TESTATOR FEARS 'HUNGRY LAWYERS'

Will of John Boyd, Berkeley "Town Philosopher," Is Filed for Probate

OAKLAND, Jan. 31.—Visions of hungry lawyers consuming his estate haunted the mind of the late John Boyd, Berkeley "town philosopher," civil war veteran and grizzled expressman, when he wrote his will. The document filed for probate today was climaxed with the hope that no "hungry lawyer" should see fit to dispute or break it. In addition, he desired Superior Judge Waste and City Attorney Redmond Staats of Berkeley to act as executors without bonds, but with the cautious qualification that their selection should be vacated if the charges are made.

The will disposed of Boyd's house and real property at 1915 Addison street, Berkeley, to his son, Sherman, and his daughter, Flora E. Boyd. They were to hold it until taxes got too high, and then to sell. Convertible securities, including cash in bank, are to be divided among his grandchildren. Mrs. Laura B. Nelson, Lillie Francis and Thora E. Boyd, and $10 each is given to Fred and Myrtle Fonzo. The will, as Boyd wrote it in August, 1908, and which he signed in three places and illustrated with a map of his Addison street property, follows:

In case of my death I give and bequeath my house and lot, 1915 Addison street (where I am living at this date) to my son Sherman and Flora E. Boyd to have and to hold until taxes get too high on the property or until I shall give to them the household furniture and to Sherman my horse, wagon and harness and further all the money and all moneys which I may leave in bank, building and loan stock or in property to me from the late Mrs. Cherry street, North Oakland, which I have sold to William R. Francis, to be equally divided between Laura B. Nelson, Sherman Boyd, Lillie Francis and Thora E. Boyd, and under Fred and Myrtle Fonzo $10 each out of my money in bank.

I would like the picture in the hall, war relics, etc., to be divided between the children named if they want them.

I hope this is plainly expressed and according to law and that no hungry lawyer will try to dispute or break it. And if there is any executor needed I appoint Judge William Waste and Redmond Staats without bonds if they don't charge too much.

"TEXAS TOMMY" HAS ITS LAUREATE AT UNIVERSITY Parody of "Danny Deever" Appears in Comic Paper

BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—The "Texas Tommy" has its laureate. An audacious sophomore at the University of California, who has been the author of the sign of "L. L. 14," is the author of a parody, Kipling's "Danny Deever," which appeared this morning on the campus in the Pelican, the college comic paper.

The lines indicate that the "Texas Tommy" is catching, and that the university community is not immune from the epidemic. The editors of the Pelican, not to be lacking in spirit, tastefully decorated the top of the page with a row of tiny silhouette figures, some of which are embraced in the measuring measures of the time dance.

Under this embellishment appears the "Texas Tommy" poem, which bears the parenthetical subtitle that "Rudyard's some sport himself."

PRISONER MAKES BREAK WHILE BEING BOOKED Ira Johnson Reaches Street, but Is Overtaken

OAKLAND, Jan. 31.—While Ira Johnson, arrested in lower Broadway this afternoon with John Diggs for stealing an overcoat, was being booked at the police station he made a break for liberty and succeeded in rushing by the desk sergeant and jailer and gaining the street.

Jailer Charles Jorgenson took up the pursuit and Johnson was retaken at Twelfth and Clay streets, where he was stopped by a constable who saw Jorgenson following closely. Johnson was tripped up, and in the fall he received a deep gash in the head.

Johnson and Diggs, who are believed by the police to be guilty of a number of petty robberies in Oakland in the last two weeks, and efforts are being made to obtain additional evidence against them.

STORY OF RICH LANDS DUBBED A FAIRY TALE J. F. Breevort Wants Agreement to Trade Canceled

OAKLAND, Jan. 31.—J. F. Breevort has reconsidered his agreement to exchange Oakland property plus $1,360.10 with W. H. Hickey, Joseph Fassler and J. Hay Smith for alleged valuable agricultural land on Sherman island. He says that the land would produce 300 sacks of onions per acre, that the levee would be raised four feet to prevent inundation, that there was no alkali on the land, and that the north wind did not interfere. He declares that he found these representations were untrue and he wants his agreement canceled and his cash and goods to Oakland property returned. As damages he asks for $2,514.10.

TAX SALE'S VALIDITY HINGES ON ONE CENT B. Kelsey and John de Carli Contest Claim of Woman

OAKLAND, Jan. 31.—One cent, the difference between $5.99 and $6, is the hinge on which the validity of a tax sale swings, according to arguments by Attorney Harry A. Excell before Judge Wells today.

Mrs. Rosa Cordano claims the property, but her rights were contested by B. Kelsey and John J. de Carli. She offered $600 to Kelsey and De Carli to relinquish their claims, but they refused, the property having a valuation of more than $1,000.

Judge Waste has the case under advisement.

Drawing Room Decorated for Wedding With Bridesmaid Roses and Ferns

OAKLAND, Jan. 31.—Miss Valentine Lidga, daughter of the late Victor N. Lidga, became the bride of Philip Heuer at noon today. Only a dozen members of the immediate families witnessed the ceremony in the drawing room of the Key Route Inn. Masses of bridesmaid roses were used in an effective decorative scheme, combined with quantities of ferns and knots of tulle. The bride wore a gown of gray velvet with moleskin fur. The hat also was made of the moleskin fur. She carried a spray of orchids. Miss Hazel Coyne was the only attendant. She wore a robe of black velvet, with a large black and white hat. She also carried orchids. Victor Lidga assisted Heuer as best man.

After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Heuer left for the southern part of the state, expecting to continue their honeymoon to Mexico before returning to Oakland, where they will make their home with the bride's mother. Heuer is a son of Mrs. Doris Heuer and a brother of Mrs. Beach Dean. He is well known in local insurance circles. He has been an active member of the Olympic club and belongs to several fraternal organizations.

Mrs. Heuer has been popular with the Russian and French colony, both here and across the bay. She is gifted as a linguist and musician. Her brother, Victor Lidga, is assistant professor of physical culture in the University of California.

Miss Sue Harrold has chosen Thursday evening, March 14, for her marriage to Jack Van Sicken, and the days before her wedding are being filled with the social compliments which the girls of the younger set are arranging in her honor. Miss Harrold is planning a house ceremony. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harrold, will send out cards for the marriage late next month. One of the first of the favors offered her is a luncheon at which Miss Marie McHenry will preside as hostess Friday afternoon. Miss McHenry will be among the bevy of girls in the bridal party.

Miss Ruth Goodman entertained at luncheon this afternoon at her home in Berkeley, having asked a coterie of friends to meet Miss Ruth Casey. Miss Casey is being welcomed to the bay cities after an absence of more than a year in Europe and on the Atlantic coast. She has devoted considerable time to the development of her musical gifts, which will make her an acquisition to the local colony of musicians.

A number of the maids and matrons of the local smart set will assist Mrs. Volkman and Miss Johanna Volkman in the receiving party at the tea which they will give Wednesday afternoon, February 14, at their home across the bay. The affair is planned in compliment to Mrs. William Volkman, who before her marriage a few seasons ago was Miss Gladys Meek. Mr. and Mrs. Volkman are establishing their permanent home in San Francisco. Following their wedding they lived at the Meek place, near San Leandro. Mrs. Volkman is a sister of Mrs. Stuart Hawley.

Mrs. Allen Babcock opened her Lake street home this morning to a group of friends, who meet frequently for a few hours of work with their needles. These matrons of the smart set are devoting themselves to making complete wardrobes for infants and presenting them to the department of the Associated Charities. Mrs. Babcock is chairman of this branch of the work and through her enthusiasm has interested many of the matrons of the Lakeside district. The thing will be followed by a buffet luncheon.

OAKLAND TO HOLD AERIAL FESTIVAL Plans Prepared for What Promises to Be California's Biggest Aviation Meet

OAKLAND, Jan. 31.—The biggest aviation meet ever witnessed in California will be held in Oakland within the next three weeks, if the plans completed at a mass meeting of citizens of this city, representative business men and members of the board of directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce are carried out. The meeting was held this afternoon in the rooms of the chamber building.

No definite dates have as yet been set for the meet, which will take place at the Oakland aviation field, in Emeryville, formerly the race track, and will be continued for six days. The affair, according to the promoters, will exceed in completeness, variety and interest that held recently in Los Angeles, which was attended by thousands. The greatest aviators and the most daring and sensational birdmen of the day will be brought here to compete. No pains will be spared by those having the affair in charge to make it the most spectacular ever held on this coast.

The deal for the big aviation meet was closed with W. H. Ploekens, representing the big aviation interests of the country, and Frank Leavitt, who appeared before the meeting and brought forward the proposition, this afternoon. Their proposition was found satisfactory and was accepted without hesitation, the only thing now remaining being the details of the meet. Committees will be appointed from the Chamber of Commerce to help with the arrangements and work will begin at once on the final preparations.

The aviation meet will not only be a series of flights by daring birdmen, but will be in the nature of a civic event. Foremost in the movement to obtain the big affair for this city is the Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the meeting this afternoon was held.

GLOBE TROTTER IS FOUND IN KENNEL

Johnny Keefe, Who Is Filled With Wanderlust, Sleeps in Oakland Canine Domicile

OAKLAND, Jan. 31.—The world tour of Johnny Keefe, the 12 year old son of John Keefe, a politician of San Francisco, living at 201 Naples street, was brought to a climax today, when he was found in East Oakland, after a search instituted for him four days ago by the San Francisco and Oakland police. The boy was found asleep in a dog kennel in the back yard of E. L. Blackman's residence, 1153 East Fourth street.

Johnny left his home four days ago in search of adventure and got as far as the eastern confines of Oakland, when his money gave out. Rather than admit himself defeated and return to his parents he looked about for a place of refuge and at last found a deserted dog kennel in the Blackman yard and had slept there for the last four nights. For food he went to the people of the neighborhood and got plenty to eat.

This is the eighth time that Johnny has run away from home and he said today that the more he sees of life the better he likes it and he takes the knocks and bruises that he receives as part of the game.

When asked who his father was he said he was a politician. "What party does he belong to?" he was questioned. "He has been on both the democratic and republican tickets," said the boy, "and has always made a good race."

Johnny was glad when the policeman came today to take him home, but said that if he had not been found he would have kept his lodgings in the doghouse and taken a chance against starving in the kindness of his new found friends in the neighborhood.

The Manuwal is 75 feet long, has a beam of 15 feet and a draught of 3 feet. It is finished throughout with teak wood. The main cabin is 15x20 feet and the guest cabin 12x12 feet. There are accommodations aboard for 12 persons. The vessel has wheel house and bridge control, a refrigerator and searchlight. Two tenders, one power driven, will be carried by the Manuwal.

FOUR BOYS CAUGHT ROBBING REGISTER

Oakland Police Believe They Have Ringleaders of Juvenile Gang in Toils

OAKLAND, Jan. 31.—With the arrest last night of four youths who were caught robbing a cash register in the store of Daniel Teehan, 97 Hanna street, the police believe they have captured the chief members of a gang which has been guilty of a large number of small burglaries in the last month. The culprits are Curby Harmon, 18 years old; John Carter, 23 years old (thought to be the ringleader); and Manuel and Richard de Ruy, 18 and 19 years old.

The quartet entered Teehan's store last night, and while three of them engaged Teehan in conversation a fourth tried to tamper with the register, and was caught in the act by the store keeper, who drew his revolver and drove the boys from his store. As soon as they had hurried away Teehan telephoned to the police, and Captain of Inspectors W. J. Peterson, Captain Charles Bock and Inspector Tom Gallagher responded and captured the boys at Eighteenth and Adeline streets.

Carter escaped prosecution for looting the till in the store of T. Tallario, 1321 Fourteenth street, two weeks ago, by his parents making good the amount of the theft. Manuel de Ruy is accused of attempting to rob a till in a store at Fourteenth and Adeline streets a week ago.

The home of M. A. Williamson, 216 El Cerrito avenue, was entered by burglars last night, in the absence of the family, and jewelry and silver were valued at $150 were stolen. J. C. SEED SELECTION SHOWN PROFITABLE

Lima Bean Crop Could Be Heavily Increased Thus, Says Professor Shaw

BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—The farmer owes it to himself to be as careful in selecting seed beans of recognized high grade as in selecting pedigreed horses, writes Professor George W. Shaw of the University of California department of agriculture in a bulletin on "The Production of the Lima Bean" just issued from the university. An avowed of his assertion, Professor Shaw shows that the pedigreed beans of the university selections in 1909 produced 16.95 per cent more than common seed, and in 1910 23.92 per cent more.

The value of this care to Ventura county, the banner lima bean section of the west and even of the world, Professor Shaw shows would be enormous. By merely selecting for seed the so called pedigreed strains of lima beans Doctor Shaw asserts that the lima bean output of Ventura could be increased by 181,260 sacks a year, on the basis of the 1910 crop. The gain to the county would be over $600,000.

The bulletin, in preparation of which Doctor Shaw was aided by M. E. Sherwin, is the result of experimental work in Ventura county, devoted to increasing the grade and crop of lima beans through scientific seed selection. The bulletin discusses climatic and soil influences as factors and gives in detail a direction to bean growers. Copies of the bulletin may be obtained by growers from the college of agriculture at the University of California, Berkeley.

Professor Shaw, an extensive publisher of scientific bulletins, has been with the university since 1902, being now associate professor of experimental agronomy and agricultural technology, and chief chemist and agricultural expert for the Colorado Sugar Manufacturing company. He is a member of the American Chemical society and the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists.

ALAMEDA HEALTH OFFICER REIRES

ALAMEDA, Jan. 31.—Dr. L. W. Stidham, city physician and health officer for 13 years, retired today. He will be succeeded by Dr. Arthur Hieronymus, who recently was selected for the place by the board of health, after Doctor Stidham had sent in his resignation.

The resignation of Doctor Stidham was filed with the health board several weeks ago after that body had become involved in a controversy with a local milk distributor and a number of residents over certified milk delivered here December 17, which was alleged to have caused the illness of 11 children. One sample of the milk that was turned over to City Chemist A. A. Cunningham by Doctor Stidham was found to contain formaldehyde, according to the chemist's report to the board of health.

The Alameda Chamber of Commerce has petitioned the city council to end without further delay the milk agitation. The directors of the chamber say that the continued agitation with no end in sight has injured the good name of Alameda abroad and has tended to create a wrong impression with regard to the manner in which the pure food laws are enforced here.
