Congressman Makes Tour of Interior Towns and Is Received Cordially

Appeal for Re-election Is Based Solely Upon Achievements in Washington

OAKLAND, Aug. 29.—The interior cities and towns of Alameda county were visited today by Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, and he made brief speeches to large gatherings of men and women who crowded about his automobile to hear the issues of the campaign. His remarks were cheered by his hearers and he was promised almost united support for his renomination to congress at the primary next Tuesday.

Knowland spoke in San Leandro, Hayward, Alvarado, Centerville, Niles, Pleasanton and Newark, speaking first in San Leandro at 9 o'clock a. m. and closing in Newark at 5:15 o'clock p. m. Because of his popularity in this section of the county, he had difficulty in getting away from the various stopping points, the men and women calling upon him to continue his speech.

In San Leandro, which was in Knowland's assembly district 11 years ago, he was given a great ovation. He was nominated for congress in that district by his many friends there. Knowland spoke there in part as follows:

RECORD MAKES THE MAN "A man must be judged by his record, and in this contest I ask the club members of my legislative record both as a member of the legislature of California and of the United States congress. The journals of the state legislature have been gone through with me by those who have opposed me, but they have found nothing upon which to criticize me. They have also gone with great care through the Congressional Record, which contains every word I have said and every word I have spoken upon the floor of congress. Out of the thousands of votes I have cast they have picked out one here and there which they seek to use as a basis for broad minded people of Alameda county have resented such carping criticism."

CANAL WILL HELP RANCHERS Knowland's next stopping place was Hayward, where he addressed a large number of men and women in the business section of the city. In telling of the advantages to shippers with the opening of the Panama canal Knowland said:

"This is a great fruit growing center and those of you who ship to distant points will be very interested in freight rates. We expect that with the opening of the Panama canal the dried fruits of California can be shipped by opening for us heretofore reached. I made a fight last session to secure to the shippers of California the freight benefits of the Panama canal by preventing railroad domination of that waterway and for free tolls for American ships engaged in the coastwise trade. If these propositions were in the interest of greater competition and lower freight rates."

FRIEND OF SUGAR BEET GROWERS In Alvarado Knowland referred in his speech to the beet factory near there and said that as a Californian he always had voted to protect that industry. He said:

"The beet sugar industry is one of California's chief industries and we want to see it thrive. I favor a tariff competition, nonpartisan in its making, but composed of men who would give the question of tariff rates the closest study. Such a tariff board could be trusted to accord full justice to the many industries of California that require protection. Public sentiment is rapidly growing in favor of a more scientific method in the framing of tariff legislation."

ACHIEVEMENTS ARE PLATFORM Knowland is well known in Livermore and he spoke there to one of the largest crowds of the day. He took occasion to say that he was making his fight for congress on his record and on his own personality. He said:

"In this campaign I am not endeavoring to get into the office of a popular man, hoping that his popularity will carry me through. I am standing upon my own merits, not appealing to the people upon my own record and achievements. I no longer want office, but I am not content to appeal to the people to instruct you how to vote. I believe you are capable of judging for yourselves."

Knowland was accompanied on his tour today by Paul Goldsmith, secretary of the Alameda county exposition committee.

GREAT MEETING SATURDAY One of the greatest meetings of the campaign will be held Saturday evening in Maple hall in the city. Knowland's candidacy, Victor H. Metcalf, secretary of the navy under President Roosevelt, and Knowland's predecessor in congress, will be discussed. The speakers will be Mayor Frank R. Mott, who has endorsed Knowland's candidacy, and W. E. Gibson, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Plans are being completed for the big rally which will be held in the auditorium of the Berkeley high school tomorrow evening. An all-day holiday in the college city has met with much enthusiasm and his headquarters in Shattuck avenue and Allston way have been very active.

Knowland delivered his Panama canal lecture, illustrated with stereoscopic views, tonight at a largely attended meeting at the Piedmont high school, which was held in the evening. He will speak Friday afternoon at the home of former Councilman R. C. Vose, 2342 East Nineteenth street, and Friday evening before the Eugene Stachler Social club in Linden street. He speaks Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at a house meeting at the residence of Mrs. Henrietta Edwards, 2027 Hopkins street. Mrs. Fred Heald will be chairman of the meeting. A large audience of residents of that locality is expected.

Final Rally in Alameda ALAMEDA, Aug. 29.—The final local rally in the interests of Congressman J. R. Knowland will be held in Encinal Bay station, Saturday night. Knowland is to be the principal speaker. Meetings to promote the campaign of the congressman were held last night at the home of City Clerk F. E. Browning, A. T. Kalas and the Day Shore club.

ELOPING BRIDE

Mrs. Westphal Says Husband's First Cast Dark Shadows Over Their Romance

OAKLAND, Aug. 29.—Romance which began February 3 when Frits Westphal and Miss Abbie Angelica Brown eloped to Santa Cruz and were married had faded completely by March 1, according to her complaint for divorce filed today. Westphal beat her severely, she said, blackening her eyes in an apartment at San Francisco, and so great was the uproar her friends broke down the door to rescue her.

A revolver in his hands struck her with terror, but he said "if you utter a scream you will never utter another," according to her complaint. Mrs. Westphal said that after several weeks of this treatment she had to leave him in fear of serious harm which might befall her. Westphal is a member of the family of the late J. C. Westphal, four manufacturers. His bride asked to resume her maiden name, Brown.

STORMS FOR OTHERS March of this year was also a stormy month for James and Lilly Watts, as alleged in his complaint for divorce. Mrs. Watts prepared a basket luncheon and when Watts asked about it she told him she was to meet her sister in a public park on a picnic. Watts said he went along and two men came up and opened the baskets, asking where the incident did not set well, he said. Later Mrs. Watts told him: "I am on my way to Reno. Life at Reno must be great." He charged her with adultery.

Edgar E. Clover had two unique ways of celebrating the passing of the year, as testified to by Carrie M. Clover. She said she kicked her on her birthday every year for the last year, and she had to move to another town. In fourteen years there were as many removals, she said, and always he forced her to pack, sawing and nailing the heavy cases. Mrs. Clover said her husband had many women friends and that during their married life he had only taken her to three places of amusement. She got an interlocutory decree of divorce today.

STILL OTHERS COMPLAIN Suits for divorce were filed today by Edith H. Bauer against Charles W. Bauer, as she said he beat her; by Bibbie H. Bedell against Harrison Bedell, desertion; by Mrs. J. J. Adams against Grace Santos, desertion; and by Archibald C. Taber against Winifred Taber, as she stayed out nights and lived high according to his complaint.

Harriet Shields got an interlocutory decree of divorce against Frank D. Shields, desertion.

CHURCH FOLK PROJECT BOOSTING CAMPAIGN BERKELEY, Aug. 29.—Plans for increasing the influence in the community of the churches were discussed today at the annual dinner of the First Christian church, R. A. Berry, chairman of the board, presiding.

Adresses were delivered by Berry, the pastor, Rev. H. J. Loken, and by Dr. H. H. Guy, dean of the Berkeley bible seminary, who is the first Christian denominational minister to be appointed to the faculty of the Pacific Union theological seminary since the Congregational church extended the activities of the seminary to be nonsectarian.

SITE IS CLEARED FOR NEW BRIDGE NILES, Aug. 29.—With the rapid demolition of the old county bridge at Niles, work on the new concrete structure, for which provision has been made by the board of supervisors, is to begin soon. All of the old structure has been removed except the central steel span, and this will be utilized on the new Niles canyon boulevard at the Clark place. This bridge was practically destroyed in a flood two years ago.

The Locke Construction company, which has the contract for the new bridge at Niles to be erected on what is known as the "wreath" route, is busy installing its concrete plant in the bed of the creek east of the flume of the water company. Molds are being prepared and the casting of the concrete piles is to begin at once. Today the contractor is in charge of the work for the Locke company and Harry Green is the inspector of the work for Alameda county.

Supervisors Daniel J. Murphy and W. E. Bridges, Deputy District Attorney Leon A. Clark, County Surveyor P. A. Haviland and Chief Deputy County Surveyor O. W. Jaaper have inspected the work already done and are highly pleased.

UNLICENSED "DOCTORS" ARE HALED INTO COURT State Officer Makes Three Arrests in Oakland

OAKLAND, Aug. 29.—Warrants charging the practice of medicine without a license were served today on G. T. Lai, 2860 East Fourteenth street, and C. W. Wong, 2736 East Fourteenth street, by C. H. Taggart, in the employ of the California board of medical examiners, and Patrolman Edward Cooley. The warrants had been issued largely on information gathered by Taggart.

Dr. H. T. Ranton, 715 Broadway, was arrested on a similar charge by Sergeant William Brackett. The evidence was gathered by Taggart. Doctor Ranton declared that he merely sold drugs and did not prescribe for patients.

Complaints made by patients that the Chinese who have been arrested profited them with drugs and prescribed treatment, but failed to cure, all promises of cure, led to investigations.

57 LINED IN RACE FOR NOMINATIONS

Alameda County Voters to Decide Fate of Candidates at Primary Tuesday

OAKLAND, Aug. 29.—Voters of Alameda county will consider 57 candidates for office at the nominating primary election of Tuesday, September 3. The offices to be filled include congressman for the newly created sixth district, and two judges of the superior court, state senators, assemblymen and county supervisors from the first, fourth and fifth districts.

Congressman Joseph R. Knowland's campaign for renomination has been so generally endorsed that his success seems to be conceded. Women voters of the county who for the first time are participating in a campaign of this magnitude, have been particularly impressed by Knowland's fight to stamp out the white slave evil and his endeavors to promote the best interests of the nation's home life. His Panama canal fight will win him the support of all classes. John W. Stetson is also a candidate for the congressional nomination on the republican ticket. J. Still Wilson has no opposition in the socialist party. Hiram Luttrell is the unopposed democratic nominee.

MULLINS AMONG LEADERS Chairman John F. Mullins of the fifth supervisory district, Supervisor Daniel Murphy of the first district and Supervisor Fred W. Foss of the fourth district are leading in their respective contests. The three officials making a majority of the county board are making their campaign on their record for economy and efficiency. Savings of $250,000 in county expenses have been made by them and a material reduction in county tax rates will be made for the coming levy.

During Murphy's short term of service a new county bridge at Niles costing $80,000 has been started, a new county highway for all the year round service has been authorized between Niles and Sunol, and the Western Pacific company has paid $10,000 to the county for appropriating a portion of the old road in Niles canyon for their right of way.

Foss in his four years on the board has kept watch on claims against the county in the finance committee and credit is given him for numerous economies. He is opposed in the fourth district by Raymond Kitchener.

Mullins has been chairman of the board for the last year and has worked in harmony with Foss and Murphy. Dr. Hubert N. Rowell is the opposing candidate in the fifth district. District Attorney William H. Donahue and Superior Judge Frank B. Ogden have little opposition on the nonpartisan judicial campaign for places on the superior bench.

State Senator Edward K. Strowbridge and Peter J. Crosby of Hayward are republican candidates for state senator in the thirteenth district, with Benjamin P. Mason unopposed in the race for the democratic nomination.

The fifteenth senatorial district offered no opposition to A. H. Bred in his campaign for the republican nomination. Richard B. Bell of Berkeley is alone in the democratic field. Assemblyman A. A. Rogers has no republican opponents in the thirty-fourth district. District Attorney William H. Donahue and Superior Judge Frank B. Ogden have little opposition on the nonpartisan judicial campaign for places on the superior bench.

SOCIALISTS COMPLETE TICKET The thirty-sixth district has Karl E. Hanson, W. C. Jamison and Frank M. Smith, the incumbent, as republican candidates. Assemblyman William C. Clark and Clinton C. de Lancey are opposed in the thirty-seventh district as republicans, with George Ferguson in the thirty-eighth and Assemblyman George Fitzgerald in the thirty-ninth district are without opponents.

George Ferguson is the republican candidate for the thirty-eighth district. Frank J. Roberts are seeking the republican nomination in the fortieth district. Assemblyman C. C. Young is without opposition in the forty-first district. The socialists and democrats have complete tickets in the field.
