AFFAIRS OF DAUGHTER AT WIFE

Husband Goes Astray While Looking for Work, But Rival Tells Reason

Battle Creek Woman Seeks Divorce When Husband Forgets Her Breakfast

OAKLAND, Oct. 22.—Lena E. Johnson was made aware of the existence of an affinity in the life of her husband, Frank H. Johnson, when she received a dagger and other emblems of hostility as presents, she testified today.

Mrs. Johnson said her husband had gone away, ostensibly to look for work, and did not return to her. His letter indicated that he was sorry for her plight, that he would return and try to do better, she said, but he never did. Then she found out about the other woman, and by the receipt of the dagger, was not allowed to forget her. Johnson is employed as an auto salesman in Sacramento. She was given an interlocutory decree of divorce.

Mrs. Nellie C. Newton complained that there was neither breakfast nor other meals for her and that her husband, Will C. Newton, was grossly derelict in providing. She said he studied medicine for three years, but did not graduate as a physician; that he was unable to keep the job his friends found for him and that the last she heard of him he was traveling as a drug salesman. Mrs. Newton got an interlocutory decree.

Mrs. California Eaton sued for divorce from Charles B. Eaton, alleging desertion and neglect to provide. She said they were married in 1902 and that he left her four years ago.

NEW NAME FOUND FOR MOUSE PARTY

Smythe Suggests That "Steal Trust" Would Fit Advocates of Third Term

[Special Dispatch to The Call] CONCORD, Oct. 22.—A large representation of the republicans of Contra Costa county heard William A. Smythe tonight discuss the merits of the Roosevelt and Wilson candidates in this state. Smythe is the president of the California branch of the Wilson National Progressive Republican league. Referring to the manner in which the Taft electors were trampled off the California ballot under the iron heel of our new political bossism, Smythe said:

The third term party in this state has made a political trust, which we may appropriately call the steal trust, which seems to be very nicely with the third term movement in view of what Mr. Roosevelt did for their steel trust during his two terms in office and of what the directors and stockholders of the steel trust are doing for him in this campaign. Our own Hiram Johnson is the real boss of the campaign. He is telling the people that "Theodore Roosevelt stood like a lion in the face of the trusts, and he will stand like a lion in the face of the trusts today. We can't afford to have Mr. Roosevelt stand like a lion in the pathway of the steel trust, which is too expensive to the American people."

Let them scare you with their talk about the tariff issue. The sure way to lose all tariff protection is to let the republicans and world's fair appropriators, is for California to go bull moose and support the steel trust. The steel trust reached out one hand to kill the democratic party and the other to kill the republican party. Then both parties will vie with each other in teaching us a lesson. The fourth term party is the voice of the swelling chorus for Woodrow Wilson, and then she may ask fair consideration for her interests with reasonable prospects of success. It is comforting to know that the republicans will be doing that which is unquestionably best for the rest of the United States.

COURT TO SETTLE COUNTY DISPUTE

Suit Filed by Head of Publishing Company Over Advertising Bill

OAKLAND, Oct. 22.—The dispute between the board of supervisors and County Clerk John P. Cook over the right to designate newspapers in which election proclamations are to be published, will be settled by a suit filed by C. E. Dunscomb, president of the Berkeley Gazette Publishing company, against the County of Alameda. Dunscomb wants $2,526.73 with interest, for publishing the election proclamation in the Berkeley Sun and Letter. He obtained his authority for the publication from County Clerk Cook.

Trouble arose over an alleged ambiguity in the law providing for the publications. Each side has agreed that the law calls for the publication in two papers, one a democrat and the other a republican. Both Cook and the board agreed on the Oakland Enquirer as the republican paper. Then the board chose the Livermore Herald as the democratic paper and Cook chose the Berkeley Sun and Letter. The Herald's bill was passed by the board, but County Auditor P. Garrison has held up the payment pending settlement of the dispute. The board declined to pass the Sun and Letter claim. The Enquirer's bill has been passed.
