RAILROAD SCHEDULE. Up Day Train 9:55 A. M. Down Day Train 7:30 P. M. Up Night Train 2:20 A. M. Down Night Train 11:53 P. M. Office hours 8 to 2 and 3 to 6.

LOCAL. GALVESTON SPECTATOR. We received yesterday a copy of the above paper with the well known X on the wrapper. We do so with pleasure, as we feel sure that any paper coming from Texas, that hard money country, must have the ring of the true metal.

JUDGE GLOVER. While going to press we learn that a dispatch has been received saying that this Gentleman has just been seized with a severe attack of sickness in Charleston. We hope, in the absence of particulars, that his illness may not be as alarming as apprehended.

A. McCOBB, JR. Offers Lime, Plaster, Cement and other building material in Charleston, see his advertisement. If you need any of his goods send him an order, and we feel sure you will be satisfied. You can buy these goods near home, for less than you will have to pay at a distance.

MR. HENRY RICKENBAKER. This Gentleman deals with newspaper men in a model way, well worthy of imitation, he not only cooled off the printers with two large melons, but called in at the business office and paid up a years subscription in advance, this is the right way to do business.

JNO. OGREN. Ogren asks the attention of the Orangeburgers to his really fine stock of Saddlery, Harness &c. He has added to his stock a choice assortment of Horse Nets, that are not only handsome, but very serviceable in this "Fly time." Any parties wanting goods in Mr. Ogrens line will do well to call on him.

JUDGE T. H. COOKE. This Gentleman paid our Town a visit yesterday, and is now the guest of Senator Andrews, either the mountain air agrees with the Judge, or the Judge flourishes despite of it, he looks as hale and robust as one of his own mountain peaks. The Judges friends are always glad to meet him here.

RAIN. A pretty smart shower passed over the Town on Tuesday last, we can scarcely say how grateful it was to the heated inhabitants and the thirsty Gardens, and still it is but a fractional part of what we need, and we trust only a forerunner of good, copious showers. On Thursday there was another light shower, but we want a real heavy rain.

NOT IN EARNEST. We mean the weather, sitting in our sanctum last Tuesday, and wondering if we had not been suddenly transported to Livingston and Stanley's African furnaces, we chanced to see that Charleston boasted her thermometer at 95 degrees, we feebly wended our way over to Dr. Dukes' store and found that his thermometer stood at 90. When we recovered we commenced arrangement at once for removing to Alaska.

Mr. Daniel O'H Yates who has been spending some time past in this place in search of health, expired on Saturday night last, suffering with that dread disease consumption, he bore his pains with patient fortitude until relieved by Death, his remains were taken to Charleston on Sunday to be deposited in the family burying ground there.

BILLIARD TABLES. An advertisement in another column, offers for sale two fine Tables (4 pocket) these tables are in good order, and thorough repair, and any one wishing such, would do well to look after them, they will be sold soon, and will be sold right, to good parties. Any one who has played Billiards in Orangeburg lately know what these Tables are.

"At a Plymouth church meeting the other day, Beecher's salary was raised to 100,000 dollars to commence January 1st 1875."

When I what a premium offered for spotted characters, for "nest hiding" for "paroxysmal kisses," for all the dirty, revolting shame that clings around the "Great Scandal." Heaven help the lunatics of Plymouth church.

The five dollar notes of the first, third and traders' national banks of Chicago, the first national bank of Paxton, Illinois, and the first national bank of Canton, Illinois, having been successfully counterfeited, the comptroller of the currency has determined to retire the notes of those banks of the denomination of five dollars, and requests national banks throughout the country to forward them to the treasury for redemption.

No additional notes of this denomination will be issued to those banks.

MR. J. WALLACE CANNON. This enterprising friend of ours has just returned from his trip to the mountains of North Carolina where he has been for a month or more past, hoping to recruit his shattered health. In this, we are glad to say, he has been entirely successful, and looks now like a new man, his health and strength have come back to him in the most gratifying way, and in the bronzed and active figure he now presents we can scarcely recognize the worn and listless sufferer who left us some little time ago.

Below we give an official list of the assessment for school purposes in the various school districts as handed us by Commissioner Phillips:

Table listing school districts and their assessments: Vances 3 mills, Poplar 4, Pine Grove 4, Amolia 2, Providence 3, Goodbys 4, Lyons 3, Cowcastle 2, Middle 2, Orange 3, Caw Caw 2, Branchville 2, New Hope 2, Elizabeth 3, Edisto 1, Union 1, Zion 3, Willow 4, Liberty 1, Goodland 1, Hebron 1, Rocky Grove 1.

Dot Little Baby. Here is a gem: It will go to the heart of every parent. Especially the one who has what he regard a choice specimen of the juvenile artists.

Drum as I love, most every day I laugh me wild to see de way Dot small young baby dry to blay— Dot funny little baby.

Ven I looke of dem little toes, Und see dot funny little nose, Und hear de vay dot rooster crows, I shmitle like I vas crazy.

Sometimes dere comes a little squall; Dot's ven de vinyd vill crawl Right and his little stomach shmal— Now dot's doo bad for de baby.

Dot maku him sing at night so sweet, And gorry barric he must ont, Und I must jum p shippy on my feet To help dot little baby.

He pulls my nose und kicks my hair, Und crawls me over everywhere, Und slobber me—but vat I care? Dot vas my shmal young baby.

Around my neck dot little arm Vas squozing me so nice und varm— Oh may dere never come harm To dot shmal little baby!

Struck by Lightning. Mr. M. Pigeon gives in Nature the following interesting account of the effect of lightning upon himself and members of his family, during a recent thunder storm, in which the house he was in was struck:

I must now attempt to describe the effects on ourselves and the impressions on our sense. Of the three, my wife only was "struck," and fell to the ground, my son and myself remaining erect, and all three retaining consciousness. For more than half an hour my wife lost the use of her lower limbs and left hand, both of which became rigid. From the feet to the knees she was splashed with rose-colored tree-like marks, branching upwards, while a large tree-like mark with six principal branches diverging from a common centre, thirteen inches in its largest diameter, and bright rose red, covered the body. None of us are certain of having seen the flash, and my wife is sure she saw nothing. As to the noise, my wife heard a "bellowing" sound and a "squash," recalling fireworks; my son also heard a "bellow," while I seemed conscious of a sharp explosion. My wife describes her feelings as that of "dying away gently into darkness," and then

BASE BALL NOTES. The Young Americans and Olios of this place played a match game on Tuesday 6th inst., and as usual the Young Americans came out ahead. Score 22 to 7. The Young Americans say they are ready to receive a challenge from any Club in the State, whose members are not over seventeen years of age, they are quick and active fellows and any Club that undertakes them will find their hands full.

The game that has been promised for some time past between the Etiwans of Charleston and our Orange boys came off on Thursday according to programme. The Etiwans won the toss, and sent the Oranges to the bat. The game opened with good and careful play on both sides, and the two clubs ran closely together up to, and through the seventh inning. The score standing then, Oranges, 21 to Etiwan 20, but on the eighth inning the Oranges lost ground, and the Etiwans by a series of pretty plays placed themselves well ahead of their competitors, and gained an advantage that they held steadily to the end. The final score standing 37 for the Etiwans, to 26 for the Oranges. We do not mean to take one feather from the cap of the Etiwans, they played their game carefully and finely but we must confess to the belief that if the Oranges (who played this game under several disadvantage) were to pay more attention to their practice, and their discipline on the field, that they have it almost certainly, in their power, to bring back the laurels that the Etiwans have taken to Charleston, and they know it, and knowing it, do not take the proper precautions to meet "foemen worthy of their bat." With the requisite practice and proper discipline they may safely venture to go down to Charleston and bring that "ball" back from the Etiwans

DR. A. C. DUKES.

OBITARY. Died at Orangeburg S. C., June 12th 1875, FREDERICK WILLIAM, infant son of W. K. and Z. L. Crook, aged 9 months, 24 days.

As a sweet flower opens in the morning, but when the shades of evening fall, withers and is dead, so the little life open in this world, with its sweet smiles and winning ways it was permitted to gladden the hearts of its parents for a short time, but ere the cold winds of this world could blow upon it, our Heavenly Father in his mercy called it to dwell with him in Paradise. Grieve not, bereaved parents that your little one was so early called from you in all its innocence and purity to wear the crown which we are struggling to attain.

Pray for strength to say, "Thy will O Lord not mine," remembering that "He doeth all things well."

roused by a tremendous blow on the body, where the chief mark was afterwards found. My son and myself were conscious of a sudden and terrific general disturbance, and he affirms that he received a severe and distinctly electrical shock in both legs. My left arm, shoulder, and throat especially suffered violent disturbance, but I did not think it was electrical. As I turned to help my wife, who was on the ground, I shouted, as I thought, that I was unhurt, and hoped they were also, but it seems I only uttered inarticulate sounds, and my son in his first attempt to answer, did the same. This, however, was only momentary; in an instant we both spoke plainly.
