

JOHNSON BACK ON STATE JOB FOR A MINUTE

Governor Is Welcomed in Sacramento by Large Delegation of Old Friends

Makes Short Speech, in Which He Says Progressivism Is Sweeping Country

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 11.—Governor Hiram W. Johnson, running mate of Theodore Roosevelt on the progressive ticket, was given an enthusiastic demonstration at the depot this morning by a gathering of men and women on his return from the Chicago convention.

The governor responded to the cheers of his friends by mounting a baggage truck and delivering a short speech. He said that when he left Sacramento 10 days ago he had not the slightest intention of returning home as a vice presidential candidate, but that inasmuch as he had been honored by his party with that distinction he intended to give the best in him to the cause of progressive government.

He declared that when he reached Chicago he was impressed with the sincerity of the men who were aiding in the formation of the new party—men who stood ready and willing to fight to the last ditch in order that government by the people might be restored.

"This campaign is no longer a sham between old parties," said the governor. "We are in the midst of a political revolution and the eyes of the people are opened. It is the desire of the new party to make the country a better place to live in, remedy old wrongs and bring about the right of the people to govern. That's the banner we are fighting under."

"I need not tell you that the political revolution is one for humanity, and it is being recognized throughout the length and breadth of the union. 'What we have accomplished in California is now going on in all the other states. New ideas of popular government are being born and an era of progressivism is about to dawn. There is nothing for the people to do but to ally themselves with the cause that represents their interests.'"

Johnson in San Francisco Governor Hiram Johnson, bull moose nominee for the presidency, returned home yesterday afternoon on the overland limited and hurried to his home in Green street to take an evening's rest after his strenuous weeks. In accordance with the governor's request, there was no demonstration on his arrival. Mrs. Johnson and his two sons met the governor at Oakland.

Among those who returned with the governor were Delegates Charles Stetson Wheeler, Chester Rowell, Meyer Lisner, Mayor Stone of Santa Cruz, Alexander Gordon, Jesse Steinhaug, Arthur Aftlet and former Governor George C. Pardee.

The bull moose will become rampant tonight with a meeting in the Campaign.

NEGRO EDITOR FLAYS COLONEL

[Special Dispatch to The Call] NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 11.—William H. Maxwell, editor of the Jersey Spokesman and one of the leaders of the negroes in New Jersey, today made a bitter attack today on Roosevelt and his negro policy.

"This man Roosevelt," says Maxwell, "is a slaveholder in the face of all American negroes. Will any negro with red blood coursing through his veins stand for Mr. Roosevelt when he seeks to push back the political power of those fathers, brothers and uncles in the southland? Would Abraham Lincoln have sought to take away what little political privilege the negroes had in the land of cotton? Would Abraham Lincoln have issued a statement saying, 'We must treat every man on his worth as a citizen and make him to and seek to have his worth treated as that of a dog? I think not."

"Roosevelt will knock a man out of the way if that man gets in his way. His whole dream is ME. He never would have tried to chase the southern negro out of politics if the black man there could muster up any appreciable volume of votes on election day at the ballot box. Teddy wants to win, and he is working every key to that end. He is even trying to get the votes of women. In the south he is catering to a class of un-American whites to get their votes; that's all. He sees no one but Theodore Roosevelt. He is a scoundrel and a scoundrel hates to be outdone. It is rule or ruin with him."

"He has gotten all his fame and honor through the press, and he has done it because he could not have his way. Because he could no longer boss the Republican party, he endeavors to destroy it. He never kicked over the traces as long as things went his way."

FIVE ALASKANS SEEK ELECTION TO CONGRESS

Battle of Ballots Will Take Place Tomorrow SEATTLE, Aug. 11.—Alaska will elect a delegate to congress next Tuesday. There are five candidates in the field—James Wickersham of Fairbanks, progressive; David Gilmore, mayor of Nome, republican; Robert W. Jennings of Juneau, an attorney, regular democrat; Martin Harris of Chena, a Russian, independent democrat; and Eugene Ketchikan, formerly United States immigration inspector, socialist.

Wickersham, who has a large acquaintance in Alaska and who defeated the regular republican candidate two years ago, is under a disadvantage this year because he was obliged to remain in Washington and was unable to make a campaign tour. Wickersham is strong in Fairbanks, Gilmore in Nome, Jennings in Juneau and Cordova. National politics have not figured largely in the campaign. Wickersham's majority in 1910 was about 2,000 over Orr, regular republican. The best informed Alaskans are unwilling to make a prediction concerning Tuesday's balloting.

BULL MOOSE GETS SCHWERIN SAYS AFTER LONGWORTH WE'LL BE SORRY

Roosevelt's Son in Law Is Up Against the "Real Thing" Head of Pacific Mail Declares Canal Bill Has Cost Country Merchant Fleet

[Special Dispatch to The Call] WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Trouble is brewing in the first Ohio congressional district. A bull moose, Dr. A. O. Sewick, is after the political scalp of Representative of Nick Longworth, son in law of the original bull moose. Thus a "house is divided against itself."

Longworth has gone out to see if the fences are all right and Mrs. Longworth (popularly known as Princess Alice, daughter of Colonel Roosevelt) will, it is said by her friends here to tell, stand by her husband in the fight. She will have none of the Ohio bull moose.

"Uncle" Joe Cannon is laughing up his sleeve at his colleague, Longworth, who deserted the old guard in one of the last fights made by that brave but discredited little band on the floor of the house and went to the progressives.

"You, too, Nick," he said, as the Longworth vote was recorded with that of the regular republican candidate, "my old friend, Nick, the insurgent, opposed by a bull moose, a progressive—too bad! Is the way Uncle Joe puts it now."

WILSON DECLARES FOR LOCAL OPTION Liquor Issue in Maine Puts Bourbon on Record SEAGHT, N. J., Aug. 11.—Governor Wilson indirectly took a hand today in the political situation in Maine, where the gubernatorial elections in September are expected to reveal the trend of strength of the three presidential nominees.

In response to numerous letters from democratic leaders in Maine asking Governor Wilson for his attitude on the liquor question, which is a prominent issue in the gubernatorial campaign, Governor Wilson has declared in favor of local option and against having the question made an issue between political parties.

FIGHT AGAINST ROOSEVELT WILL BE RELENTLESS

Chairman Hillis Begins Elimination of Bull Moose From Republican State Ranks

Third Term Candidate's Straddle of Race Issue Drives Negroes to Taft

By RALPH JOHNSTON [Special Dispatch to The Call]

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Chairman Hillis and the managers of the republican campaign committee are making more noise than either the democrats or the bull moose, but it may not be argued from that that they are doing less effective work. Hillis is showing a grasp of the strategy of big politics which is astonishing the old line politicians. He has harder problems to solve than have faced any other republican chairman since the organization of the party, by reason of the mixup in many states by the Roosevelt secession, and is going about the solution of them quietly, but effectively.

NO COMPROMISE WITH MOOSERS In several states where the bull moose, by reason of pre-convention primary fights, gained control of the party machinery, and named electors who, while running on the republican ticket, will not vote for the republican candidate, if elected, it is necessary to purge the party, and this is being done effectively and with a little friction as possible.

It may be set down as absolute that there will be no compromise anywhere with the line which the bull moose, Republicans in this campaign must be republicans, according to Hillis' plans, and in this stand he is backed to the limit by the president.

The fight against Roosevelt will be bitter and relentless, for it is recognized that the existence of the republican party depends upon elimination of the bull moose as an important factor in this election.

NEGROES SAFE FOR TAFT The transparent straddle of the negro question is being and will be used for all it is worth to keep the negroes in line for Taft. There is no indication that this will be successful.

The rumor is current among democrats here that in case Governor Dix is renominated, William Randolph Hearst again will be a candidate against him, in which case there will be a wide range from which the New York voter may select his state ticket. There will be at least six state tickets in the field, and if Hearst runs it will make the seventh.

Mrs. Wildman, 2,000 Feet In Air, Exclaims "Delightful"

ALAMEDA, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Jane Wildman, a society woman of Philadelphia, a guest at the St. Francis hotel, San Francisco, who aspires to become a navigator of the air, made her first aerial trip this afternoon, as a passenger on Roy Francis' biplane. She was carried to an altitude of 2,000 feet in a flight that lasted fourteen minutes. The machine soared over Alameda and circled the tank of the new city hall, Oakland, attracting the attention of thousands.

The start was made from the local aviation field. Mrs. Wildman, who is pretty, arrived at the field in company with a friend, Mrs. V. S. Barber. After making some changes in her attire, she was handed into her seat on the biplane. Francis took his place at the gear and with a short quick run, the machine left the ground gracefully.

Following several turns over the local field the biplane was headed for Oakland, and poised for the higher air levels. Francis brought the biplane to the ground close to the spot from which the start was made.

Mrs. Wildman said she was delighted with her experience. She said at no time was she alarmed because she had confidence in the ability of Francis.

TWO HORSES CAUSE TEXAS WAR FLURRY

Their Return to Native Pasture Saves Mexico From Lone Star Militia

EL PASO, Aug. 11.—Grazing again on their native American pasture are two horses, the innocent cause of almost an international difficulty, the movement of United States troops, the calling out of sheriff's posse and a rumput which extended along the Texas-Mexican boundary for 90 miles.

It resulted in the Texas governor sending a strong complaint to the secretary of state and a threat that the state militia might be called out if more troops were not moved.

During last night, whoever stole the horses from the Otto Smith ranch, south of Sierra Blanca, Tex., returned the animals to their pasture. Colonel E. Z. Steever, in command at Fort Bliss, believes the horses were all that were stolen during the recent visit to the border of a band of 200 rebels moving toward Juarez.

More Refugees From Mexico

HACHITA, N. M., Aug. 11.—The 300 Americans who have been traveling overland for the last week from the Mormon colonies in the Casas Grandes district arrived here today. Men of Colonia Morelos, south of Douglas, Ariz., however, have decided to remain, and if necessary fight for their homes. The party that arrived today consists of residents of the Juarez, Dublin, Garcia and Pacheco colonies, from which settlements all women and children were sent here a fortnight ago.
