

AMERICAN AND MEXICAN TROOPS IN BORDER FIGHT

Patrol Routed by Negro Cavalrymen After Firing on United States Army Officers

INQUIRY IS BEGUN BY GENERAL WOOD

All But One Regiment of the Second Division of the Army in Texas

American troops become so excited that they overstepped the boundary and pursued the Mexicans for some distance.

The fight caused great excitement at Douglas. The townspeople armed themselves and rushed to the boundary, believing that the Mexican soldiers were intending to invade the United States.

Within a few moments hundreds of citizens were at the place, armed and ready. Cowboys rushed in from nearby ranches.

WOOD CALLS FOR FACTS AS TO FIGHT

WASHINGTON, March 2.—No official report concerning the running fight on the border near Douglas, Ariz., early today between Mexican soldiers and troops from the Ninth United States cavalry, in which four Mexicans were killed, has been received up to a late hour tonight at either the state or war departments.

Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, promptly called on the commanding officer at Douglas for all the facts.

He expressed the belief that if, as reported, there had been any firing by the American troops, the latter must have been attacked by the Mexicans.

Aviation Corps in Texas

GALVESTON, Tex., March 2.—Troops arrived at the Texas City mobilization camp in considerable numbers today. With the exception of the Sixth cavalry, delayed on route from Des Moines, the entire second division of the United States army is now at camp at Galveston and Texas City. The aviation corps arrived from Augusta, Ga., today.

DEMONSTRATION FOR DIAZ AT BULL RING

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—General Felix Diaz was accorded a great ovation this afternoon at the bull ring, the first performance of the matadors' sport since the bombardment of the capital.

Ten thousand spectators stood and cheered lustily when General Diaz entered a box in the arena attended only by his secretary, his chief of staff and a few friends, and the hero of the revolution was forced to rise time and again to acknowledge the demonstration.

Diaz granted the request of the matadors to kill the bulls and presented favors to the popular heroes of the arena when the animals had been dispatched. Machaquado, a noted matador, was slightly injured when he put the blade into the third bull.

At noon President Huerta, General Diaz, General Mondragon and General Planquez stood on the balcony of the national palace and reviewed the parade organized by the Felix Diaz club in honor of the men who were most closely identified with the recent revolt.

In front of the palace women in a carriage heading a delegation of factory employes and workers of peace. Among the transparencies were some bearing such inscriptions as "Honor and Glory to the Restorers of Peace" and "Our Country is Saved."

The Metropolitan Press association has joined in the patriotic endeavors to restore complete pacification of the country and has sent to Governor Carranza of Coahuila a telegram imploring him to desist in his opposition to the new government and support President Huerta.

The American colony at a meeting last night adopted a resolution indorsing American Ambassador Wilson and suggesting that President elect Woodrow Wilson retain the ambassador in his present position pending settlement of the difficulties in Mexico.

A force of irregular troops who fought under Madero during his successful efforts to drive Porfirio Diaz from power attempted a mutiny in the Colonia de Santa Julia, a northwestern suburb of Mexico City, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

The government officials were aware of the conspiracy to start an uprising and had planted machine guns during the night where they would command the district in which the troops were quartered.

The soldiers broke out with shouts of "Viva Madero!" and "Down with Diaz!" A few rounds from the machine guns and the outbreak was quelled in short order. It is estimated that 100 of the mutineers were killed and a score more seriously wounded.

After peace was restored several of the officers of the rebellious troops who had been Maderist leaders were executed.

This is the second plot since the fall of Madero that has been allowed to come to a head and then crushed without mercy.

It was announced here today that on the 15th of the month 30 cadets from the Caculla de Aspirantes will leave Mexico for Paris to study at the Ecole Polytechnique.

MRS. NORBERTO MORAN, WHO SAW ARAUJO SLAIN

ASSASSINS WERE IN EMPLOY OF JEALOUS RULER

Slayers of President of Salvador Said to Have Been Paid $100,000 by Head of Neighbor Republic

The slayers of President Manuel Araujo of the republic of Salvador have confessed that they were paid $100,000 by the president of a neighboring republic to kill Araujo because he was setting an example of good government that didn't fit in the politics of Central America, according to Mrs. Norberto Moran, who arrived yesterday on the steamer San Jose from San Salvador. She witnessed the assassination. She is the wife of a former minister of war of Salvador, who is now a member of the republic's congress.

Carlos Melendez, a brother in law of J. D. Wright, a merchant of this city, is the president of the republic. Melendez was elected on the night Mrs. Moran boarded the steamer. She is a sister in law of E. Mejia, consul of Salvador in this city, and comes with two children to visit her three other children, who are in school at Menlo Park.

"The plaza in which the assassination occurred is only a few yards from my home," said Mrs. Moran. "President Araujo was attending a band concert. It was the night of February 4. Virgilio Mulatillo, one of the assassins, jumped up behind the president and struck him on the head five times with a machete. The two other assassins fired five shots into the fallen president's body."

"The wounded president was taken to the house adjoining mine and my husband and I hurried to see his wife. He died four days later, just as I boarded the steamer to come north. "Immediately after the assassination the people began crying 'revolution.' Congressman Miguel Babros, my brother, took charge of the situation and hurried the troops out from the arsenal. In a few hours all was peaceful and there was no demonstration."

"The three assassins were captured. One rich man in the plot killed himself later. Mulatillo has confessed that he was paid $100,000 to assassinate the president. In one of his confessions he said that President Estada Cabreria of Guatemala was jealous because President Araujo was such a good president. That's why he wanted him killed."

LAWMAKERS SCHEDULED TO BE DEBLOKED

Defeat of Entire Naval Appropriation Bill Is Threatened by Failure of Conferencees to Agree

HOUSE STANDS PAT ON ONE BATTLESHIP

Inauguration Visitors Crowd the Galleries of Both Chambers

WASHINGTON, March 2.—With both the senate and the house in the unusual situation of sitting in legislative session on Sunday, the sixty-second congress today and tonight dragged its weary way through a maze of tangled business toward its conclusion that will come at noon Tuesday.

Thousands of visitors in Washington for the inauguration took advantage of the Sunday night session to see the law makers at work. Thousands of spectators crowded the galleries of the house, where a meager attendance on the floor ground out the routine and rushed through minor bills with little consideration.

Other thousands filled the senate galleries until an executive session drove them from the chamber. The end of the session's rush of business had brought many who were interested in various bills, which they hoped might be slipped through in the rather disorderly procedure in the house, where Speaker Champ Clark shattered the sounding board of his desk with his gavel in his effort to control the noisy attendance on the floor and the galleries.

The result threatens the defeat of the entire $150,000 naval appropriation bill. The house conferencees declined to yield the one battleship program and also refused to take the issue back to the house for another vote.

A dozen conference committees worked throughout tonight's session struggling to reach agreements satisfactory to both houses on various measures.

Several potential filibusters were apparent in both houses with opponents of proposed bills ready to fight against all legislation attempts were made to pass the measures they opposed.

The various disagreements in the conference committees showed no signs of settlement and just before midnight the house leaders decided that they would wait no longer for the conference reports on the various appropriation bills in dispute. The senate was in executive session, and the house recessed until 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning to allow time for the straightening out of the conference reports.

The executive session of the senate tonight resulted in the confirmation of more of the Taft appointments to the army, navy and allied services.

A controversy that developed over the nominations of Major Beecher E. Ray, who was appointed a lieutenant colonel, and Colonel Carlos A. Devol, appointed a brigadier general, delayed progress tonight.

Opposition to the promotion of Major Ray was based on charges of political activity and of misconduct. No action was taken on the Devol or the Ray appointments.

Conferees on the sundown bill did not finish it tonight adjourning at 1 o'clock. There is a disagreement concerning the appropriations for the government exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition. The conferees wanted to make the sum $750,000. Others stood out for $1,500,000. Those who wanted the smaller sum also desired a civilian commission. It is probable the conference will report tomorrow less than $1,500,000 for the exhibit.

Fifty soldiers have been killed in an attack on a military train by the Zapatistas south of Ajusco, on the line of the Mexican Central to Cuernavaca.

The rebels were stopped in a cut, the engagement lasted approximately an hour. The regulars succeeded in dispersing the attacking party, which disappeared in the hills.
