

BOLIBRONS BALK ON SECOND CHOICE Women Alternates Presented to Male Delegates

WILSON STOCK SEEMS SECOND TO CLARK BOOM

Californians Refuse to Discuss Contingency of Speaker Being Turned Down

By EDWARD F. O'DAY
[Special Dispatch to The Call]

ABOARD CALIFORNIA HOUN' DAWG SPECIAL, EN ROUTE TO BALTIMORE, PROVO, Utah, June 19.—"Suppose it happens that there are several ineffectual ballots for Clark and it becomes necessary for you to use what the primary law calls your best judgment as to voting for another candidate, whom would you be for?"

"I've asked that question of the delegates aboard the houn' dawg, but all except two sidestepped it. They don't want to talk about it. It is quite plain that they have all thought of the contingency, but only James V. Coleman and Tom Fox of Sacramento will commit themselves.

"My second choice for president is Hearst," says Coleman, "but at that I don't think he could be elected."
"My second choice is Harmon," says Tom Fox. "If we can't put Clark over I'm for the grand man of Ohio."

SILENCE ON BRYAN
It is safe to say that some of the close mouthed would like to see Woodrow Wilson's stock boom if Champ takes a slump. Whether it is the contagion of Tim Spillacy's presence or their own predisposition, there are several delegates who feel kindly toward the New Jersey governor for second choice. Of course, Tim is alone in putting Wilson first, and Tim is not a delegate.

If there is any sentiment leaning toward Bryan for second choice it is under cover. It had no chance to express itself in the California primaries, and those who cherished it don't see fit to shout it down the length of the smoking car.

The women alternates were formally presented to the masculine delegates after the special left Salt Lake City this afternoon. Bill Shearer of Yreka made the presentation gracefully, as became the son of an Alabama bourbon and the women responded with a few nice plaudits.

QUEST WOMEN ENERGETIC
Mrs. Emma A. Loy and Mrs. Carroll Loy Stewart, the two alternates from Los Angeles, and Mrs. Robert F. Gatter, the alternate from San Bernardino, are sweet, quiet mannered women, but those who know of their recent political activities say that no man politician ever showed such energy or achieved such success in getting out the democratic vote in the southland.

So far there are only two announced aspirants for places on the convention committees. A. Barlow Bakersfield would like to sit on the committee that frames the platform and passes on resolutions. He is a veteran convention man and went to the congress from California as a populist with a democratic indorsement. Besides he is a personal friend of Champ Clark and worked hard for him on the stump. He has an old plank which he hopes to nail on to the national platform. He will get on the committee if Judge Maguire doesn't beat him to it.

CANDIDATE FOR NOTIFIER
William H. Rogers of San Jose intends to stay for some time in the east and thinks it would be nice to drop in on Champ and tell him he's nominated provided he is nominated. Nobody so far there are no eager quests for places on the committees on credentials, rules, organization and order of business of the committee to notify the vice presidential notifiers and nobody is bidding for a seat on the stage as honorary chairman of the convention.
Perhaps the general sentiment is much like Senator Sanford's "I'm not crazy for a chance to sit up all night and drill through that hard work," he says, "besides when the national committee is organized I'll have plenty of work to do as the member from California."

VISIT TO TABERNACLE

The stop at Salt Lake gave delegates a chance to visit the Mormon tabernacle and marvel at the wonderful organ. Some of the more stubborn refused to believe that the great "Vox Humana" stop was not a hoax. After their superficial contact with Mormonism all hands repaired to Saltair for a dip in the briny and of course a lot couldn't resist the rubberneck char-lets that carried them to the cottage where Maude Adams was born and other places of local pride.

SOME LITERARY ACTIVITIES

There is more literary than political activity aboard the special. Jim Coleman pollishes away at his verses. Harry Cresswell picked up a life of Patrick Henry in Salt Lake which he has been looking for for 20 years and is immersed in it. Frank Drew divides his time between French and Esperanto. Steve Costello is making notes for his congressional campaign speeches. Addison Durbank of San Jose is translating a Spanish play. Senator Sanford and John F. Murray are writing resolutions and platform planks and the only word from Baltimore is a wire from Bell asking the delegates where they want to put up.

The unusual calm continues. Even when George W. Mortved and his daughter of Madera and John C. Lane Jr. of Oakland missed the train at Salt Lake because the bathing at Saltair detained them overlong, there was no excitement. They have plenty of time to reach Baltimore, but there was heartfelt sympathy for Allen Herbert, the 84 year old delegate from Hawaii who had to stay at Salt Lake because he was taken suddenly ill with what looked like pneumonia.

BRYAN SPOILS JUDGE'S CHANCE

Parker Probably Will Not Be Temporary Chairman of Baltimore Convention

BALTIMORE, June 19.—Opposition developed unexpectedly tonight to the naming of Judge Alton B. Parker of New York for temporary chairman of the democratic national convention.

While a majority of the arrangements committee that tomorrow will vention were favorable to the selection of Judge Parker, it became known tonight that friends of William J. Bryan had come out against Judge Parker's selection and that a new choice might have to be made.

DEMOCRATS ARRIVING AT BALTIMORE TO ATTEND THE CONVENTION.

The statement was made by those opposed to Judge Parker's selection that he was a conservative and that, as this was a progressive campaign, a progressive should be named for temporary chairman to make the keynote speech. William J. Bryan was said to have communicated by telephone from Chicago late this afternoon and presented his views.

Leaders of the movement to nominate Speaker Clark for president planned to hold a meeting in Washington tonight to determine whether they would present a candidate for temporary chairman to the arrangement committee.

The Wilson leaders were uncertain whether they would urge the selection of a temporary chairman known to look with favor upon Wilson for president.

It was generally reported tonight that William J. Bryan would be chairman of the committee on resolutions. Lieutenant Governor Nichol of Ohio, directing head of the Harmon campaign, today issued a statement declaring that should Harmon fail to get the nomination he would support the choice of the convention.

EVELYN THAW TESTIFIES AGAINST HER HUSBAND

Her Testimony Tends to Keep Him Confined

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 19.—Evelyn Thaw, as witness for the state in its efforts to keep her husband, Harry K. Thaw, in the Matteawan asylum, repeated in a crowded courtroom here this afternoon her story of the congress from California as a populist with a democratic indorsement. Besides he is a personal friend of Champ Clark and worked hard for him on the stump. He has an old plank which he hopes to nail on to the national platform. He will get on the committee if Judge Maguire doesn't beat him to it.

Her testimony covered her relations with Thaw from the time, 10 years ago, when he first sought acquaintance with her as a chorus girl, his proposal of marriage, his rage when she told of earlier attacks upon her by White, the Thaw marriage, his constant reversion to her relations with White, the shooting of White on the Madison Square garden roof.

Her story was a mere outline, only the features, which W. T. Jerome, for the state, wished to bring to the front to show Thaw's mental condition being dwelt upon.

She identified several hypodermic needles as those used by Thaw.

He is most pleased with California and is warm in his praise of road conditions and automobiling facilities here. Plant No. 11 of the Buick factory is where the motors are constructed and Schumann reports having put in a busy year in turning out a record number of engines. The Buick company looks forward for a busy 1912 season, he says, and work on the new line will begin with vigor by the middle of July.

AMERICAN BRANCH TO BE ENLARGED

President Handley of Indianapolis Co. to Make Changes Here; Auto Notes

By LEON J. PINKSON

Marc Bunnell, Pacific coast factory representative of the American Motors company, returned yesterday from a trip to the Indianapolis plant and brings glad tidings relative to the San Francisco branch of the big underslung car factory. According to Bunnell the local headquarters are to be enlarged and the organization doubled by the installation of an efficient sales and service staff. All this will be brought about upon the arrival of J. I. Handley, president of the American Motors company and one of the rising powers in the automobile industry in the United States. Handley is due here during the first week of July, and upon his reaching the city the capitalization of the local branch will be increased to the scope of the organization widened.

Aside from predicting a few big things that will follow the arrival of President Handley, said Bunnell yesterday, "I might add that the American company is looking forward to a big season during 1912. Our factory is today turning out in the neighborhood of 80 cars a week and we are working all night shifts in an attempt to catch up with our orders. Our plant No. 2, in which the '29' and '30' models are assembled, is proving far too small and we are now doubling its size."

"The first of our 1912 series will reach the local branch in about a week or 10 days. They will resemble the 1912 models in the general construction, but many refinements will be noted in the way of finish. In the '29' we will install a motor that is of very much the same design as the '30' now carries."

Mr. Losa is a veteran of the Mexican and Civil wars and recalls many of this country's early struggles along the frontier. He moved to Harrison many years ago and is well known to practically every one in that part of the country.

Mr. Losa attributes a considerable part of the long length of his life to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which has been consistently used by him whenever he felt the need of a tonic stimulant. In a recent letter, which he wrote without the aid of glasses, he said, in part: "I take pleasure in writing to tell you how much good Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done me. I have used this valuable medicine for a great many years, and now, at 91 years of age, am in full enjoyment of all my faculties. I am a Volunteer Veteran of the Mexican and Civil wars and have lived in Harrison for a long time and am very well known."
