

PORTOLA'S GLORY GROWS WITH EACH DAY

PERFECTLY LIKE THE GREAT BOULEVARD

DOLLY DOLLS SOLD FOR $5 AT ST. FRANCIS DOLL SHOW

Great Variety of Miniature Folks on Sale to Aid Church

Dolls—real dolls—have their day this day.

Beautiful dolls, serious dolls, funny dolls, in fact, all kinds of dolls—even a little hula-hula doll—are gathered at the St. Francis red room to greet high society and be sold. The doll show is a benefit for the Paulist.

Mrs. Harry F. Sullivan, holding a bridesmaid dolly, and below are four other miniature folk on display at the St. Francis show.

Dolls of all sorts to be put on block for charity

Pomp and Thrill of Royalty Woven in Romance for Portola Fete

after dinner, and began to breathe great waves of the carnival spirit into our lungs. We remembered that we were a little early for the fireworks. We might as well go along and take that streetcar ride of observation and patronage. We flowed down to Market street in the stream of merry-makers. We stood on the corner of Powell and Market where Ellis comes in—a cape of storms tonight. The current of fun swirled around us. The electric lights were everywhere on the sidewalks, children in arms; one woman selling confetti kept a baby's cab moving as she cried her wares.

SHOWERS OF CONFETTI FALL ON ALL SIDES

It isn't well to carry too trusting a heart, too open a countenance into carnival streets. When you have had your confetti your expression will support and you feel a kind hand at your collar brushing away the surplus, do not look around. Maintain a stolid forward gaze even when a voice murmurs, "That's too bad." If you turn your head more confetti will be added to your countenance. A stolid, preoccupied person will come abreast of you and jettison confetti like a fountain.

Age, sex, previous condition are no guides as to who's dangerous in the carnival streets. I saw a little girl, dressed exactly alike, standing, hand in hand, looking about them with large, timid eyes. "They're lost," I insisted. I went to her, and I saw the mother in me aroused. I opened my mouth to ask if they could not find their parents—and brought away as much confetti, as I could hold, more than I wanted.

A woman in a wheelchair, her crutches beside her, was being shoved along the street by a devoted man. Her laughing face attracted me. That was the way I heard pain in the city. I answered her smile with a smile—and got it full of confetti. All together the walk down Market street and back was educational. I have deduced from my experiences some things which I can really rely upon with certainty.

CARNIVAL VERY LIKE GLAD MILENIUM

When you come to think about it, a carnival is just like the millennium—everybody loves everybody—for the moment anyhow. I have a theory—and this one is really a theory—that shall some day come into a larger consciousness, which will show us that we individuals are but cells in the body of some vast and divine being, blood drops that nourish a mighty existence beyond our personal power of comprehension. I am sure some Frenchman or Russian has plagiarized my thoughts on this matter and written a book on the subject. In it, he suggests that the earth itself is an individual being and that climate, land and water represent its bodily peculiarities and processes. Probably he and I are both right, and at such a time as last night one gets a glimpse of the feeling—what the good, gray poet called "fluid and attaching" emotion, the actual fusion of human brotherhood.

To be wroth is angry at being jammed in the crowd, you weren't offended by things that day before and perhaps would be day after. For the moment you were sharing your emotions, your personal consciousness, with those about you. Even later, when the children had all gone home and to bed, let's hope, and the fun was faster and more furious, one could get the joy of it, find a favor in it the no other hour in the year would bring.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS CALL ON PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—President Wilson today received 150 members of Scottish Rite degree masonry who are in convention in this city. They were escorted to the White House by Senator Thomas of Colorado.

Colds Cause Headache and Grip

LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE tablets remedy. There is only one "BROMO QUININE." It has signature of Dr. W. G. GROVE on box. 25c. Advertisement.

Minister Divorced By Wife for Cruelty

Rev. Andrew J. MacMurtry was divorced by his wife, Mrs. Anne E. MacMurtry, who was given $50 a month alimony. At the same time she was granted a restraining order on E. W. Sawyer, of San Francisco, attorney for MacMurtry, which prevents him from disposing of any community property. Mrs. MacMurtry was originally the defendant in the suit, as her husband sued her last August, alleging various charges of cruelty. She replied with allegations of cruelty.

MUNICIPAL EXPERT TO LECTURE IN BERKELEY

Dr. Werner Hegemann, the famous German expert on scientific municipal government, will discuss city management this evening at the Berkeley high school auditorium before a public meeting arranged by the City club of Berkeley.

JOSEPH A. WALL DEAD

Joseph A. Wall, capitalist and brother of Carlton Wall, the owner of the dramatic coach, died at 800 Chestnut street, Alameda, this morning after several days' illness. Pneumonia was the cause. The funeral will be held from the home Saturday.

"JEANETTE'S WAY" WINS U. C. JUNIOR CONTEST

Three plays of such equal merit were submitted in the 1915 junior fare contest of the University of California that a faculty committee was unable to select one, and it finally rejected the judgment of Garnet Trow, the dramatic coach, choose one called "Jeanette's Way." The authors are S. C. Howard of Oakland and F. S. Faust of Modesto.

Engineer's Sentence May Cause Strike

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The sentence of two months' imprisonment imposed on Engineer Caswell, who pleaded guilty of being responsible for the Alsig wreck in which 11 people were killed has aroused a storm of indignation among railway employes and a strike is threatened. Union officials assert the only way out of a strike is to have the sentence dismissed.

Burglars Rob House While Owner Sleeps

While Carter Tevis lay asleep in his home at 1254 Regent street, Alameda, burglars climbed in the front window early this morning and lighted every electric light in the house except in his bedroom. They leisurely ransacked the dwelling, stealing silverware, jewelry and $40 in coin. Several hours after their departure Tevis awakened and discovered the blaze of lights in his home. The loss will reach several hundred dollars.

SACRAMENTO MAN STATE GRANGE MASTER

SAN JOSE, Oct. 23.—The state grange in session here today elected Joseph Holmes, Sacramento, worthy master; Charles F. Collins, Dinuba, overseer; C. E. Wingate, Santa Rosa, lecturer. Wingate declined to serve owing to illness in his family.

MARE ISLAND BIDS ON TWO MARINE CORPS SHIPS

VALLEJO, Oct. 23.—The Mare Island navy yard has been requested to submit bids on two ships for the marine corps. One will be a transport and the other a supply ship. The plans are due to arrive tomorrow.

God Save the Queen Tribute by Englishman

By William Faversham

San Francisco's lovely queen. It was engaged for me without my knowledge some weeks ago. It was in short, my apartment in the St. Francis hotel, through the open windows of which I was invited by flourish of trumpets to pay the homage of my respectful attention.

I felt, in fact, as do fortunate holders of passes to a box at a great theatrical performance, that the play was given for my special benefit; and, lest this may seem like a British bombast, let me hastily add that I had two fine reservations on the "ground floor," where the grandstand was, and thus I hope to entertain the queen in person and beauty what was to me the unique scene of a queen's coronation; and, stranger still, I who glory in Nelson's famous mixup with the Armada, noted with delight that the queen in person and beauty realized this suggestion of sunny Spain which is found in her sweet name, Queen Conchita.

DECLARES HIMSELF CONCHITA'S SUBJECT

Thus has America, amalgamated an Englishman, with the scenes of the morning my memory will always associate thoughts of royalty, youth, beauty and dignity on the part of the principal player in the episode, and of loyalty, devotion, vigor and joy on the part of her multitude of subjects, one of which, with all respect and fealty, I declare myself to be.

It seems that I had an unexpectedly excellent seat from which to view the coronation of God save the queen!

"Trial Engagement," Matron for Umpire

George Sharpe, an automobile man of Oakland, will know that his wife will serve him no soggy biscuit and Miss Mildred Hall, pretty nurse of Caribou, Me., will be certain that her husband will not hide behind a newspaper at breakfast for this betrothed couple is carrying out a "trial engagement." Mrs. R. F. Fuller of 2947 Pine avenue, in the Elmwood district of Berkeley, is the umpire in this affair, as the two are staying at her house. Miss Hall prepares the food for her fiancé, and the couple are attempting to solve beforehand some of the difficulties that often make married life unpleasant.

Engineer's Sentence May Cause Strike

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The sentence of two months' imprisonment imposed on Engineer Caswell, who pleaded guilty of being responsible for the Alsig wreck in which 11 people were killed has aroused a storm of indignation among railway employes and a strike is threatened. Union officials assert the only way out of a strike is to have the sentence dismissed.

MARE ISLAND BIDS ON TWO MARINE CORPS SHIPS

VALLEJO, Oct. 23.—The Mare Island navy yard has been requested to submit bids on two ships for the marine corps. One will be a transport and the other a supply ship. The plans are due to arrive tomorrow.

FELIX DIAZ RELEASED AS A PRISONER

Huerta Orders Candidate for President Into Custody; Assassination Feared

where he spent the night, and he was warned that any attempt to lead a demonstration against the Huerta government would result in his being thrown into jail.

The attitude of Diaz has been a severe blow to his followers. He seems to be completely cowed by measures taken by Huerta. He apparently is in deadly fear of assassination. Diaz was allowed to go about the city, but guards accompany him everywhere.

The entire suite of the returning presidential candidate was arrested here last night.

Unless Diaz agrees to leave the country he probably will be taken aboard the Zaragoza tonight and taken back to Havana.

HENRY LANE WITHIN SILENT CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Former Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, who represented the United States in Mexico until the Bryan regime's troubles with that country grew acute, left Chicago for the east today.

"I will say nothing on either the Mexican situation or on Mr. Bryan's attitude," said he before his departure.

ENGLAND BACKING HUERTA

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 23.—It is generally accepted that Great Britain's refusal to follow the policy of the United States in Mexico is an endorsement of the Huerta administration by that country. The dictator intends to hold the reins of power, and ready preparations are being made for a coup d'etat by which he will be "legally" elected.

The plan is to have Frederick Gambon, Catholic party's candidate, withdraw his name at the last moment, when Huerta's name will be substituted, and he be declared elected.

REBELS SURROUND MONTEREY

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 23.—A message from across the border today said the Mexican rebels had surrounded Monterrey. This is the most important city in northern Mexico, and an assault upon the place is imminent.

Balboa read The Call as soon as he stepped ashore, because The Call was first on the streets, as usual, and he is a devotee of the hearts of the people of San Francisco.

$15 in "Conscience Money" Is Received By City of Oakland

The Alameda county treasury received $15 "conscience money" yesterday afternoon from an unknown source, with notice that the money belonged to the Valle Vista school district fund. An unsigned letter carrying it was first sent to L. Peterson, clerk of the school trustees of the district, and was forwarded by him to the county treasurer.

Police Chief Orders "The Traffic" Closed

Rachael Marshall's much discussed white slave play, "The Traffic," was ordered closed at the Macdonough theatre in Oakland last night by Chief of Police Walter J. Peterson, who, after seeing the play, declared it to be immoral.

PROPOSITION FOR NEW CONSTITUTION TAKEN UP

The Commonwealth club of California has taken up the legislature's proposition for a new constitution for the state and has appointed a strong section to investigate and report upon the question. The legislature at its recent session put before the voters a call for a constitutional convention, and the people will pass upon it at the election of November 3, 1914.

LANDS FRESH MEAT; WILL TAKE BACK FRUIT CARGO

The steamer Canada Cape, the refrigerator ship placed on the run between Sydney and this port by the Unionship company, arrived today from Puget sound to finish loading for the antipodes. The Canada Cape brought from Australia a cargo of fresh meat, and is taking back a cargo that consists largely of fresh fruit. The steamer loaded 1,500 tons of apples at Tacoma and at this port will take on board more apples and a large shipment of California oranges for the Australian Christmas market. The steamer will leave here with about 6,000 tons of freight.

Harris Reviews Police Also Sees Golf Game

By L. W. (Larry) Harris

FEW days ago Chief White instructed the Police Department that during the Festival of the Glad Glove was to supersede the Convincing Club.

This morning he lined the Force up for its Annual Review and put them through the Manual of Manners. They were perfect.

Of course a few of them overdid it. It's all right enough to obey orders, but when I heard the Traffic Corporal say "Please" to his horse instead of "Glad" I thought he was carrying it just a shade too far.

Chesterfield never shook hands with Brass Knuckles. I consider "Please" and "Spurs" a trifle out of atmosphere. Nevertheless, it's a great improvement.

The Office near the Safety Station at the foot of Powell Street has the right idea. A woman with four children asked him the quickest way to the Park. He gave her the name of the car, the number, where to get off, what to do when she landed, and just enough station keepers, detectives and Chinatown guardians to watch out for emergencies, will drill her in Van Ness avenue, while Mayor Rolph and the police commission will act as a reviewing body.

Weeks ago the shining of stars, polishing of clubs, cleaning of uniforms and brushing of helmets began. Early this morning or perhaps even late last night, shoes were shined.

"FINEST" MAINTAINING NAME

The policemen, veterans and youngsters, patrolmen and captains with D. Augustus White at the head of them all, are marching and countermarching in Van Ness avenue. It is their annual day of display and appropriate one to fit in with Portola. Everything has to be the "finest," and White's men want a chance to live up to the name.

At the same time this morning other events are starting. Motor boats are put-putting around in China basin in preparation for the start of the Portola motor boat championships, and less speedy launches are crowded with admiring friends and racing enthusiasts.

Out at the grounds of the San Francisco Golf and Country club, in dignity and comparative solitude, golf champions are busy putting down to gain new trophies and gather up much prized tiffins cups.

VISIT WARSHIPS IN AFTERNOON

The golf enthusiasts need not be touched on further. Golf enthusiasts have known of this week ago, and the rest of the public would not remember anyhow. All afternoon will be used by the golfers, just to show that the game is the equivalent of a full day's work.

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon stairs will be let down from the warships in the harbor, so that the boys may board them and ask questions to their heart's content from patient jockies and gunners. International soccer football at Golden Gate stadium between British Columbia and an all-California team will also be an afternoon event.

There will be indoor and outdoor concerts—the Golden Gate park band will play in Union square, and Henry Hadley's symphony orchestra in the Cort theater.

Daylight fireworks will make the intermissions between musical numbers in Union square lively. In the evening there will be another night fireworks display in the square like that of last night.

The Hands Around the State Mystic Shrine band gives a concert and night exhibition at Pavilion rink, and next door the Portola boxing championships between army and navy fighters will be fought out in Dreamland.

General illumination throughout the city and on board the warships, and the electric fountain play are also scheduled for the evening.

A water sprong kaledioscope on the end of a long stick known in daylight as the Dewey gun was last night's center of attraction. Balboa's own searchlight which he played from the famous peak in Darien when trying to figure out why the water barrier he had run into unexpectedly mounted on the roof of the St. Francis hotel last night and shot a restless ray of whiteness down on the city.

Chinatown, a quaint harbor night, contrasting with squalid buildings in the background and a solid dark mass of the city, was San Francisco's own cozy fireside last night with Market street a bright living room for the family and its guests to gather together in.

MARKET STREET 'HOT HOME'

The mother who asked "where is my wandering boy tonight" had no need to be anxious anywhere downtown in San Francisco, because even if the fruit was there to be looked at instead of eaten, lighted entrances to buildings gave hearty invitations to step in and see what section to investigate and report upon the question. The legislature at its recent session put before the voters a call for a constitutional convention, and the people will pass upon it at the election of November 3, 1914.

PORTOLA'S SOUVENIR BELL HUNG OVER MARKET STREET AT THE KEARNEY CROSSING

Countless streamers of light outlined the bell, which seemed constantly to be turning. In reality it was only the lights twinkling off and on, but apparently the bell revolved. For individual splendor, that bell ran the electric fountain in Union square a close race, but the fountain's surroundings gave it an advantage in drawing the crowd.

FIREWORKS BY DAY; FIREWORKS BY NIGHT

Day fireworks will be displayed at Union square today, where a special grandstand has been erected. The fireworks will be released from the tower of the St. Francis. Fireworks will also be displayed tonight. Here is the program:

Day fireworks—Japanese fireworks, signal bombs, balloon figures and flags representing different nations. 9:30 to 10:30 p. m.—Tricolor bengal, letter devices, poppy shells, howling devilish whirl and mirth provoking; gold nugget shells, whirlwinds; heroic pictures of Balboa; bombs, fireballs, set of three fountains, octopus shells, thunder and lightning shells, searchlight shells, repeaters; the court of honor, the battle in the clouds, Balboa discovers the Pacific; lightning shells, pearl streamers, glittering gold, fiery shells, golden poppy shells.

Too Late to Classify

LOST—Ten papers containing $85 and notes. Return to MRS. J. P. O'CONNELL, 1204 Market street. Liberal reward.

WANTED—Trustworthy man to work in and roof of established business. Call 2525. Invest $250 with his services; will pay $125 per month; no previous experience necessary; clean, light work. Call 650 Market street, room 502.

HOLBURNER, with a child. 65 Colridge st. $20 a month.

OAK, $45, car No. 6 passes door, 1 1/2 blocks from Fillmore—Very clean sun. room, large closet, water, phone, bath, laundry; place to cook if desired; suitable for 2 or 3 young ladies engaged or couple; no children.

GROVER, notions, candy, home bakery outfit, portable oven, 4 living rooms, sacrifice, 2521 23d st.

FRENCH chauffeur-mechanic wishes position in family, city or country. Box 1976, Call.

WANTED—Girls for general household work, waitress, chamber maid, sweep, etc. SUCCEED EMP. OFFICE, 411 15th st., Oakland, Cal.

Harris Reviews Police Also Sees Golf Game

By L. W. (Larry) Harris

FEW days ago Chief White instructed the Police Department that during the Festival of the Glad Glove was to supersede the Convincing Club.

This morning he lined the Force up for its Annual Review and put them through the Manual of Manners. They were perfect.

Of course a few of them overdid it. It's all right enough to obey orders, but when I heard the Traffic Corporal say "Please" to his horse instead of "Glad" I thought he was carrying it just a shade too far.

Chesterfield never shook hands with Brass Knuckles. I consider "Please" and "Spurs" a trifle out of atmosphere. Nevertheless, it's a great improvement.

The Office near the Safety Station at the foot of Powell Street has the right idea. A woman with four children asked him the quickest way to the Park. He gave her the name of the car, the number, where to get off, what to do when she landed, and just enough station keepers, detectives and Chinatown guardians to watch out for emergencies, will drill her in Van Ness avenue, while Mayor Rolph and the police commission will act as a reviewing body.

Weeks ago the shining of stars, polishing of clubs, cleaning of uniforms and brushing of helmets began. Early this morning or perhaps even late last night, shoes were shined.

"FINEST" MAINTAINING NAME

The policemen, veterans and youngsters, patrolmen and captains with D. Augustus White at the head of them all, are marching and countermarching in Van Ness avenue. It is their annual day of display and appropriate one to fit in with Portola. Everything has to be the "finest," and White's men want a chance to live up to the name.

At the same time this morning other events are starting. Motor boats are put-putting around in China basin in preparation for the start of the Portola motor boat championships, and less speedy launches are crowded with admiring friends and racing enthusiasts.

Out at the grounds of the San Francisco Golf and Country club, in dignity and comparative solitude, golf champions are busy putting down to gain new trophies and gather up much prized tiffins cups.

VISIT WARSHIPS IN AFTERNOON

The golf enthusiasts need not be touched on further. Golf enthusiasts have known of this week ago, and the rest of the public would not remember anyhow. All afternoon will be used by the golfers, just to show that the game is the equivalent of a full day's work.

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon stairs will be let down from the warships in the harbor, so that the boys may board them and ask questions to their heart's content from patient jockies and gunners. International soccer football at Golden Gate stadium between British Columbia and an all-California team will also be an afternoon event.

There will be indoor and outdoor concerts—the Golden Gate park band will play in Union square, and Henry Hadley's symphony orchestra in the Cort theater.

Daylight fireworks will make the intermissions between musical numbers in Union square lively. In the evening there will be another night fireworks display in the square like that of last night.

The Hands Around the State Mystic Shrine band gives a concert and night exhibition at Pavilion rink, and next door the Portola boxing championships between army and navy fighters will be fought out in Dreamland.

General illumination throughout the city and on board the warships, and the electric fountain play are also scheduled for the evening.

A water sprong kaledioscope on the end of a long stick known in daylight as the Dewey gun was last night's center of attraction. Balboa's own searchlight which he played from the famous peak in Darien when trying to figure out why the water barrier he had run into unexpectedly mounted on the roof of the St. Francis hotel last night and shot a restless ray of whiteness down on the city.

Chinatown, a quaint harbor night, contrasting with squalid buildings in the background and a solid dark mass of the city, was San Francisco's own cozy fireside last night with Market street a bright living room for the family and its guests to gather together in.

MARKET STREET 'HOT HOME'

The mother who asked "where is my wandering boy tonight" had no need to be anxious anywhere downtown in San Francisco, because even if the fruit was there to be looked at instead of eaten, lighted entrances to buildings gave hearty invitations to step in and see what section to investigate and report upon the question. The legislature at its recent session put before the voters a call for a constitutional convention, and the people will pass upon it at the election of November 3, 1914.

PORTOLA'S SOUVENIR BELL HUNG OVER MARKET STREET AT THE KEARNEY CROSSING

Countless streamers of light outlined the bell, which seemed constantly to be turning. In reality it was only the lights twinkling off and on, but apparently the bell revolved. For individual splendor, that bell ran the electric fountain in Union square a close race, but the fountain's surroundings gave it an advantage in drawing the crowd.

FIREWORKS BY DAY; FIREWORKS BY NIGHT

Day fireworks will be displayed at Union square today, where a special grandstand has been erected. The fireworks will be released from the tower of the St. Francis. Fireworks will also be displayed tonight. Here is the program:

Day fireworks—Japanese fireworks, signal bombs, balloon figures and flags representing different nations. 9:30 to 10:30 p. m.—Tricolor bengal, letter devices, poppy shells, howling devilish whirl and mirth provoking; gold nugget shells, whirlwinds; heroic pictures of Balboa; bombs, fireballs, set of three fountains, octopus shells, thunder and lightning shells, searchlight shells, repeaters; the court of honor, the battle in the clouds, Balboa discovers the Pacific; lightning shells, pearl streamers, glittering gold, fiery shells, golden poppy shells.

Too Late to Classify

LOST—Ten papers containing $85 and notes. Return to MRS. J. P. O'CONNELL, 1204 Market street. Liberal reward.

WANTED—Trustworthy man to work in and roof of established business. Call 2525. Invest $250 with his services; will pay $125 per month; no previous experience necessary; clean, light work. Call 650 Market street, room 502.

HOLBURNER, with a child. 65 Colridge st. $20 a month.

OAK, $45, car No. 6 passes door, 1 1/2 blocks from Fillmore—Very clean sun. room, large closet, water, phone, bath, laundry; place to cook if desired; suitable for 2 or 3 young ladies engaged or couple; no children.

GROVER, notions, candy, home bakery outfit, portable oven, 4 living rooms, sacrifice, 2521 23d st.

FRENCH chauffeur-mechanic wishes position in family, city or country. Box 1976, Call.

WANTED—Girls for general household work, waitress, chamber maid, sweep, etc. SUCCEED EMP. OFFICE, 411 15th st., Oakland, Cal.

Harris Reviews Police Also Sees Golf Game

By L. W. (Larry) Harris

FEW days ago Chief White instructed the Police Department that during the Festival of the Glad Glove was to supersede the Convincing Club.

This morning he lined the Force up for its Annual Review and put them through the Manual of Manners. They were perfect.

Of course a few of them overdid it. It's all right enough to obey orders, but when I heard the Traffic Corporal say "Please" to his horse instead of "Glad" I thought he was carrying it just a shade too far.

Chesterfield never shook hands with Brass Knuckles. I consider "Please" and "Spurs" a trifle out of atmosphere. Nevertheless, it's a great improvement.

The Office near the Safety Station at the foot of Powell Street has the right idea. A woman with four children asked him the quickest way to the Park. He gave her the name of the car, the number, where to get off, what to do when she landed, and just enough station keepers, detectives and Chinatown guardians to watch out for emergencies, will drill her in Van Ness avenue, while Mayor Rolph and the police commission will act as a reviewing body.

Weeks ago the shining of stars, polishing of clubs, cleaning of uniforms and brushing of helmets began. Early this morning or perhaps even late last night, shoes were shined.

"FINEST" MAINTAINING NAME

The policemen, veterans and youngsters, patrolmen and captains with D. Augustus White at the head of them all, are marching and countermarching in Van Ness avenue. It is their annual day of display and appropriate one to fit in with Portola. Everything has to be the "finest," and White's men want a chance to live up to the name.

At the same time this morning other events are starting. Motor boats are put-putting around in China basin in preparation for the start of the Portola motor boat championships, and less speedy launches are crowded with admiring friends and racing enthusiasts.

Out at the grounds of the San Francisco Golf and Country club, in dignity and comparative solitude, golf champions are busy putting down to gain new trophies and gather up much prized tiffins cups.

VISIT WARSHIPS IN AFTERNOON

The golf enthusiasts need not be touched on further. Golf enthusiasts have known of this week ago, and the rest of the public would not remember anyhow. All afternoon will be used by the golfers, just to show that the game is the equivalent of a full day's work.

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon stairs will be let down from the warships in the harbor, so that the boys may board them and ask questions to their heart's content from patient jockies and gunners. International soccer football at Golden Gate stadium between British Columbia and an all-California team will also be an afternoon event.

There will be indoor and outdoor concerts—the Golden Gate park band will play in Union square, and Henry Hadley's symphony orchestra in the Cort theater.

Daylight fireworks will make the intermissions between musical numbers in Union square lively. In the evening there will be another night fireworks display in the square like that of last night.

The Hands Around the State Mystic Shrine band gives a concert and night exhibition at Pavilion rink, and next door the Portola boxing championships between army and navy fighters will be fought out in Dreamland.

General illumination throughout the city and on board the warships, and the electric fountain play are also scheduled for the evening.

A water sprong kaledioscope on the end of a long stick known in daylight as the Dewey gun was last night's center of attraction. Balboa's own searchlight which he played from the famous peak in Darien when trying to figure out why the water barrier he had run into unexpectedly mounted on the roof of the St. Francis hotel last night and shot a restless ray of whiteness down on the city.

Chinatown, a quaint harbor night, contrasting with squalid buildings in the background and a solid dark mass of the city, was San Francisco's own cozy fireside last night with Market street a bright living room for the family and its guests to gather together in.

MARKET STREET 'HOT HOME'

The mother who asked "where is my wandering boy tonight" had no need to be anxious anywhere downtown in San Francisco, because even if the fruit was there to be looked at instead of eaten, lighted entrances to buildings gave hearty invitations to step in and see what section to investigate and report upon the question. The legislature at its recent session put before the voters a call for a constitutional convention, and the people will pass upon it at the election of November 3, 1914.

PORTOLA'S SOUVENIR BELL HUNG OVER MARKET STREET AT THE KEARNEY CROSSING

Countless streamers of light outlined the bell, which seemed constantly to be turning. In reality it was only the lights twinkling off and on, but apparently the bell revolved. For individual splendor, that bell ran the electric fountain in Union square a close race, but the fountain's surroundings gave it an advantage in drawing the crowd.

FIREWORKS BY DAY; FIREWORKS BY NIGHT

Day fireworks will be displayed at Union square today, where a special grandstand has been erected. The fireworks will be released from the tower of the St. Francis. Fireworks will also be displayed tonight. Here is the program:

Day fireworks—Japanese fireworks, signal bombs, balloon figures and flags representing different nations. 9:30 to 10:30 p. m.—Tricolor bengal, letter devices, poppy shells, howling devilish whirl and mirth provoking; gold nugget shells, whirlwinds; heroic pictures of Balboa; bombs, fireballs, set of three fountains, octopus shells, thunder and lightning shells, searchlight shells, repeaters; the court of honor, the battle in the clouds, Balboa discovers the Pacific; lightning shells, pearl streamers, glittering gold, fiery shells, golden poppy shells.

Too Late to Classify

LOST—Ten papers containing $85 and notes. Return to MRS. J. P. O'CONNELL, 1204 Market street. Liberal reward.