Czar of Bulgaria's Secret Pact With Emperor of Austria to Merge States

FERDINAND IS TO BECOME RULER OF HUGE EMPIRE

[Special Cable to The Call]
ODGORITZA, Montenegro, Oct. 12.—The troops of Montenegro have approached within gunshot of the Turkish redoubts defending the town of Scutari. Prince Danilo, in command of the main army, is awaiting the arrival of Generals Yukovitch and Martinovitch, who made a detour, following the southern lake shore. The attack on the city will begin as soon as the corps unite. The Turks are prepared to offer a stubborn resistance, but the fall of Scutari is almost certain to be chronicled either tomorrow or Monday.
After an engagement lasting until midday the Montenegrins broke through the Turkish ranks near Tushi and invested the town, which is completely cut off from Scutari.
The Montenegro army has been fighting for four days along the whole front, penetrating the Turkish territory slowly owing to the many fortifications. Turks have burned several Mallesori villages.
Many wounded Turks have been brought to Podgoritza.
The Montenegro General Lazovitch has taken the place of General Bezovitch, who committed suicide when the king reproved him on the field of battle for wasting ammunition.
One hundred and twenty Montenegrins were killed and 400 wounded in the storming of Detchitch mountain by King Nicholas' soldiers. It was given out officially today.

The friends of the former Miss Laura Farnsworth will be surprised to learn of her marriage to John Vaughn Rounsefell, a prominent jeweler of this city, which was celebrated last evening at the home of her parents in Washington street. The news is fraught with more than ordinary interest, as her engagement never had been made public, and to all but her most intimate friends the announcement of her wedding will be a complete surprise.
Only the members of the immediate families witnessed the marriage, at which Rev. William Guthrie, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a tailor suit of blue broadcloth, with large picture hat to match, and she wore a corsage bouquet of purple orchids. Neither bride nor bridegroom was attended.

FELON CUTS SWATH WITH FAIR TEACHER

Gay San Jose Host a Paroled Convict; Says He Is Son of San Franciscan

[Special Dispatch to The Call]
SAN JOSE, Oct. 12.—The gay career of a young man who registered at the Hotel Vendome as D. Hunt of Chicago, but who the police say is none other than Dandridge H. Bibb Jr. of San Francisco, a paroled prisoner, was cut short today by his arrest. He is held for investigation and the police refuse to disclose the identity of a pretty young San Jose school teacher whom he has been entertaining in San Francisco and San Jose hotels.
"Hunt" said he was a representative of the C. A. Coey Taxicab company, Chicago. He rented an automobile from the Letcher Auto company and was planning to take a party, including the teacher, to the Hotel Del Monte. When he ordered his auto billed to the Hotel Vendome Letcher became suspicious and asked for an investigation.
"Hunt" was questioned and taken to the police station. He admitted his identity, the police say, and that he was paroled from a state penitentiary September 1. He was convicted of passing bad checks.
He said he is a son of Dandridge H. Bibb Sr. of San Francisco. In his pocket was a letter and a telegram showing he has a wife in Jacksonville, Mich., who had been working hard for his parole. The telegram conveyed her joy over his release. "This is the happiest day of my life," she telegraphed, and conveyed her thanks to "Mathews," who had assisted her in obtaining the parole.
The police say Bibb gave dinners to the school teacher in the St. Francis and Fairmont hotels, San Francisco, before entertaining her here.

Aviator Bregard Safely Carries Churchman Over Enemy's Country in Aeroplane

[Special Cable to The Call]
PARIS, Oct. 12.—Extreme unction was administered to a dying man today for the first time by a priest rushed to the scene in an aeroplane, according to a dispatch received from Morocco. Aviator Bregard, with the troops fighting the warlike Tuareg tribe, was the hero of this first use of a flying machine for such a purpose.
Colonel Largeot, commanding some French troops, was mortally wounded in a brush with the Tuaregs just before they were repulsed and fled. Largeot was a devout Catholic, and expressed a dying wish to receive the last communion, but the nearest priest was 125 miles from the skirmish field.
Flying over the enemy's territory, the aviator made the trip in safety. The priest unhesitatingly stepped to his place beside the brave flyer and was taken to the dying man just in time.

DOVE IN FIGHT WHILE BEARING PEACE MESSAGE

Descendant of Great Beha Assails Power of His Venerable Uncle

Shua Ullah Behai Here to Demand Adjustment; Gets Little Satisfaction

ABDUL BAHU ABBAS, the venerable religious teacher from Persia who has come to enlighten the western world with his Behaist philosophy of world peace and unity, is not the man to undertake the job, according to his nephew, Shua Ullah Behai, likewise a direct descendant of the great Beha Ullah, founder of the cult.
The nephew is now in California also, and on behalf of his father, Mohamed Ali, a younger brother of Abdul Baha Abbas, he has brought grave charges against the leader of the movement, who less than two weeks ago began his proselytizing tour of America in San Francisco.
Abdul Baha Abbas is accused, in the name of Beha Ullah, the founder, of substituting his own teachings for those of the great interpreter, and a conference is demanded where the question may be dealt with in the language of love and kindness, as prescribed by Kitab-i-Ackdas ("Most Sacred Book").
Demand for Peace
Shua Ullah Behai, the nephew, says the celebrated Persian visitor has usurped name and power not given him in the book, and that as a result the Behaists around the globe, of whom there are 3,000,000, have become divided, some following Abdul Baha Abbas and the others remaining loyal to the "true teachings" of Beha Ullah, the founder, as expounded by Mohamed Ali.
Within the last week Abdul Baha Abbas has received from his nephew a formal demand for a peace settlement before he proceeds on his tour. The letter from the nephew, who is in Long Beach, accompanying the demand for a conference, follows:
To His Excellency, Abbas Effendi Abdul Baha—Last May, through an open letter, I begged of your excellency for a peace conference to settle the dif-

INSANE PATIENTS SLEEP ON FLOORS

Quarters Jammed; Beds and Accommodations Insufficient at State Institutions

[Special Dispatch to The Call]
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—Dr. John R. Haynes, chairman of the state board of charities and corrections, returned from San Francisco today, where he has been attending a session of the state board, and brings with him a tale of overcrowded conditions in the state institutions for insane and defectives which, he says, necessitates unwholesome conditions.
"In every asylum in the state," he said, "the insane are sleeping on the floors in large numbers."
"This condition can not be helped under existing circumstances, as there are not adequate accommodations nor large enough appropriations. The management is good. I do not wish to be understood as criticizing it, for there is only one way to change conditions, and that is with more money and buildings."
"Yesterday we inspected the asylum at Napa and we found the conditions I describe—just as we find them everywhere."
"Our committee adopted a recommendation to build a new state asylum near the seashore, where the patients can have cool, fresh air. Something must be done to relieve the congestion of our asylums."

Becker Is Painted as Fiend Would Mutilate Dead Body

PARTS OF CONFESSION WHAT ROSE HAD TO SAY

Becker told me that he wanted Rosenthal murdered, shot, croaked or dynamited. At his bidding I got the gunmen to kill Rosenthal.
I became a state's witness because Becker deserted me like a dirty dog and was getting ready to throw me to the wolves.
I paid the gunmen $1,000 for Becker and then he said not to worry, but to lay low.
I am going to make good. I don't care what happens. I have only one regret in going on the stand. I have met and known some decent people, and now, through me, they will be besmirched. I shall tell every detail of the most awful plot that ever was hatched.
"I don't want the fellow beaten up," Becker said. "If I did I'd beat him up myself or have him beaten up for resisting arrest. But a beating up won't do for him. He must be put where neither you nor I nor anybody else will ever have to worry about him again."

ROSE TELLS STORY ON STAND

Declares Police Lieutenant Expressed Wish to Cut Out Tongue of Corpse

"MY CONSCIENCE? NEVER SAW IT," SAYS WITNESS

"Murder, Shoot or Croak Rosenthal," Statement Credited to Defendant

MAN ON TRIAL BLANCHES AS ACCOUNT PROCEEDS

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Long hours of cross examination by supple lawyers before a suppleless court and jury failed tonight to make "Bald Jack" Rose vary his story of the part he played and the part that he says former Police Lieutenant Becker played in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler.
"Becker told me," he said, "that he wanted Rosenthal murdered, shot, croaked or dynamited. At his bidding I got the gunmen to kill Rosenthal. I hid after the murder. I saw Becker that morning, and later talked with him over the telephone. I paid the gunmen $1,000 for Becker, and told them he said not to worry, but to lay low.
"I gave myself up and became a state's witness because Becker deserted me like a dirty dog and was getting ready to throw me to the wolves."
Lawyer Near Collapse
Justice Goff convened the afternoon session of court at 2:15 o'clock. Shortly before 9 o'clock tonight he declared it adjourned until Monday morning, after John F. McIntyre, Becker's lawyer, protested that he was on the verge of collapse. Court, jury, counsel, witnesses and the accused had been without food since noon.
Becker, cool and stolid, leaned on the table at which he sat, his chin in his hands, his elbow on the table, during the long cross examination. Twenty feet back, in the first row of seats usually reserved for spectators, sat his wife. Her eyes were for her husband rather than the court. Once, only once, he glanced back at her and smiled.
"Bald Jack" Rose, thick lipped, wide eared and without a hair on his head, was unruined by the ordeal.
Feared Electric Chair
Justice admitted that he had lied, had perjured himself, had been a gambler and had been engaged for 20 years in illegitimate business. He admitted that he was testifying to save his own life, but said that he was telling the truth now. He said that he had concluded to become state's witness only when the electric chair stared him in the face and added that he was not ashamed of his determination. Without emotion, in a slow drawl, he said that he had deliberately planned, at Becker's behest, to "put Rosenthal where he would never worry anybody else." He knew, he added, that it was a terrible deed to plan.
"Where was your conscience?" demanded the lawyer.
"I don't know," he said, measuring his words and facing the lawyer squarely. "I never saw it."
"Do you now intend to lead a respectable life?"
"Yes, but not in this community. I
