

WOMAN'S WORLD

GIRL TAKES HUNTING PERMIT One of First Women Licensed by State

Young Woman Says She'll Bag The Limit

One of the first women to take out a hunting license in this state is Miss Ruth Ellis (Rietzke) Crowell, daughter of Mrs. Charles Rietzke of this city, who will leave this morning for Mendocino county to enjoy a fortnight's hunting trip.

Miss Crowell has no mean ambition. She is in search of deer and she intends to secure the limit, so she announced yesterday, within the first week.

If she is successful she will devote the remainder of her time to securing the other game in which the country abounds.

Miss Crowell is going alone. It is not the first time that she has gone on walking or fishing trips by herself, but it is her first experience alone as a huntsman. However, she declares that she is unafraid. In fact she prefers it. "I go by myself," she said, "I have only myself to worry about. I know that I can take care of myself. But if I go with another girl, even if she is older than I am, I feel responsible for her. I never know what she is going to do or how much exertion she can stand, and I am uncomfortable about her all the time. So I just determined to go alone and to enjoy every minute. If you are a good huntsman and really love your sport you don't need any one to share your good times with."

SMALL SIZE FAVORS HER
Miss Crowell hardly looks like a girl accustomed to roughing it. She is small of stature, almost too small for the amount of courage she carries about with her, but this she maintains, is one of her chief assets. She claims that her size enables her to climb in places and wait for her prey where another could not venture. Her hunting attire is of brown khaki, a shade to match the dried leaves of the underbrush and she wears high boots and a white felt hat that has served her on all her excursions. Her weapons are a .22 caliber Smith & Wesson which she will shoot the deer, and a full equipment of bowie knives, with which to finish him.

Miss Crowell has been on deer hunts before and is well prepared for what is ahead of her. She speaks calmly of shooting the deer and still more so of cutting his throat. Her training as a doctor, she maintains, has made her immune to fear of the sight of blood, and the methods of deer slaying are all a part of the sport.

During her stay in Mendocino county her headquarters will be at Willits. Every day she will set out on horseback until she trails the deer and the remainder of the trip will be on foot. Her only worry is how to bring him in after she has landed him. She expects difficulty in lifting him, but without assistance, to her horse, but she dauntlessly maintains that she will do it if she has to cut him in two.

IN GOOD WALKING TRIM
The walking does not trouble her at all. She is in fine walking trim and, within the last few months, has made the trip to the mountains of San Mateo, a distance of more than 27 miles, in five hours.

Miss Crowell is an expert shot. She has won the championship several times in contests of the California Schutzen club of Marin county, as well as in a number of smaller tournaments. She is leaving San Francisco with absolute confidence in a triumphant homecoming.

"If I do not get the deer limit in two weeks," said Miss Crowell, "I will stay a third. But I know that will not be necessary. I have set my heart on bringing them down in the first week and I have never made up my mind about anything in my life that I have not accomplished."

BAILEY SEES VISIONS OF TEMPESTUOUS FUTURE
Predicts Conditions Here Akin to French Revolution

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Senator Bailey of Texas, in a private address at a dinner last night, predicted that if conditions in the United States continued to change as much in the next 20 years as they had in the last 20, the country would face a condition paralleling that of the French revolution.

"This republic is near a crisis which is greater than the wisest men here," said Senator Bailey. "I do not forget that the French revolution came while the governors were at the theater and that they arose from the banquet tables to come face to face with violence and bloodshed in the streets of Paris."

"The impatience of the minority, of which I myself have been a member, has been largely responsible for the state of mind of the people of the United States today, for they have grossly exaggerated the evils of the country."

Bailey virtually charged the democratic party with exaggerating the importance of existing evils.

CARMICHAEL APPOINTS STATE FAIR COMMITTEES
[Special Dispatch to The Call]
SACRAMENTO, July 13.—Dr. W. Carmichael, chairman of the general committee in charge of the state fair celebration, has appointed the following sub-committees to assist him:

Miss Ruth Ellis Crowell, who expects to bag limit of deer in a week.

FIVE WEDDINGS FOR SEPTEMBER

At least five of San Francisco's society belles have chosen September as the month for their weddings. One of them, Miss Ruth Casey, will be married to Arthur Brown on a day yet to be set in the first two weeks of the month. It will be among the brilliant affairs of the season at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hope Beaver in Webster street. Mrs. Beaver is an aunt of Miss Casey. The bride will be attended by her cousin, Miss Isabel Beaver, and her most intimate friend, Miss Helen Ashton, as maids of honor.

Miss Marian Miller will be married to Bernard Ford early in the month, probably September 11. It will be a home wedding at the residence of her father, C. O. G. Miller in Pacific avenue.

September 14 is the day chosen by Miss Julia Langhorne for her marriage to Lieutenant James Parker, U. S. N., at St. Luke's Episcopal church in this city. Miss Langhorne has named Miss Marion Newhall as her maid of honor and Miss Sara Cunningham and Miss Louise Boyd as her bridesmaids. Lieutenant Courtland Parker will be his brother's best man. A reception will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Potter Langhorne in Pacific avenue.

Miss Bessie Ashton and Miss Miriam McNear will also be among September's brides. The marriage of Miss Ashton and John Piggett probably will be celebrated toward the close of the month at the home of Mrs. George Ashton in Pacific avenue, while that of Miss McNear and Leo Korbel will be held at the country place of Mr. and Mrs. George P. McNear in Petaluma. Three of these brides will make their homes in Marin county. Arthur Brown and John Piggett have engaged the houses in San Rafael to which they will take their wives, and Bernard Ford has secured an attractive home in Ross valley. The Korbels, in all likelihood, will live in Berkeley, where the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Korbel reside. Miss Langhorne and Lieutenant Parker have no definite plans. At present it looks as if, for a time, they will be in Newport, where the bridegroom has been stationed in the submarine service. But the only one who really knows anything about it is Uncle Sam and he guards his secret closely.

SACRAMENTO LAND DEAL INVOLVES SUM OF $100,000

[Special Dispatch to The Call]
SACRAMENTO, July 13.—One of the largest Sacramento county land deals made in a year was closed today when D. W. Carrichael purchased from the Trainor Desmond company 1,065 acres of land between this city and Fair Oaks for a sum in excess of $100,000. The tract is situated along the American river and is made up of rich citrus soil. It will be subdivided into ten acre pieces and put on the eastern market.

MRS. OLDS NOT GUILTY—Spokane, Wash., July 13.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Della Olds, charged with the murder of her husband, Dr. W. H. Olds on May 28, returned a verdict today of not guilty. Doctor Olds was killed by a shot fired from a rifle as he stood at the telephone. The defense alleged that Doctor Olds drank heavily and continually abused his wife. When the verdict was announced women in the courtroom began a demonstration in which cheers and songs were sung.

ANGEL IN THE SLIMS Authoress Attacks Suffrage War On Squalor

By Margaret Watts de Peyster
[Special Dispatch to The Call]

NEW YORK, July 13.—"Homes for women" is the motto under which we do everything. Women can do more in a social way than they can do publicly. But the trouble with the women today is they are going about it in the wrong way.

"A woman should not be afraid of housework, nor afraid to do her duties well. I have scrubbed floors here and cleaned garbage cans. I left Fifth avenue because I could do no good there, and because I can and am doing good here in Christie street."

Mrs. Theodore Roberts, vice president of the California club, an author of international reputation, paused a while from her cooking and cleaning in the house in "Criminal row" to tell me why she gave up her lovely home and dainty surroundings to live among the really poor and depraved. Christie street goes by the name of "Criminal row," and the "Baret mission," which Mrs. Roberts conducts, is right in the heart of this hoveldom. She is like a pure spirit literally surrounded by squalor. As she talked with me seven dirty faced children ranging from 2 to 12 years of age came in to be washed and fed. The sight of this optimistic reformer in her light blue silk gown, clean and neat as a pin, elegant in the heart of inelegance, was an inspiration.

"All my life I have wanted to do this kind of work," she said. "I believe the only way we can do real good is to come and live right here in the midst of things and, by our teachings and example, elevate the people to a high standard of living."

"In my apartment upstairs I have everything as expensive and elegant as possible. The children love to come up to my rooms because they feel it is their home. But they must keep busy all the time. I will not tolerate idleness. It makes me nervous."

"I have 12 chosen companions, whom I call my 'twelve apostles.'"

Just then a knock came at the door and four little girls entered. Upon receiving a nod of approval from Mrs. Roberts they scattered about the rooms to finish the work that had been interrupted.

"That little girl with the duster is St. Peter," said Mrs. Roberts. "She bosses the job and is usually in trouble. I had the hardest time with her when she first came, but now she is one of my dearest daughters."

"You have no idea what a filthy condition I found this house in, nor what untamed names I learned of the children were living in. Everything has changed now. The children by their example have created a new atmosphere in life and are making their houses into homes."

ECONOMICS WISE STUDY FOR GIRLS

BERKELEY, July 13.—It is especially necessary that our young women be instructed in the principles of economics, for as wives and mothers they will be called upon to administer the family income, and without proper study they will face an important duty totally unprepared, declared Professor Stuart Daggett of the department of economics of the University of California to the historical section of the California Teachers' association this morning.

The association met at the University of California for discussion of the problem of "Economic Instruction in the Secondary Schools." William J. Cooper of the Berkeley high school history department presided as chairman of the section, and the speakers were Professor Daggett and Haven W. Edwards, the latter of the Oakland high school faculty. The association will foster the movement to have economic made part of the high school curricula.

Professor Daggett related that he had sent questions to all the high schools of the state to ascertain what efforts toward economic instruction are being made. He said that economic subjects, such as physical geography, economic history and principles of economics, were taught in 40 per cent of the schools. The lack of trained teachers, he said, was the reason usually assigned for neglect of the subjects. He advised against making the courses too wide, but believed that by development the subject could be enlarged.

Edwards declared that economic instruction was important from two aspects—training of the individual for efficiency and training of men and women for understanding of and participation in social and political affairs. There will also be boxing between picked members of the parlor and vocal talent selected from the various athletic clubs. Also a mammoth pie eating contest, in which "Deacon Jones," "Blue Monday White" and Sam Sawyer, the champion pie eater of the Pacific coast, will participate. The evening's entertainment will conclude with a battle royal. Refreshments will be served.

TWO RAZORS USED TO INSURE SELF-SLAUGHTER

GRASS VALLEY, July 13.—His throat slashed and in each hand a razor, the body of Albert Griffith of Forest Springs was found near his home today. He was 40 years old, unmarried and had $5,000 in bank. No cause for the act has been assigned. Griffith disappeared a week ago. Friends became alarmed at his absence and organized searching parties. The body was found in a thicket a few hundred yards from his residence.

NAUTIC INSTALLATION—Nautic parlor No. 106, N. G. W., will install its officers for the ensuing term July 24. The installation will be followed by a high lunch at which the Nautic quartet will render several vocal selections. There will also be boxing between picked members of the parlor and vocal talent selected from the various athletic clubs. Also a mammoth pie eating contest, in which "Deacon Jones," "Blue Monday White" and Sam Sawyer, the champion pie eater of the Pacific coast, will participate. The evening's entertainment will conclude with a battle royal. Refreshments will be served.

OHIO WOMEN RAMPANT Suffrage War On Like Whirlwind

By Margaret Watts de Peyster
[Special Dispatch to The Call]

"Ohio the Seventh" is the slogan of the equal suffrage campaign that is now in full blast in Ohio, and in every county and every city in the state the battle for the ballot is being waged in whirlwind fashion.

September 2 the suffrage question will be decided at the polls and the result of the election is of double interest to the suffrage workers throughout the nation as it is likely to have a far-reaching effect upon the outcome of suffrage campaigns now in progress in four other states.

There has never been such a spectacular campaign in Ohio as the one the women wage with their daily suffrage campaign anywhere been so replete with novelties. Every conceivable method of appealing to the voters has been tried, and hundreds of ardent workers are giving their entire time to the cause. Automobiles are traversing the country roads, carrying the suffrage message; women are making house to house campaigns in the cities, and the country districts, and even the theaters and all places of public entertainment are being invaded by the workers.

MOVING PICTURES USED

Moving pictures are playing a part in the campaign, and at some of the suffrage headquarters lantern slide displays are given daily. Special trolley trips have been arranged over interurban roads, with meetings at every town, while open air mass meetings have been held in every hamlet in the state.

Because of the large percentage of foreign population in the factory districts, speakers are sent out to address the voters in half a dozen different languages, and the results of this method have been excellent.

The problem confronting the suffrage leaders in Ohio is particularly difficult because of the contradicting and conflicting elements that go to make up the population of the state. All these elements must be appealed to without antagonizing the traditions and sympathy of an opposing element, and the solution of the problem demands tact and resourcefulness. Ohio is an old commonwealth with traditions and conservatism dominating much of its life, yet, on the other hand, there is the great foreign population.

HOW TO WIN-SOUTHERNERS

The suffrage leaders have before them the task of winning the old families along the Pennsylvania and Kentucky borders, where southern ideals are strong in places, and where Quaker doctrines prevail in others.

They must reach the owners of the estates and farms that are still in possession of descendants of the easterners who entered the state at the beginning of the last century. They must also reach newcomers who are making the new Ohio a great industrial commonwealth with mines, factories, oil wells, blast furnaces and manufacturing plants.

In these industrial fields suffrage must win the sympathies of thousands of citizens of foreign birth—Germans, Italians, Finns, Hungarians and Russians. It is a big task that demands versatility and constant work.

The time is fast flying for assistance. The Ohio Women's Suffrage association is seeking all the aid they can get. To California, the newest suffrage state, the women of Ohio have appealed particularly for assistance.

EDITOR OF ASSOCIATED PRESS AT DEATH'S DOOR

LOUISVILLE, July 13.—Charles T. Rogers, who for 25 years was an editor of the Associated Press at Louisville and who suffered severe burns in a fire in his lodging house two weeks ago, lies in a hospital at a local hospital as a last chance to save his life. Gangrene has developed and the doctors hope in this way to check it. Rogers not only suffered burns on his limbs, face and body, but inhaled the flames as well.

DRIVER KILLED, GIRLS HURT, WHEN CAR FALLS

SAN DIEGO, July 13.—With a "borrowed" touring car Ward Hewitt, employed as an office boy by a local auto firm, drove off a cliff at Ocean Beach, a suburb, at 2:30 o'clock this morning. He was almost instantly killed, Ruth Estes and Laura Fulton, girl companions, were injured, and the fourth occupant of the car, Frank Karuth, escaped with slight bruises.

After an evening spent in riding around my home in the city the four drove to a beach cafe, where they remained until shortly after 2 o'clock this morning. The road past the cafe ends on a cliff about 50 feet high.

The machine crashed through a fence and fell bottom up on the mud flats below. As soon as word reached town the injured girls were taken to a local hospital. The inquest began this afternoon.

HONOLULU QUARANTINE IS EFFECTIVE, SAYS COOK

[Special Dispatch to The Call]
SACRAMENTO, July 13.—State Horticultural Commissioner Cook says the quarantine established by the state at Honolulu has resulted in keeping the Mediterranean fly out of this state. During the few weeks that inspection has been made at Honolulu not a fly has been detected in the fruit shipped into the port at San Francisco. The quarantine will be continued, however.

POLICE HONOR MATRONS Give Lady Coppers Gold and Silver

OAKLAND, July 13.—The first women in Oakland to wear badges of office in the police department, the matron and assistant matron of the city prison, were honored tonight when Acting Chief of Police Walter J. Peters presented a gold star to Mrs. Baxter and a silver one to her assistant, Mrs. Mary Louise Saunders. The presentation was made in the little police station adjoining the city hall, and was witnessed by a large number of officers and men of the department.

The stars were the gift of members of the department who have known the two women during their years of service. Mrs. Baxter and Mrs. Saunders served without official title under the old charter, and it was less than a month ago that they were officially appointed as members of the police department by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Fred C. Turner.

Plans are being made for the creation of positions in the police department for women police, who shall act as inspectors. The ordinance in this regard has not yet been decided upon. Mrs. Baxter and Mrs. Saunders are the first to bear police stars in Oakland.

WOMAN PLANS HER DEFENSE

[Special Dispatch to The Call]
CHICAGO, July 13.—Mrs. Rene B. Morrow made it plain today that she was going to have more to say than her attorney regarding the conducting of her defense. Armed with copious notes, she entered the courtroom for the morning session and promptly called Attorney Eberstein into consultation. Every question that was asked and every motion that was made had her stamp of approval before Eberstein acted.

Mrs. Morrow's principal effort is being directed toward disproving the state's contention that she quarreled with her husband on the night that he was slain. She is particularly incensed at the witnesses who testified that she mistreated her husband or forced him to eat his meals with servants in the kitchen. Today she induced several women friends to agree to take the stand and testify that she always treated the inventor with the greatest consideration.

W. H. Palmer, formerly a roomer at the Morrow home; Mrs. F. H. Woods, another roomer, and Mrs. Katherine Scanlon, cook at the Morrow home, all testified that quarrels were frequent.

CITY OF PARIS

The response to our announcement in last Sunday's papers, that we had received "special shipments of the NEW STYLES FOR FALL IN SUITS AND COATS," was most gratifying. Madam Pona. WHY HAVE WRINKLES?

The youthful retention of the face of a woman when she reaches that age when she should be at her best has from time immemorial been considered the principal part of her being. The most perfect form, the costliest apparel with the most brilliant jewels will be marred when time, care or worry has marked her face with the imprints of wrinkles.

Various preparations have from time to time been introduced for that purpose, but none has thus far produced such satisfactory results as the famous and effective preparation of Madam Pona. Wonderful success has been accomplished by Madam Pona. Why have wrinkles when Madam Pona with one treatment can make you look five years younger? It only the women of the world who should be at her best who could be convinced by Madam Pona they never would have wrinkles and would retain their soft, velvet complexion forever by the use of this simple vegetable compound.

Free lecture and demonstration will be given Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. 110 WHITEHALL BUILDING 108 Geary Street
