ARMY UNDERGOES MAJOR CHANGES

Consolidation of Departments and Seven Year Enlistment Effective Tomorrow

Two changes in the United States army organization, which will affect every branch of the service throughout the country, will go into effect tomorrow. One is the consolidation of three heretofore separate branches—the quartermaster, commissary and pay departments.

The seven year enlistment period has stirred up a great deal of comment in the rank and file. Many of the soldiers think that the army service will be abandoned by many young men in favor of the navy, where the five year enlistment period still is in effect.

Beginning with today, concerts will be given at Fort Miley every Thursday afternoon during the winter months. The Coast artillery men stationed at that post complain of a lack of music, while the Presidio soldiers are plentifully supplied.

Lieutenant A. J. Henkes, Sixteenth infantry, returned from two months' leave of absence and was assigned to duty with his regiment yesterday.

Lieutenant Walter C. Short, Sixteenth infantry, returned from leave of absence yesterday. He will proceed to the Presidio of Monterey for duty as instructor in the school of musketry.

DALTON CASE NARROWLY ESCAPES A NONSUIT

Obscure Section of Bylaws Saves Action From Disaster OAKLAND, Oct. 30.—Frank N. Dalton, general manager of the Henry Dalton and Sons company foundry, found today in court that he had power to file the suit against the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railways, which was taken by the San Francisco city attorney, representing the railways, believed that the bylaws of the Dalton corporation vested the power to bring suit entirely in the board of directors.

OAKLAND CHAMPS LAUDED BY FANS

Mayor and Prominent Citizens Give the Pennant Winners a Great Sendoff

The citizens of Oakland turned out last night to pay homage to the great team that brought the pennant across the bay. The affair took the form of a smoker on the roof garden of the H. C. Capwell company, and Mayor Mott and the prominent city officials, together with the officers of the league, hailed the 1912 champions of the Pacific Coast league.

All the players, with the exception of Manager Bud Sharpe, Left Fielder Patterson and Pitcher Cy Parkin were present. Sharpe is speeding on his way to his Georgia plantation, Patterson is sick in a Portland hospital and Parkin is on his way home.

One of the most ardent boosters was the mayor himself. He delivered a speech that cheered all the tossers and the spectators up.

Capwell also acquitted himself like a fan and a patriot. He was welcomed by the players and fans alike when he stepped in to make his little talk, and he delivered it right from the shoulder.

VEO Consolidation Amendment

Sixth Amendment Wins Increasing Favor With People

From all over the state strong expressions in favor of the adoption of the sixth amendment, relating to the formation of city and county governments, have come to the Greater San Francisco association.

A tide of popular approval of the measure has set in that bids fair to carry the amendment to victory Tuesday. The people of the state are beginning to understand the simple meaning of the amendment and the justice of San Francisco's demand for permission to grow.

Frank H. Short, attorney, Fresno—favor amendment No. 6. As I understand it, adjacent municipalities proposed to be embodied in the consolidation of cities can not be consolidated without favorable vote on their part.

Rud M. Seltzer of McCormick & Seltzer, Redding—Let us have one large, prosperous metropolis, a credit to our golden state.

Frank K. Lippitt, attorney, Petaluma—if our laws restrict growth and cramp natural municipal expansion, then the laws should be changed.

The Greater San Francisco association has compiled a list of the 60 cities of California which have enjoyed the privilege of expansion of their boundaries, while San Francisco has been restricted to the boundaries given it in 1856.

The local of Postoffice Clerks has elected Joseph A. Phipps as an additional delegate to the San Francisco Labor council.

Advertisement for Prince Albert tobacco. Features a large illustration of a man in a top hat smoking a pipe, with the text 'Listen—you sure will like this tobacco!' and 'Men, here's tobacco that gives you a fresh deal in pipe smoking. Tobacco that's all ready for your pipe, that's long-burning, holds its fire close and can't bite your tongue, because the bite is cut out by a patented process. Forget that old messy way of rubbing and grinding tobacco in your hands. Pour Prince Albert right from the tin and light up for the bulliest enjoyment you ever got out of a pipe smoke, bar none!' The brand name 'PRINCE ALBERT' is prominently displayed in a stylized font. Below the main text, it says 'the national joy smoke' and 'Get this into your system right, you cigarette smokers, because it's good for what ails your spirits.' At the bottom, it reads 'Prince Albert tobacco makes the finest cigarette you ever rolled. It's not only crimp cut, which makes rolling simple and easy, but it saves waste. And, besides, you get the delicious freshness and fragrance and flavor that no other tobacco ever can give you. Be a sport. Put up a nickel or dime for one of those handy packages—and go to it like you were after a good thing.' The manufacturer 'R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY Winston-Salem, N. C.' is listed at the bottom.
