

ALONZO'S THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving greetings to all:
Next Thursday is the day we eat or at least we hope we do. We have every intention so far of eating everything in sight, and the fowls of the air had better keep under cover.

Puppy has the sulks. He says gardening is a sad disappointment. Last Monday he went forth into the back yard and planted a dozen pumpkin seeds. Then he sat down and waited for them to grow a pumpkin in time for Thanksgiving. Now it's Saturday, Thanksgiving is only five days off and there's not a sign of a leaf yet.

Ju-Ju is also in a disgruntled state of mind. Somebody took him for a turkey the other day and chased him 10 blocks. Since then he's been the wildest, giddiest thing in town.

This is to wish you the merriest, happiest Thanksgiving you've ever had. Have a good time on your holiday; that's what holidays are for.
ALONZO.

WHO WANTS THE WISHBONE!

UM-MM!

COME IN JUNIORS!

HURRY UP ALONZO! I'M STARVING!

GOSH I'M HUNGRY!

HEP! — HEP!
HEP-HEP-HEP!

