[Special Dispatch to The Call]
INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—A wildly excited multitude of 75,000 people saw Joe Dawson in a National car overhaul Ralph de Palma in a Mercedes, within five miles from the finish of the great 500 mile auto race, and then rush home like a whirlwind, 21 minutes ahead of the record, with Teddy Tetzlaff in a Fiat and Hughe's Mercer in a Mercer burning the bricks behind him. The Stutz company protested the awarding of third place to Hughe's Mercer, contending their car, driven by Charles Mera, which was announced as fourth, won the position.

Ten laps from the goal de Palma had six laps advantage of the winning car, at the wheel of which was Don Herr, Dawson's relief. Three hundred miles of a grueling race made Dawson turn the car over to Herr. He resumed the wheel just when de Palma, who was on his 18th lap of the 200 lap course, was having engine trouble, and went hot after the leader and came under the wire a winner in 6:21.6.

At 10:02 G.H. Anderson in a Stutz led the field of 24 cars across the starting line.

Seal Makes Dogs Look Like Novices In Barking Game

SAUSALITO, May 30.—One lone sea lion, with a strong pair of lungs and a disposition bordering on acute melancholia, nearly broke up the dog show of the Marin County Kennel club this afternoon by developing a bark that was such a challenge and inspiration to the four legged canines that they had to respond.

Starting early in the morning, the big seal, which was exhibited only as a curiosity of the deep, and not because of his vocal possibilities, howled all the day, and the dogs, big and little, howled with him. Braced against the railings in front of their kennels, they threw their souls into a chorus that would have intimidated any ordinary seal. But this one was homesick.

When nightfall came he was still at it, in good voice and going 40 howls to the minute, but he was alone in the field. The poodles and the terriers and even the long winded hounds had barked themselves to a whisper.

Law Steps in and Does What Death Might Have Done

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

RENO, Nev., May 30.—Mrs. Frances D. Weston was yesterday granted a decree of divorce from her husband, John R. Weston. Mrs. Weston stated to the court that she believed her husband was dead, but sought the relief of the divorce courts to make doubly sure of her freedom. She testified that her husband had disappeared and that she believed in her own mind that he was dead. Judge Moran took the case under advisement for several days. The question of divorcing a woman from a man already dead was too weighty a one to be decided in a minute. After long consideration, Judge Moran called the case up in court and finally granted the woman the relief she demanded.

SUICIDE USES BOMB OF DYNAMITE ON SELF

Lays On It and Is Then Blown to Death

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

CALUMET, Mich., May 30.—Otto Tournelle of Calumet killed himself on his mother's farm by exploding a dynamite bomb beneath his body while lying down in the field. His left side was torn open and his shoulder shattered.

HORROR CHILLS THROUGH WHEN AIRSHIP FALLS

Cliff Turpin's Craft Crashes Into Grandstand and Deals Death

Many Spectators Are Badly Injured, Including Half a Dozen Women

SEATTLE, May 30.—While Aviator Cliff Turpin, in a Wright aeroplane, was careening down the field at The Meadows this afternoon at a speed of 50 miles an hour, an unknown man rushed across the track and would have been headed by the machine but for the quick action of the aviator, who turned upward and toward the grandstand, which was crowded with people.

It seemed to the occupants of the stand that Turpin's aeroplane at full speed would dash among them, but he checked its speed and lowered its direction so that the machine struck the tier of boxes in front of the stand. A number of people in one of the boxes were hurt and the aeroplane, its power shut off and its momentum cut short by the collision with the stand, fell upon the heads of the crowd of people standing in front of the grandstand, where the ascent was being attempted. The injured people were gathered up and conveyed to the county hospital in automobiles. It appears that two are fatally hurt. One—a man—died at the hospital without being identified. The other, Raymond Chapman, 10 years old, sustained a fractured skull and is in a serious condition.

Both Turpin and Phil Parmalee, his partner, declare that the accident was caused by a spectator who ran across the track in front of the former as he was headed north preparatory to rising for the first flight of the afternoon. The aeroplane was traveling at 50 miles an hour and Turpin tilted his right wing in order to miss the man. He was unable to right the machine in time and it swerved into the grandstand.

Turpin was cut over the left eye and was rendered unconscious for several minutes. He is not badly hurt, but the meet, which opened yesterday and was unsuccessful because of high winds, was called off immediately after today's accident.

Parmalee, who had assisted Turpin in starting, was standing back of him when the man crossed the track. He declares that if Turpin had not tilted the wing the propeller would have cut off the man's head.

The man who was killed was identified.

TRIBUTE TO NATION'S HEROES Graves of War Veterans Inspire Patriotism

Youth pays tribute to the achievements of a past generation. Girls decorating graves of civil war heroes at the National cemetery at the Presidio.

Memorial Services Held at the Presidio for the Men Who Fought For the Country Under the Stars and Stripes

San Franciscans joined with the people of the nation yesterday in paying a loving tribute to America's honored dead. The deeds of valor of those who have answered their last rollcall were recited, their graves were strewn with flowers, and marking each headstone was the flag of stars and stripes for which each hero fought.

It was a day of patriotic devotion, during which the achievements of those who have gone before and those whose ranks are thinning most rapidly were extolled on all sides and lessons were drawn by able speakers for

Most Earning Capacities Are Reduced to Zero by Your Spending Capacity

By J. R. HAMILTON

Former Advertising Manager of Wanamaker's, Philadelphia
Copyrighted, 1912

THE greater the income of the man who is broke, the bigger fool he is.

There is no factory in the world, except your own brain factory, that doesn't lay aside a certain amount of money for the wear and tear of its machinery.

Your income has nothing to do with your prosperity; it's your outgo that counts.

You men of America will probably spend several million dollars on your own personal necessities within the next twenty-four hours. That is what it amounts to in the aggregate, and if you spend it carelessly the Country is going to have a National headache the next morning.

Now there is such a tremendous difference in the values and the quality of all kinds of merchandise in this present day, that you simply cannot afford to buy in a haphazard way.

It makes a lot of difference, for example, in buying a suit of clothes whether you get a suit that will leave you well dressed for six months, or shabby for the latter three months. And the same thing applies to everything you wear from your shoes to your hat.

It also makes a lot of difference whether the man you buy from is really behind his merchandise, or merely behind his counter. And, whether you are buying for quality or buying for price, the man behind his merchandise is the only man to trust.

But what you want to know is how to tell them apart. And the only sure way is to trust the men who go on record and ignore the others.

The man who advertises gives you his bond of good faith. He signs his name to what he says. If he doesn't live up to his claims, you've got something to come back at. You can put your finger on him. You know where he's at. The man who doesn't advertise has nothing to lose and therefore he is liable to be less careful of what he does.

It is far safer to go through this paper now; look over the advertising news; read what these men have to say and make your choice of all you are going to buy from their columns.

They are the leaders anyway in every line of trade. It is fair to assume that the things they offer will be best.

DEATH CALLS AS VETERAN MARCHES

Old Civil War Soldier Answers Last Summons While Carrying Beloved Flag

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

BAKERSFIELD, May 30.—Carrying the stars and stripes at the head of his comrades, as he had done many times on the battlefields of the civil war, Loren Touseley, aged 68, fell lifeless to the street today just as he had finished a long march in the sweltering sun.

He was seized with an attack of heart trouble and expired. Bright and early this morning Touseley, who was officer of the guard of Huribut post, frail in body but strong in spirit, hastened to the Grand Army hall. He said he felt strong enough to carry the large starchy guidon and left the hall with the marchers.

Touseley was one of the pioneer miners of the early days in the San Joaquin valley. He served three years in the Tenth Michigan cavalry.

GENERAL BOOTH MAY BE TOTALLY BLIND

Operation on Remaining Good Eye Probably Is Failure

LONDON, May 30.—That General William Booth, the head of the Salvation Army, who recently underwent an operation for the removal of a cataract from his eye, will henceforth be totally blind is the opinion reached by the doctors after a consultation today. The veteran's disappointment is keen because the doctors were so positive of the success of the operation. General Booth's spirits, however, are fairly well maintained and the general condition of his health is good. He is 83 years old.

GARLAND DROPPED FROM AEROPLANE

Aviator and Woman Passenger Fling Roses on Spot Where Birdman Met Death

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

CHICAGO, May 30.—Max Lily, an aviator, with Miss Katherine Stimson as a passenger, flew from the Cicero aviation field to the Columbia Yacht club today.

The couple approached the club grounds from the lake. When they reached the spot where St. Croix Johnson fell to his death during last summer's aviation tournament they were seen to dip and drop a large bouquet of American beauties into the water.

After making the successful flight Lily was later arrested when he ran his machine into a fence at Randolph street, smashing part of its mechanism and injuring two spectators.

Commodore James A. Pugh, millionaire sportsman and aviation enthusiast, was a fellow passenger and had a narrow escape from serious injury.

PRAYER CALMS STORM OVER SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Delegates Charge That Convention Was Packed

ELGIN, Ill., May 30.—So bitter did the fight between Beardstown and Danville delegates for the 1912 convention become at today's session of the annual convention of the Illinois Sunday School association here that prayer was necessary to calm the delegates before a vote could be taken. Following the prayer and the charges by Beardstown delegates that Danville had packed the convention, Beardstown was selected, 163 to 142.

FRANKLIN IS NEAR END OF HIS STORY

Cross Examination of Confessed Jury Briber in Darrow Case May Be Sensational

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

LOS ANGELES, May 30.—The cross examination of Bert K. Franklin, plumed by the defense in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for alleged jury bribing, will consume the greater part of a week, according to Chief Counsel Earl Rogers. It is generally expected that Franklin's grilling at the hands of Rogers, and probably Darrow himself, will prove one of the most sensational features of the trial.

When Franklin, who has testified that he was commissioned by Darrow to bribe jurors in the McNamara trial, resumes the witness stand tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, he is expected to conclude his story of the attempted bribery of George N. Lockwood, which resulted in his arrest.

Unless legal points are raised to obstruct the examination Assistant District Attorney W. J. Ford said that he would conclude Franklin's direct examination within an hour.

As the trial has progressed the attendance has increased daily. Since Franklin took the stand crowds have waited in line outside the doors of Judge Hutton's court for more than an hour before the time of convening. The attendance of women has been comparatively small, having been confined largely to the wives of counsel for jurors.

For Clarence Darrow, Now Being Tried for Alleged Complicity in Bribery Attempts During the McNamara Trial in Los Angeles, the Police Charge

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 30.—Sympathy for Clarence Darrow, now being tried for alleged complicity in bribery attempts during the McNamara trial in Los Angeles, the police charge, prompted George J. Blank to blow open every safe in the Federal building here last night. Blank was arrested today.

TAFT AND KNOX CONFER; DECIDE RADICAL ACTION

Cuban General Declares He Can Crush Uprising; Yet Rebois Continue Depredations

FLEET AND A THOUSAND MARINES "ON THE JOB"

[Special Dispatch to The Call]

WASHINGTON, May 30.—President Taft will order United States marines and bluejackets to protect all foreign property in Cuba if in the next few days President Gomez is unable to demonstrate that he can do so.

This decision was reported by the president at a conference with Secretary of State Knox. For more than two hours the president and Knox went over the situation in Cuba and Mexico.

When asked if landing American forces to protect foreign interests would mean intervention, the president said it would, adding that, while there is a great difference between the present uprising and the political trouble in 1906, when the United States intervened, the purpose of landing troops would be just the same—restoration and preservation of order.

The president said further that he is determined to have peace and tranquillity in the island republic, that it is necessary not only for the prosperity of the island itself, but for the protection of foreign interests, and that the United States is obliged by the Platt amendment of the Cuban treaty and previous action to protect foreign property other than that of the United States.

The president received no complaint from either German or Spanish interests, the others besides the United States having suffered so far.

Forces Are Ready

With 1,000 marines at Guantanamo available for active service on the island, and the third and fourth divisions of the fleet, comprising nine battleships, mobilized at Key West, the United States is ready for any emergency that may arise.

Should conditions reach such a state as to make necessary intervention by the United States, the naval force would be ample to meet the emergency until military occupation developed. The administration realizes the efficiency of the navy, as has been demonstrated in the orderly and rapid mobilization of the battleships within easy access of Cuba, and no great concern is now felt for the future safety of American lives and property.

Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, commander of the precautionary fleet, according to messages received by the department, arrived at Key West on the flagship Washington at 7 o'clock this morning with the Third division, consisting of the Ohio, the Mississippi, the Missouri and the Minnesota. Later the fourth division, made up of the Georgia, New Jersey and the Rhode Island, arrived at the scene of mobilization, Rear Admiral B. A. Fiske being in command. Rear Admiral N. R. Rusher is in command of the third division.

Marines Disembark

Until further orders the precautionary fleet will remain at Key West pending developments of the rebellion. If conditions become worse in Cuba the fleet will be moved nearer the island.

Advices reaching the navy department today told of the disembarkation of the marines from the Prairie at Guantanamo. The marines were stationed at Deer point, which is on the United States reservation. The marine
