

WHITE HOUSE WEDDING IS REHEARSED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—All is bustle and excitement at the White House today, the day before the wedding. Florists are arriving with flowers, expressmen are rushing to and fro with packages containing eleventh hour gifts, while the curious are gathered to watch the entrance of the executive mansion for a chance to view the bride elect or other figures in the ceremony.

The principals themselves are preparing for a wedding rehearsal, which has been set for 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The president will lead Miss Jessie to a flower-banked altar in the east room, where Mr. Sayre will wait beside his best man in the presence of the officiating clergymen, Rev. Sylvester W. Beach and Rev. John Nevill Sayre, a brother of the bridegroom elect. The maid of honor, bridesmaids and four ushers will take stations as though in the actual ceremony. Mrs. Wilson will review the spectacle and offer suggestions.

Aside from this affair Washington society is chiefly concerned with the dinner and dance to be given tonight aboard the president's yacht Mayflower, moored in the Potomac. The vessel is a hove of roses, smilax and palms, the decks are roped off with cables of green, from which at nightfall will twinkle myriads of colored incandescents lights, transforming the official craft into a fairy palace.

DIPLOMATS IN UNIFORM
That all the splendor of former White House weddings will be repeated tomorrow was assured when M. Jusserand, the ambassador from France, and dean of the diplomatic corps, announced that all diplomats would wear their full court dress at the ceremony. M. Jusserand sent word to this effect to the state department and also notified members of the diplomatic corps that the full state uniform, with emblems of rank, gold lace and other court regalia would be an accepted order at the ceremony as a compliment to a president's family.

FURNITURE FOR PRESENT
The wedding present of President and Mrs. Wilson to Miss Jessie Wilson will be a $1,500 dining room furniture set of colonial design. This was announced at the White House today.

400 Working Girls Give Miss Wilson Gift

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—As part of her trousseau, Miss Jessie Wilson will have a linen undershirt made for her by 400 working girls in this city. Three of them will start for Washington this afternoon to deliver the shirt to Miss Wilson. They wrote to Miss Wilson and the president's daughter replied that she would be delighted to receive the gift and the donors at the White House.

THIRTY DAYS BEAT WIFE 2,080 TIMES IN 40 YEARS

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 24.—That her husband had beaten her 2,080 times since their marriage 40 years ago was testified by Mrs. Peter Edwards in police court. "We were married in 1873 and he has not missed a single week without beating and abusing me," said she. "I can't stand it any longer." "Thirty days, Edwards," the magistrate said.

HUSBAND WAS TOO GENTLE FOR HER

"You were too much a gentleman for me. Brutality is necessary for my control," wrote Mrs. Florence Folsom to her wealthy husband, Charles Dwight Folsom, in New York city, explaining why she quit him for Gus Williams, a Nevada rancher. She was found destitute in the streets of Chicago two weeks ago. She deserted her gentleman husband; then her primitive man deserted her. Her husband recently was granted a divorce by the New York supreme court.

TO HOLD THANKSGIVING
The thanksgiving of Court California No. 4, Foresters of America, will be held tomorrow evening in American Foresters' hall, 172 Golden Gate avenue.

To Sue McClaughry For Russell Ranch

The Russell ranch, owned by Hull McClaughry, former husband of Anita Baldwin McClaughry, is to be made the cause of court action by Mrs. Alice J. Violet and William H. Russell, half sister and half brother of McClaughry, who claim that he and his father, S. McClaughry, illegally persuaded their mother to deprive them of the $250,000 property. Mrs. Russell married the elder McClaughry after the death of her husband. The ranch is in the Sacramento valley. It is understood that a complaint will be filed by Attorney C. C. Boynton at Sacramento tomorrow.

WEATHER FORECAST
For San Francisco—Fair tonight and Tuesday; light southerly winds.

Currency Bill Debate Opened by Sen. Owen

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Fight over the currency measure opened today in the senate. Senator Owen, chairman of the banking and currency committee, made an extended speech outlining the features of the administration draft of the measure as amended by the regular democrats. Senator Hitchcock, insurgent democrat, will follow Owen in advocacy of the measure he framed with the help of five republicans. After these speeches are made it is practically agreed the currency debate will go over until January 5.

"THE SHELTER" MEETING
The regular meeting of Chavra Hachonoth Grechim (The Shelter) was held yesterday afternoon in Charity hall, B'nai B'rith building.

How San Francisco's Largest Industry Is Being Assailed

During the last five months an organized attack has been directed against the permanence and the stability of the largest manufacturing industry in San Francisco—the printing and publishing trades, in which 3650 men are employed and products valued at $15,239,000 put out annually.

The purpose of this and subsequent advertisements is to acquaint the public with the facts and keep it informed as to the exact situation day by day. It's an interesting story—particularly to San Franciscans who believe that industrial development has something to do with their city's prosperity and the welfare of the individual in it.

On June 23 the San Francisco Press Assistants' Union No. 33 declared a strike against the members of the Franklin Printing Trades Association, which is an association of job printing and publishing houses in San Francisco. The San Francisco Pressmen's Union walked out in sympathy with the Assistants, who are ordinarily known as "feeders." The resulting condition has not been a peaceful one. The various firm members of the Franklin Printing Trades Association have continued to operate their shops and the two unions on strike have done everything in their power to prevent it. The result has been a continuity of assaults made upon the pressmen and feeders employed by members of the Association.

To get a thorough understanding of the situation as it exists today, it might be well to review the negotiations between the unions involved and the Franklin Printing Trades Association. In November, 1912, the three years' agreement that existed between the Press Assistants and the Association expired. Negotiations were then taken up for a renewal. On December 16th these negotiations were temporarily discontinued because the Franklin Printing Trades Association would not agree to incorporate a section which would reserve to the Press Assistants the right at any time for its members to strike in sympathy with any union. The Association was willing to agree with the Feeders in the event of any trouble arising with an affiliated union to arbitrate all grievances, even though no agreement with that affiliated union was in existence. The Press Assistants insisted upon embodying this right to sympathetic strike in any agreement to be made, and in their contentions were backed by the San Francisco Labor Council.

At a conference held on May 29th, the Press Assistants and a representative of the Labor Council agreed to submit the arbitration proposition put forth by the Franklin Printing Trades Association to the international officers of the Press Assistants' Union, who are the same international officers for the Pressmen's Union, and on receipt of an answer from the international officers would notify the Franklin Printing Trades Association of its content. Not until June 12th did the local Press Assistants' Union communicate with the Franklin Printing Trades Association, although it had received a telegram from the International Printing Pressmen's and Assistants' Union on June 3d. The communication from the local union to the Franklin Printing Trades Association was in the form of a letter with demands and a copy of the telegram that had been received from the international officers. It will be noted that the arbitrary demand came at a time when the negotiations were in progress.

On June 16th the following letter was sent to the San Francisco Press Assistants' Union by the executive committee of the Franklin Printing Trades Association. It should be read carefully, as it goes into the reasons for the refusal of the demands made by the union. (Here follows letter of June 16th):

SAN FRANCISCO PRESS ASSISTANTS' UNION NO. 33, 557 Clay Street, San Francisco, Cal., June 16, 1913.

Dear Sirs: Your communication and new wage scale and shop conditions dated June 12, 1913, addressed to the Employing Printers of San Francisco and vicinity, were received at this office through special messenger in the afternoon of June 13, 1913. At the same time we received copies of telegrams sent by you to your International President Berry under date of May 21st, and his reply to the same, under date of June 2d, and relating the proposed arbitration agreement, negotiations for which have been pending between our respective organizations and the San Francisco Labor Council for some time.

The entire matter was laid before the members of this Association at a meeting held Saturday last, June 14, 1913.

Your action in making pre-emptory demands for an increase of wage and change in shop conditions while negotiations for a working agreement were pending between our respective bodies, and thereby terminating those negotiations, is indicative of a lack of good faith on your part.

The printing trades in San Francisco are at the present time suffering from a lack of business, from low prices, and from the tightness of the money market and from competition from outside points.

Any increase of wage or increased cost on account of any further shop restrictions would not only make our conditions worse, but would eventually drive many of our members out of business or cause them to move their plants to places where conditions are more favorable. This would be a calamity not only to ourselves, but also to our city, which has already lost a great number of her manufacturing establishments, and to our employes, who would be deprived of an opportunity of earning a livelihood at their trade in the city where they have established their homes.

The following table will show your demands and the union wage scales for press feeders in the cities named, the higher percentage we are now paying and the still higher percentage you now demand:

City	San Francisco, present scale	San Francisco, demanded scale	San Francisco, present scale	San Francisco, demanded scale
San Francisco	$19.00 to $21.00	$19.00 to $21.00	100%	100%
Los Angeles	17.00	17.00	100%	100%
Seattle	16.50	16.50	100%	100%
Portland	16.50	16.50	100%	100%
Denver	16.50	16.50	100%	100%
St. Louis	$12.00 to $15.00	27% and 10% 58% and 27%	8.00 85% 100%	10.50 28% 52%
Chicago	18.50	18.50	100%	100%
Philadelphia	$10.00 to $13.50	65% and 22% 90% and 40%	7.00 93% 128%	8.50 42% 68%
New York	16.50	16.50	100%	100%
Columbus	14.00	14.00	100%	100%
Indianapolis	$12.00 to $15.00	37% and 10% 58% and 27%	7.00 93% 128%	8.50 42% 68%

You can readily see that press feeders in San Francisco are receiving as high wages as are paid in any of the other cities and that your demands are out of all proportion to the prevailing wage in other cities.

However much therefore, the members of this Association might wish to comply with your demands, it must be obvious from the evidence submitted that in a highly competitive business such as printing any further increase in expense is impossible. We submit that your demands under date of June 2, 1913, are uncalled for, arbitrary and unjust, and can not be accepted. Yours very truly,

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, FRANKLIN PRINTING TRADES ASSN., J. D. ROANTREE, Secretary.
