The Call does not consider it a function of this newspaper to nominate candidates for public office. The Call does believe that it is its duty to recommend to the electors of San Francisco candidates for whose honesty and ability it can vouch. The Call has heretofore recommended to the voters of San Francisco 14 men who are candidates for the board of supervisors. The Call does not assume to declare that they are the only fit men for supervisors. Undoubtedly there are others. These men the Call knows and is glad to vouch for. They are tried men. They are for Rolph and for San Francisco. Take this list into the voting booth with you today. See that the names of these men are among the 15 of your choice for supervisors.

ROLPH BETTORS GIVE BIG ODDS

McCarthyites Dodge Offers of 10 to 3 That Mission Man Is Next Mayor

10 to 4½ that Rolph wins today. 10 to 3 that Rolph is elected. Events that Rolph has a majority of 6,000. Events that Rolph leads McCarthy 11,000. On the eve of election Rolph became a greater favorite than ever in the betting. The odds of 2 to 1 given last night that he would win today lengthened to 10 to 4½, with much Rolph money eagerly seeking McCarthy money. Many wagers were laid with Tom Corbett, the betting commissioner. The price of 10 to 3 that Rolph would be the next mayor, with very few caring to bet on this proposition, it being generally conceded that the majority vote today would decide the issue without the necessity of a second election in November. Most of the betting was on the mayorly fight, although some of the other contests held the attention of the bettors. Fickert was a favorite in the district attorney fight at 10 to 7. In the coroner's fight Leland is favorite at 8 to 10. The betting is even money that Glover will beat Apple in qualifying to make the fight in November.

VICE PRESIDENTS AT ROLPH RALLY

These are the members of the James Rolph Jr. Union Labor Central club who were vice presidents of the final open air Rolph rally at Valencia and Twenty-fourth streets. One man was chosen from each union in the club: A. C. Parsons—Asbestos Workers. John T. O'Brien—Brick Layers' union. John Mulcahy—Butchers' union. John J. Callahan—Barbers' union. R. W. Jones—Blacksmiths' union. M. Moore—Bar Tenders' union. F. A. Koegel—Book Binders' union. D. F. DeLong—Boiler Makers' union. Victor Blanger—Brewery Workers' union. Otto Postelzold—Bill Posters' union. Cashman—Firemen's union. E. Walsh—Folding Machine Operators' union.

Attention, Voters! Do You Understand Today's Ballot?

Do not confuse today's election with the nominating primary elections that prevailed prior to the ratification of the charter amendments by the last legislature. This is not a nominating election except in cases where candidates fail to secure actual majorities of all the votes cast for the offices they seek. Every candidate who receives a majority vote today will be declared elected. His name will not appear on the ballot voted in November, and there will be no second election in November for the office he seeks. Today will be your last chance to vote for mayor for four years. If you want Rolph for mayor you must vote for him today to make his majority decisive; to prevent the worry, suspense and expense of a second election. If your name is on the great register it is your duty to vote. There are no partisan registration qualifications upon your right to vote today. If you registered as a republican, union labor party man, democrat, socialist, prohibitionist, or refused to declare your partisan affiliations, you are qualified to participate in the election today; to receive and vote the single official ballot. If your name is on the great register it is your duty to vote. You owe it to yourself and to San Francisco. Your city's fate and the character of her government for four years will be determined today. Mark your sample ballot at home. Take it with you to the polls early this morning. Vote before you go to work, if possible. The polls will be open at 6 o'clock. See to it, in any event, that your ballot is in the box before 6 o'clock tonight. Vote early and vote for San Francisco.

PROCEEDINGS ORDERED AGAINST RAILROAD Action to Affect Indemnity Selection of Lands

F. C. Desendorf, chief of the field division of the land office in this city, received orders yesterday from the commissioner of the general land office in Washington to institute proceedings against the Southern Pacific Railroad company, affecting its indemnity selections of lands in township 23 south, range 26 east, Mount Diablo meridian, in Kern county, which are said to be mineral bearing.

VERDICT AGAINST CHINAMAN AFFIRMED

The verdict of the trial court in the case of Ah Sun, who was found guilty of having killed his companion, Chin Hong, while the two were working together on the Zuck ranch near Gilroy in 1904, was affirmed yesterday by the supreme court. The defendant, who was not apprehended until some years after the commission of the crime, will serve his sentence of 15 years in the penitentiary.

ROLPH ENDS 'MAN TO MAN' CAMPAIGN

Closing Meeting Success Despite Efforts of "Gang" to Contrary

James Rolph Jr. brought his hand to hand and man to man campaign to a close yesterday with two big water front meetings. To begin with, he followed his own unique method of talking politics as soon as possible after daylight, and at 6:30 o'clock in the morning addressed a crowd of about 200 stevedores gathered at the south end of the ferry building to begin the day's work. At noon he met a crowd of 400 or more at the Pacific Mail docks. Rolph's morning meeting was unannounced, but his presence quickly drew a throng to the vicinity, and he was given quiet attention and won an ovation of cheers and applause. He spoke of his own record as a consistent friend of union labor during his entire business career, and among the crowd were scores of men who had been employed by his firm in times past, who were ready to vouch for his fairness at all times. McCarthy hoodlums "boo" Board of public works employes and McCarthy gangsters were sent to the north end of the water front by the workmen who were gathered there for the express purpose of breaking it up and starting trouble. Joined by the men who have been sent from meeting to meeting during the last week to "boo" and hiss Rolph, they circled in the crowd and attempted to inflame Rolph's auditors against him, but with no success other than to gather together a small crowd, which attempted to drown the speaker's voice with catcalls and cheers for McCarthy. The McCarthy roughs at the meeting were led by Patrick Lynch, superintendent of auxiliary water supply construction, and T. C. Murcadant, who runs a roller for the board of public works. Their own gang was taken to the place in city wagons, but the real bulk of the crowd, made up of the men who actually work upon the water front, turned away from the hoodlum element, paid respectful attention to Rolph and gave him their hearty applause.

STEVEDORES STAND BY ROLPH

Rolph paid no attention to the interruptions except to assert that he could not be frightened by any crowd and to invite any one to ask him any question on campaign issues or upon his own record. The invitation was not accepted, although Rolph climbed from one automobile over into another in order to be nearer the men who were interrupting him. The sympathies of the great majority were with him, and he was given round after round of applause and assurances of support.

DECISION IN DETWEILER CASE IS POSTPONED

Berry Wants Court to Wait Until Lawlor Returns

When the petition of W. W. Kaufman for a writ of mandamus to dismiss the detentions against his client, A. K. Detweiler of the Home Telephone company, came up for a hearing before the district court of appeals yesterday, the attorney found himself vigorously opposed by Assistant District Attorney Berry, who contended that the matter should not be determined during the absence of Superior Judge W. P. Lawlor, who is away on his vacation. Kaufman demurred to this, declaring that the prosecution had had ample time in which to show some promise of being able to produce their leading witness, former Supervisor Gallagher, and that the case ought not to be continued longer since he had not been heard from since November, 1909. The court ordered that the hearing be continued until next Monday, October 2, when final argument on the petition for the writ will be heard.

DANIEL O'CONNELL Candidate for DISTRICT ATTORNEY

In the past the District Attorneys paid all their attention to the 3 per cent criminal classes, neglecting the 97 per cent of decent citizens, who pay all the taxes and do all the charity. Mr. O'Connell pledges himself that he will be the official representative of the 97 per cent who hitherto have had no voice in the spending of the money collected as taxes; while seeing to it that the offending 3 per cent receive the punishment fitting their offenses. Read his statement in the candidates' statement sent by the Registrar of Voters. Vote for him Primary Day.

HARRINGTON IS SHORN OF POWER

Registrar's Acts in Office Too Much Even for Pro-McCarthyites

The election commission showed its lack of confidence in Registrar E. C. Harrington yesterday by ordering at its meeting that Chief Deputy Harry Zemansky should be chief of the office until the board met again today. Following the sensational address by President Thomas V. Cator before the election officers in the Valencia theater Sunday afternoon the action of the commission yesterday, in practically stripping Harrington of his power in the registration bureau during the absence of the commission, assumed unusual significance. Harrington has subsisted on politics for years and in the present campaign has been an active supporter of McCarthy for mayor despite the charter provision making it a felony for him to meddle in politics. Harrington first showed up in an unpleasant light in this campaign when he attempted to pack the election boards with only McCarthy men. He even went so far as to put on such men as Wyman and Steffens, who had rank to receive to prison for election frauds. Although the election commission is pro-McCarthy in complexion, the tactics of Harrington were too rank to receive its approval. In consequence many changes were made in Harrington's recommendations. His activities prompted the election commission to lay particular stress on the matter of frauds Sunday when the election officers were lectured. The latter were given to understand that their work would be carefully checked and that prosecution would follow any irregularity.

Harrington has conducted his private office as an adjunct of the McCarthy headquarters. His clerks have been given to understand that their work would be carefully checked and that prosecution would follow any irregularity. Harrington has from time to time come in for reprimands at the hands of the commission, but the action yesterday is the most marked indication of lack of confidence yet manifested by the board. Yesterday's action was taken after the commission had approved Harrington's recommendation that he be authorized to spend $100 for the hire of an automobile for the use of the department of elections today. Harrington made no explanation why such an exorbitant sum should be paid for the use of an automobile for one day.

COAST CONFERENCE ON TOLL QUESTION

Delegates From Three States to Meet Here Monday, October 2

That a co-operative consideration of the question of tolls, to be charged by the Panama canal commission when the canal is opened to the world's commerce, may be had, the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco yesterday issued an invitation to all the trade organizations of the Pacific coast to join in a conference to be held in its chambers in the Merchants' exchange, at 2 p. m., Monday, October 2, at which members of the Pacific coast congressional delegation will be present. This meeting is in accordance with the suggestion of Congressman J. R. Knowland, a member of the House interstate commerce committee, who has called attention to the fact that as the Pacific coast has the largest economic and popular interest in the canal, the necessity of discussing this question thoroughly and agreeing upon a uniform policy is imperative. The house committee meets at the Isthmus December next, so that the time for a consideration of the problem is none too short. Invitations to next Monday's meeting have been sent to all the chambers of commerce of the three Pacific coast states and to each of the congressional representatives of those states.

$500 Reward

ALEXANDER RUSSELL An Ideal Candidate for Supervisor

See to it that his name is among the 18 stamped on your ballot for the Board of Supervisors.

HERE ARE SIX OUT OF MANY GOOD REASONS WHY:

- BECAUSE he can and will give ALL his time to the city's business—ALL his experience—ALL his recognized ability.
- BECAUSE he is and has been for 35 years actively interested in the upbuilding and improvement of San Francisco.
- BECAUSE he is President of the Ocean Side Promotion Association and has been affiliated with the improvement club movement all his life in San Francisco.
- BECAUSE he is a business man of high standing and proved capacity, and in no sense a politician.
- BECAUSE he stands boldly committed to the election of Rolph above his own success.
- BECAUSE he is exactly the kind of progressive man that Rolph will need to help him make San Francisco prosperous and happy for the next four years.
