Leftfielders Trail in Glory
Famed Seal Southpaw Wins Game After Pitching 11 Inning Shutout

Lefty Leifeld, the far famed southpaw, late of Pittsburg and still later of Chicago, broke into the Pacific Coast league as a Seal slabster yesterday morning on the Oakland lot and he celebrated his advent by pitching an 11 inning shutout game and then breaking it up with a two sacker. How could any pitcher have done more?

The work of Leifeld was as sensational as it was graceful and attractive. He seemed to know the weakness of every Oak who faced him and his six hits were kept so well scattered along the line of battle that they failed to do any good. Most of them were of the scratchy, infield variety. The harder the Oaks swung on the ball the less they profited.

After the game had passed the ninth inning stage and neither team could put a tally across, the fans were beginning to fear that it might have to be called on account of the time limit for Jack Killian was quite as effective as Leifeld and he received grand support from his teammates. No wonder that they looked for a drawn battle.

But Cartwright started the Seals on their way in round 11, after Corhan had faded. He was hit in the ribs by a slow one and then he got away with a steal of second. Clarke advanced him to third on an infield out, after which Leifeld banged a sizzling two sacker into the left garden and the exciting tie was at last broken.

Cartwright led the mound pecking plays of the season was pulled and the new pitcher was the victim. The ball was winged in to Cook, who held on to Leifeld hugged the bag closely, but he thoughtlessly, with one foot off, took a hitch in his belt. He removed the other foot for a fraction of a second and Cook put the ball on him.

This gave Oakland an advantage of one run, although it did not rob the Seals of their chance. Clarke advanced him to third on an infield out, after which Leifeld banged a sizzling two sacker into the left garden and the exciting tie was at last broken.

Taking Sunday Brace, Sacramento Wolves twice tamed the Venice Tigers today, 4 to 3 and 3 to 2, finishing with four victories out of the seven games.

In the morning game Hallinan started an eighth inning rally with the Wolves one run to the bad on the score board, and Shinn, in the role of pinch hitter, finished it with a clean single to right, scoring two runs that won the game. Kieper was taken out just before Shinn went to bat and the single was made of Harkins, but Kieper had left the winning run on the paths and got charged with the defeat.

In the afternoon Kieper let the Tigers down with five hits, while Koestner was hit free in the pinches for his second defeat this week. Scores: VENICE 4, WOLVES 3.

Taking Sunday Brace, Sacramento Wolves twice tamed the Venice Tigers today, 4 to 3 and 3 to 2, finishing with four victories out of the seven games.

In the morning game Hallinan started an eighth inning rally with the Wolves one run to the bad on the score board, and Shinn, in the role of pinch hitter, finished it with a clean single to right, scoring two runs that won the game. Kieper was taken out just before Shinn went to bat and the single was made of Harkins, but Kieper had left the winning run on the paths and got charged with the defeat.

In the afternoon Kieper let the Tigers down with five hits, while Koestner was hit free in the pinches for his second defeat this week. Scores: VENICE 4, WOLVES 3.
