SECOND DAY OF FIELD TRIALS IS FULL OF GINGER

Little Jeff, Chanslor's Setter, Wins Derby, the Prize Event of the Meet

VETERAN HANDLER COUTTS THE GOODS

Judge Post and E. Courtney Ford Are Both Sure of Re-election

(Special Dispatch to The Call) BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 28.—San Francisco and Sacramento dogs divided the honors today at the second day's heats of the Pacific Coast Field Trials club. Little Jeff, the dandy setter of Joseph A. Chanslor, oil magnate of San Francisco, carried off first place in the most highly prized event of the meet, the derby. Shasta Queen, the star performer of J. E. Terry of Sacramento last year, captured the all age event, which was hotly contested. Chanslor's setter, Old Forester, finished second, with setter Bohemian Prince, owned by Judge Carroll Cook of San Francisco, third.

Second honors in the derby were awarded to Shasta Duke, owned by Terry of Sacramento, while the Seattle setter, Melrose Duke, owned by J. W. Conditine, came third in the derby. The derby was finished this morning, and the result was in doubt until the very last. The decision was received with satisfaction.

CREDIT TO COUTTS

The Wallace B. Coutts, the veteran handler, being the signal honors of the first two days' sport. He handled every dog that landed in the money in both events, and every winner was a setter. The pointers failed to exhibit their usual cunning and keenness of scent and range.

The trials today were better than on the first day, with promise of keen sport tomorrow, when the field trials, in which the owners or members of the club must handle the dogs.

The members' stake will start on section 15, which is the veteran field trials, and should prove productive of birds. The clubmen will shoot over their dogs, which must retrieve the game in order to qualify. Walter Scott of San Francisco will handle the dogs of Judge Cook, Judge Post and others.

THIS DOG SKIPS OUT

An event of the day was when Judge Post's clever setter, Glow was put down in the all age. Without so much as a yelp or a wag of his tail to trainer or owner, Glow started on a dead run for the entrance and at a fast clip disappeared in the direction of town. At the efforts of Judge Post, who is president of the club, to recover Glow failed until tonight, when the setter was returned by a lady who found him in the woods near the club. The members of the club held a reunion and banquet at the Southern this evening. At the annual meeting, it is stated, the veteran field trials sportsman, Judge Post of Sacramento, and E. Courtney Ford, secretary, both in office for several years, will be unanimously re-elected.

M'FARLAND REGARDED AS WORTHY OPPONENT FOR CYCLONE HOPPE

Butchertown Lad Sure to Have His Hands Full With Little Tommy

Willie Hoppe and Tommy McFarland are expected to put up the most lively four round show in years when they come together at the Pavilion rink next Friday night. Hoppe is undoubtedly the champion of the short distance lightweights and the best drawing card in that game, while McFarland stands out as the only boy who has yet been able to hold the Butchertown terror to a draw.

McFarland fought Hoppe off his feet when they met three months ago. The fans were on their toes all the time, so lively was the milling. McFarland proved just as game as Hoppe and fought back every time that Willie came at him. They were standing toe to toe and singeing for all they were worth when the bell sounded the finish of the battle. There was nothing to choose between them.

Hoppe beats every other man he met in the meantime and so did McFarland, so it looks like an even bet between them this time. Hoppe probably has more speed and more stamina, but McFarland can outbox him any day in the week. He knows more of the tricks of the trade and still he is a pretty rough performer himself. Barring a knockout at the hands of Willie Ritchie a year and a half ago, the little fellow from Hayes Valley has a clean record.

The chances are that Hoppe will rule a favorite over McFarland despite the fine showing which the latter made at his last meeting. Hoppe is regarded as invincible by the Butchertown and the Mission fans, who fairly idolize him and for this reason, they figure to far outnumber the McFarland boosters when the boys step into the center of the ring and get the referee's instructions.

Next in line are Johnny O'Leary, king of the northwestern feather weights, and Young Abe Attell, the star performer among the local 122 pounders. They seem to shape up evenly in skill, hitting ability and speed, although Attell will have the call because he is better known here. O'Leary made his local debut two weeks ago when he beat Manuel Viera of Oakland in four rounds. He made a great hit with all the fans.

Young Wussow, the 125 pound champion of Milwaukee, will show the fans what he can do against Lem Kegg of Montana. Kegg is an ideal boxer, very fast and shifty. Wussow was sent out here by Tom Andrews, the Milwaukee sporting man, who recommends him as a bear. If he lives up to his reputation, he ought to make King hustle every inch of the way, but he will have to show the local fans.

Phil Morgan, the local lightweight who has been going so well of late, will start against Eubank Robinson, the colored lightweight from the south. Tim Nickola of Manila will tackle Sam Slavich at the middle weight limit and Bertieon is going to try out at Boston bantam weight named Joe Phillips.

There also will be mixups between Grover Hooper and Dick Green, banjo player, Harry Thomas and "Saline Jack" Robinson, lightweights, and Joe Mackey and Dick Kendall, lightweights.

LIVERMORE AGAIN CHOSEN BY OAKS

Mitze Intends to Take His Charges in Camp About February 20

Livermore was officially decided on as the training camp for the Oaks yesterday morning, when a communication from that city signified the desire of the Livermore people to accede to the demands of the Oakland team. J. O. McKown, who has been representing Livermore in the negotiations, sent in the word today that the Merchants association had agreed to the terms.

The Oaks stated that they would locate in Livermore if their terms were accepted. None of the other towns within the county were put in consideration, as Manager Mitze thinks the Livermore field one of the best in the country for training, owing to the fact that the grounds absorb the wet easily and dry quickly after a rain. The Oaks can work out there the next morning after a heavy shower.

The Livermore boosters will see to it that the grounds are put in proper shape. The pebbles will be cleared off and the infield line, extended back toward the outfield, a bit back of second base. The clubhouse, which is located across the way from the grounds at the swimming baths, will be fitted with a stove and hot and cold showers, besides being rebuilt to brave the wet weather. Mitze is pleased that the question is off his mind, and the manager is planning to take his camps into training about February 20, three or four days sooner than was originally planned.

As the work on the new park is going on in a very satisfactory manner and there appears no doubt but that the park will be ready for the opening game, Mitze has nothing now to worry him but the contracts. The Oaks have a few signatures in, but Mitze is not troubled, for he realizes that the boys don't want to appear in a hurry.

Mission Protest Not in Accord With Facts

Mission high has protested the right of Wally Barnes to play with the Lowell high team in the basket ball game scheduled to take place tonight, on the ground that Barnes has professionalized himself by playing with the Smilers basket ball team, on which it is claimed that one Riordan is a professional basketball player. The Missionists also claim that Barnes is past the age limit allowed for subleague competitions.

Secretary Tibbitts of the Academic league has received the protest and will report on the matter in due time to allow Barnes to play or keep him out of the game, as the facts warrant. Mission has not sent in any evidence to support the matter, and in fact a statement that the facts are as they say. As a matter of fact, the Riordan playing with the Smilers is Fred Riordan, and not Jim Riordan, who was of years ago; and, furthermore, the age limit allows for subleague competitions.

Any four round promoter who would like to swap his date for a professional one might be able to do business with Jim Griffin of the Humboldt club.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA U TO SEND STARS NORTH

Graduate Manager Bovard Here to Make Dates With Local U Men

Warren Bovard, graduate athletic manager of the University of Southern California, arrived in the city yesterday to make schedules with the University of California and Stanford university for the coming baseball and athletic seasons. Bovard is anxious to arrange a series of baseball games and track meets with both the big local universities.

The University of Southern California will be stronger on the track this year than it ever has been. Bovard is enthusiastic about the strength of the team and is hoping to see his men give both Stanford and California a big surprise in the dual meets. The big head line of the southern college team will be Fred Kelly, world's champion Olympiad hurdler. Kelly showed well last year and won the Olympic trials on the Stanford track, later going to Stockholm and taking the classic Olympiad stick event.

Another top notcher will be Ira Courtney, who also represented this country in the Olympiad, winning his heats in the 100 and 200 meters. He is rounding into good form and should be at the top of his condition when the line-up of the southern college team is to be held. Waldo Throop, who was the mainstay of the southern sprinting division last year, is another cracker-jack sprinter, and the college also will have Stonewall Jackson, who created a mild sensation in high school athletic circles last year with his speed.

De Howard does not favor giving ball players bonuses. There are some of the magnates who do not believe in giving a ball player what he really is worth.

MURPHY GETS CHANCE'S WARNING

Peerless One Threatens to Expose Former Boss

(Special Dispatch to The Call) CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—President Charles Murphy of the Cubs admitted the receipt of the much discussed telegram of warning from Frank Chance today.

"The California telegram is here," said Murphy, who had previously branded the message a "fake" concocted by a Los Angeles news bureau. "It was on my desk this morning."

"The Cub boss did not appear to be in the best mood as he continued: "We shall submit to no more interviews on the playing strength of the All Star Cubs, nor give out any statements on our future prospects until we first get Chance's approval. In the meantime Chance, or anybody else, has my consent to tell anything about me. I have refrained from indulging in any controversy with Chance, not through fear, but because of sympathy over his nervous condition following his recent operation."
