THAT California had joined the ranks of the Wilson states was indicated on the fact of the partial and incomplete returns available at 12 o'clock.

With several counties unreported and with less than half the vote counted in any but the smaller counties the available returns indicated that Wilson had carried the state by a plurality of 5,000 to 7,000.

The early returns indicated that northern California had gone for Wilson almost without a break in the line of counties down to Alameda.

At 9 o'clock Daniel A. Ryan, chairman of the progressive party state central committee, conceded San Francisco to Wilson by 8,000, but refused to concede the state to the democrats.

T. R. Lead in South Slight

The returns from Los Angeles, where the progressives pinned their hopes of victory, were disappointing to them. The progressive party leaders in Los Angeles county issued a statement at 9 o'clock claiming the county for Roosevelt by 25,000, but independent press returns indicated that Roosevelt's lead in

ROOSEVELT VOTE IS VERY SMALL

Third Term Candidates Fail Dismally East of Alleghenies, but Are Sure of Illinois, Iowa and Kansas in Central Part of Country, With Other Possibilities in West

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—With the election of Woodrow Wilson to the presidency and Thomas R. Marshall to the vice presidency assured by the earlier returns tonight, the reports up to midnight gave indications that the electoral vote of the democratic candidates would pass the 300 mark.

The size of the popular majority given the democratic national ticket by the states outside of Illinois which might give electoral votes to either Taft or Roosevelt, were matters of conjecture at midnight.

Illinois for Roosevelt

It was certain, however, that Illinois would give an overwhelming majority to Roosevelt, while the race in Pennsylvania was so close as to bring all three candidates within the range of success.

Early returns gave Woodrow Wilson and Governor Marshall the "solid south" and the states of Connecticut, Delaware, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, West Virginia, Indiana and Missouri. As the night advanced and returns from the west began to come in, the earlier counts were confirmed and Montana, New Jersey and New Mexico were added to those that seemed certain for the democratic candidates, while scattering returns from San Francisco and Los Angeles made it probable that California might join the Wilson-Marshall column.

Rhode Island Doubtful

Rhode Island also became a doubtful state on the returns near midnight, and, based on the later votes reported, it seemed not wholly improbable that its five electoral votes would go to Wilson. The early returns gave an apparent victory to Taft in New Hampshire and Vermont, but the Taft plurality dwindled as midnight approached to a very few hundred votes in each state and seemed likely to be wiped out entirely.

The vote in Utah, as reflected in the dispatches up to midnight, gave indications that that state might be carried for Taft. The vote in Pennsylvania was exceedingly close, the returns from more than a thousand precincts, embracing over 185,000 votes, giving each of the three leading presidential candidates more than 60,000 votes. President Taft's lead in Philadelphia districts was offset by the heavy vote polled by Roosevelt and Wilson in other parts of the state.

Many Surprises in Returns

Many surprises were shown in the returns. The New York state assembly seemed to be overwhelmingly democratic. In Illinois, indications were that Judge Dunne, the democratic candidate for governor, had won notwithstanding the heavy Roosevelt victory. Former Speaker Cannon seemed to have been defeated for re-election to congress in Illinois.

Roosevelt column seemed verified by the partially complete returns at an early hour this morning. The returns from California were meager, but left the state in doubt between Wilson and Roosevelt. The uncertainty re-

$112,500

We have secured control of 2,500 acres of land in the orange belt of Tulare county, which we wish to exchange for negotiable securities or will sell for cash on favorable terms; located near R. R.; will grow fruit, oranges, etc. This land is exceptionally attractive for subdivision for small fruit farms. Can be bought at $45 an acre, and under proper subdivision can easily be sold for $150 to $200 an acre. It is ideal for this purpose. Full information on request. Principals only.
