

FOURTH OF JULY GREETING FROM CALL

Two Thousand Pounds of Red Fire Will Burn

The pinnacle of Mount St. Helena, higher than Mount Vesuvius, on the crest of which will blaze the Call's message of good will (upper picture); northeast buttress of Mount St. Helena, where it juts over Lake county (center view), and the Russian tablet commemorating the founding of Fort Ross.

MESSAGE TO FLASH TO PEOPLE FROM HISTORIC TABLET

In Every Direction Will Be Seen The Call's Best Wishes and Faith in Great State

When selecting a location to make a red fire display upon the night of July 4, The Call chose a spot full of historical significance, for on the very top of Mount St. Helena, where, on the night of July 4 The Call's red fire will blaze, stands a bronze tablet defying time and weather and telling of a visit made there in 1841 by the Russians.

The original tablet was long ago removed from its place upon the rocks because of the value attaching to it as an historical relic. This removal took place in May, 1855, in the presence of representatives of the Sonoma pioneer families of General M. G. Vallejo, Captain Henry D. Fitch, Jasper O'Farrell, members of the pioneer party, and Senora M. Lopez de Carrillo, Captain Stephen Smith, C. Alexander of the bear flag party, the Native Sons of the Golden West, the Spanish, British, Russian and Mexican consuls at San Francisco.

COPY OF TABLET PLACED

Actively in charge of the work was Dr. T. A. Hylton, who took a literal copy of the inscription and saw that it was placed in its proper position. A year ago authorized Miss Honora and P. R. Toumey to place upon the rock which bore the original tablet the copy which is now there. The inscription is as follows: "Russians, June, 1841. C. L. Vosnesnik III, E. L. Tscherneg, Russians."

WHEN MESSAGE WILL FLASH

Within 100 feet of the spot where this tablet rests will flare on the night of July 4 a message of good will from The Call to its California friends. Two thousand pounds of red fire will make the heavens gleam with red. Just how far this can be seen can scarcely be told, for the vision that unfolds to him who is hardy enough to climb the long up trail to the summit of the grand old mountain reaches miles on miles.

Mountains seem to roll up to the base of St. Helena, which towers over all the rest, and as far as the eye can see great hills spread out like billows, separated by blue and deep canyons that convey an impression of immeasurable depth. Looking far away over the Sacramento valley on a clear day can be seen the top of the Sierras. To the south is San Francisco, Mount Tamalpais and Mount Diablo, standing on each side like sentinels watching over the city of the Golden Gate. The light from the fiery beacon that unfolds to him who is hardy enough to climb the long up trail to the summit of the grand old mountain reaches miles on miles.

CONFIDENCE IN STATE

Spreading southward from the base of the mountain, then southwest, Napa valley forms a crescent, dotted by the beautiful towns of Napa, St. Helena and Calistoga, the latter nestling up against the base of the mountain. In Calistoga on July 4 are going to be big doings, the whole of Napa county taking part in the celebration, and with them will be the San Francisco Call, sending its message of good will out broadcast through the night. In every direction as far as the lurid reflection from the top of Mount St. Helena can be seen The Call's best wishes go and tell of its pride in the past history of the state, its support in the present period of development and its supreme confidence in the destiny of years to come. Brief and heartfelt is its message: "Hello, northern California, let's shake."

MECHANICS' FAIR WILL HAVE SPECIAL MUSIC

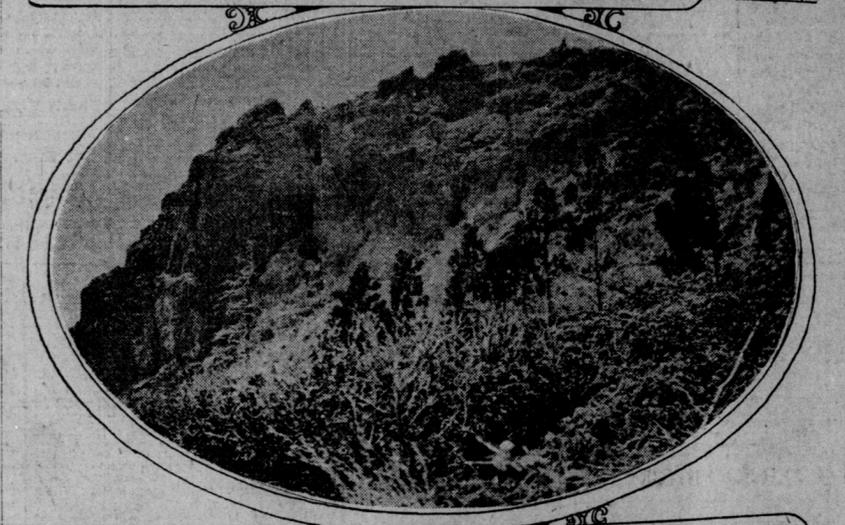

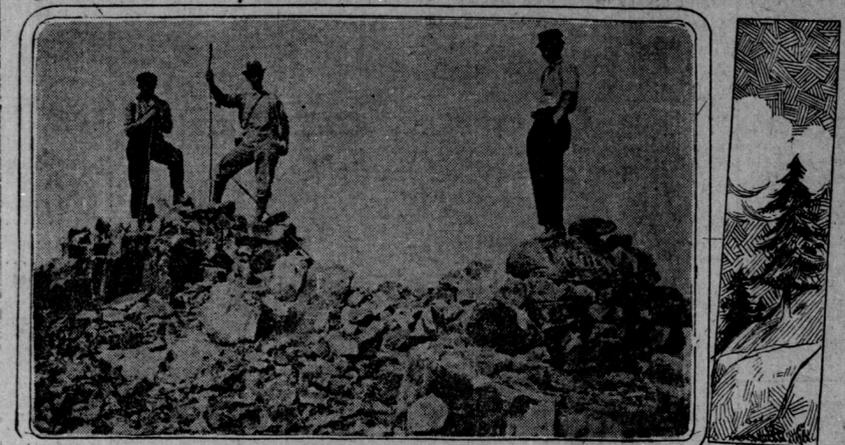

Noted Composer Is Writing March for San Francisco Exhibition

Announcement was made yesterday by President Carlton H. Wall of the Mechanics' fair that Louis Gottschalk, the noted composer, is composing a march especially for this year's exhibition in the Pavilion, Dreamland rink and the National theater. When in San Francisco a few weeks ago, at the time his fantasy, "The Tik Tok Man," was playing here, Gottschalk conferred with the fair officials and agreed to help with the musical end of the exposition, but reached no definite agreement as to just what he would do. After he had gone to Chicago with "The Tik Tok Man," correspondence was kept up with him and, as a result, the special march has just been decided upon.

HANFORD GIRL IS MISSING

Police Looking for Matilda Schricht, Last Seen With Stranger

The police have begun a search for Matilda Schricht, 17 years old, of Hanford. She came to San Francisco three days ago to see her brother, who lives in the Hotel Arno, Sixth and Mission streets. He was not in, and the police have learned that she was seen leaving the place with a stranger and has not been seen since. She is 5 feet 8 inches in height, has light hair and wears glasses. John Frumo, Hotel Arno, reported the case.

TUNNEL RULING ON WORK DELAYED

Labor Council Awaits A.F.L. Decision on Miners' Federation Case

Engineers Reject Strike Vote in Power Muddle—Other News

The executive committee of the San Francisco Labor council has recommended that part of the work in the Stockton street tunnel be awarded to the Western Federation of Miners. This brought on a protracted discussion and the statement that in view of court proceedings it is doubtful if the tunnel will be started this year.

A telegram from the secretary of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor, received after the executive committee had taken action, gave notice that the Western Federation of Miners' delegates were not seated in the council, and denied the claim of the miners for tunnel work. Action on the recommendation of the committee was deferred until the American Federation of Labor's executive committee shall decide the question of jurisdiction.

PREPARE BOND ISSUES

Michael Casey, J. Kane and F. A. Arnsworth were named a committee to assist in the matter of the next proposed issue of bonds. Engineers No. 64 gave notice that it would not take a strike vote in the case of the Gas and Electric company, and that the international president had notified the local not to join the strike. The protest of Carpenters' union No. 483 against the removal of Delegate E. T. Zant from the council room for being noisy, brought out a statement from President Gallagher to the effect that while he is sorry that in enforcing order he has to resort to harsh measures, he proposes to follow the law of the council and if occasion presents itself he will follow the course adopted at the previous meeting, and his statement was loudly applauded. The protest was filed.

GALLAGHER IS DEFIANT

President Gallagher called attention to the proposed amendment to the traffic ordinance to regulate automobiles as to speed and urged organizations of teamsters to take notice of this and take action. The council approved a memorial to the governor of the state to relieve those prisoners under sentence of death pending an initiative vote on capital punishment. The Baggage Masters' union gave notice that it expelled William Prosser, a member, because of his relations with the Pacific Gas and Electric company. The Ironworkers club submitted a resolution endorsing the Hetch Hetchy water project, asking the council to approve it and forward the same to the California representatives in congress. The request was concurred in.

G. Knopf, a contractor, charged by the District Council of Carpenters with violation of rules and regulations of the Building Trades council in relation to men working for him, has been placed on the unfair list. H. Peterson of Carpenters' union No. 36 was found guilty of working on a building at Twenty-second and Mission streets with A. Lindell of Bricklayers' local No. 17 of Point Richmond, who did not have a working card for the current quarter, and fined one day's pay and his case referred to the district council of carpenters for further action. The Building Trades council has received a complaint that Contractor M. Katz has been paying his men less than the regular scale of wages. He has been cited to appear before the executive board and show why he should not be placed on the unfair list. The same order was made in the case of the Fibertone Roofing company, charged with violating the trade rules of the council.

Organizer M. E. Grunhof of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of America has formed a new union of the trade in San Mateo. Local No. 115 of the same organization has placed these in nomination for office.

For president, G. F. Johnson; vice president, A. Lovel; guide, William Dunne and James McDevitt; secretary, John P. O'Connell; treasurer, John O'Connell; executive board, Walter Schultz, T. A. Harris, August Mayer, August Xylund and Joseph Gallagher; delegates to the Labor council, A. T. Nyland, M. E. Grunhof, A. Lester, J. J. Kretzmer, G. B. Johnson and Edward Powers.

Local No. 107 of the Plasterers' union has endorsed the agreement presented by International President F. J. McGovern to the Building Trades council that the work of placing the staff work on buildings on the exposition grounds be divided between members of that trade and carpenters pending a decision as to jurisdiction.

Deaths in labor circles during the last week were reported as follows: Benjamin Swanson, Steam Fitters; Patrick H. Hannon, James Boylan and Charles Calloun, Riggers and Stevedores; George H. Hanson and James Glackin, Brotherhood of Carpenters; Victor Koski, George Jacobs, Sanford Wilson and Knut S. Thomsen, Sailors of the Pacific; George Hansen, Pile Drivers; James J. Payton, Brotherhood of Teamsters.

At the last meeting of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific D. W. Paul, second patrolman, was granted a two weeks' leave of absence and John W. Erickson appointed to fill the vacancy. Acting Secretary Tension reported shipping medium at this port, Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend and Portland, good in Victoria, fair in Aberdeen and San Pedro, dull in Eureka and poor in Honolulu.

A telegram from Denver to the culinary trades in this city says that the Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bar Tender's International alliance voted that the 1915 session of that body shall be held in San Francisco.

The Workmen's circle will give a picnic in Glen park today to aid the fund being raised for political refugees who may come to this city.

At the last meeting of the board of directors of the Musicians' union Ella Smith was admitted to membership on transfer. T. C. Escobar, H. Hellejo and Hans Lyne were admitted to temporary membership on transfer and Frank McCarthy and John Muller were permitted to withdraw their transfers.

The Stableners' union has signed a two years' working agreement with the Carriage and Carriage Owners' association to take effect July 1.

LONE PIRATE CRUISES BENEATH JOLLY ROGER

With Two of Crew Gone, Solitary Member Speeds Toward Mexican Shore

SANTA BARBARA, June 14.—With a lone "pirate" as his entire crew, the power boat Antioch, stolen several months ago from Benicia, Cal., was believed tonight to be speeding southward to Mexican waters. Sheriff Nat Stewart returned here today after he and a posse had made a fruitless search of Santa Cruz island, across the Santa Barbara channel, for the men who stole the boat and who the Antioch's "pirates" had put ashore last night at Hueneume, where one had been captured. That left the stolen launch with a crew of only one, who was believed to be "Shorty" Williams, a water front character, well known to the authorities of Santa Barbara and San Diego.

TOY DOG ROW

The toy dog owners are still in a state of turmoil and from reports that come from the scene of battle, it looks as if the battle will continue for some time. While the number of individuals may be having the time of their life, the club is not profiting of their actions. By dividing ranks within the club, the members weaken the club as a factor in doggy affairs. Get together and boost the club. Work for better shows and better dogs.

WISE BREEDER

Mr. F. R. Clark, a noted collie fancier and breeder of Bloomington, Ill., recently gave out a little tip that is worth following, especially when it comes from a man who has made a success of collie raising as a business. Part of his letter to an eastern dog journal reads as follows: "There is nothing to it, the main secret of success in the dog business. One must advertise, the next thing is to sell first class stock. * * * Figure your advertising bill as an account paper because it is cheap. Advertisements in a first class medium will result, the same as you would locate on a business street, where rent is high, instead of an out of the way street, where rent is almost nothing. In England you expect to make money in any kind of business. It does not matter what a thing costs, it is a money making proposition, it can be sold at a profit. * * * If Mr. Clark followed the above, we do not wonder that he has made a success."

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT

The sympathy of the entire fancy, we are sure, is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Coghlan of Chicago in the loss of their little daughter, Elizabeth. While waiting for a street car to pass, she was run down and almost instantly killed by a large motor truck. All fanciers will remember her as the little girl holding on to the fender of the "Dorchester" farm kennel bulldog in the picture "Four in Hand."

BUYS CHAMPION TERRIER

Mrs. Roy A. Rainey of Huntington, L. I., has just purchased the champion wire haired fox terrier, Scotch Salax, who is a winner of more than a hundred first and special prizes, and has beaten some of the best dogs in England. He has, at more than one show, received the Wire Haired Fox Terrier club's certificate for the best coat specimen of any terrier variety. He is 3 years old and was sired by the famous champion Southboro Salax.

PIT BULL TERRIER ADS.

The following, which appeared in the June number of the Dog Fancier, contains a grain of truth in its sarcasm. For, were the owners of fighting dogs allowed to publish all challenges or fights, it would take a motor truck to haul a single issue of the unfortunate fighting dog papers.

A fancier, living in North Dakota, sends us the following as specimens of advertisements that would never find their way into our pit bull terrier pages if some of the fanciers that breed were given the right to refuse:

For sale—Bloodthirsty Bearcat, who defeated Biff the Blood's notorious Campbell in five hours. If Biff denies this he is a liar and a crook. Reason for selling, he broke into the Zoo, killed a grizzly bear and two panthers, swallowed a valuable cobra and four rattlesnakes and let a whole lot of Johnny's Mary Ann Flynn while she was walking with her beau, John Doe, Kokomo, O.

At stud—Terrible Tiger, winner of 70 battles, in which he frightfully slaughtered his opponents. He is the son of Murderous Madman, who fought for two hours after being shot dead, hanged, drawn and quartered. John Doe, Kokomo, O.

Challenge to Mike de Blue—You sneaking, resinous, old, unbelieveable yellow cur, you are afraid to fight and you know it. I will put up a forfeit in the hands of Johnny Veeg or Danny Dip for you to cover and will bet a million dollars that my Lion Killer can lick you. Monte Muff and I can lick you. John Doe, Kokomo, O.

Notice to the Public—Luke McLuke, who attacked in the last issue of this paper that his dog, Furious Fendi, defeated my Hell's Demons, is a public enemy, flees, bites, licks and thief who steals chickens for a living. He is a pickup without any breeding, pedigree or ancestry. A four flushing bluffer who never owned, fought or stole a good dog in his life. And I and my famous Champion Ripper ever get him and his yellow straggled bone hound into a pit will eat them alive. John Doe, Kokomo, O.

NEW WARSHIP ADDRESSES

Following are the changes of address for United States warships of the Pacific fleet: Alert, F-1, F-2, F-3, Hull, all in Vallejo.

NEW BULLDOG STANDARD

The Packard Motor Car company, on the arrival of Bud Garvin on the Pacific coast, turned out a rather neat photo and cartoon poster describing Bud, alias Truck. At the bottom of the poster a bulldog standard is given in automobile jargon. The description, standard, specifications or whatever you care to call it, are given below:

MOTOR—Cast a main, guaranteeing perfect action and respiration.

VALVES—Valves naturally controlled and closed to make dust proof. All valves are positively lubricated—a feature kept paramount in the construction of this type.

CARBURETOR—Special design foot feed type. When the mixture is properly maintained it controls the speed automatically. It has but one intake for all atmospheric conditions. The float regulates the speed of intake. If the mixture is too rich the speed will vary. The carburetor is water jacketed.

GASOLINE SUPPLY—The fuel is taken in under the bonnet by the approved method. This is controlled by a two way valve.

IGNITION—The ignition is controlled by eye beams and is of the jump spark type. This is most effective when allowed to run open mouthed.

LUBRICATION—Lubrication is by the splash system of the oil to feed from the bottom of the crankcase. The oil is distributed to all parts of the engine. The oil tank is placed just back of the cylinder, insuring a direct supply of oil.

CHASSIS—The chassis is of the standard type, but is of the most up-to-date design.

WHEELS—Only one type of body is furnished, which has been found to meet every demand.

COLOR SCHEMES—The standard color is black. The front wheels are black and running gear. Bonnet and radiator are black (standard).
