

Cornerstone of St. Ignatius Church is Laid

NEW CHURCH IS CONSECRATED TO CHRIST'S CAUSE

Catholic Organizations Perform Solemn Ceremonies for St. Ignatius Edifice

Archbishop Riordan Blesses the Stone; Father Gleason is Orator of Occasion

The apostolic blessing from Pope Pius X. complementing the regular religious ceremony conducted by Archbishop Riordan of San Francisco, marked the laying of the cornerstone of the new $300,000 building of St. Ignatius church at Fulton street and Parker avenue yesterday morning.

The message cabled by Papal Secretary of State Cardinal Merry del Val, reads as follows:

"Rome, March 23.—To the Rev. Father Trevelli, St. Ignatius college, San Francisco:

"The holy father has learned with great pleasure of the laying of the cornerstone of the new St. Ignatius church. He sends best wishes for its completion and in part on this solemn occasion a special and large apostolic blessing."

The ceremony began with a procession from St. Ignatius college along Hayes street to Stanton, thence to Fulton street to the new structure.

A large number of Catholic organizations and societies participated. A corps of mounted police led the parade, followed by Major McKinley, his staff, the band and four companies of the League of the Cross cadets. Following them were 75 girls from the Presentation convent.

Two women's organizations, the League of the Sacred Heart and the Ladies' Sodality of St. Ignatius church were next in line, followed by the men's sodality, headed by President John T. Fitzpatrick.

Archbishop Riordan, the boys of the altar society, acolytes and the priests assisting in the service brought up the rear at the procession.

FATHER GLEASON SPEAKS The regular consecration service was performed by Archbishop Riordan, who blessed the stone and read the litany. Following this the cornerstone, containing church records, the cable message from the Vatican and copies of the March 24, was laid in place. Hymns of praise and thanksgiving were chanted by the St. Ignatius choir.

Assisting in the service were fathers of the Order of the Franciscan and Paulist orders, including Rev. Father Trevelli, president of St. Ignatius college; Father Morrissey, president of Santa Clara college; Father Collins, chaplain of the League of the Cross; and Fathers Cantwell, Rockliff, Colligan, Wyman, Gannon and Testa.

The address of the day was delivered by Rev. Father Gleason, pastor of the church of St. Thomas Aquinas of Palo Alto and an alumnus of St. Ignatius college, who told of the history of the church and its hopes for the future.

"This building commemorates another structure to the honor and glory of God," he said, "to bring to man the message that without God there is no salvation of men. The towers of this structure will ever point upward to God, to whom all men must turn in their hour of dimness."

He referred to the founding of St. Ignatius church 60 years ago by two or three priests sent from the northwest, and said that the faith in all these years is rich with what the fathers of St. Ignatius have accomplished.

"In 2000 years of the world, we have only been face to face three times with the crisis which we now confront, when the fundamental truths and principles of the Christian religion are at stake. The reason is that we have forgotten God."

FORTRESS FOR CHRIST "Every new church acts as a new fortress for Christ and stands as a citadel for the aspirations of the future. In the world today, the fundamental truths on which the Christian faith is built are crumbling away in the minds of the masses, because we have ceased to be practical Christians.

"Practical Christians are those who think that counts. What does the action of the lips count for, if man does not live up to the protestations of his lips? We can not blind ourselves to the fact that there has been a radical departure from Christian standards. The rights of property have been abused so rankly that all men are protesting against conditions. False leaders have arisen who have taken their followers away from Christ. The result has been confusion and confusion."

"Today the church calls you to stop in the mad rush and realize where all this wild speculation of thought will lead to. The appeal of this ceremony of today will bring man back to Jesus Christ. If we are to bring men back to recognition of Christ, then we shall have solved the problems of the day."

"We are now at the cross roads of thought. In every country in the world today men are rising against dishonor, against greed, and against lust. Honor and truth and justice are wanted. All that will bring this is the religion of Jesus Christ which the church of St. Ignatius stands for."

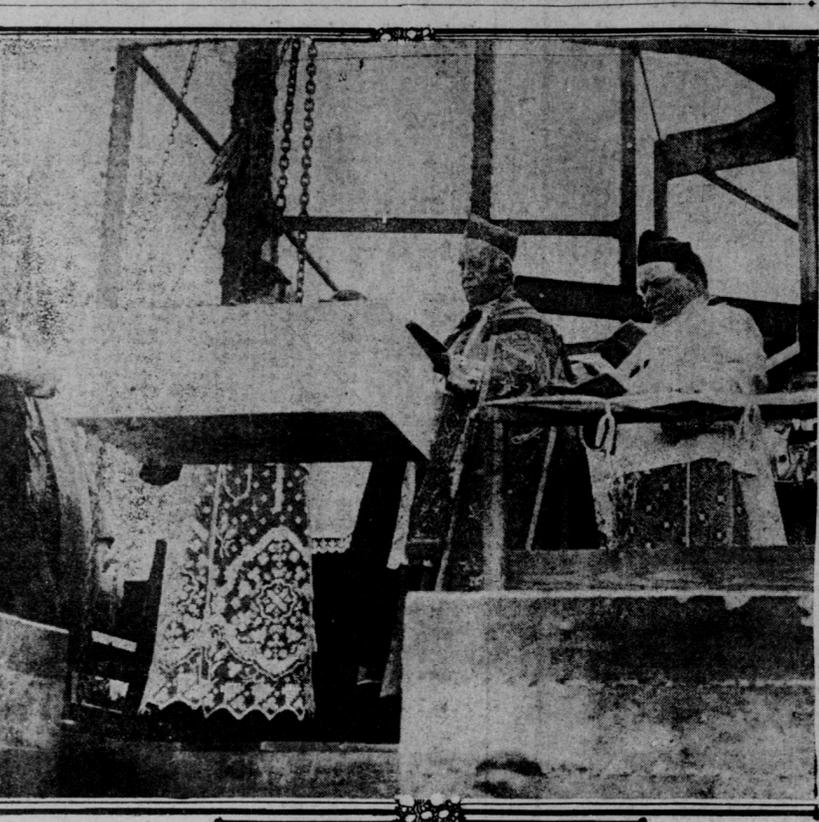

The new building, of which only the steel core has been erected so far, will be one of the most imposing structures of its kind in San Francisco. The towers, 230 feet high, will adjoin the nave, which will be 72 feet high, the building covering an area of 271 by 158 feet. The style of architecture will be Italian renaissance. It is expected that nearly a year will elapse before the edifice is completed.

Before the fire of 1906, the church of St. Ignatius was located at Hayes and Van Ness avenue, the building being destroyed at that time.

Y. M. C. A. REPRESENTED—Stockton, March 24.—The Stockton Y. M. C. A. is represented at the state convention in Pasadena, April 4 and 5, by Cal McMillan, Frank A. Nelson, J. W. Wessinger, Cyrus H. Holman, Charles Garber and Frank R. Buckle.

Former President Roosevelt accepted his resignation because of Captain Wynne's splendid record. His friends believe that his gradual decline in health was due largely to his forced retirement.

ODDIE'S WHISTLES CAUSE NOISE, ALTHOUGH MISSING

Nevada's Governor Stirs Up Railroad Officials

[Special Dispatch to The Call] ST. PAUL, Minn., March 24.—Governor Tasker L. Oddie of Nevada is searching for a box of whistles that was to have been received by him in Harrisburg, Pa., during the trip of the governor's special last December. AUTO INDUSTRY AT HEAD OF THE LIST

Census-Bureau Issues Statistics on Growth of Manufacturing Industries

WASHINGTON, March 24.—An increased tendency toward diversification in manufacturing industries in the United States was observed by census bureau officers who compiled statistics of the relative importance of manufacturing industries. The statistics cover the ten year period ending with 1909.

The report stated that the less important industries of the country show greater percentages of increase than the more important ones.

By far the highest percentage of increase was noted in the automobile industry. Exceptionally large increases were credited to the copper, tin and sheet iron industries.

A large decrease in the average number of wage earners was shown in the iron and steel blast furnaces, sugar and molasses industries.

The manufacturing industries of the United States employ as wage earners 6,615,046 persons, or almost 14 per cent of the wage earning population. The value of the products of these industries is $20,572,052,000, and the value added by their manufacture is $8,530,261,000.

The slaughtering and meat packing industries rank first in gross value of products $1,275,588,000; second, railway and machine shop products, $1,224,755,000; third, lumber and timber products, $1,158,129,000; fourth, steel works and rolling mills, $985,728,000; fifth, flour mills and grist mill products, $853,584,000.

SOCIALISTS PROTEST AGAINST DEPORTATION

Say Refugees Are Victims of Russian Intrigue

SEATTLE, March 24.—Resolutions protesting against the deportation to Russia of Feltai Kakan and Vasilia Lichatoff, held by the government at Tacoma, charged with being anarchists, were adopted at a mass meeting of socialists at Dreamland pavilion today. Prior to the meeting, which was well attended, the socialists paraded the streets with only one flag, the red banner of socialism, displayed at the head of the column.

Kagan and Lichatoff, who, their defenders assert, are Russian socialists, and not anarchists, escaped from the quicksilver mines in Siberia and made their way to Tacoma, where they were arrested and ordered deported.

The resolutions demanding their release will be sent to Congressman Victor Berger, who already has exerted himself in their behalf. A collection of $100 was taken up at the meeting to provide a defense fund for the refugees.

The aftermath of a family quarrel in which Soldano, his wife and the latter's brother, Andrea Pagano, participated a few hours before the shooting. Soldano is said to have been jealous of his brother in law and when Pagano declined to leave the house when commanded, Soldano picked up a baseball bat and struck him. Mrs. Soldano stepped between them in time to receive the blow, which fell her to the floor, and Soldano then struck Pagano across the face with the bat, breaking his nose.

BOTH WOULD DON NEW TOGA FIRST

Arizona's Recent Senatorial Primary Precludes Contest in Legislature

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 24.—Because of the advisory senatorial primary held in connection with the first state election December 12 last, there will be no contest over the election of United States senators in Arizona. However, a contest was again open over the matter of precedence in the election by the legislature, the date of which has been fixed for Tuesday.

Friends of Henry F. Ashurst, one of the two candidates, argue that he should be elected, first, because he received the highest number of votes at the primary; moreover, that Ashurst was not so conservative in his views as his colleague, Marcus A. Smith of Tucson.

Supporters of Smith desire the honor for him, arguing his long service as delegate in congress.

It is practically certain that in view of the senatorial deadlock in New Mexico, the Arizona senators will be sworn in before the new senators from the neighboring states are selected.

The report of the rules committee of the house, including a drastic anti-lobbying measure which is said to have the support of Governor Hunt, will be ready for consideration by the legislature tomorrow.

"If these men are convicted and sentenced to be hanged they will, unless it is otherwise ordered by the people, be executed as provided by law, as will all other cases of this nature."

The question of abolishing capital punishment will come before the Oregon voters this fall.

PROVINCES IN TURMOIL

HONGKONG, March 24.—The powers have agreed to suppress fighting in the European quarter of Swatow. A conflict with the Chinese seems inevitable and Europeans are coming to Hongkong. The provinces of Kwangsi and Kwangtung are in a state of turmoil. Insurgents along the Canton river are defiant in spite of the gunboats.

The French steamer Paul Beau was attacked by pirates with modern rifles. The captain ordered full speed ahead and the steamer crashed into a junk. Other junks threw grappling hooks and the pirates then attempted to climb aboard. The captain and his officers opened fire and succeeded in driving the attacking party back. The steamer then pulled away from the junks.

Troops at Linchow, Kwangtung province, have revolted. They threaten to kill their general and loot the city. Cannon on the docks at Hongkong were stolen last night. An American is suspected of being the gun runner, but he has made good his escape.

Eugene Gallois, Who Lost Heroic Battle for Life

Death Comes to Prominent Merchant as His Loved Ones Surround Bedside

Eugene Gallois, partner in the firm of Raphael Weill & Co., proprietors of the "White House," and one of the foremost merchants in San Francisco, died early yesterday morning in his apartments in the Fairmont hotel after an illness of many months.

Every resource known to medical skill was summoned at the direction of Dr. W. W. Kerr, his family physician, to aid the merchant in his desperate fight for the recovery of his health, but death proved too strong for his failing strength and he expired.

Gallois was born in Paris 67 years ago and was a graduate of the university of that city, the oldest and largest in the world. He had just concluded his studies when the Franco-Prussian war broke out and he, in common with all young Frenchmen of his day, enlisted in the service of his country and fought throughout the campaign that ended at Sedan. Although trained for a professional career, he preferred to follow the example of an uncle who embarked in mercantile pursuits, and, when peace was restored, learned under him the rudiments of business until 1872, when he came to California and became associated with the staff of the "City of Paris" dry goods house.

In 1885, at the death of Mr. Huntsman, one of the firm of Raphael Weill & Co. of the "White House," Gallois succeeded to a partnership with that corporation. In the same year he married Miss Margaret Pissis, sister of the well known architect, Albert Pissis. Mrs. Gallois, a son, John Gallois, assistant manager of the "White House," a daughter, Miss Jeanne Gallois, and a brother, George Gallois, who resides in Paris, are his surviving relatives, the immediate family being among the foremost in the social life of this city.

Although a man of retired tastes and caring little for the opportunities which his position in the business world of San Francisco frequently offered him, he was nevertheless a member of several clubs, including the Bohemian, the Cosmos, the Burlingame Country, and the Cercle de l'Union.

Out of respect to his memory the "White House" will remain closed for two days. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been announced.

The sum of $526,000 was spent in retiring allowances and pensions during the year, the report shows.

COMPROMISE URGED IN COAL INDUSTRY

Bituminous Miners' Officials Consider Proposal for 5 Per Cent Increase

CLEVELAND, March 24.—A crisis in the coal situation is expected this week. The question involved is whether more than 450,000 miners in the bituminous and anthracite fields shall strike April 1 or suspend until new wage agreements can be effected.

Members of the executive board and policy committee, United Mine Workers of America, began to arrive today to prepare to draw up recommendations for a referendum vote by the union. They will not act until after the bituminous operators and miners of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, at their session Tuesday, have decided whether they can agree on a two year wage scale.

JOHN P. WHITE, president of the union, and the district presidents, today considered a proposal that the bituminous miners drop all demands except for increased pay and that they ask for 5 per cent instead of 10.

The compromise was not agreed upon definitely, but it was considered a possibility in view of the emphatic stand taken by the operators.

It was proposed that the single suggestion for a 5 per cent increase be considered by both sides before it was taken into conference. Even if this plan were agreed upon, it would have to be adopted by the policy committee and supported by a referendum vote.

SHORTER TIME DEMANDED The union officials are in doubt whether such a compromise would be approved at the referendum vote, since the full convention at Indianapolis several months ago, expressly stood not only for a 10 per cent increase but for many changes in conditions, such as reduction of eight hours a week in the working time. A 5 per cent increase, they said, would give them less than one-fourth of what they asked for.

Union officials say that an adjustment of the bituminous dispute would have much influence in securing for the 171,000 anthracite miners a settlement of their difficulties.

Waldenburg Strike Ends BERLIN, March 24.—The strike of coal miners at Waldenburg, Lower Silesia, has been called off.

French Trouble Settled DENAIN, France, March 24.—The striking coal miners here will resume work tomorrow, an agreement with the mine owners having been effected.

ONE DEAD, ONE LIVING, CONWAYS ARE PUZZLES

Takes Priest to Set Friends on Right Track

SAN BERNARDINO, March 24.—Strange similarity between Michael Conway, who died yesterday, and Michael Conway, who is said to be near death, nearly caused the postponement of the former's funeral today and placed the friends of both in a quandary as to who the dead man really was.

In addition to bearing the same name, both Conways were born in Ireland, were of the same age and closely resembled each other. Both were desert prospectors and each suffered from tuberculosis.

Friends of one Michael Conway insisted that the dead man was their friend, and not until the county authorities and a Catholic priest had testified that the man who had succumbed was in the hospital at the time the other returned from Alaska did the situation clear itself.

The second Michael Conway is living at Mecca, Riverside county.
