

IN WOMAN'S WORLD

The Smart Set

THE Walter Martins' friends have been concerned over the accident to little Mary Crocker Martin, and are sending congratulations with their flowers now that it is said she will recover. Also they are recalling another narrow escape of Miss Mary when she was 8 years younger, which places her at 7 months.

As all properly brought up children are, she was fed on a formula. This means that at certain intervals she was given certain proportions of milk, water, sugar and whatever else pleased his fancy when the physician prescribed it. The formula, like the combination of a safe, was in the possession of a trusted nurse, who compounded and administered it, and Mary Crocker Martin thrived.

One afternoon when her parents were in town the trusted nurse received a telegram to come at once, her mother was dying, so she hurriedly packed a few things and left on the next train, forgetting, in her anxiety and haste, allabout the combination to the formula. When Mrs. Martin returned, an hour or so later, she philosophically faced a week or two without a nurse.

The philosophic serenity was brief, however. Without going into detail, it was discovered that no one in the household knew the food formula, and for several harrowing hours, if one cared to be sensational, it might be said that starvation seemed imminent for the daughter of the Martins, born with a golden spoon in her mouth, since any departure from a formula is not considered.

In the end the author of it was reached by telegraph, and late that night the combination was wired from San Francisco and the situation saved.

The accident of last week was a serious one, and there has been genuine sympathy for the Martins and the attractive child, who is a favorite in the juvenile set of Burlingame.

There is a possibility that Miss Eleanor Walker, the granddaughter of Mrs. Eleanor Martin, may be introduced to society at one of the large affairs of the early winter. Miss Walker has just been graduated from Eden Hall, and accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Genevieve Walker, has come here for a visit of several weeks at least. During this week they are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Burke at Laurel Wood and are being entertained informally. Miss Walker is the younger sister of Mrs. Burke, who was formerly Miss Genevieve Walker and one of the belles of a few seasons ago. If Miss Walker decides to join the group of debutantes this season she will be entertained by the friends of the Martin family in town and in Burlingame and will be one of the favorites in the coterie of young girls who are coming out this winter.

Miss Rebecca Kruttschnitt, the fiancée of Henry Clifford Woodhouse, is going down to San Mateo today, where she will stay for several days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Remi P. Schwerin. The attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kruttschnitt will be feted by the Burlingame set, where she is a great favorite, and Mrs. Schwerin will entertain at a series of informal bridge and tea parties for her popular house guest.

Mrs. John B. Martinon, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Leonida Martinon, are on their way east and after a brief stay in New York will sail for Europe. The attractive young daughter of Mrs. Martinon has been awarded prizes at the local art institute and will continue her study in Paris, Rome and Florence. Mrs. Martinon and her daughter expect to sail from New York September 1 and will go directly to Paris for a stay of several months.

Walter Krueger is enjoying a hunting trip in the northern part of the state and will remain away for several days longer before returning to town.

Helen of Troy Headdress Will Be Popular Coming Winter

A FAMOUS Parisian coiffeur artist is the author of this head adornment, which, by the way, will be worn by several of the beauties in a forthcoming American production. The band is of green velvet, with a long dull gold fringe. It is very effective where the wearer is possessed of classic features. According to fashion reports, it will be very popular this winter.

Huse and Mrs. Hanna will remain a couple of weeks longer at Carmel. In October Mrs. Hanna, with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huse and Mrs. Marguerite Hanford, will go east and will stay for a while at the Huse home in Chicago. Mrs. Hanford is at present the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wells, where she will remain until her departure for the east.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Wilson Dibblee are about to leave for Santa Barbara. Mrs. Dibblee was formerly Miss Anita Orena, and her wedding was a notable event of the summer in Los Angeles. Since their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Dibblee have been in San Luis Obispo, where the former is to take the management of the Dibblee ranch, the oldest and wealthiest in the south. Mrs. Dario Orena, mother of Mrs. Dibblee, was formerly Miss Hermelia Ortiz of this city and daughter of the late Caladonia Ortiz, whose home in South Park was a rendezvous for prominent Castilian families in early days.

Mr. and Mrs. August W. Bryant, with their daughter, Miss Marie Louise Bryant, have returned to their home in Sroderick street after passing the summer in Mill Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lombard of Los Angeles, former residents of this city, will leave shortly for a trip abroad. Mrs. Lombard was formerly Miss Etta Cole of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Seward McNear have purchased a new home in the city. Broderick and will commence immediately the building of a new home in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chace and family have returned to their home in Vallejo street, after passing the summer at Cloverdale.

Miss Margaret Carrigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carrigan, will be hostess this afternoon at an informal tea to be given at her home at Walnut and Jackson streets, and a large number of the younger girls are bidden for the reunion.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Holiday and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Holiday will be pleased to learn that the travelers will return early in September and are planning to leave this week for their home.

Mrs. George Theobald entertained a score of friends at an informal bridge party yesterday at her home, and after the hour at cards there was an informal tea for an additional number of guests.

Mrs. Priscilla Sinclair, mother of Upton Sinclair, left yesterday for New York and will pass the latter part of the season in the city as the guest of relatives and friends.

Italians Hear Woman Give Suffrage Talk

Mrs. J. Lewandowski.

Addresses in Outlying Posts of the City Bear Fruit

A number of important suffrage meetings were held Saturday night in different sections of the city and in several of the outlying districts. Among the most fruitful of the former was that held in the Hotel Richelieu by the members of the Vittoria Colonna club. The address was made by Mrs. J. Lewandowski on "Some Things Women Can Do." The need of the ballot for women to bring about artistic reforms was the subject of Madame Roman's discourse, who gave a stirring address in Italian. Madame Romano, who has left her work in Boston for a brief visit to California, made so favorable an impression by her address on suffrage that the College Equal Suffrage league will hold a public meeting at an early date in the North Beach section of the city. Of late the members of the North Beach Improvement club have shown themselves favorable to the eighth amendment. Mrs. John Phillips, the wife of one of the officials of the club, has recently joined the College Equal Suffrage league. Madame Emile Tojetti has likewise been helpful in arousing a favorable sentiment in the Italian colony.

A meeting was held Saturday night in the Nora club, a Scandinavian organization, at which addresses were made by Dr. Julia Sanborn and Miss Mary Fairbrother.

At the San Bruno meeting, which was held the same day at the Methodist Episcopal church, Dr. Sanborn and Mrs. M. M. Fitzgerald spoke on the political enfranchisement of women. The San Bruno women, under the able direction of Miss Alice Preuss, are giving their active support to the cause. A meeting will be held in the home of Miss Preuss next Wednesday night to arrange for a mass meeting which will be held in San Bruno in the near future.

SCHOOLTIME WOOING LEADS TO MARRIAGE

REDWOOD CITY, Aug. 28.—At one of the quietest weddings of the season, Miss Elizabeth P. Winter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Winter, became the bride of Albert Mansfield, city attorney of Redwood City, in the Methodist Episcopal church at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Rev. William G. Trudgeon officiated.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast after which Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield left for a week's honeymoon to the south. They will return to make their home in this city.

The marriage yesterday culminated a romance of several years' standing, which began when the two were schoolmates in the Sequoia high school of this city.

The bride has lived in Redwood City for many years. Her father is a well known business man of this city.

Mansfield is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel H. Mansfield. His father is the present sheriff of San Mateo county.

SUFFRAGE METING IS PLANNED AT VALLEJO

[Special Dispatch to The Call]
VALLEJO, Aug. 28.—Through arrangements with the College Equal Suffrage league of San Francisco a woman's suffrage meeting will be held at San Pablo hall Saturday night, F. W. Hall, an attorney, and Mrs. Louise F. Hall will present the women's cause. A program of singing also has been arranged.

FORMER TRUSTEE OF VALLEJO WILL MARRY

[Special Dispatch to The Call]
VALLEJO, Aug. 28.—The engagement of former City Trustee William Herbert and Miss Catherine Reynolds, a nurse at the Hogan hospital, was made public today. The wedding will take place next month.

The Lurline Ocean Water Baths, Bush and Larkin streets, supply free to women bathers elaborate shampoo rooms, hot air hair dryers and electric curling irons.

The Abuse and the Use of 'Considering' ---By Ruth Cameron

WE went on very prosperously, CONSIDERING, as people say of a young lady's drawing, or a Frenchman's English, or a woman's tragedy, or of the poor little dwarf who works without fingers, or the ingenious sailor who writes with his toes, or generally of any performance which is accomplished by means seemingly inadequate to its production."—Miss Mitford.

I wonder sometimes if that word "considering" doesn't do more harm than any word in the English language.

RUTH CAMERON

I have read somewhere that it takes a clever man to succeed, but twice as clever a man to explain why he didn't succeed.

I don't think so.

For there is always some explanatory circumstance which he can work up and hitching "considering" to it, persuade himself, at least, that he really has done wonders, "considering."

"Considering" is the excuse that half success always gives for not being complete success.

"Considering" is the screen of justification that the soul which knows that it is not receiving what it deserves of itself puts up between itself and the truth.

"Considering" is the coward's word and the sluggard's word. When you find yourself thinking that you have done anything pretty well "considering," look out. You are in a frame of mind that is fatal to progress. Ask yourself how well you have done, not "considering," not making allowances, and you will have a far better, if bitterer tonic for effort.

If we could only drop the word considering and all its equivalents from our language, I think we would be better off.

But hold—what am I saying? I forget. On the contrary that would be a calamity indeed, for I remember now there are other uses for the word. Sweet and commendable uses.

For I think the really great man is he who is "as tolerant of other people's sins and weaknesses as he is intolerant of his own."

"Considering that she had no mother, I think she is a very good girl."

"Considering that he had no education I think he has succeeded wonderfully."

These are the proper uses of "considering." The more times we use it like that and the fewer times we use it with the first person, the better for our soul's good.

Suffragists Will Carry Banners in Labor Day Parade Sept. 1 Is Set as Date of Statewide Rally for Suffrage

Reports from the Suffrage Amendment league of San Jose announce that the workers for the eighth amendment in the southern city will take a prominent part in the Labor day celebration. In the parade more than 200 women, carrying suffrage banners, will march. During the national pure food exposition, which will be held there the better part of September, the suffragists will maintain a booth, from which they will give out literature, pennants and buttons.

The Suffrage Amendment league has left an order with the Votes for Women club to supply it with suffrage pencils. While the political equality workers have often thought of adopting such means of aiding in the fight no such vigorous demand for them has ever been made before. Under direction of the Votes for Women club, the matter will be taken up seriously, and hereafter the pencils will be on sale in the headquarters of the San Francisco suffrage organizations as well as in those of San Jose.

Following the success of the special suffrage train which took the Sacramento valley by storm, last week, a request has come from San Jose that the Woman Suffrage party supply a similar means of aiding the suffrage campaign among its inhabitants September 22. Definite plans regarding this movement have not yet been determined beyond the fact that whether in the form of a special train, a representative body of suffragists will answer the summons to extend the fruit of their work among their southern sisters.

In an endeavor to convert California to their cause, the Clubwomen's Franchise league has arranged to hold rally meetings in every section of the state where a political equality club has been organized on the night of September 1. Every suffrage league in California will call together its forces, and through able speakers and clever argument will attempt to turn the masculine mind to the recognition of the need for equal rights. The suffragists are looking to this move as their greatest asset in placing votes in their favor.

In San Francisco the rally will be held in the Valencia theater at 8 o'clock Friday night. The admission will be free.

Mrs. L. Blum and Mrs. Ida Finney Mackrille addressed a meeting of the Seven Pines circle of the Grand Army of the Republic in Knights of Pythias hall last evening. Arrangements are being made to hold public meetings in the North Beach Improvement club in the near future, and also to introduce suffrage films in some of the North Beach nickelodeons. These views, which give the conditions and the history of women throughout the Americas, are particularly in the United States, from the days of Isabella to the present time, have been used by the suffrage workers in establishing political equality organizations throughout the state. On Saturday night Mrs. Mackrille explained these pictures to a large audience at the Retailers' Protective association, which held its exhibit in the Auditorium.

Mrs. E. L. Watson addressed a meeting last night in Oakland.

Consider Quality First—Then Price

Consider, first, the quality of the piano you expect to buy. Look carefully into the reputation of its builders—scrutinize the character of its workmanship, the material used; analyze its tone and test thoroughly its action. Then consider well the reputation of the house of which you buy.

Do not be deceived by the lure of the unreasonably low price. The very cheap piano is necessarily of the cheapest possible construction and materials. It is the product of shipshop methods of inefficient workmanship and possesses neither tone, durability nor artistic finish.

The cheap commercial piano finds no place in our stock. Instead, we show only the product of factories noted for the worth of their pianos, the artistic quality of their tone and their durability.

An examination of our stock will convince you that, quality considered, good, satisfactory pianos may be purchased here at prices which are much lower in comparison than elsewhere. Not only are our prices lower, but you have the most favorable terms and the knowledge that the piano purchased is fully guaranteed against any and all imperfections of workmanship and material.

This week we are showing an especially fine lot of used pianos that are great bargains. The easiest possible terms are made on them and the prices are very low.
