

WHICH TYPE WILL SIR THOMAS CHOOSE FOR HIS BRIDE? :

Christie McDonald

Lady Beatrice Pole-Carew

Sir Thomas Lipton

Miss Ivy Lillian Close

Miss Marie Tailler

The famous actress is a striking example of the Scottish type of beauty.

This is the Irish type that appeals to Sir Thomas.

Miss Close is a noted English beauty.

The Grand Duke Michaelovitch selected Miss Tailler as the most beautiful American girl.

Which type of beauty will Sir Thomas Lipton choose for his bride?

Will the dashing American girl, with her charm and grace, make the strongest appeal to his heart? Or will a quiet, dignified English girl be at his side when he marches to the altar?

Maybe it is a gray eyed Scottish maiden of the hills who is destined to be the future Lady Lipton. Or perhaps a laughing Irish lass, with sparkling blue eyes and golden hair, will be the blushing bride. Sir Thomas is coming to America next year in his fourth attempt to lift the America cup. Also, his friends say, he will try to win an American bride.

The famous yachtsman has always expressed a marked preference for the American type of beauty, and Thomas Dewar, one of his closest friends, was quoted recently as saying that when the sportsman returns to his own country next year he will bring back with him the coveted cup and a Yankee girl as his bride. When Lipton was asked about Dewar's statement in London recently, he answered:

"Don't you think a bachelor of my experience has learned discretion by now? You can say this, however: 'Such a lucky event as the winning of an American wife and the America cup in one trip is almost more than mortal man can expect, but I am hoping that Dewar's forecast may come true.' But Lipton's friends are laughing at the idea that he has reached years of discretion. So far, they admit, he has kept little Dan Cupid at bay, but they declare that his days as a bachelor are numbered. 'If he doesn't return with an American bride, he will surely fall a victim to the charms of one of the three types of beauty on the British Isles—the English, the Irish or the Scotch,' these friends say. Sir Thomas, in interviews, has admitted that he has been deeply impressed by all four types. Here is a statement made recently over his own signature: 'Irish girls have a touch of that vivacity that makes American women so charming, and it is most becoming to them, too. It is a difficult task to choose between the best of any of our girls. With me, there is the recollection of those I knew when I was younger and the pathway to success was not strewn with roses. 'My dear mother was an Irish girl, and I must have a warm spot in my heart for any woman who comes from the same country. My younger days were, to a great extent, spent in Scotland, and the girls there who, in the long ago, encouraged me with smiles and brave words recall pleasantest memories. 'English girls, the daughters of our beloved king, have cheered me during the last few years, and surely they have claims upon my loyalty; but, after all, the American girl, with her bright smile, ingenuous independence and warm sympathy for such as I am—an aspirant for one of the most highly prized treasures you have in America—ah, she has gained a position in my esteem that is second to none. 'The United States is closely associated with my successes, and American women are among my pleasantest memories of your country.' He has met many American girls and he will probably meet many more when he comes here next year. Maybe he will select one of them as his bride. Or maybe he will seek his wife on the British Isles. Which type will he choose?

SOUTH OF MARKET EVILS DENOUNCED
Is 40 Per Cent Worse Than Barbary Coast, Reports Woman Inspector

According to the official reports of Industrial Inspectress Hannah A. Nolan and detectives of the southern station to Captain Henry O'Day, conditions in the new south of Market street tenements are 40 per cent worse than those that ever existed on the Barbary coast. Business men of the district, co-operating with the board of health, recommend that the accumulated evidence be placed with District Attorney Fickert for consideration by the grand jury. Eight resorts in Polson street, three in Fourth street, 12 in Third street, four in Harrison street and one in Ritch street have been reported on by Mrs. Nolan and the detectives. In addition to charges of white slavery, the reports state that blind pigs are conducted under the guise of coffee parlors, that girls are made to gamble and drink with men, and boys are allowed to frequent the poolroom sections of the places. Charges are pending against four men for contributing to the delinquency of minors. In the disclosure of half a dozen wealthy foreigners from whom young girls have been rescued are also involved. Mrs. Nolan states that she has decided to put the evidence squarely up to the district attorney with a request for prosecution without delay.

MANY DISPLAYS IN MECHANICS' FAIR
Two Great Buildings Filled With Novel Exhibits; Show Will Open Tonight

The Mechanics' fair opens its doors in Sutter and Pierce streets tonight. Merchants, manufacturers, producers of everything from dahlias to dynamos, have placed on view the result of their enterprise, and the entire floor space of the two big buildings, Dreamland and the Pavilion, has been taken by the concessionaires. In Dreamland, where the fountain designed and installed by the world's fair sculptor, Finn Haakon Frolich, will splash in a glare of electric colors, the press which will print the Mechanics' Fair Daily may be seen, with linotype operator nearby, and the operations of a regular daily newspaper in view. In this building is the machinery and the exhibits of the manufacturers of motors and steam and electrically operated apparatus. Here also will be found the quarters of the Chamber of Commerce and the California Development board. In the Pavilion will be the concessions of exhibitors whose wares are the finished product. Here will be found the quarters of The Call, with easy chairs for visitors and tables at which to write. An interesting feature will be the "country store," installed by the Retail Grocery Clerks' union, in which more goods than ever a country store contained will be exposed for sale. Band concerts by Patrick Conway and his instrumentalists will be given, while in the National theater at 8:15 artists specially engaged in New York will appear. These performances will take place every day, as well as every evening, the matinee performances beginning at 2:30.

'DAS HEXENLIED' SUNG BY RECENT BERLIN STUDENT
"Das Hexenlied," by E. von Wilhelmsen, was rendered last evening by a young German dramatic reader who arrived here a few weeks ago from Berlin, at a reception given him by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bickford Pasmore at their Washington street home. Wilhelmsen is the only professional pupil of Dr. Ludwig Wullner, German lieder singer. He was aided by Miss Suzanne Pasmore as pianist.

BAPTIST FOLK PROTEST DANCING IN SCHOOLS
Protesting the use of the public schools for dancing by pupils, the San Francisco Baptist association, in session at Oakland, yesterday adopted this resolution: "Resolved, that the San Francisco Baptist association hereby records its unqualified opposition to the use of public schools for dancing, and that it will continue as subversive of the morals of the community, and that we respectfully petition the mayor, the board of supervisors and the board of education of the city and county of San Francisco to decline to permit any person or organization to use the public school buildings for mixed public dances."

BEDDY-BYE WHISKERS DRESSED FOR THE NIGHT
What shall be done with whiskers at night? Still that question perplexes, and the wearers of the whiskers send their suggestions a day after day, night after night, carrying solace to the anxious who know not what to do with their adornments created. Those who would tie their whiskers up at night with ribbon should be careful what shade they use, for both ribbons and whiskers are of varied hues. Red whiskers should be tied with red ribbon, but should be daintily draped with blue or lavender loops to bring out the floating charm of color. White whiskers, on the other hand, look well with pink bows, and for black whiskers it is recommended that scarlet ribbon be used. As for the method of "tying" the whiskers at night, that is entirely a matter of personal taste. Here are submitted two popular methods or styles—the "Psyche knot" and the "pigtail."

Baltimore Separates Blacks From Whites
BALTIMORE, Sept. 26.—The new ordinance segregating the white and black races of Baltimore, which was passed by both branches of the city council and signed by Mayor Preston late last night, is in effect here today. The new law makes it illegal for any blacks to move into a "white block," or for a white family to move into a "black block." Fine and imprisonment are provided for owners of property in white blocks who rent houses to blacks, or in black blocks who rent to whites.

FIGHT FIREHOUSE BLAZE
The members of engine 26, 351 Second avenue, fought a fire yesterday afternoon in their own quarters. No great damage was done. A plumber working on the second floor knocked over a lantern. Box 412 was turned in and the members of engine companies 29 and 30 had great fun turning the hose on "twenty-six's" home.

STOCK JUDGING IS FEATURE OF FAIR
Exhibits of Alameda County Women Arouse Interest of Crowds at Pleasanton

Interest in the second annual Alameda county fair at Pleasanton continues unabated, and today an even larger crowd than yesterday thronged the buildings and filled the grandstand. Hotel accommodations are at a premium on account of the influx of visitors from all parts of the county. A large delegation from Sacramento valley is reported. Stock judging is being finished today, with every eye on the decisions of the judges. One of the crowded centers of interest in the building containing the exhibits of the women of the county. The following women are busy today rating the exhibits: Mrs. Harry Leach Jr. of Oakland, Mrs. Charles Dougherty of Pleasanton, Mrs. H. R. Mehrmann of Oakland and Mrs. Mary Woodberry of Hayward. Several hundred members of commercial organizations of Oakland will make a combined pilgrimage to Pleasanton to visit the fair. The trip will be a follow up excursion to the trip to the recent Sacramento state fair. Judging of some of the best stock on the coast was the main feature of yesterday's session, with great excitement centering in the automobile somersault stunts and fancy riding. In the stock horse judging yesterday T. J. Berge of Irvington won first laurels, with Manuel Valencia of Irvington third. George Anderson and his wife, Mrs. Charlotte B. Anderson, and Mrs. S. B. Burns were winners of honors in the park saddle horse classes.

3 Damaged Vessels Towed to Port, All With Holes in Hulls
Tanker, Barge and Steamer, Damaged by Going Ashore, All Candidates for Drydock

The tanker Washtenaw, the oil barge Simla and the steamer Inagua, all with punctured hulls as the result of having been on the rocks, reached port today and will furnish three repair jobs for local ship yards. The Washtenaw, with the Simla in tow, went ashore south of Point Gorda, about 10 o'clock a. m., Thursday, during a dense fog. Captain W. H. Moore of the Simla tried to save the barge from the fate of the steamer by hoisting sail. There was little wind, however, and less canvas and the Simla piled up on the rocks, narrowly missing the already stranded Washtenaw. The Washtenaw jettisoned part of its oil and got off with its own power. The Simla was towed off about midnight by the steamers Nann Smith and Adeline Smith, and was towed to this port by the latter. The extent of the damage to Washtenaw and Simla will not be known until the vessels have been docked, but the indications are that both hulls are badly holed. The Inagua, water logged and with a broken rudder and maddened wheel, was towed to port by the tug Fearless. The Inagua went ashore about eight miles south of Point Arena. The vessel struck at 1:30 a. m. yesterday, was floated about four hours later. The 14 passengers on board the Inagua were transferred to the steamer Sea Foam, which is taking them to Coos Bay.

TWO BIG FETES ON FILLMORE STREET
Kings and Queens of Carnival Are Chosen and Festivities Start Tonight

Miss Lena Tovani has been chosen queen and A. P. Knight king of the Golden Gate valley 10 days' carnival, which opens this evening in Fillmore street between Broadway and Chestnut. The thoroughfare has been strung with myriads of electric lights and elaborately decorated with flags and bunting. There will be dancing in a big open air pavilion at Filbert and Fillmore and many novel carnival features. Tomorrow evening will be the big night, when an automobile parade will be led through the district by the king and queen, following coronation ceremonies. PICKPOCKETS ROB WOMAN Pickpockets on an East Twenty-fourth and Howard street car today stole a purse containing $25 from Mrs. A. Berndtson, 869 Vermont street.

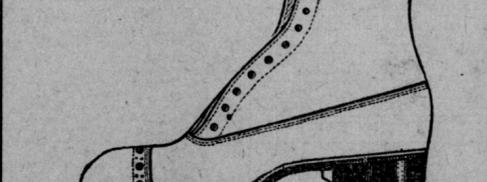

4 Battleships Urged On Congress by Local Chamber of Commerce
Directors Also Request Formation of Naval Reserve and Charting of Alaskan Waters

Construction of four battleships is urged upon Secretary of the Navy Daniels and the California representatives in congress by the board of directors of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, as the desire of the majority of the citizens of the Pacific coast. The directors also advocate the formation of a naval reserve to increase the present insufficient number of men and officers in the proper handling of the battleships and auxiliary cruisers now constructed. The action is subsequent to a report by the executive committee in which the naval situation has been studied in conjunction with the proposals made by Secretary Daniels when here. Attention of congress has also been called to the uncharted waters of Alaska, as a result of the wreck of the steamer State of California, and immediate action demanded. DR. LAWRENCE W. HYDE DIES Dr. Lawrence W. Hyde, a well known physician, who died Wednesday at the German hospital, was buried this morning from the residence of his brother, R. E. Hyde, in Visalia. He was 32 years old and formerly made his residence at the St. Francis hotel.

The English Tone
prevails this season in men's shoes—there is a characteristic tone and get up to these English custom models that makes them extremely popular as well as being stylish. The London custom boot makers follow these fashions almost exclusively and the English Custom models we offer are made on the identical lines of these Custom designs and follow them so faithfully that they are indistinguishable from the high priced work of the individual shoe maker—and they fit as well, perhaps better.

English models in all leathers and all grades, $4.00 to $12.00. We call particular attention to the popular priced grade—in gun metal and tan calf—it is the equal of any shoe made in its perfect English style. $4.00
