Special Train Abandoned at Exeter While Delegates Take Automobiles to Porterville

AISLED TREES IN SNOWY BLOSSOMS

Guests Become Hosts After Tour of Golden Orchards Has Been Made

By TOM BELLEW
(Special Dispatch to the Call)

PORTERVILLE, May 8.—Orangeland was reached today by the trade excursionists of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. Tonight they are resting in Porterville. The whole day was spent in the wonderful agricultural district of Tulare county. The special train was abandoned on the arrival at Exeter, the delegate merchants taking automobiles provided by the various reception committees.

It was a case of a locomotive trying to keep pace with the touring car and runabout. Even M. King, the executive secretary of the chamber, who planned the trip, left the train to the wisdom of the engineer and the keeping of the conductor.

GROVES OF GOLD

The golden yield of the groves, the lemons, peach trees, vines and alfalfa could not have been seen to advantage in any other way. The breezy, fragrant, shady valleys, aisled with trees in snowy blossoms.

The autolists traveled over a country that only a few years ago was wheat land or range, now through thoughtful farming and water into a rich citrus belt. They wandered into the foothills far from the town until they were pursued by the black wall of the mountains rising in grandeur and beauty to summits snow-capped even in summer.

Exeter, Lindsay, Strathmore and Porterville were towns visited. Each of these bustling communities gave royal welcome to the visitors. As soon as the merchants had opportunity of meeting those with whom they have trade relations there stood the autos for a faraway trip over pleasant meadows and gentle rolling hills.

GUESTS BECOME HOSTS

Not to be outdone by the valley citizens and the people of Porterville, particular in hospitality the excursionists became hosts themselves in the evening and held open house aboard the special. It was an informal affair, music and songs were sung, but not too long, making a delightful program of entertainment.

William H. McCarthy, as usual had to say the pleasant words of welcome and he is improving in every town he goes to. J. E. Trautau, mayor of Porterville, responded. After that the party took an informal atmosphere of informality. Charles R. Bell, assistant to the secretary, gave a monologue and John D. Ryan, told a number of dark stories. Charles Huyck gave some humorous reminiscences of the islands of the Pacific and H. Heitmueller rendered a vocal number.

The Porterville reception committee consisted of: J. W. Thomas, J. F. Baller, George H. Farmer (secretary of the Chamber of Commerce), W. L. Crowe, S. A. Milligan, V. D. Knupp, J. C. McCabe, J. A. Ulmer and H. F. Bray.

PORTERVILLE'S PROSPERITY

"It has been a prevailing idea," said J. C. Condon, one of the influential men of the town, "that Porterville owes its prosperity to its citrus fruits. This is a good explanation, but not a complete one."

"The country is known for the diversity of its products. This is why, although California is increasing its wealth in a wonderful manner, Porterville and all Tulare county is growing richer faster than any other district of the state. Not only do we grow oranges that ripen several weeks ahead of the crops of southern California, but we have lemons, olives, peaches, alfalfa and grapes in abundance."

SCHOOL OF BLACK GRANITE

"Our high school was built from black granite quarried from the mountains only two miles from the city. We have magnificent mines that are highly productive and our grazing grounds provide rich fodder for some of the finest Holsteins to be found in the state. This has been the reason that the citrus fruits, but the bankers will tell you that the deposits have not diminished—a proof that our whole prosperity is not based on oranges and lemons."

At Exeter, C. K. Balaam, president of the Board of Trade, welcomed the merchants. He was assisted by E. H. Miles, S. A. McWay of the Merchants association; J. C. Kirkham and C. R. McEvers. A number of the visitors took a jaunt as far as Lemon Cove, which was not on the itinerary, to ramble through the lemon and orange groves of this district.

LINDSAY THRIVING TOWN

Lindsay is a thriving town whose fame rests on its orange groves. Chester Dowell headed a committee to receive the merchants. He was assisted by E. H. Gifford, Roy Burnett, M. K. Henderson, W. J. Coon, and the Merchants' association was represented in C. H. Grassley, H. D. Redmond and M. C. Steele Jr. Mr. Gifford, in speaking of the industry, said:

"The orange industry appeals to the man who wants to get out of the city but is afraid of the general farm. He can manage the orange farm. It is a specialized farm life, clean, compact, beautiful and profitable. It offers recreation to rich men who want relief from business and it provides an income for the man who has but a small sum of money to invest."

The excursionists went from Lindsay to Strathmore by automobile. Charles S. White, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and B. J. Morey, secretary, H. Roth and C. E. Primmer received them. The stay at Strathmore was short, the leaders being anxious to take the visitors into the back country. The autos were filled with oranges and the hospitable citizens placed a number of cases of grape fruit in the baggage car.

HUNT THE LONESOME ONE

H. C. Hunt, assistant manager and director of the Jesse Moore-Hunt company of San Francisco, is a lonesome young man these days. The San Joaquin valley is no place for a distiller bent on business. The excursionists have passed through 16 towns in the last four days and all are "dry" except three, Lemon Cove, Fresno and Coalinga. Hunt can see no fun in the trip until the party reaches Bakersfield.

Tomorrow the chamber will visit Terra Bella and Tuzey, arriving at Bakersfield in the evening.

TEMPERANCE BILL BEATEN IN SENATE

Measure Planned to Limit One Saloon to Each 500 Inhabitants

Measure Passed to Establish Moving Picture Censorship in the State

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—The drastic temperance bill proposed by Senator Sanford, establishing a limit of but one saloon to each 500 inhabitants in any city or county, was defeated by the senate today by a vote of 9 ayes and 25 noes. The rollcall was as follows:

Ayes—Anderson, Caminetti, Campbell, Cohn, Curtin, Kehoe, Larkins, Mott and Sanford.

Noes—Avey, Beban, Benson, Birdsell, Boynton, Breed, Bryant, Butler, Carr, Cogswell, Finn, Flint, Gates, Gerdes, Grant, Hans, Jones, Juilliard, Regan, Rush, Shanahan, Strobridge, Thompson, Tyrrell and Wiggin.

The senate gave final approval today to Assemblyman Gelder's bill appropriating $15,000 to be used in sending the celebration of the battle of Gettysburg to Pennsylvania to attend the fiftieth anniversary of Gettysburg survivors, to be held on the battlefield next July.

EIGHT AGRICULTURAL DISTRICTS

Another bill passed by Assemblyman Wall, dividing the state into eight agricultural districts for the purpose of holding annual fairs, as was done in 1890. The bill was passed by a vote of 17 ayes and 10 noes to carry out the purposes of the act.

Among other assembly bills approved were the following:

By Morzenster, permitting a wife or child to sue for the recovery of money lost by husband or father at gambling.

By Scott, creating a state humane commission, which shall have general supervision over all societies organized for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

MOVING PICTURE CENSOR

A state moving picture censor commission with full power to pass upon all motion pictures exhibited in California, is provided for in a bill by Senator Strobridge, which passed the upper house today by a vote of 24 to 2. The negative votes were cast by Senators Gerdes and Regan of San Francisco.

By the terms of the act, the governor is required to appoint a commission composed of three members, who shall draw a salary of $2,400 each per year and who shall inspect and stamp every film shown in the state. "I didn't know the gun was loaded," and his fellow, the deer hunter who shoots and kills his companion in the brush, are among the subjects of the bill.

CENSOR OF TUBERCULOSIS

Tuberculosis is declared to be an infectious and communicable disease, subject to regulation by state and county officials, in a bill by Senator Anderson, which passed the senate without opposition.

The act requires all physicians to report the names, addresses and occupations of tubercular persons to the county health officer within 48 hours after the cases are discovered, and further provides for the disinfection of all houses or apartments previously occupied by the consumptives. A company measure by Senator Boynton, providing for the establishment of sanatoria and farm colonies for the treatment of tuberculosis, under the direction of the state health officer and at the expense of the counties, also was approved and sent to the assembly.

The Finn bill, providing for the licensing and registration of plumbers by county health boards, was defeated by the senate, with only 11 affirmative votes. The act was championed by the State Federation of Labor and by the plumbers' unions. Senator Finn gave notice that he would move for a reconsideration.

MAIDS AND MATRONS OF PALO ALTO QUENCH FIRE

Bucket Brigade Saves Home of George Tournay Before Arrival of City Department

(Special Dispatch to the Call)

PALO ALTO, May 8.—Prompt action on the part of a number of society maids and matrons in forming a bucket brigade prevented the destruction by fire, late last evening, of the home of George Tournay, manager and director of the German Savings and Loan society in San Francisco.

The flames were discovered on the roof by a servant, who sounded the alarm. Mrs. George Tournay and her daughter, Miss Vida Tournay, climbed onto the roof and received pails of water handed them by Mrs. H. P. Perry, wife of Major Perry, a civil war veteran.

TWO UNIVERSITIES JOINED BY CUPID

A large number of relatives and friends will witness the impressive service and later a reception will be held in the home of the bride's parents, Professor and Mrs. R. L. Green.

Miss Green, who will be given in marriage by her father, will wear the conventional bridal satin and old family lace and will carry a shower of white orchids and lilies of the valley. In her cortege will be three of her sorority sisters, Miss Hazel Green, who will be her sister's maid of honor; Miss Alberta Hanna of Pasadena, and Miss Winifred Millsbaugh of Hollywood, who will be the bridesmaids. David T. Ebbel, the groom's best man, will be the best man, and the ushers will be Karl C. Leebrecht of Berkeley, Arthur C. Prendergast of San Francisco, Walter E. Barnard of Worcester, Mass., and W. Mr. Cross was graduated from the University of California with the class of 1911. He was the editor of the Occident, the student monthly magazine; president of the English club, and a member of the Golden Bear honor society.

On their return from their honeymoon, the destination of which they are keeping secret, Mr. Cross will bring his bride to Berkeley to reside permanently.

PLUM PUDDING BRINGS VISION OF A SOLDIER

That is One Theory of Louise Zeh's Starling Screeching Which Awakened Household

Plum pudding and other sweets served at the table to celebrate the birthday of Louise Zeh, 213 Jackson street, just 6 years old, may account for the child screaming and awakening the household at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The scream brought every one into the child's room. "There was a soldier in the room, mamma," said the startled child. Mrs. Zeh immediately identified the police. They are inclined to believe the child was dreaming.

But Louise says no. She even gave a description of the fellow. The police found an open window, but the crew amounted to nothing, as it had been open all day. Beyond the window are the walls of the Presidio.

HOME INDUSTRY LEAGUE TO REPEAL HERE

Home Industry League in Annual Meeting Is Given Definite Promise

Several hundred members of the Home Industry league attended a meeting and annual election of directors in the Palace hotel yesterday, prepared to hear flattering reports on the results accomplished by the organization during the last 12 months.

They were not prepared for the almost definite promise of Special Indian Commissioner Otis Goodell, representing Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, that a United States Indian warehouse to be removed to San Francisco. This announcement was hailed with cheers, as it marks a decided achievement in the league's persistent campaign for home industry.

The establishment of an Indian warehouse in San Francisco is said to mean approximately between $300,000 and $500,000 annually in increased returns to the merchants of this city.

Commissioner Goodell's assurance was but one of several noteworthy items to be recorded in the credit column of the league's booky.

RESULTS ALREADY ACCOMPLISHED

The following are a few of the results accomplished by the organization during the 12 months:

Fifteen million dollars saved to the state through the league's campaign for "home industry."

Securing for California contractors the construction of the United States submarine, which will mean an expenditure of approximately $20,000,000.

Construction of two naval collars built at California concerns.

Bringing about the passage of a law making it obligatory for commissions and state officers' departments to favor California made goods.

Steps to make Mare Island navy yard the seat of any in the United States.

The inception of a campaign to have all large stores and goods, particularly California wines and fruits.

More than 500,000 school children in California to be educated by the medium of lectures and illustrated lantern slides.

Reports were read by President A. C. Rufolo, J. C. Kortick, chairman of the executive committee; G. C. Boldeman, chairman of the ways and means committee; S. Somer, chairman of the publicity and advertising committee; H. T. James, chairman of the membership committee; Dr. C. V. Cross, chairman of the school committee; J. H. Hatcher, chairman of the state committee; H. A. Yeazel, chairman of the trade exploitation committee, and Colonel George Pippy, representing the allied following.

THANK THE NEWSPAPERS

In commenting on the advertising campaign, S. Somer, chairman of the committee, said:

"We can thank the newspapers for what they have done for this league. The California Call, which is a consistent exponent of the league and its endeavors especially in regard to its daily coupon feature."

Mr. Pippy reported that within seven months the league had been augmented by 5,010 new members, all of them pledged to the purchasing of local manufactured goods. He declared that cities in all sections of the state were taking an active interest in home industry.

The Native Daughters and Sons of the Golden West came in for many congratulations for the assistance they have given the league.

The session closed with the election of the following officers: President, C. H. Wokman, Workman Packing company; Dr. C. V. Cross, Olivint Chemical company; E. L. Queen, Queen's Laundry; J. H. Hatcher, Hatcher's Hardware; A. C. Rufolo, Iron and steel merchant; Walter N. Hunt, Walter N. Hunt company; J. C. Kortick, Kortick-Falls Manufacturing company; and Kohn-Boldeman factory.

The action of the president and other officers will be held next Wednesday. President Rufolo made a farewell address and thanked the members of the league for their cooperation of the council will be held in June.

PORTOLA FETE PLANS MATURING

Masked Ball Upon Entirely Novel Lines and Big Sign New Features

Not only the romance of early California, but the glory of the splendid idle forties, will be reproduced during the Portola festival, October 22-25. Plans were announced yesterday at Portola headquarters for a masked ball upon entirely novel lines. This grand all night ball, to mark the close of the fete on the night of October 25, will be a pageant in itself. There will be upon the floor representatives of all California historic figures, for a liberal group of prizes. The ball itself will be given in halls arranged to duplicate the patio of a hacienda residence.

The details of an elaborate system of prizes are being worked out. Not only individuals, but groups, as well, will receive rewards, and it is expected that there will be a display of characters in full costume whose equal has never been seen.

The usual prizes will be given, of course, and each line in them sustained character, the most unusual group, and the most beautiful costume. It is the novel awards, however, which will give this affair its distinction.

DISCOVERERS WILL BE THERE

Balboa will be on the floor—very likely a whole troupe of him, as the Portola festival this year commemorates the four hundredth anniversary of Balboa's discovery of the Pacific.

Portola himself could not be kept out of the ball, and for the best representation of him there will be a separate prize, it is planned.

The sign will be in the English explorer, who passed by the Golden Gate 90 years before Portola discovered San Francisco bay, but who failed to find the bay himself, will come in for his share of attention.

In fact, there will be so many early Californians, and late ones, too, that the Portola committee is going to have two halls, in both of which the decoration will be along unusual lines and of unparalleled splendor.

BIGGEST SIGN IN WORLD

The biggest sign in the world is being constructed by the Portola committee on Yerba Buena island. The sign will be finished by the end of the week. It will be 1,400 feet long, equal to five ordinary city blocks. It will read:

"PORTOLA FESTIVAL
October 22-25."

The sign is 136 feet from top to bottom. The top letters are 48 feet long, and each line in them is eight feet wide and four feet deep. The bottom row of letters is made of trenches as wide and as deep as the upper. These lower letters are 40 feet long. Between each letter is a space of 40 to 60 feet. To whitewash these top trenches 30 tons of lime will be necessary.

This sign will remind not only San Franciscans and commuters on the bay of the big fall festa, but will be one of the first things seen on the approach to San Francisco by incoming travelers, and to the outbound will give the farewell reminder of the great holiday to be held here in October.
