

DRIVE OUT GRINGOS CRY MOB

Anti-American Sentiment May Cause Huerta to Bar U. S. Warships From Ports

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, Sept. 16.—The booming of big guns on a Mexican gunboat in the harbor ushered in the independence celebration here today.

It was feared that the United States warships in the harbor might have a bad effect upon the Mexicans and Special Envoy John Lind, the representative of President Wilson, was advised either to spend the day upon a United States ship or to keep indoors.

HUERTA DOESN'T LIKE WARSHIPS

It became known today that the presence of United States men-of-war in the harbors of the republic is repugnant to President Huerta and his advisers, and it is believed likely that steps will be immediately taken by the central government in Mexico City to compel their departure.

Francis Stronge, retiring British minister, who arrived here from Mexico City in President Huerta's private car, called today on the First Bismarck.

DRIVE OUT THE GRINGOS

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 16.—Exciting scenes and promise of more exciting things to come attended the celebration of Mexican independence day in the capital today. All night long, following the official inauguration of the independence ceremonies at 11 o'clock last night, crowds of noisy Mexicans surged through the streets.

The feature of the day here, as well as in the other larger cities throughout the republic, was the military turnout. War Minister Blanquet at the instance of Huerta had charged every military governor to get as many men as possible under arms for "patriotic demonstrations."

HUERTA IN LIMELIGHT

President Huerta attracted much of the day's events throughout the republic. He hoped and expected that the patriotic exercises would inspire a feeling of loyalty to the government, consequently to the president throughout the republic.

The American residents had been warned to keep indoors so that their presence might not inflame Mexicans whose brains had been slightly disordered along patriotic lines by liberal use of alcohol.

AMERICAN REFUGEES SAFE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Confirmation of the safety of the American refugees on the way from Torreon to Mexico reached the state department today. Vice Consul Silliman at Saltillo advised the department that the American captives had been seen 15 miles west of Parras. The refugees were scheduled to reach Saltillo today.

U. S. OFFICIALS LOST IN ARCTIC

Power Schooner Wasp Fails to Return From Dangerous Trip to Kuskokwim

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 16.—Lost in the wild arctic waters is the power schooner Wasp, with United States Commissioner Dr. Reed and Superintendent of the Bureau of Education Evans aboard.

The vessel was chartered to carry supplies to the mission in the Kuskokwim district, and Captain George Madson is known to be a "schedule time" seaman, which adds to the anxiety. The boat should have returned four weeks ago.

The waters of the arctic are especially dangerous at this time of the year. It is possible that the Wasp may be stranded on one of the bars in the Kuskokwim river, however, and that its passengers and crew are still alive.

Richardson, superintendent of streets, left here this morning on a tour of inspection for the purpose of gathering data from several central California cities relative to municipal improvements.

The principal subjects of study on the junket, which will take four days, will be bathing parks, street paving and street repairing plants and incinerators. With the $215,000 proceeds of the recent bond issue at their disposal, the councilmen plan to profit by the experience of other municipalities.

The party will consist of Mayor Kinsella, O'Connor and Richardson, Councilmen James Begley, E. C. Lund, Henry Knittle and Eugene Bogie.

Moonshiner's Wound In Battle Is Fatal

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 15.—George Cashion, one of the moonshiners wounded in a pitched battle with federal raiding officers in Moore county several days ago, is dead.

This is the second death resulting from the big battle between moonshiners and officers, and it is not unlikely that there will be a third. Three men were wounded at the time, one of them dying before the officers left the place of the raid. Cashion's death was reported to federal officers in Nashville, and it is stated that the other man's wounds may be fatal.

The moonshiners fled to the Alabama line, a short distance away, firing on the officers as they ran, and the officers returned the fire. The officers were not injured.

TWO EXPOSITION SITES DEDICATED

Oklahoma and North Dakota Receive Deeds for Locations of State Fair Buildings

Hot weather made no difference to North Dakota and Oklahoma exposition commissioners this afternoon, nor to the former residents of those states, who went out in force to Harbor View to see the dedication ceremonies for the state buildings for 1915.

"It is Oklahoma that made Aladdin jealous," declared Judge J. J. Dunn, the Panama-Pacific commissioner from that state, in accepting the deed for the site. "Oklahoma put his lamp on the blink and made his story stale and commonplace."

Judge Dunn told a remarkable tale of a 7 year old state chuckful of modern improvements and a capital city with a population of 60,000.

NORTH DAKOTA SITE—Miss Gail Sipes, a graduate of the University of California, was the other member of the Oklahoma commission. This ceremony followed that at the North Dakota site, where Commissioner P. J. McCloy accepted the deed in behalf of his state. Speeches were made at both places by Lieutenant Governor Albert J. Wallace, Supervisor Ralph McEran, representative of the mayor, and Judge Dunn.

Previous to the site dedication ceremonies there was a luncheon at the Hotel St. Francis, at which President C. C. Moore presided, and the speakers were Lieutenant Governor Wallace, Supervisor McEran, Commissioner McCloy and Judge Dunn.

TROOPS PARADE—In honor of the commissioners of both states the Sixth and Sixteenth infantry regiments and the First troop of cavalry passed in review at the Presidio in the celebration of "San Francisco Panama-Pacific International Exposition Day" at the state fair will be accompanied by the Coast artillery band. President C. C. Moore and Secretary Rudolph J. Taussig will precede the party, leaving Friday night. A large number have signified their intention of going.

Watts played detective and found Jones had gone to Chicago. He chased the dentist two miles, caught him and turned him over to an officer.

SKELETON FOUND; WOMAN IS HUNTED

Discovery Made Where Beautiful Stranger Came on Daily Mysterious Visits

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The police of this city and Yonkers united today to attempt to solve another mystery which just now seems as baffling as the Axtell case seemed a week ago.

For three months a woman, aged about 30, well dressed and pretty, has been seen almost daily on the cliffs overlooking the Hudson river, just above Yonkers. As she struggled up the precipitous hillside yesterday afternoon she came upon two boys driving a wagon. She asked to be driven to Hastings. Her manner aroused the curiosity of the boys, who returned to the spot where the woman had been seen, clambered down the rocky hillside and came upon the skeleton of a man.

Nearby was found a woman's glove, and a little distance away, the silk sleeve of a woman's dress filled with stones. This had evidently been the weapon with which the man had been murdered. Efforts to trace the woman failed, and it is believed that she is hiding around New York.

One theory is that the woman was lured by some psychological force to the scene of the crime.

According to the boys' description, she wore widow's weeds and her face showed the strain of strong emotion. At times she was incoherent.

Persons living in the vicinity of the spot where the body was found said they had seen the woman almost daily all summer.

Middle Weight Bout Set for October 3

The 20 round bout between Sailor Ed Patrosky and Jimmy Clabby, the eastern middleweight, which Promoter Jim Coffroth signed up yesterday, will be staged at the Eighth street arena on the night of October 3. It will be an open air fight, which has become popular with the fans of this section.

In the absence of Jim Griffin, who has left for the east on a pleasure trip, some other ring official will have to be named. This matter will be settled a few days before the date of the battle.

Both fighters plan to start training for the coming battle about the beginning of next week.

Brother of Coach Joins Rugby Squad At Cardinal Field

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 16. Ray Brown, the husky younger brother of Coach Floyd Brown, registered in college yesterday afternoon and appeared on the football field this afternoon.

Ray will make a bold bid this year to fill his brother's shoes. He returns this year heavier and huskier than ever. Last year he played fullback on the junior team, which came off victorious in the interclass championship games.

Last year was his first attempt, at the fullback position. In his freshman year he played in the pack on his class team. He was picked to substitute for Benny Erb on the varsity. He has a long and accurate boot.

With such ruggers as Cy Davidson, the freshman who occupied the last line of defense in the varsity game; Brown, Detels, formerly of Santa Clara, and some other likely material to substitute for Benny Erb on the varsity, it looks as though Stanford will certainly have a capable man on this job.

MRS. PANKHURST IS AFTER WILSON

Agrees Not to Harm President or Congress if Given Privilege to Address Them

LONDON, Sept. 16.—It was said at the offices of the Women's Social and Political Union today that Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, founder of militant suffragette methods, would try to meet President Wilson personally in the United States and is anxious to appear before the American congress and deliver a speech if that is possible.

Mrs. Pankhurst, who is president of the union, will sail for the United States from France about Oct. 11.

In a public letter to the union Miss Barbara Kerr, one of the officers, says: "Mrs. Pankhurst is anxious to explain to the people of the United States why militant methods and violence are necessary here. She would be pleased to meet and chat with President Wilson and would accept with alacrity an invitation to speak before Congress if some suitable member of that body will invite her. The said senators need have no fear that she will carry a satchel full of bombs or try to pull their beards. She will prove harmless."

"FLOWER PHOTOGRAPHY" will be the subject of the talk before the California Camera club at its meeting Thursday evening at 333 Market street by Herbert W. Gleason.

ULSTER ARMY OF 100,000 RAISED

Volunteers to Support Provisional Government if Home Rule Wins

BELFAST, Ireland, Sept. 16.—St. Edward Carson, leader of the Irish Unionists, headed in Ireland today. The object of his visit, it was said, was to inspect a volunteer army which is being raised in Ulster to support the provisional government which is to be brought into existence in case the home rule bill becomes a law.

The Ulster army is said to be thoroughly organized and to have attained a strength of about 100,000 men. This number its leaders expect to double when recruiting has been completed.

In the course of the week private meetings of the Ulster Unionist Council will take place to complete arrangements for the provisional government which it is the purpose eventually to establish. There seems to be little hope of a general conference between the various parties on the question of home rule.
