idea than the freshman at Yale of later turning his talents to account.

Miss Mary Keeney and her fiancé, Talbot Walker, will be the feteed guests at the elaborate dancing party to be given next Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton in San Mateo. The same day Miss Keeney will be the complimented guest at a luncheon to be given by Mrs. Remi Schwiner at her country home in San Mateo. And this evening there will be a theater party in the city for Miss Keeney and Talbot Walker, with Miss Florence Hopkins as the hostess.

Miss Ysobel Chase will entertain at a large house party to be given this week at Stags Leap, the country home of her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Blanchard Chase, near Napa. There will be a score of young people at the outing.

Mrs. Joseph B. Crockett has sent out cards for a luncheon to be given next Friday at her San Mateo home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Foster will leave for the east to attend the marriage of their son, Paul Scott Foster, and Miss Margaret Calhoun, which will take place June 28 at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Calhoun, Cleveland, O. Miss Martha and Miss Lou Foster will leave Friday in the family party, and they are to be bridesmaids at the ceremony. The best man of the occasion will be Arthur Foster, who will accompany his parents and sisters on the trip about John I. Cushing and Spencer Grant are going to Cleveland to be ushers at the marriage, and another guest from this city will be William Duncan. The ceremony will be an elaborate affair, with a large number of guests.

The William Cluffs have one of the attractive homes at Menlo completed this year, and they have spent most of the summer at the country place, with the exception of brief visits in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Stovel, with their little daughter, Miss Marion Stovel, will visit during their stay in the southern city.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus S. Keenan have been enjoying a series of week end trips to San Jose and the cities farther north during the early summer.

Just How to Get Into the Booklovers' Contest Now!

These are the reasons why you can join the Booklovers' Contest right now and have just as much chance as any one of winning a prize—every bit as much chance:

In the first place, the contest is fair and square to all. No one gets an advantage. The rules entitle every contestant, if he so desires, to make as many as five answers to each picture.

This means that every contestant gets a fair chance to do his best work, to exercise his ingenuity and insight to the fullest!

It is only fair to every one to announce also that in every previous contest the winners used from 98 to 300 pictures and coupons. The first prize has never gone to any one making only one answer to each picture.

Those contestants did not give their ingenuity sufficient room to develop itself!

You can get all the back pictures now. The old contestants got these pictures from day to day as they appeared. You can get them all now, and get them in a bunch.

The regular price for pictures and coupons is 5 cents, but by paying $1 you can get a book of 10 certificates, good for 50 pictures and coupons; $1 is the price of but 20 pictures and coupons, so you are really getting 30 pictures and coupons free.

Now, you have until July 9 to purchase pictures and coupons, and to secure the certificate book—provided they hold out that long.

That gives you plenty of time to get the pictures and solve them. Then you have from July 9 through July 14 in which to get in your sets of pictures and coupons.

The last picture appears Saturday next, you know. There are 77 in all.

Just take a look at the prizes The Call will award. You may as well get one of them. Get those pictures and begin!

If you want to know more about the contest, send for an information pamphlet telling all about it. Address the Booklovers' Contest editor, The San Francisco Call, San Francisco, Cal.

Certificate books, as well as Booklovers' Contest catalogues, may be had at the main office of The Call, Third and Market streets, San Francisco, or the Oakland office, 952 Broadway; or from the Booklovers' Contest editor, The San Francisco Call, San Francisco, Cal.

Have you been around to see the Velie automobile, value $2,100, first prize in the Booklovers' Contest; the Ford touring car, second prize, and the Ford racy runabout, fourth prize? They are all on exhibition at the showrooms of the Standard motor car company, Van Ness and Golden Gate avenues.

Those three magnificent Kohler & Chase player pianos, third, fifth and sixth prizes, may be seen and heard at the showrooms of Kohler & Chase, 26 O'Farrell street, San Francisco, and 1015 Broadway, Oakland.

Everyman's library books can be purchased in any book store. The seventh prize is 500 leather bound volumes of these collections of the master works of the world, the eighth prize 350 volumes and the ninth prize 300 volumes. The publishers are E. P. Dutton & Co., New York city.

The eight Columbia gramophones and the eight Columbia graphophones to be awarded by The Call in this contest are creating much interest. These instruments are renowned among musicians for their delicacy of tone.

The Mercantile self-filling fountain pens, prominent among the honorable mention prizes, are attracting considerable attention. Exactly 150 of these famous pens will be awarded. They are sold by dealers everywhere, and guaranteed by the makers, the Aiken-Lambert company of New York city.

Pig'n Whistle candies are very prominent among the honorable mention prizes. Two hundred and fifty five-pound boxes of these delicious candies will be awarded. The Pig'n Whistle is at 130 Post street.

QUERIES ANSWERED BY THE CONTEST EDITOR

The contestant who sent in $2.08 in an envelope, without any order or name or address inclosed, would better communicate with the Booklovers' Contest editor right away, and tell what it is she wants, and where to send it.

A contestant worries for fear that, as different individuals chose the titles to be represented by pictures in this contest, and no one individual knew what titles the others chose, perhaps the same two titles might be chosen. Never fear. The 77 different pictures represent 77 different titles, because the Booklovers' Contest catalogue was divided into three parts, and each of the three individuals choosing titles was given only his certain page to choose from. By this simple device, all overlapping of titles was made impossible.

The correct titles will be published after the contest closes. A contestant states that, with the use of the catalogue, it is easy to know how the prizes will be divided, if this happens. Never fear, dear contestant, it will not happen, if the experience of former contests is a guide. Never yet has any person in any contest got all the titles correct.

Yes, if a contestant gets 75 titles correct, and uses only 77 pictures, and coupons, he will rank higher than a contestant getting 75 titles correct, and making two or more answers to each picture.

You may use a rubber stamp to affix your name to the coupons, if you wish.

Do not separate the picture from the coupon.

In cases where mistakes in spelling are made in the catalogue, use the catalogue form, or spell the words correctly—as you please. It does not matter. The errors in the catalogue are typographical errors only.

Incidentally, He Planned to Mutilate Wife, She Says

OAKLAND, June 20.—"I'll fix you so no one will look at you, if I spend the rest of my life in San Quentin for it," was the threat made by Charles Salter against his wife, according to the latter's story. Mrs. Salter brought suit for divorce today on the ground of extreme cruelty. She also accuses him of threatening to make her regret it for the rest of her life if she did not agree him with a smile when he came home. Mrs. Salter says that he left her to support herself while he went to St. Louis to amuse himself.

HARMONIE HALL FIRE SUBJECT OF INQUIRY

ALAMEDA, June 20.—An investigation, made by Chief Fred K. Krauth, of the fire that destroyed Harmonie hall last night has led the chief to believe that the blaze was either due to defective wiring or was caused by spontaneous combustion in a quantity of painters' materials that were stored under the stage in the hall. The interior of the old landmark was being renovated by the Phoenix athletic club. Dr. Walter R. Hughes, owner of the structure, estimates the loss at $6,500. The building was insured for $3,000.

AND IS ASKED IN HETCH HETCHY CASE

Berkeley Requested to Send Representatives to Meeting in San Francisco

BERKELEY, June 20.—A letter received by Mayor Beverley L. Hodghead from Percy V. Long, city attorney of San Francisco, asking that Berkeley send representatives to a meeting of engineers in San Francisco to consider the question of the Hetch Hetchy water supply for the bay cities, was read at the meeting of the city council this morning. The meeting will be held about July 15.

Mayor Hodghead said today that he would confer with Mayor elect Wilson in regard to the matter. Long wrote that last year the secretary of the inferior sent an order to San Francisco, asking that the city show cause before December, 1911, why the Hetch Hetchy valley should not be withdrawn from the proposed water supply. A board of three army engineers will meet in San Francisco the first part of next month, and will look into all available water supplies. A hearing will be held about July 15.

Long asks Hodghead for co-operation from Berkeley in showing that the Hetch Hetchy supply is wanted by all the bay cities.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the indelicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures.

"Favorite Prescription" is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice.

Some of the numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days insist on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of KNOWN COMPOSITION. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to "Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 31 one-cent stamps for cloth-bound copy.

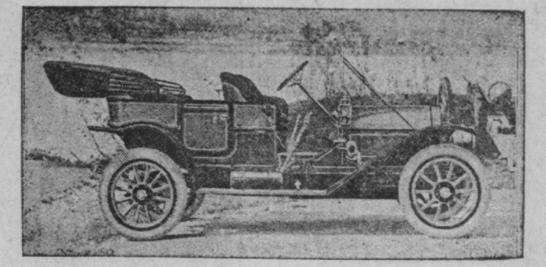

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge, by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.
