HEARD BREAKERS HAS RECORD FOR ALLEGED SWINDLER JAILED IN LONDON

PRISONER IS IDENTIFIED BY FINGER PRINTS

Thomas Bayley Henry, "Bar-rister," Found to Be Joseph Harold Fendall

OAKLAND, Aug. 7.—That Thomas Bayley Henry, alleged swindler and heart breaker, is Joseph Harold Fendall, who has served time in prisons in England, was the information received today by acting Chief of Police W. J. Petersen from the London police.

A MAX OF CULTURE Petersen was not impressed with Henry's assertions that he was a member of the English gentry, although he showed that he was a man of culture and education.

Henry was held to answer to the superior court on four counts of swindling money under false pretenses. His first trial in the higher court is to be held soon.

When Henry was returned to Oakland his wife was among his first visitors. She was housed at that time in two small rear rooms in a cheap lodging house.

Shortly after Henry was returned to Oakland Miss Ingal wrote him long and effusive letters vowing undying affection and retreating in the way of a woman who is in very way.

Henry was brought into touch with the law through the complaint of Alfred W. Wehe, a real estate dealer, who accused him of swindling him out of $1,500.

STAR TO PUT NEW PLAYS EACH SUMMER

Elaborate Plans Outlined to Give San Francisco the Best Drama Possible

By WALTER ANTHONY

"I intend to go as far as I'm encouraged to go," said James K. Hackett yesterday, "in making San Francisco a producing center during the summer months."

The star of "Samson" and "Beauclaire" and aspiring actor manager has given sufficient evidence in the sincerity of his ambition to cause belief in his latest announcement.

For the present season at the Columbia, Hackett has arranged for the production of "Samson," in which he has already been seen to splendid advantage in this city.

"Now, then, if the present season of experiments in new drama and the trying out of new and hitherto unheard plays is sufficiently enjoyed by the San Francisco public, Hackett says he will return annually with new works and will test the value of them by the acid of local criticism.

The promise is most reassuring, and hope it will be fulfilled. Certainly, Hackett's present company is one of the best and most expensive that could be gathered.

Hackett's plan to produce plays in San Francisco can not be set down, therefore, to that actor's egotism which accounts usually for the presentations of new plays by actor managers, for if should be whittled in order to give Hackett believes it will be and I believe it will not—it could not possibly benefit him any. There isn't any adequate cast as that with me this year, I am hoping that this season will justify my intention of bringing some more new plays to San Francisco next year.

Tonight the Shubert-Brady all star festival cast will place before our grateful view the fourth of the series of Gilbert and Sullivan's operettas, "Pirates of Penzance."

It is a real pleasure to record the unqualified success of the undertaking which brings from New York direct to this city an organization of "stars" and distinction in works of such enduring charm as these Gilbert and Sullivan masterpieces.

Haynes Cars for 1913 on Display Electric Starter and Lighting Equipment Are Features of New Models—Notes

By LEON J. PINKSON

The newest Haynes, which celebrates the twentieth year of automobile development in the Haynes shops, was the center of attraction on the row yesterday afternoon.

It was through her interpretation of Rose Lane in "Alias Jimmy Valentine" that Miss Taylor first won attention in Broadway. She is in the cast of "Barbara," an entirely new play; "The Wooing of Eve," "Seven Sisters" and still another drama new to this city.

It is said Brandon Tynan has succeeded in eliminating from "The Melodrama" all the scenes of dialogue, which brings the play to the conventional limits of the drama. The performance is now over the scenic sketch.

W. H. St. James, formerly a member of Dustin Farnum's "Cameo Kirby" company and the equine in "Down East," is the headline attraction to be offered by the new comers at the Orpheum next week. He will appear in a new farce, "A Chip of the Old Block" by Byron Ongley.

Charles Case, "who talks about his father" will reappear in this city after an absence of several years. He will be in "A Lady, a Lover and a Lamp" and Martin Johnson's travelogue, which comprise the boundary line of Monday and Tuesday.

A western play in one act, "A Wyoming Romance," will be one of the attractions next week. Ten cowboys and as many cowgirls as well as a score of bronchos, will be seen in the scenic sketch.

LITIGATION IS AVOIDED—The threatened litigation over the estate of Charles Justice will now be dropped.

NYE GUARDS STATE SECRETS ON STAND

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 7.—Three San Francisco attorneys, representing the Miller & Lux corporation and several other companies, which have brought suit against the state treasurer for return of their corporation taxes for 1901, which they paid under protest, had a session today with the members of the state board of equalization to acquire information about the methods whereby corporation franchise assessments were fixed by the board.

State Controller Nye was on the stand the greater part of the day and on advice from Deputy Attorney General Benjamin, he answered no questions whereby the attorneys could acquire the information they sought. His refusal was based on that section in the corporation tax law which holds as secret all information about receipts and property values contained in the reports made by corporations on which assessments are made.

Section 1104 of the political code reads as follows: No person must cause himself to be registered or enrolled in one county when his registration in another remains unannulled.
