Charles Kellogg, Who Is Singing at Oakland Orpheum

Nature Lover Scores Immense Hit; Fearless Ce Dora and Others Entertain

OAKLAND, April 15.—Charles Kellogg, the famous "nature singer," scored an immense hit at the Oakland Orpheum. Kellogg's throat is so constructed that he can sing bird songs. He does not whistle like a bird, but sings like one. He has lived in the woods most of his life, and has never eaten meat or killed any animals or fish. He knows the language of animals, birds, bees, and claims to prefer them to human company. Kellogg is a new and astonishing sensation in vaudeville.

The operatic concert by Kowalski's orchestra is one of the most enjoyable features of the show.

What Food shall I give Baby?

Every mother must sooner or later ask herself this question, and it is one which must involve a good deal of anxious consideration. It may be that on the advice of friends various foods are tried to see if baby takes kindly to them.

Now, isn't not reasonable to assume that an infant's food that has been in general use for upwards of fifty years, and that has been used in preference to others, in most of the Royal Nurseries of Europe, is likely to prove a suitable diet for the average infant? Such a food is Savory & Moore's, and all mothers who decide in its favour may be congratulated on the wisdom of their choice.

Infants reared on Savory & Moore's Food are characterized by strong, sturdy limbs, firm flesh, plenty of bone and muscle, easy teething, freedom from infant ailments, and that happy disposition which is the surest sign of perfect health. Ask your Druggist to get you a tin.
