Capture of Ray Nash Clears Up Mystery of Several Robberies

Young Criminal Had Been Put on Probation After Arrest in San Francisco

OAKLAND, July 4.—With the arrest of Ray R. Nash this morning by Inspectors William Quigley and James Drew, at Seventh street and Broadway, the mystery of many recent burglaries has been cleared up.

Quigley and Drew were detailed a week ago by Petersen to investigate a number of burglaries which evidently had been committed by the same man. Nash was suspected, but not sufficient evidence could be secured to warrant an arrest.

Nash, when taken into Petersen's office today, at first said that the articles found upon him were his, but later confessed that they had been stolen from three different houses the night before.

From the home of Frank Ramsey, 801 Forty-second street, he secured jewelry valued at $150; from Claud Kunhardt's residence, 1042 Thirty-eighth street, jewelry valued at $150, and from the home of G. B. Bacus, a gold watch and a revolver valued at $50. Most of the loot was recovered by the inspectors.

Among other burglaries Nash confessed to several room-thefts in the Luxor hotel in Broadway.

"Although Nash has admitted nine burglaries," said Petersen today, "he has confessed only to the crimes we had already fastened upon him. The proof against him is so strong, however, that I am sure he will tell us more. We have been looking for him for a week, and I consider his capture an important one. His breaking probation will count against him and he will, no doubt, receive a heavy penitentiary sentence."

FIRST TRAIN ON NEW LINE HAILED

Great Crowd Sees the Arrival of Electric Cars at Woodland

[Special Dispatch to The Call] WOODLAND, July 4.—This has been a day that will go down in the history of northern California activities as the biggest day of all red letter achievements in this section of the state.

The first electric train to pass over the roads of the new company, the Sacramento & Woodland Railroad company, left Sacramento at 7 o'clock this morning to arrive in Woodland 45 minutes later.

The great crowds began to arrive with the incoming electric cars. The little town became a scene of unusual excitement and interest and its usually quiet streets sounded with the din of merry voices of enthusiastic citizens who had waited for more than 40 years for the opening of an electric line that would in time connect every hamlet in the Sacramento valley.

Although the spirit of a fourth of July celebration was not forgotten, of course the sight of six big coaches as they were escorted to the depot on Main street to the strains rendered by the Woodland and Sacramento bands was the cause of a great outburst of cheering and roars of applause.

On the maiden trip were many prominent railroad men from all parts of the state. T. T. C. Gregory, president of the Valley Northern and president of the Sacramento and Woodland Electric Railroad company, occupied a front window in car No. 1.

A. D. Schindler, general manager of the Northern Electric company; E. R. Lillenthal, president of the Northern Electric; H. W. Furlong, general manager of the West Sacramento company; J. P. Edwards, mechanic and electrical engineer of the Northern Electric; H. S. Bounte, assistant chief engineer of the Sacramento and Woodland Electric; and J. S. Partridge, attorney for the new company, were prominent also in car No. 1.

MANY BRASS BANDS IN LINE The parade did not differ materially from the usual fourth of July pageants. Representatives from all of the fraternities, organizations, members of the city trustees, the prominent railroad officials and many brass bands made the crowd feel glad it had come to Woodland to celebrate for the sake of old glory and to welcome the opening of the electric line.

Queen Lillian and her maids of honor bowed graciously to their friends and admirers all along the line of march. Following the parade were the literary exercises in the court-house square.

Rev. Thomas Boyer of Oakland delivered a stirring address on the Declaration of Independence and T. T. C. Gregory, president of the Sacramento and Woodland Electric Railroad company responded briefly to a general call for remarks on behalf of the new company.

Miss Lena Prazze led the chorus in the national air after the literary program and the crowd moved to the scene of the barbecue. A ball game in which the Woodland team bested the Carney Franks of San Francisco by a score of 5 to 2 and athletic contests took up the remaining part of the afternoon.

In the evening the "Parade of Horribles" began the revelry. Then followed a pyrotechnical display and dancing in the open air.

YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores.

Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

OAKLAND, July 4.—Pursuing a brace of burglars in an automobile through the annexed district this afternoon, Captain of Police Thorwald Brown of the Melrose district captured James H. Connelly, a teamster from San Francisco, one of the pair, with loot he was charged with having stolen an hour before from the residence of Dr. J. P. Beckett and G. P. Smith, 1228 Sixtieth avenue.

The quick action of Mrs. Emily Woods of 1240 Sixtieth avenue gave the police an opportunity to make the arrest. Mrs. Woods saw two men leave the Beckett-Smith residence with a suit case and clothing. She telephoned to Smith's news stand and learned that the men did not belong in the house.
