United States Has Right to Relieve Its Own Shipping From Tolls

Favored Treatment of American Vessels Is No Discrimination Against Foreigners

ger of loss of the whole neutralization feature of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. A third argument against arbitration is found in the fact, admitted in the senate debates, that nowhere would it be possible to secure unbiased arbitrators because every maritime country finds its interests in opposition to the American contention to a right of discrimination in the use of the canal.

The avenue of escape, if the United States really desires to avoid arbitration, is to be found, it is declared, in article two of the arbitration treaty of 1908, which affords an opportunity to the United States senate to take a hand in the settlement of such an issue.

WINDJAMMERS BEGIN LONG RACE ON WAGER

Sailing Qualities of Schooner and Barkentine at Stake

VANCOUVER, Aug. 29.—Arrangements for a race from Cape Flattery to Australia between a fore-and-aft schooner and a barkentine, each loaded with lumber from British Columbia mills, were completed early this week and the vessels got away yesterday on their long voyage.

Before leaving Victoria, from which port they cleared, the masters of both vessels met and arranged for the contest. The loser in the race will have to provide the price of one of the best liners that can be obtained in Brisbane or Sydney, and also hand over considerable cash.

Shipping men, here and on the sound, will watch the result of the race with intense interest, as the outcome will show whether a schooner or a barkentine is the speedier.

SHAM WAR WILL BRING MUCH GOOD

Mimic Fight Furnishes Basis for Improvements Recommended by Captain Fuqua

As a result of the experience gained this year, the maneuvers of 1914 on this coast promise many improvements and reforms if the recommendations of Captain S. O. Fuqua, submitted in his report to the war department, are adopted.

Captain Fuqua, who was detached from his regiment, the Twenty-third Infantry to act as instructor-inspector of militia infantry in this state, acted as chief of staff to Brigadier General Robert Wankowski, commander of the Red brigade in the recent operations. Captain Fuqua pays full credit to the militia officer for the excellent tactics displayed by his command, though it is well known that Captain Fuqua's skill in strategy was an important factor, if not the most important factor, in the success of the invading force. Captain Fuqua is a recent graduate of the army school of the line at Fort Leavenworth. What he has to say, therefore, will be seriously entertained in Washington.

Captain Fuqua recommends among other things that the number of regulars and militia be equally distributed between the two armies. This year the Reds were composed largely of state troops, the Blues of regular soldiers. The latter were given the credit of victory at the expense of the experience only to be gained when soldiers of both establishments are working in the ranks side by side. He also suggests that more time be given to preliminary field practice before the problem is presented and hostilities begun, while umpires, he thinks, should wear the designation of "military police" which they attached, rather than the conspicuous white hat band, which, as in the operations a fortnight ago, often reveals the presence of the military police.

A detail map, showing all the movements of the two armies during the two days' battle, has been prepared, and will be submitted to the war department along with the reports of the umpires.

Captain George S. Grimes, Thirtieth Infantry, who has been invited to the Letterman general hospital for several months, reported for duty at the Presidio yesterday. He will not join his regiment until the present as he is needed here as a witness before the general court martial in the consideration of certain cases now under trial pertaining to the commissary department.

Lieutenant D. P. Wood, Sixteenth Infantry, has been detailed as post exchange manager at the presence of Lieutenant D. A. Henkes, Sixteenth Infantry, who goes on leave.

Captain I. L. Hunt, Sixth Infantry, has been ordered to the bureau of insular affairs at Washington. The appointment carries with it promotion to the rank of major for the office of chief of staff.

Mrs. Bennett, wife of Major W. C. Bennett, Sixteenth Infantry, gave a large reception at her home on Infantry terrace yesterday to the ladies of the Sixteenth Infantry. The affair was given in honor of her husband's mother, who is celebrating her seventy-seventh birthday.

FOLGER STEALS OWN DEER ON OWN ESTATE

Spice Merchant Recovers Buck Killed by Poachers

WOODSIDE, Aug. 29.—James Athearn Folger, the spice merchant of San Francisco who maintains a country estate at this place, played a practical joke today on a party of hunters poaching on his game preserve. Folger was walking through the woods, when he heard several rifle shots a short distance away. He saw the hunters dragging the carcass of a large buck to cover under an oak tree. Waiting until the men had hidden the dead deer under a pile of leaves and had made their escape, Folger returned to his house and directed several gardeners to the place where the carcass was hidden. The deer was dragged to the Folger house and divided into small portions which were presented to local friends of the family.

American legation in Managua and the warships at Corinto, 73 miles away.

near the kitchen door about a foot apart, with the gun between them. The woman was moaning.

"I got the elevator boy, Durell, who sent for the police and the hospital, while I tried to staunch the wounds," Virginia was about behind the right ear. She did not say anything, but just lay there moaning.

Harrison was taken in delirium by Deacon and Andrew Gaughan. He said that he had known the girl seven months, and that she came from Honolulu eight months ago. Finn following shortly afterward. She went to live with her mother and stepfather in Oakland, and as Harrison was born in the islands himself, he said that that was the cause of their acquaintance. He said he had been living with her seven or eight months.

"I never met Finn until a week ago," Harrison said, "when he came up to the apartments, after telephoning, and gave me his pictures. She said that they were in Oakland, and he even left, but there was no row of any kind. I did not see him again until he lay there on the floor."

DALY POLICE CHIEF TO HEAR CLARENCE DARROW

Forest Flames Had Hemmed Them In Since Monday

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—Thirteen Mexican fire fighters were rescued early today from Devil's canyon, where they had been hemmed in since Monday morning, without food or water, by the flames that are sweeping through the brush on the San Gabriel range.

All were taken to Azusa by the rangers, and it was said that with good care they have a fair chance for recovery.

The only way left to reach the men was by means of a rope hung over a precipice 300 feet high. Lowering a rope, one man volunteered to slide down and investigate the men in a pitiful condition. All were famished and delirious from the heat and the lack of water. Their clothing had been singed in most cases, and nearly torn from the men's bodies by contact with scrub oak.

FISHER COULD BE ON HATCH HETCHY

Secretary of Interior Declines to Give His Views After Hearing Reports

"The Turlock and Modesto irrigation districts also have presented their claims to protection in the Hatch Hetchy watershed rights."

In the matter of the rights of automobiles to run into the Yosemite valley, the secretary said:

"I shall return from the Hawaiian islands in October and will attend the second annual national park conference, which will be held in the Yosemite valley either on October 1 or October 14. The first conference was held in the Yellowstone park last year. Probably the chief question to be considered at the conference will be that of admitting automobiles to the valley. The time will come when the automobile will be admitted into the park, but when that time will come I can not say. It will depend upon the character of the roads and the conditions under which the roads are used. It has been suggested that the Wagon toll road be opened to automobiles at certain hours of the day. That would take the automobile to the point, not to the floor of the valley, which they could reach by pack animals. Major Forsyth telegraphed me that the stage line objects to that and that in his opinion the road is not safe. It is more important to wait until the road is safe than to run the risk of having a serious accident. During the year of your exposition there will be many visitors attracted to the valley, and we don't want a serious accident to occur and give the valley a bad name."

Views on Alaska

Fisher discussed the development of Alaska at length. He said in his closing hours congress gave to Alaska full territorial government and provided for a railroad commission, which will be in charge of the development of the islands. This commission is composed of an army engineer, an officer of the navy, a member of the geological survey and a civil engineer, who is a practical railroad builder, selected from private life. One of the questions to be considered is that of government land leasing to the navy, which wants 400,000 tons a year.

"I think the best route for a railroad from tidewater to the Yukon would be from Seward to Fairbanks, through the coal fields to Fairbanks," said Fisher.

Regarding the development of the coal mines of Alaska, he said:

"I recommended the passage of liberal, well guarded leasing laws for the development of the Alaska mines. But there was too much politics at the last session of congress for the laws to pass. The director of mines, in conference with members of the American mining congress and practical, hard headed mining operators, investigated the conditions in Alaska and a leasing law bill was prepared and submitted to both houses of congress. It was reported favorably by the senate, but it was held up in the house, but I hope it will be taken up and passed."

"The policy of the government in the west has been to withdraw all lands reserved to contain them to them appraised by the geological survey and sold at a fair valuation. The policy in regard to the Alaska coal fields is to secure legislation that will enable the government to lease the lands on a tonnage royalty basis, with provisions that the coal be mined in regard to the safety of the operators and to prevent waste."

PROTECTION FOR LEASERS

"The leasing proposition is in accordance with the usual method followed by coal miners. The operators seldom own the mines they work, leasing them for operations. Whether operators lease from the government or from private owners makes little difference. The lessees are to be protected by having the right to removal of lessees if they are in favor of turning over government coal fields without charge to any municipality empowered by state law to operate a mine, if the coal be used for sale to the consumers in the town or for town purposes. The city of Grand Junction, Colo., Fisher said, had already applied to the government for the use of 60 acres of coal land, and he favored the passage of laws giving them the desired permission.

"When asked if this proposition did not favor the lessees, Secretary Fisher said that it did not.

Secretary Fisher will probably spend today at Santa Rosa, visiting the experimental gardens of Luther Burbank.

THIRTEEN CRAZED FIRE FIGHTERS ARE RESCUED

Forest Flames Had Hemmed Them In Since Monday

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—Thirteen Mexican fire fighters were rescued early today from Devil's canyon, where they had been hemmed in since Monday morning, without food or water, by the flames that are sweeping through the brush on the San Gabriel range.

BECKER'S GUARDS FOUL JAIL BREAK

Four Prisoners in Cells Near Accused Lieutenant Fail in Attempted Delivery

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A jail delivery from the Tombs prison, where Police Lieutenant Charles Becker is awaiting trial on a charge of murdering Herman Rosenthal, was frustrated, it was learned today, by the accidental falling of a steel saw on the floor of a cell. A guard investigating the noise, found eight finely tempered saws and a bottle of muriatic acid. The saws were distributed in two cells occupied by four prisoners, some distance from Becker's cell.

It was learned today that lawyers for Becker will try at his trial to show Herman Rosenthal was killed in a game bluff row, and the assassins sought to shift the responsibility for the killing on Becker.

District Attorney Whitman tried to trace information that the whereabouts of the much wanted gunman, "Lefty Louie" Rosenzweig and Harry Horowitz, alias "Gyp the Blood," was known to certain members of the police department.

Report has it these two men would be kept in hiding until the trial and then will be brought forward as witnesses for the defense to swear that Rosenthal was slain in a gambler's feud and that Foster Wheeler and he took themselves took part in the killing. The grand jury was prepared to convene again today to hear evidence of police corruption.

INVENTOR KILLED BY CHILD OF HIS BRAIN

[Special Cable to The Call]

MILAN, Aug. 29.—Marquis Imperiali, inventor of the new explosive called imperialite, was today blown to pieces and his factory was hurled into the air at Monte Chiari, near Brescia.

Last year the unfortunate marquis was badly injured by an explosion of a less disastrous nature, which occurred in the same factory.

He claimed as one of the chief advantages of his invention that, while it was vastly more destructive than cordite, imperialite might be handled and shifted about without the slightest danger.

JOHN MORRISEY HONORED BY ELKS

Retiring Manager of Orpheum Theater Presented With Chest of Silver Ware

Pleasure loving San Francisco, especially that portion of it enjoying membership in the local lodge of Elks, last night gave testimony of the grateful appreciation of the efforts to furnish amusement made by John Morrissey during the twenty-five years or more that he has been identified with the Orpheum theater. Popular as a theatrical manager, yet even more popular as a man, John Morrissey received an ovation last night in token both of his merit as showman and as long a member of good fellowship's band.

WORDS OF PRAISE

As a material expression of the kindly feeling entertained for John Morrissey by his fellow members of the San Francisco lodge of Elks, 600 and more members and their friends assembled in the Orpheum last night and presented him with a large chest of silver ware. Thomas Hickey, a well known attorney, officiated as spokesman for the Elks, as well as the officers and attaches of the Orpheum theater and company.

Hickey was unostentatious in his praise of John Morrissey, and he told of the esteem in which he was held by the Elks, of which order the latter has been a member almost since it was founded. Hickey presented Morrissey with a loving cup from Morris Meyerfeld. A silver tea set was another gift from the officers of the Orpheum Theater and Realty company, and from the employes Morrissey received a large quantity of silver ware, fruit and salad holders.

FLOWERS AS MISSILES

John Morrissey leaves the Orpheum as manager tomorrow night. Later Morrissey talked with a large number of San Franciscans upon those who have labored long and hard to furnish them their pleasure. In expressing his thanks Morrissey, unconsciously though it was, clearly explained for the benefit of those who did not know him why it was that he was so popular. Not only did he thank the Elks and officials of the Orpheum company, but he paid tribute to the able help given him by every employee of the showhouse.

Morrissey talked but a few minutes when his heart, overflowing with gratitude, affected his utterance, and he was forced to abandon his efforts of voicing his thanks, and with an appealing wave of the hand and softly saying, "I'm stuck," he walked off the stage, amid the showering of bouquets at him by the women and the applause of the men.
