

BUCK PASSED OVER TEXAS TOMMY DRAG

Poor Dance is "Just Kept a Gliding" From One Office to Another

Police Board Declines to Bar Dance; No Chaperons for Nickelodeons

Texas Tommy is the shuttlecock of moral investigation. Just now it is being shuttled back and forth between the board of supervisors and the police commissioners.

"Kick it out!" said the public welfare committee of the supervisors to the board of police commissioners. "Kick it out yourself; we ain't arbiters of what is polite and what ain't."

So, last evening, the Lone Star Thomas could be seen wandering between the hall of justice and L. C. temporary city hall in Market street, wandering and wondering what his ultimate fate would be.

"Tell the supervisors," said Commissioner Woods to Clerk Skelly, "that if they will enact a law in regard to those dances the police commission will see that the law is enforced."

"The public dance halls are the breeding places of those dances and the police have no jurisdiction over them," said Commissioner O'Grady.

So Texas Tommy slipped on his sombrero and his cap and today he is out on Market street to see what his fate will be.

Other questions of morals came up for the police commission to pass on and the police commissioner was asked to read the women's Christian temperance union suggesting that police matrons be detailed to chaperone nickelodeons and public dance halls in the interest of morality.

O'Grady explained that the duties of the police matrons are defined by the charter, which provides for the care of women prisoners. He said the charter would have to be amended before they could be assigned to such work.

President Cook presided at the meeting. Commissioners Spiro, Woods and O'Grady were present. Chief of Police White, in his new uniform, sat with the commission.

CAFE LICENSE EXTENDED Upon the pleading of Attorney Thomas O'Connor, Louis Vannucci, who conducts the Turkish cafe at 1028 Kearny street, was granted an extension of his license for three months.

The commission has decided to rid Kearny street of cafes and dance halls, but Vannucci wanted a six months' renewal of his license so he might find another location.

William Fauser was granted permission to transfer a liquor license and open a saloon at 3024 Jackson street, between Mission and Valencia.

PERMITS REVOKED The liquor license for the grocery of Wiegand & Hagermann, Twenty-third and Douglas streets, was ordered revoked for the reason that the liquor had been sold there in less than quart quantities.

The permits of Francis McClellan, hack driver, James D. Chambers, chauffeur, and Frederick Sattler, hack driver, were revoked.

Policeman John T. Kelly was fined $50 for conduct unbecoming an officer, and for neglecting to report a woman with having released from custody Edward E. Meachen, a private in the Thirtieth infantry, stationed at the Presidio.

President Cook presided at the meeting that if he ever got into trouble again he would be dismissed.

DAUGHADAY WILL CASE IS ARGUED

Mrs. T. G. Phelps, Through Counsel, Fights to Retain Estate Left by Husband

Attorneys for Mrs. Josephine Phelps, widow of former Collector of the Port Timothy Guy Phelps, yesterday argued against the probate of a will that would deprive Mrs. Phelps of $200,000.

Phelps died in 1899 and left an estate valued at $2,000,000. The greater portion of the estate fell to Mrs. Phelps, but a clause in the will provided for the distribution of certain shares to his sisters, among them Mrs. Phebe Daughaday of Kansas City.

Mrs. Phelps got in communication with the probate court with the result that she purchased their interests for varying amounts and paid Mrs. Daughaday $3,390 for her share.

Mrs. Daughaday died in April, 1901, and the transfer of the right to the property to Mrs. Phelps was made by Mrs. Daughaday's executor in 1905 at Kansas City.

Subsequently Frederick Daughaday, a son, discovered a will made by his mother in 1900 leaving to him and to his brother Mortimer the inheritance she received under the Phelps will.

Frederick and the children of Mortimer, who is dead, recently began suit to have the Daughaday will admitted to probate here. Attorneys for Mrs. Phelps filed a demurrer setting forth that the property mentioned in Mrs. Daughaday's will is no longer part of the Daughaday estate.

The Daughaday heirs claim that the property Mrs. Daughaday sold for $3,200 was misrepresented in value and is worth more than $250,000. They seek to have John H. Grady appointed administrator.

Attorneys Thomas E. Curran and Francis Dunn argued for the heirs and Walter H. Linforth and Ross & Ross for Mrs. Phelps. Judge Graham took the matter under advisement.

A similar suit by Florence Moore, grandniece of Phelps, who sold her property to Mrs. Phelps for $150, is pending before Judge J. M. Sewell.

It Is Possible to Reduce Flesh Without Dieting or Exercise

It is not only possible, but being done everywhere. Exercise, unless carefully superintended by a physician and expert Athletic Director, may easily do a deal of harm to the great overdeveloped body.

The anatomical fat man and woman determined to get thin are only too likely to strain their fat encumbered muscles by their awkward, ill-directed gymnastics, and so develop into something far worse than a little too much flesh. Some way with dieting. Starvation is certainly effective if kept up long and faithfully enough, but it is almost certain to injure the digestive process and so weaken the patient constitutionally, while it is abominable torture of course, especially to a good-natured, high-living flesh man.

Fortunately neither dieting nor exercising are required or desirable if one uses the right remedy for reducing fat, and, strange to say, the remedy is a simple, wholesome home mixture, the ingredients of which are obtainable at any drug store for a few cents. This mixture is as follows: 1/2 oz. Marmola, 1/2 oz. Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, 2 1/2 oz. peppermint Water, and the proper amount to take is one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime. This mixture takes the fat of rapidly but naturally, so that no wrinkles are formed and no harm is done to the stomach, as is frequently the case with "patent" or "secret" advertised remedies.
