ROUGH AND TUMBLE WIFE IS TOO MUCH

Bryon J. Sanford Target for Dishes, Ketchup Bottle, Clock, Clouts and Boots

Husband Estimates He Was Hit Thirty Times by Irate Helpmate

OAKLAND, Jan. 15.—Mrs. May L. Sanford retrieved the reputation of her sex for bad marksmanship by the hits she scored with volleys of dishes, china, ware and articles of kitchen use upon the person of her husband, Bryon J. Sanford, as he testified today in obtaining a divorce.

Sanford said his better half routed him with flights of crockery until he fled to the door, but when the key fell out and he stopped to pick it up, she landed a quart ketchup bottle on his head. The deluge of ketchup for some time afterward concealed the flow of blood from bad cuts in his scalp. Later, he said, she dexterously caught him in the stomach with a metal clock, knocking the breath out of him, and then left the marks of her small heels on his limbs as he lay gasping for breath.

Mrs. Sanford blinded him with soap and hit him, he says he estimated, 30 times with a poker, before he could escape. A memorable exploit was her attack on him with two bread knives, in which she slashed his arm. The testimony given by Sanford won for him an interlocutory decree of divorce today.

Charles Alexander Cartan was sent to the county jail today for contempt of court, due to his failure to pay $25 alimony to Mary Cartan. Judge Harris made the order early in November, but Mrs. Cartan complained that she had received no cash. Cartan said that he gave the money to his father, who forwarded it to the wrong address and that it was returned. Mrs. Cartan in her suit for divorce said he had beaten her and abused her and drank up his earnings.

New suits filed today for desertion were those by Frank B. Miller against Anna Miller, and Priscilla Watson against Temple Watson. An interlocutory decree was granted to Jenny L. Shain from Harry Shain on a desertion complaint.

HIS ATTEMPT AT SELF-MURDER WAS SUCCESSFUL

Oakland Man Had Been Failure in Business Venture

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15.—R. A. Raymond, who fired a bullet into his brain last night at his home, 1500 Santa Clara avenue, died today. He was 30 years old, unmarried, and had a wife, Jenny L. Raymond. Several months ago the young man was started in the grocery business at 1414 Encinal avenue by his father.

According to the father the son neglected the business and the store was taken over by the elder Raymond. Yesterday morning young Raymond returned considerably worse for his day in the metropolis. After a talk, the young man was accompanied to his room by his parent, the elder Raymond returning to his own room. Shortly after he heard the report of a revolver and found his son unconscious on the floor.

Miss Caroline Hall Joins Hands With Alan Field

Mrs. Alan Field, nee Caroline Hall, an Alameda favorite who was married yesterday.

Happy Couple to Tour Southern Part of State Before Settling in Coalinga

ALAMEDA, Jan. 15.—Miss Caroline Hall became the bride of Alan Field this evening at a brilliant house ceremony at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Jennison M. Hall, in San Antonio avenue. One hundred and twenty-five guests witnessed the ceremony, which was read by Dr. Frank S. Brush, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

A wedding dinner full of ferns and palms, with masses of white roses used in decoration, marked the place where the bride and groom were united. Pink roses and carnations, with a background of greenery, formed the color scheme throughout the house. The wedding robe was of heavy white satin elaborately trimmed in point lace applique. The veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. Bride's roses and lilies of the valley were combined in the shower bouquet.

Miss Jessie Hall, as maid of honor, was her sister's only attendant. Her gown was made on a foundation of pink crepe de meteor, with an overdress of pink chiffon. It was daintily trimmed in pink chiffon roses. Miss Hall carried a gold basket heaped with pink roses.

Wilford Wiggins and Roberta Field Holme were the small ribbon bearers. They were dressed in white and carried baskets of pink roses. Charles K. Field assisted his brother as best man.

After a wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Field left here for the southern part of the state, where they will spend their honeymoon. PROPERTY OWNERS MUST FIX STREETS

Mayor of Oakland Blazes Trail for City to Follow in the Future

OAKLAND, Jan. 15.—Mayor Frank K. Mott informed the city council today that the municipality is not responsible for the repairing of accepted streets, and that in the future the expense will have to be borne by property owners. Mayor Mott's written communication was referred to Commissioner of Streets W. J. Baccus.

The mayor's letter follows: At the convention of the League of California Municipalities, held at Santa Barbara, I was informed that no city in this state is bound by any action of its city council or governing body, in accepting any street, to keep the same in repair forever.

I was surprised to hear this, and questioned the reliability of the statement. Whereupon Mr. Kent, the Pacific coast manager of the Barber Asphalt Paving company, volunteered to supply me with a copy of the opinion of the city attorney. Upon receipt of same I transmitted it to City Attorney Woolner for his opinion. He has just replied, and endorsed the position taken by Mr. Kent as well as that of the Barber Asphalt Paving company.

I regard this as an important matter and something that we should know, as at the present time there are several pieces of street work that should be done, which are held back owing to the fact that the city years ago accepted the street.

TRANSPORTATION BANQUET KEYNOTE

Modern Facilities of Berkeley Commemorated at Chamber of Commerce Dinner

BERKELEY, Jan. 15.—Three hundred business men, professional men and educators gathered at the Masonic temple, Bancroft way and Shattuck avenue as guests this evening at the annual banquet given by the Chamber of Commerce. The banquet was a commemoration of the completion of modern transportation facilities in the city.

The Southern Pacific company having electrified its local lines making them equal to any municipal system in the world, the Key Route having extended its service to new parts of the city and the Oakland traction company having laid new trackage and installed new cars on its lines.

The speakers were representative of the mercantile and manufacturing interests of Berkeley, of the educational factors of the community and of the great public service corporations which serve this portion of the bay.

B. J. Bither, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was toastmaster. For the municipality a brief address was made by Mayor J. Stitt Wilson, and President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California delivered an address on the relation of the university to the community in which it is situated.

W. E. Gibson of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, head of the committee which was organized to promote unity of sentiment and action among the east bay cities, told of the results achieved thus far.

Much was given by an orchestra prior to the dinner, which was presided over by President B. J. Bither, who said in part:

This is a gathering of business men who seek to advance the best interests of all the people. One of the objects of this organization is to obtain good service from public officials and corporations. We cordially commend efficiency, and, as citizens, individually and collectively, we reserve the right to suggest amendments where needed. We Berkeleyans believe that we are entitled to the best that modern science and engineering can supply, and we rejoice in the fact that our needs are well cared for.

In the matter of transportation facilities no city in California is ahead of Berkeley. And we are justified in asking and receiving the superior service because the records show that the people of Berkeley have developed their own transportation more than the people of any other city in the state.

Berkeley's coming and industrial future depends, in great measure, on the wisdom with which the transportation problem is solved. There is the key to the city's material greatness. In proportion to the number of streets that are paved and improved, will come under the jurisdiction of the municipal government, and steps ought to be taken to make this valuable asset of Alameda county available to the entire community.

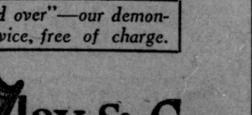

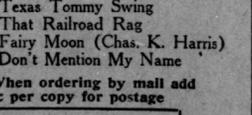

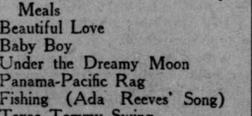

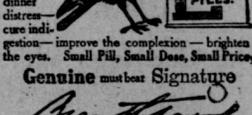

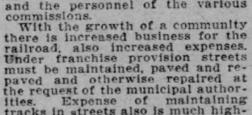

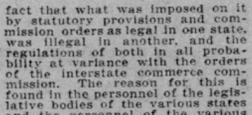

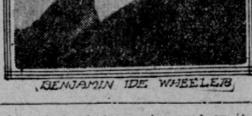

The manufacturing interests of Berkeley are being developed in a most rapid rate, and there is a direct relationship between those interests and the proposed constructive work on the water front.

W. R. Scott discussed the relation of the railroad to the municipality and to the commonwealth at large. He uttered some stringent criticism of the attitude which, he said, is often exhibited toward the common carriers. Gogan denied all knowledge of the Pacific local interests have kept pace with the growth of Berkeley, with which it is inseparably connected, he went on to discuss the attitude of the public toward railroads, in part he said:

In recent years there has been a great deal of criticism against railroads and corporations in general, largely as a result of appeal to prejudice on the part of professional agitators. The Interstate Commerce commission, organized some years ago, has from time to time had its authority and scope of investigation and regulation increased by legislative enactment; commissions have been installed in the various states in the union endowed with regulative authority with respect to traffic within the state—all imbued with the idea that railroads and corporations were oppressing the people on every hand, and drastic measures were being adopted in various states with a view of overcoming the burzabo that the politicians assured the people was in danger of overwhelming them, with the result that a railroad traversing several states was confronted with the

OSGOOD, THE DRUGGIST, IS GIVING AWAY LOTS IN THE SANTA CRUZ MOUNTAINS

Scene near Osgood's free lots in the Santa Cruz mountains.

Every Purchase of 50c Worth of Merchandise Gets a Lot; an Absolutely Bona Fide Proposition That Will Bear Closest Investigation; Desires to Bring Population to a Naturally Beautiful Spot

Osgood, the druggist, is actually giving away a building lot at Ben Lomond, in the heart of the Santa Cruz mountains, exactly as he is advertising.

He gives with every 50c purchase a 25x100 ft. lot, and the total and only expense in connection with the proposition is the necessity of paying $7.50 for the expense of doing the surveying and getting out the deed.

The title to the property is perfectly clear and it is desirable in every respect, and the only object in giving it away is to bring settlers to the district.

Ben Lomond almost the entire town is built on one side of the river, while on the opposite there is just as the timber, and just as much water, but no people. The owners of this property figure that by giving away 2,500 lots they can assure the erection of four or five hundred cottages, which would mean that the balance of their lots could be sold in the next two or three years, at big prices.

My proposition offers our customers a splendid opportunity to get in on the ground floor of a pioneering endeavor," said Fred Osgood this morning. "And the owners of this land are doing exactly what the United States government does in their efforts to bring settlers to a new country. There are at least three good streams of water flowing through the property and there is a splendid lot of timber and many beautiful spots."

Ben Lomond is on the Southern Pacific branch road leading from Pelton to a lot, which card he presents to the Real Estate Department, and there picks out his own lot. A person is permitted to secure more than one lot if he desires to do so; many have taken three or four in a row.

Osgood's stores are located at 7th and Broadway and at 12th and Washington streets, Oakland.

BOXER WAR VETERAN WITH DREAD DISEASE

He Got in China Finds Cure Here

Valentine Tuchsinn, retired petty officer of the German navy, veteran of the Boxer war and now a resident of Oakland, told a story yesterday which pictures anew the miseries of war that are far more devastating than the mere facing of bullets. For eighteen years Mr. Tuchsinn has suffered the agonies of chronic invalidism following an attack of cholera during his campaign in China. But his story has a happy ending for it is in San Francisco that Mr. Tuchsinn has discovered a new method of medical treatment that has entirely restored him to robust health.

He walked into the large new offices maintained here by Professor Munyon, the famous eastern health expert, and said:

"It hadn't been for Professor Munyon and his new treatment, I wouldn't have been able to walk in here today. I have, until only a few weeks ago, suffered tortments. I have been treated in hospitals and sanitariums and by doctors all over the country. I have spent over $1,100 in cash trying to get cured."

My trouble began eighteen years ago when I came down with the cholera in China. I recovered from the cholera but was left with a case of chronic digestive and bowel trouble. I was completely run down. Before I began this treatment I weighed only 125 pounds. Today I weigh 173 pounds.

I could retain nothing in my system. Food did me no good. In one hospital I went to, they advised an operation, but I refused to submit to it and in another I was told that my case was hopeless and that I never would be cured. At that time I thought the doctor who told me was right. But then I did not know about those wonderful Munyon medicines. I took his treatment after my little girl had been cured of a serious ailment by his medicines, because my wife simply insisted that I try it to see what would happen. I had no more faith in the simple medicines I got than I would have had in ordinary drinking water. I began to get better at once. The medicines were simply wonderful in their action. Now I consider myself entirely cured and I shall be glad to tell all about my case to any who will call on me at my home, 765 Fifteenth avenue, Oakland. I feel that I certainly owe this much to this new medical treatment that others who are suffering may be helped."

Munyon's physicians may be consulted free of charge by calling at their offices, entire fifth floor of the Flannery building, corner Market, Kearny and Geary streets.
