

TAWDRY DELEGATE FLAYS COMMONER IN SPEECH

NEW YORK MAN PASSES TO BRYAN WARM "ROAST"

Brands Commoner Marplot for Calling Empire State Delegation "Ninety Wax Figures" Tells Baltimore Convention That Nebraskan Is the King of All Plutocrats

By F. STUART CRAWFORD

BALTIMORE, July 1.—William Jennings Bryan, who has lost no opportunity to attack the New York delegation, practically calling them a lot of puppets on Saturday, got his answer today.

John B. Stanchfield, under the plea of explaining his vote on the twenty-seventh ballot, excoriated the Nebraska statesman. He declared Bryan had never intended to support the nominees of the convention until it should be himself. Any man, he said, who during the republican convention had been writing for pay in the interests of Bryan's ally, Roosevelt, as the peerless leader of the most representative of the democratic convention.

BRYANISM MEANS DEFEAT

In reply to the Bryan assertion that no candidate receiving the support of the New York delegation would be able to win a victory before the country, Stanchfield declared that no candidate branded with the stigma of Bryanism could come within striking distance of election. As for Belmont, Ryan or Morgan being plutocrats of the convention, the New York lawyer declared that the most powerful plutocrat of the convention had been Bryan himself.

DELEGATION IS INSULTED

"The integrity, the manhood, the personal and the political honor of every delegate of the 90 from New York has been impugned and insulted upon the floor of this convention, and I have a right to be heard in its defense.

"In the year 1900 I ran upon the democratic ticket with Colonel Bryan as the candidate for the governor of the state, and he pulled with me upon the ticket more votes by upward of 100,000 than he pulled before or since. Therefore, among the friends of Colonel Bryan, at least, I am entitled to a hearing.

"Let us look at the makeup of the delegation from New York. We have here the democratic governor and lieutenant governor of the state, we have upon the delegation the candidate for president of the United States in 1904. We have a former justice of the supreme court in the state of New York; we have lawyers of repute, business men, professional men in every walk and department of life, and it is by common consent the most representative delegation that ever came to a national convention from New York state.

CALLS NEBRASKAN MARPLOT

"If this delegation were composed of puppets of wax, as designated by the gentleman from Nebraska, we say that money grabbing, selfish, office seeking, favor hunting, publicity hunting marplot from Nebraska that they are actuated—

Stanchfield was interrupted by applause from the delegates and the galleries. Quiet having been restored by the chair, the speaker continued:

"If the 90 delegates from New York of the character I have described are within the control of one man, they are moved by wires of tremendous human voltage. Let us look for a moment and see whether or not the accusation of the gentleman from Nebraska be true. Let us look at the record for the past minute. New York has upon the roll of congress 22 members. We have the chairman of the committee on appropriations. We have the chairman of the committee on foreign relations and upon the 15 great progressive measures that have been pending in the last congress advocated under the leadership of Underhill, we have a million votes of success." (Applause, cheers and hisses.)

VOTE OF NEW YORK VITAL

"The gentleman from Nebraska has said that no candidate can go forth from this convention with hope or expectation of success who has behind him the vote of the 90 men from New York, and I desire to reply to that the vote of New York is vital to success and no man can go forth from this convention stigmatized and branded with Bryanism and come within half a million votes of success." (Applause, cheers and hisses.)

Banner Episode Causes Francis To Make Apology

BALTIMORE, July 1.—A personal apology was made to William J. Bryan tonight by former Governor David R. Francis of Missouri, who said he was not in the convention hall during the afternoon when Clark adherents placed in front of the Nebraska a banner inscribed with Bryan's former eulogistic estimate of the speaker.

Francis said the action of the men handling the banner was an indignity, and expressed the opinion that it would not have happened had he been present.

Although Speaker Clark was known to have motored to Baltimore from Washington early in the day, and to have remained at the home of a friend for several hours, he did not appear at any political rendezvous tonight. It was made tonight by Samuel Ludlow, a banker of Jersey City, and Joseph E. Bernstein, a merchant of the same place.

Money for Wilson Delegates

SEA GIRT, N. J., June 1.—A pledge of $5,000 to pay the bills of Wilson delegates to the Baltimore convention was made tonight by Samuel Ludlow, a banker of Jersey City, and Joseph E. Bernstein, a merchant of the same place.

Reports from Baltimore that on account of the extended session many of the delegations were hard up caused the Jersey men to come here.

"We are not going to permit Governor Wilson's fight for presidency to fall at this crisis for lack of funds," said Ludlow. "We will be prepared to pay the hotel bills and other expenses of the delegates at Baltimore as they come here. We expect to spend at least $5,000 this year, if necessary, we can raise it."

BALTIMORE ROW DELIGHTS TAFT

There Is a Possibility That the President Will Take the Stump

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The president is visibly pleased over the bitter break in the democratic party as indicated by the talk in Baltimore and his famous smile is broader than ever these days. His friends are elated over the fierce fight in the bourbon convention and believe it clinches a republican victory next November.

President Taft has not decided whether he will take an active part in the campaign and tour the country. His personal inclinations are against anything but attending strictly to his presidential duties, and he will not make speeches until it becomes vitally necessary. He devoutly wished to remain in the White House during the pre-convention fight, but his strongest view of the vituperation being heaped upon him.

Senator Crane of Massachusetts made his first call at the White House today since the Chicago convention. He expressed himself as hopeful of big republican victories in the fall.

The president and Mrs. Taft left for Philadelphia this afternoon to attend the meeting of the twenty-third national saengerfest of the Northwestern Saengerbund tonight.

"Tim" Woodruff Breaks Silence

NEW YORK, July 1.—Timothy L. Woodruff, former lieutenant governor of this state, and a delegate from Brooklyn to the republican national convention, made public this afternoon a statement explaining why he chose to leave the republican party and support Theodore Roosevelt.

AUTOMATIC PHONE PLANT IN OMAHA IS SOLD

Bell People Give $995,000 for Independent Company

OMAHA, Neb., July 1.—The Independent Telephone company's plant (automatic) in Omaha was sold at a receiver's sale today for $995,000, the Nebraska Telephone company (Bell) being the purchaser.

The plant has been in operation six years and was bonded for $2,400,000. Los Angeles and Portland capitalists being the bond holders. They will realize about 25 per cent on their holdings.

DENEEN IS IN A BAD WAY Governor Fears Political Defeat

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 1.—Robert R. McCormick of Chicago, who was leader of the Illinois delegation for Colonel Roosevelt, at the republican convention, but who was one of the first to say that he would not follow the former president in the formation of a new party, came to Oyster Bay today with the statement that Governor Deneen of Illinois could not carry his state on the Taft ticket and that he (McCormick) had come here to open negotiations with the colonel. McCormick intimated that he had come as an emissary from members of the republican organization.

"The progressive movement has developed more strength than I had thought at first," said McCormick. "I have come to the conclusion that Taft can not carry Illinois."

"Are you going back to Roosevelt?" "I don't know," he replied. "I want to talk it over with Colonel Roosevelt."

"What will Governor Deneen do?" "I don't know what he will do. He wants to be elected governor and recent developments have been such that he does not know where to stand."

Alexander H. Revell of Chicago was expected with McCormick, but was delayed.

"I shall only listen to what Mr. McCormick has to say," said Colonel Roosevelt, "and to express a hope that his way will be found to unite so the Roosevelt forces in Illinois will not be divided. I wish the support of all those who believe in the commandment 'Thou shalt not steal' and who do not believe in the kind of domination which has been exercised, through the same type of men and by practically the same methods, in both the republican and democratic conventions."

"and you will see several more cases of the same thing in other states."

In continuing the fight, McCormick said, the Roosevelt leaders had told Governor Deneen that "if he did not fall in line they would beat him."

It was Colonel Roosevelt's opinion that a solution of the problem might be reached by continuing the present organization with the Roosevelt strength behind the state ticket, instead of naming an independent ticket as had been proposed. He made it plain, however, that he wished the leaders in Illinois to settle that for themselves.

Third Party Must Fail

MADISON, Wis., July 1.—"A third party can not be founded on a bolt. That is my reason for believing that the Roosevelt party will fail. But men like Bryan and La Follette must get together to start a party before this country gets any reforms worth speaking of."

This view was expressed here today by Eugene W. Chaffin, prohibition presidential nominee four years ago.

"A third party," he said, "will come ultimately. It will put all of the bad men in one party and they will never be able to carry a single election. As slavery once held the balance of power in both parties, so today Wall street holds the balance of power."

Speaker Clark Still Controls Bell Delegates

[Special Dispatch to The Call] BALTIMORE, July 1.—Pressure of all kinds is being brought to bear on the California delegation to forsake Clark and join the Wilson column. Bryan has tried to force Bell to wheel his forces into line, but his threats have not availed. Almost without exception, say the Californians, the Bryan tactics have disgusted and angered the men from the coast.

"I have been faithful to Bryan in three campaigns," said Stephen Costello of San Francisco tonight, "but I should be sorry to see this convention nominate him again and I am deeply grieved at the course he has taken toward Speaker Clark, who, I feel, has been treated shamefully. California is for Clark and it will not be pleased with Colonel Bryan's unwarranted attack on him and with his effort to ruin the speaker's justifiable ambition to head the democratic national ticket."

The Californians took part in a meeting of Clark adherents this morning and it was agreed to stick to the Clark standard until it should lead to victory or be trampled in the dust by the opposition. Just before the evening session of the convention Theodore Bell was asked what he thought of the situation.

"It looks good to us," he answered, "I think Wilson will gain some more votes and perhaps reach 600. Then I look for his boom to blow up. Our delegation will not waver. We expect to pull our man through."

As Bell was passing the Texas delegation today several of the Texans surrounded him and pleaded with him to deliver his delegation. He smilingly declared that California could not be cajoled into quitting Clark.

CONVENTION SIDELIGHTS All Is Not Strife in Baltimore

[Special Dispatch to The Call] BALTIMORE, July 1.—The movement in favor of no conventions is rapidly growing. Martin W. Littleton of New York, the father of it, was joined today by Governor Burke of North Dakota, six bellboys, a charwoman and seven policemen on duty at Convention hall.

One bar tender at the Belvedere hotel, who came down from Philadelphia to get a bit of extra money, is reported to be wavering, and it is said on reliable authority that the floor boy who stands guard at Colonel Bryan's headquarters will make a statement before the night is over. There is, however, considerable opposition to the movement, and the good, old fashioned American institution will not be tucked away among the things of the past without violent protest. Colonel Bryan, it is said, will fight for it to the last ditch. Such, at least, is the impression one gains from McNill and the blond boy who reads Bryan's statements to the reporters.

Jimmie McIlheney, who made $5.70 in an hour and 35 minutes this afternoon selling ragged ham sandwiches and ice water under the chairman's platform, is with Colonel Bryan in his fight.

The latest and most reliable estimate of the duration of the democratic convention is that it will continue as long as the democratic stomach can withstand the ravages of the ginger ale, lemonade and sandwiches with which the delegates feed themselves while the roll calls are in progress.

The paramount question in Baltimore last week was "Well, who is going to get it?" The paramount question today was "When will we get away?" To this there are a variety of answers. Some delegates merely look pained and say nothing. Others show unmistakable signs of rabies. But there is one personage who still keeps his composure. An alternate, seized Urey Woodson, secretary of the national committee, by the arm and whispered the question in a pleading, confidential way. Urey whispered in reply, and the alternate, coming back to his friends, remarked: "Thank heaven, there is one man who has not lost hope. He says we ought to get away by Saturday."

"Whatever you say about the democratic leaders," said an earnest looking delegate, "of all those men up there on the platform, there is at least one that is not mixing up in this fight with the hope that he may be selected to break the deadlock. He has been in the very center of things, and I have not yet heard his name mentioned."

"Who is he?" asked a listener. "Senator Lea of Tennessee." "That is probably true," was the comment. "He is only 33 years old. Under the constitution he is too young for the job, but I have observed that he is keeping as close to it as he can get."

INSANE TO BE GIVEN A BETTER CHANCE OF CURE

SACRAMENTO, July 1.—A new order of things will be introduced into the state hospitals for the insane by the state board of control, and the lunacy commission in providing for the reclamation of insane patients by re-education and special training in domestic science. The start will be made at the Stockton state hospital. Women patients will receive the first attention under an expert woman teacher.

[Special Dispatch to The Call] NAPA, July 1.—William McMillan shot and killed a boy named Samuel this afternoon in the hills in the northeastern part of Napa county while out hunting deer. McMillan saw something moving in the brush, fired and soon found he had shot a human being. He has surrendered to Napa officers.
