

AMERICAN AND CANADIAN TENNIS FINALS

McLoughlin and Hackett Defeat Germans and Will Play German Pair for Davis Cup

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., July 11.—Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco and Harold H. Hackett of New York, by winning the doubles match against the Germans, Friedrich Wilhelm Rabe and Heinrich Kleinschrotz, put the United States' team today into the final round of the Davis lawn tennis cup preliminaries. They won by three sets to one, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3 and 5-4. They will meet the Canadian team, which today beat the Belgians at Wimbledon, July 18, 19 and 21.

The Americans owed their victory largely to Hackett's play, although Hackett, who was weakest in service, showed his old time brilliancy in volleying.

At the beginning the Germans took McLoughlin's service well. He then developed it until it was impossible to take. His drives down the line and his smashes also nonplussed the Germans, although Kleinschrotz returned several of them very neatly.

In the first set with the Germans the Americans took the opening game on McLoughlin's service. Play was then fairly equal until the teams stood at three games all.

Hackett's hard smashes brought the Americans to 4-3. The Germans then made it even again by similar tactics, but the Americans won the next two games and the set after some sharp volleys.

McLoughlin's great play. In the second set the Germans were the winners of the first two games, but Hackett's pretty returns. The two games won by the Americans in this set were due to McLoughlin's cannon shot service and his well placed returns.

In the third set the Americans took the first two games, the second one a love game. Germany won the third after some again by similar tactics, and also the fourth, making it two all.

McLoughlin made two double faults in the fifth game, but recovered and won on his cannon service and line shots.

The Germans drew even with the fifth game. The seventh, a love game, went to the Americans, as did the eighth, which they won after duce had been called twice.

AMERICANS WIN MATCH. The Americans thus had a lead of five to three, and, winning a fourth love game on McLoughlin's service, carried off the set.

In the fourth set the Germans got a lead of four games to one by splendid returns to McLoughlin's service, but the Americans won the set and the match.

Canadians Defeat Belgians. FOLKSTONE, Eng., July 11.—The second day's play in the Davis lawn tennis cup semifinals today brought together R. B. Powell and B. P. Schwengers of Canada and G. Watson and W. H. D. Vivier of Belgium in the doubles.

The Canadian team won the doubles match from the Belgians and thus qualified to enter the final round, where the United States and Canada will compete for the right to challenge the English team for the Davis cup.

Powell and Schwengers had an easy task to beat Watson and Vivier. They won the match in three straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

Crew of California Wins Great Race. Words, mere words, can not suffice to express the jubilant spirit which predominates the crew of the cruiser California. A carefully fostered ambition of two years' standing has been realized, and with a decision which allowed no argument, in brief:

The crack rowing crew of the cruiser California beat the rowing crew of the cruiser South Dakota yesterday morning in one of the most hotly contested races in the history of the navy.

The course was two miles long, the water and wind were right, and when the California's crew crossed the line it was six lengths in advance of the rowing barge of the other ship. The actual better time was 12 minutes 32 seconds.

An early start was made, owing to the pending departure of the two vessels for northern and southern ports. The race commenced at Hunters point and terminated at a launch stationed near man of war.

From man of war to finish the two crews battled for supremacy, urged on by the knowledge that a prize cup and $10,000 in bets wagered by shipmates depended upon the result.

The South Dakota won the cup two years ago, and had made elaborate plans to keep it in their possession another two years, but they reckoned without their opponents.

The two barges started neck and neck, sweeping down the stretch of the course with both crews bending to their oars with no attempt to spare themselves.

As the two boats neared the end of the course it was distributed about every point of vantage, broke into a wild cheer, which was seconded by the vessel's crew.

The race settles the question in naval circles as to who is who in the racing game. Incidentally, every man-jack on the California is rolling in wealth, while there is a corresponding dearth of finances among the crew of the South Dakota.

SEABRIGHT TO MEET NILES. SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 11.—T. R. Pell won the slugos event in the lawn tennis tournament here today. In the final Pell defeated G. S. Pell, as the winner of the tournament, will meet N. W. Niles of Boston in the challenge match tomorrow for the Schilles cup. Niles won the cup twice and a third victory will make it his second property.

CHESS MASTERS' TOURNAMENT. NEW YORK, July 11.—Making a combination, 20 moves deep, against Oscar Chanley, in the masters' tournament of the Rice Chess club today, Mrs. H. C. Cabanis of Havana forced a brilliant win and notched his 45th straight victory. Chanley resigned after 22 moves. The opening was by Chanley, selected by Capablanca.

THE NEW PINCH HITTER

LEACH CROSS COMES TO TOWN Would Like to Stay in California

By WILLIAM J. SLATTERY. The local pugilistic colony was enlarged yesterday by the arrival of Leach Cross, the fighting tooth from New York. He was accompanied by his brother, Sam Wallich and Scotty Monteth, manager of Johnny Dundee, the feather weight who has decided to follow the example of Abe Attell and fight lightweights hereafter.

Cross just took a flyer up from Los Angeles to enjoy himself and celebrate his great 12 round victory over Bud Anderson. It was perhaps the most notable one that the Gotham dentist ever achieved and, naturally, he is proud of it and, incidentally, he is anxious to keep right on fighting all comers.

Cross had not been in town more than a few hours when he ran up against Lightweight Champion Willie Ritchie in Market street. There was a warm shaking of hands between them and each tried to outdo the other in the matter of tossing a few nice little bouquets. They finished about even.

"Welcome, Leach," said Willie. "You surely did the right thing by me when I was in New York and now I want to extend the hospitality of my native city. We may meet in the ring some day, but we are always going to be friends."

"I am glad that you are the champion, Willie," responded the New Yorker. "A better fellow never won the title. You are my pal and I want you to remember that I am always with you, no matter what happens."

Cross is determined to stick right here on the Pacific coast. That big Los Angeles house and that wonderful victory over Anderson impressed him favorably. He believes that he will yet bring the championship crown back to New York with him, and if he does not it will not be through any fault of his own.

Like the champion, Cross is out for the biggest purse he can collect and he does not make any bones about declaring himself, either. He expresses a willingness to tackle any lightweight in the business, not even barring Packey McFarland. Show Cross the money and he will do the rest. He is a better card now than he ever was and he realizes that he must stick right here in California if he hopes to become the ruler of the 132 pound division.

The dentist appears glad to be with us again, despite the fact that his last trip here brought him nothing but sorrow. He always remembers San Francisco when he thinks of that day, and some four years ago, when Dick Hyland knocked him out in 42 rounds, and there was only $380 in the house for his bit.

But Leach has come back since then, while Hyland is never heard of any more. He points with pride that he was able to accomplish the stunt which Jeffries failed at so miserably.

Cross will stick around here till Jim Coffroth arrives from Los Angeles. In a day or two, he has a half promise of a match in the south with Joe Rivers, but if this does not materialize, he will gladly accept a proposition from Coffroth to take on Ritchie or Harlem Tommy Murphy here next month or in September.

It is likely indeed that Johnny Dundee and Red Watson will be seen in action in the main event here next month. Scotty Monteth will have the little Italian on the job just as soon as somebody says the word. Watson has expressed a willingness to go on with anybody Coffroth picks out for him, so they will talk business in a couple of days unless something happens in the meantime.

Dundee says that he is through with the feather weights. He cannot see any attractive matches with the 122-pounders, so he wants to go out of his class and do the best he can with the lightweights. He is a good, tough, clever boy, and he should be able to make a good showing with most any of them, for his recent 20 round draw with Kilbane showed that he has the right sort of stuff.

Frank Mantell, the Providence middle weight, and Willie Meehan, former pride of the newboys, have started their training for their ten round mixup at the Oakland Wheelman club next Wednesday evening. The betting has not yet opened up, but from the looks of things it ought to be about even, because of the fact that Meehan has such a large following on both sides of the bay.

Mantell has not appeared here since he lost a close 20 round decision to Jack Twin Sullivan, nearly five years ago. He was only a youngster then, but he gave a good account of himself and fought Sullivan right off his feet till the final gong sounded. He has beaten such men as Billy Papke and other topnotchers in the meantime, so it goes without saying that he has improved.

Meehan is a dangerous opponent for any of them to tackle. He has his own peculiar, awkward style and they can never tell when he is going to bring over one of those long, sweeping swings. He has a hard punch in either hand and better still, he is game and can assimilate all sorts of punishment. If Mantell can beat the former newboy, he will be heavily backed by the local fans against Bob McAllister, Eddie McGorty or any of the other crack 155-pounders.

Henry Hickey, the Oakland feather weight, is to meet Frank Rome on the same evening. This also will be a ten round affair and it gives promise of good action. In addition, there will be six round bouts between Johnny McCarthy and Toby Miller and Young Abe Attell and Kid Exposito.

Charley Miller, the giant carman, arrived last evening from his Sonoma county ranch to be on hand to issue a challenge to Arthur Pelkey, conqueror of the late Luther McCarty. Pelkey is due to arrive here on Monday in company with his manager, Tommy Burns, the former heavy weight champion. He says that he will be ready to meet any of them when he finishes his theatrical work here.

Miller has more of a license than any of them to stick up against the man who is now regarded as the regular white hope leader. Miller has met Gunboat Smith three times, beating him once, losing once and splitting even once. He is well thought of in San Francisco, especially after that mauling which he gave big Jess Willard in four rounds here a few weeks ago.

MUCH EXPECTED OF ROUND MEN AT BUTTE RACES

Fred Thompson Will Find It Necessary to Do His Best

The national all round championship which will be held in Los Angeles this afternoon promises to furnish some of the greatest all round competition that has ever been in this country. Fred Thompson, the Princeton university man who broke the wonderful Jim Thorpe's all round world's record, will be the center of attraction, but on performances in regular track work it looks as though Thompson is going to be given a few severe jolts in some of the events.

San Francisco sports followers are particularly interested in the championship from the fact that many of the best local athletes are entered in the competition and are expected to upset Thompson's dope in several of the events. Campbell and Templeton of Stanford, Morris of the Olympic club, and Charlie Hoensch of the Pastime club are all entered and expected to make good in various events.

Thompson holds the world's record for points scored in this class of competition, with 7,499 points, this breaking Jim Thorpe's previous record, which he made last year, of 7,476 points.

Thompson's figure is just one point short of a possible 7,500 per cent. The scoring in the meet is done on a percentage basis, on 1,000 points being allowed the man who reaches the mark, which was the existing world's record at the time the percentage system was originated.

For performances less than the record the scale of percentage has been graduated, and each fraction of a second or inch deducts so many points. Should a man exceed the record in any one event he is credited with 1,000 plus a number of points, according to a similar course of graduation as used when he comes below the record.

The all round competition is one of the hardest known in athletics and each man loses anywhere from 8 to 10 pounds in weight from the starting to the finishing of the list of events.

The competition starts with 1,000 plus a number of points, according to a similar course of graduation as used when he comes below the record.

VETERANS ADVANCE AGAIN IN CAMELIGHT

Ed Geers Pushes Anvil Around Oval at Grand Circuit Races in Two Fast Heats

CLEVELAND, July 11.—The first grand circuit meeting of the year came to an end at Ford Randall today with four trotting events that brought out a fine quality of sport.

The 2:04 1/2 trot was won by Jean Aron, who had found little backing, even for place, although Ed Geers, driven by Geers, was expected to win it with ease.

It was in the last two events of the day that the favorites managed to break even. The championship trotting sweepstake went to Anvil, a heavy favorite, because he trotted the fastest two miles of the year. The veteran driver, Ed Geers, pushed Anvil around the oval in the remarkably fast time of 2:04 1/2 in the first heat and came right back in the next and concluding heat with a mark of 2:04 1/2.

In the last event of the day, the 2:19 trot, Star Winter, the first choice in the betting, had little difficulty in performing up to the form expected of him. Summary:
